Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, JULY 25, 1938. No. 1

SENATE

MONDAY, July 25, 1938, 7 o'clock P. M., E. S. T.

This being the day and hour fixed by the Governor of the Commonwealth in his Proclamation, and Supplements convening the General Assembly in Extraordinary Session, the members of the Senate assembled in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) called the Senate to order at 7 o'clock P. M.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

O God, Creator of earth, and sea and sky, Sovereign of the races of men—We acclaim The Giver of every good gift.

Helpless ourselves, in mute eloquence of distress, we bear before Thee a bruised and bleeding world, forgetful of Thee, angry with itself. Thou knowest all—O tell us what, and why, and how!

May Thy Grace rest upon the sessions of this Assembly and those who labor in this fellowship. A double portion of Thy Spirit be upon these Senators; upon him who presides so graciously over the deliberations of this body; upon those invested with directive responsibilities of leadership.

We remember an aged, honored Senator, detained by the ills of bodily affliction. In the shelter of Thy love, may he find comfort and peace. And lately there comes to us the word again that another of our senators sturdy strong, capable through all the years, too young to fall by the wayside and drop out of the active and useful life and we ask Thy blessing upon him. If possible give to him strength and health and keep him for years to come in the service of his day and generation.

Bless our country, our noble leader; our Commonwealth our good Governor and his associates. Keep him strong and true, and steadfast in his devotion to the humanities of life.

In the days ahead, our Father, we would covet moderation, seeking light, rather than heat; and for wisdom, may ask of Thee, who giveth liberally and upbraideth not. Amen.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR

The PRESIDENT. The Chief Clerk will read the Proclamation of the Governor, and Supplements.

The Chief Clerk read the Proclamation, and Supplements thereto, as follows:

PROCLAMATION

In the Name and by Authority of the

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

HARRISBURG

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, Grave charges have been made against the Governor of the Commonwealth and other civil officers involving the administration of their high offices; and

Whereas, The constitutional rights of the legislative and executive branches of the government are in danger of being invaded; and

Whereas, It is imperative that charges against high public officers be heard publicly and as expeditiously as possible, to the end that the innocent should be vindicated and the guilty exposed and punished; and

Whereas, The General Assembly alone is empowered openly and publicly to conduct an investigation of such charges; and

Whereas, The apropriations heretofore made by the General Assembly in relief of the unemployed will be exhausted before the convening of the General Assembly in regular session, thereby necessitating further appropriations for the purpose aforesaid; and

Whereas, Other conditions have arisen in the Commonwealth requiring remedial or enabling legislation appropriate thereto:

Now, therefore, I, George H. Earle, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by virtue of the authority vested in me by Article IV, Section 12, of the Constitution, do hereby convene the General Assembly in extraordinary session, to meet in the Capitol, at Harrisburg, on Monday, July 25, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, at seven o'clock, post meridian (Eastern Standard Time), of that day, to consider legislation and appropriate action upon the following subjects:

1. Investigation of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office on the part of any person holding a civil office under the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with such further proceedings as may be necessary and proper, and the appropriation of the necessary funds to conduct such investigation and proceedings.

2. Regulating investigations of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office and defining the procedure thereof; regulating and defining the scope and respective jurisdictions of the General Assembly and of the courts of quarter sessions and oyer and terminer of the Commonwealth in investigations of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office; and regulating investigations by the grand jury of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office by public officers.

3. Defining and regulating the respective powers and duties of the Attorney General and district attorneys.

4. Appropriations from the General Fund to the Department of Public Assistance, for public assistance, as provided by law, including expenses incident thereto.

5. Amending or supplementing existing laws to obtain the full benefits of the Federal Social Security Act, with respect to the payment of grants to blind persons.

6. Defining, clarifying and regulating the responsibility for medical care for indigent persons in the Commonwealth who are not receiving institutional care.

7. Appropriations to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment by the Commonwealth of rates, rentals and other charges on new or additional projects to be constructed hereafter by The General State Authority, in order that additional Federal grants of funds may be obtained.

8. Enlarging the scope of the powers of The General State Authority, authorizing the construction and improvement of public school buildings, and conferring the power to acquire lands necessary therefor, and to lease as lessor to any school district any project constructed by said authority.

9. Empowering school districts to lease public school buildings and grounds from, and to make conveyances of land and buildings to, The General State Authority, and providing means whereby school districts and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may contribute jointly to the payment of the rentals provided for in such leases; and to enact other legislation affecting the organization of school districts.

10. Further defining and limiting the power of, and enabling, school districts of the first class to levy and collect taxes, and to validate certain levies by such school districts heretofore made, in order to offset adverse court decisions with respect thereto.

11. Providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest on taxes imposed by the various political subdivisions, poor districts and school districts of the Commonwealth.

12. Regulating the sale, exposure, or offering for sale, use, distribution, or possession of fireworks, and defining the meaning thereof.

13. Relating to the widening of the Philadelphia approaches to the Delaware River Bridge, and otherwise relating to the Delaware River Joint Bridge Commission.

14. Relating to the change of venue in criminal proceedings.

15. Making illegal the use of devices or methods of transmission of information or advices in furtherance of gambling.

16. Amending Paragraphs (d) and (e) of Section 202; Paragraph (a) of Section 409; Section 412; Paragraph (a) of Section 601; and Sections 702, 704, 808, 1201 and 1311 of the Public Utility Law (Act of May 28, 1937, P. L. 1053).

17. Creating and authorizing the appointment of a commission to investigate the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth, and conferring necessary powers and imposing duties thereof, and making an appropriation therefor.

18. Validating commissions heretofore created by joint resolution of the Legislature, their actions, expenses and expenditures, and making appropriations therefor.

19. Authorizing the receipt of the report and recommendations of the Pennsylvania Anthracite Coal Industry Commission, and taking such action upon the recommendations contained in the report as may be deemed appropriate, and making appropriations to supply deficiencies incurred by the said commission.

20. Appropriations to the Department of Health to supply the deficiency incurred and needed for the purpose of pumping flood waters from coal mines and slate quarries, in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Act of June 16, 1936, P. L. 16 (First Special Session of 1936).

21. Amending and supplementing existing laws relating to the number of exits and means of egress from buildings.

22. Enabling the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, to enter into agreements with housing authorities to purchase and acquire real estate from said authorities.

23. Enabling the State to care for the mentally ill and feeble-minded.

24. Appropriations for the expenses of the special session.

(SEAL)

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this twenty-second day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred sixty-third.

L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," by re-defining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services.

Which was committed to the Committee on Welfare.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

THE PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

Mr. KUNKEL read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 6, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph (c) of section nine of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, (P. L. 205), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board;" by classifying blind persons entitled to receive assistance from those entitled to receive pensions.

Which was committed to the Committee on Welfare.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

Mr. THOMPSON read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, (P. L. 452), entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a General Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct improve and operate projects, and to lease the same, and to fix and collect fees, rentals, and charges for the use thereof; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority, and providing for the payment of such bonds, and the rights of the holders thereof; and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency; and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant, assign, convey, or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein, and to acquire lands therefor; granting the right of eminent domain; and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act," as amended; by providing for additional projects and providing for the leasing of projects by the Authority to school districts.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act to amend article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by authorizing school districts, singly or jointly with other districts, to convey or lease property to the General State Authority, to acquire additional property for such purposes, to contract with and lease property from said Authority and to levy additional taxes to pay rentals; and authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases, and in such cases, defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 9, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to pay rentals and expenses in connection with public school buildings constructed or improved by the General State Authority.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 10, entitled:

A supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, (P. L. 16), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to defray the cost of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded, directly or indirectly, by the high waters during March, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six," by making a further appropriation to supply the deficiency incurred and needed under the provisions of said act.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow at 12:00 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 9:43 P. M., until 12:00 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time) Tuesday, July 26, 1938.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, July 25, 1938.

EXTRAORDINARY SESSION

The Speaker, the Honorable Roy E. Furman, called the House to order.

The SPEAKER. This being the day and the hour fixed by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth in his Proclamation convening the General Assembly in Extraordinary Session by virtue of the authority conferred upon him under Article IV, Section 12 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the Members of the House of Representatives here assembled will now come to order.

PRAYER

The SPEAKER. Following the prayer by the Chaplain, the members will remain standing in silence until the gavel falls in memory of the Hon. William J. Munley, a former member of this House, from the County of Lackawanna, who died March 9, 1938.

The Hon. Charles H. Richter, a former member of this House, from the County of Adams, who died June 24, 1938.

The Hon. William P. Gallagher, former Chief Clerk of this House, from the County of Luzerne, who died May 25, 1938.

The Hon. C. J. Goodnough, a former Speaker of this House, from the County of Cameron, who died July 21, 1938.

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, as we again gather in this House, as lawmakers, it is fitting that we call upon Thee, earnestly and solemnly asking Thy Divine presence and guidance in our deliberations, that we may strive to know Thy will and follow Thy way. With the devotion of David, the Shepherd, may we desire that the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord, our Strength and Redeemer. Amen.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor.

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Proclamations and Supplements of the Governor.

The Clerk read the Proclamations and Supplements as follows:

In the Name and by Authority of the
COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
HARRISBURG

PROCLAMATION

Whereas, Grave charges have been made against the Governor of the Commonwealth and other civil officers involving the administration of their high offices; and

Whereas, The constitutional rights of the legislative and executive branches of the government are in danger of being invaded; and

Whereas, It is imperative that charges against high public officers be heard publicly and as expeditiously as possible, to the end that the innocent should be vindicated and the guilty exposed and punished; and

Whereas, The General Assembly alone is empowered openly and publicly to conduct an investigation of such charges; and

Whereas, The appropriations heretofore made by the General Assembly in relief of the unemployed will be exhausted before the convening of the General Assembly in regular session, thereby necessitating further appropriations for the purpose aforesaid; and

Whereas, Other conditions have arisen in the Commonwealth requiring remedial or enabling legislation appropriate thereto:

Now, therefore, I, George H. Earle, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by virtue of the authority vested in me by Article IV, Section 12, of the Constitution, do hereby convene the General Assembly in Extraordinary Session, to meet in the Capitol, at Harrisburg, on Monday, July 25, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, at seven o'clock, post meridian (Eastern Standard Time), of that day, to consider legislation and appropriate action upon the following subjects:

1. Investigation of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office on the part of any person holding a civil office under the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with such further proceedings as may be necessary and proper, and the appropriation of the necessary funds to conduct such investigation and proceedings.

2. Regulating investigations of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office and defining the procedure thereof; regulating and defining the scope and respective jurisdictions of the General Assembly and of the Courts of Quarter Sessions and Oyer and Terminer of the Commonwealth in investigations of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office; and regulating investigations by the grand jury of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office by public officers.

3. Defining and regulating the respective powers and duties of the Attorney General and district attorneys.

4. Appropriations from the General Fund to the Department of Public Assistance, for public assistance, as provided by law, including expenses incident thereto.

5. Amending or supplementing existing laws to obtain the full benefits of the Federal Social Security Act, with respect to the payment of grants to blind persons.

6. Defining, clarifying and regulating the responsibility for medical care for indigent persons in the Commonwealth who are not receiving institutional care.

7. Appropriations to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment by the Commonwealth of rates, rentals and other charges on new or additional projects to be constructed hereafter by The General State Authority, in order that additional Federal grants of funds may be obtained.

8. Enlarging the scope of the powers of The General State Authority, authorizing the construction and improvement of public school buildings, and conferring the power to acquire lands necessary therefor, and to lease as lessor to any school district any project constructed by said authority.

9. Empowering school districts to lease public school buildings and grounds from, and to make conveyances of land and buildings to, The General State Authority, and providing means whereby school districts and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may contribute jointly to the payment of the rentals provided for in such leases; and to enact other legislation affecting the organization of school districts.

10. Further defining and limiting the power of, and enabling, school districts of the first class to levy and collect taxes, and to validate certain levies by such school districts heretofore made, in order to offset adverse court decisions with respect thereto.

11. Providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest on taxes imposed by the various political subdivisions, poor districts and school districts of the Commonwealth.

12. Regulating the sale, exposure, or offering for sale, use, distribution, or possession of fireworks, and defining the meaning thereof.

13. Relating to the widening of the Philadelphia approaches to the Delaware River Bridge, and otherwise relating to the Delaware River Joint Bridge Commission.

14. Relating to the change of venue in criminal proceedings.

15. Making illegal the use of devices or methods of transmisison of information or advices in furtherance of gambling.

16. Amending Paragraphs (d) and (e) of Section 202; Paragraph (a) of Section 409; Section 412; Paragraph (a) of Section 601; and Sections 702, 704, 808, 1201 and 1311 of the Public Utility Law (Act of May 28, 1937, P. L. 1053).

17. Creating and authorizing the appointment of a commission to investigate the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth, and conferring necessary powers and imposing duties thereof, and making an appropriation therefor.

18. Validating commissions heretofore created by joint resolution of the Legislature, their actions, expenses and expenditures, and making appropriations therefor.

19. Authorizing the receipt of the report and recommendations of the Pennsylvania Anthracite Coal Industry Commission, and taking such action upon the recommendations contained in the report as may be deemed appropriate, and making appropriations to supply deficiencies incurred by the said commission.

20. Appropriations to the Department of Health to supply the deficiency incurred and needed for the purpose of pumping flood waters from coal mines and slate quarries, in accordance with the provisions set forth in the Act of June 16, 1936, P. L. 16 (First Special Session of 1936).

21. Amending and supplementing existing laws relating to the number of exists and means of egress from buildings.

22. Enabling the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, to enter into agreements with housing authorities to purchase and acquire real estate from said authorities.

23. Enabling the State to care for the mentally ill and feeble-minded.

24. Appropriations for the expenses of the special session.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at the City of Harrisburg, this twenty-second day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, and of the Commonwealth the one hundred sixty-third.

JOINT SESSION

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, THOMAS KENNEDY, PRESIDING

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you the Committee appointed to escort the Governor of the Commonwealth to the Hall of the House to address the Joint Assembly.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR KENNEDY. Members of the General Assembly, I have the pleasure at this time to present His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, George H. Earle, who will now address the General Assembly.

ADDRESS OF THE GOVERNOR

To the Honorable, the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ladies and Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

I have convened your honorable body in Extraordinary Session to repel an unprecedented judicial invasion of the Executive and Legislative branches of our government.

In this invasion the powers vested in the Legislative branch have been usurped, Constitutional guarantees of the independence of Executive and Legislative branches have been violated, and a dictatorial overlordship of the Judiciary has been asserted.

In all the 300 years of this State's history no such action has ever before succeeded. Time and again the courts have consistently respected the Constitutional provision under which our State Government is divided into three coordinate branches—Executive, Legislative and Judicial—none of which is subject to domination or control by the other.

Now, by its present action, the Judiciary has made a scrap of paper of the Constitution and its own prior decisions. It has summoned the Dauphin County Grand Jury, under its direction, to conduct an investigation into the operations of the Executive branch. In so doing it has likewise granted similar inquisitorial rights to the District Attorney of every one of the sixty-seven counties of the Commonwealth.

The situation would be comparable on a much larger scale if any United States Attorney, in even the most remote and sparsely-settled State, were to launch a Grand Jury invesigation of the official conduct of the President of the United States and the officers of his Cabinet.

I need not remind you that the operations of the Executive Department involve the entire State, not any single county, and that therefore they must be under the supervision of that agency which represents the entire State, which is the General Assembly.

That point is abundantly clear in Article VI, Section 3, of our Constitution, which provides that:

"The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office, but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth; the person accused, whether convicted or acquitted, shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law."

The same Article provides that the House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, and that all impeachments shall be tried by the Senate.

The Supreme Court has in numerous instances recognized this mandate of the Constitution.

In Governor Hartranft's Appeal, the Supreme Court in 1877 ruled specifically that the Governor cannot be investigated by a Grand Jury of any county.

Said the Supreme Court in that case:

"Where does the Court of Quarter Sessions, or any other Court, get the power to call this man (meaning the Governor) before it, and compel him to answer for the manner in which he has discharged his constitutional functions as executor of the laws . . .?

"If . . . we once begin to shift the supreme executive power, from him upon whom the Constitution has conferred it, to the judiciary, we may as well do the work thoroughly and constitute the courts the absolute guardians and directors of all governmental functions whatever. If, however, this cannot be done, we had better not take the first step in that direction . . .

"The Governor cannot thus be placed under the guardianship and tutelage of the courts.

"To the people, under the methods prescribed by law, not to the courts is he answerable for his doings or misdoings.

"It is his duty from time to time, to give to the General Assembly information of the state of the Commonwealth,' but it is not his duty to render such an account to the Grand Jury of Allegheny or any other county."

What language could be clearer that that—"it is not his duty to render such an account to the Grand Jury of Allegheny or any other county."

Again, only a month ago, the Supreme Court, while the effect of its action was otherwise, paid lip service to the decision in the Hartranft case and the Constitution in these words:

"We recognize the strength of the language used in the Constitution, Article IV, Section 2, providing that the supreme executive power shall be vested in the Governor . . . it is basic and fundamental in our system of government that the powers of the three coordinate branches of government are and should be separate and kept clear, the one from the other. The Judicial branch cannot assume overlordship of the Executive or Legislative, or vice versa . . ."

I do not propose, now or in the future, to plead immunity for public officials charged with crime, from the normal processes of law—arrest, indictment, trial and punishment. I dismissed the former Attorney General because he refused to procure the arrest of those he charged with crime. I demanded of the District Attorney of Dauphin County that he arrest any person against whom he had evidence of wrong-doing, and I again call upon him now to take such action if he has evidence to warrant it.

I demand that any investigation of the Executive branch be conducted by that body exclusively empowered by the Constitution to conduct such investigation, the General Assembly. In view of the wide currency given to unsupported charges against myself and other high civil officers, I request and recommend that such investigation be made, in order that the guilty, if any, may be punished, and the innocent vindicated.

I have no quarrel with our Judicial system or with the courts as such. I recognize the Judiciary as a coordinate branch of our government of checks and balances. All three branches operate under the Constitution, which prescribes the boundaries of their jurisdiction.

When the Judiciary transgresses those boundaries it prostitutes and abuses judicial process, violating the Constitution and the rights of the people.

If the Judiciary is to be permitted to assume overlordship of the Executive, and to usurp the functions of the Legislature with impunity, then Constitutional government dies and judicial distatorship takes its place.

In these times, when the world suffers from the pestilence of dictatorships, the appearance of such tendencies in our Judiciary is an ominous sign, for the history of civilization has demonstrated that the most cruel and oppressive of all dictatorships have been those of Judicial bodies. The Inquisition, the Bloody Assizes, the ill-famed Court of Star Chamber and other black milestones of history stand as grim reminders of Judicial tyranny.

Nothing tends more to undermine our fundamental democracy than the abuse of the wide discretion granted to our Judiciary, since it permits the subtle and stealthy destruction of the people's rights behind the cloak of Judicial privilege. Freemen the world over have been obliged to revolt, time and time again, against such abuse.

I will not have it said of me that during my term of office I violated my solemn oath by failing to protect and defend the Constitutional prerogatives of the high office which I hold. I will not permit the establishment of a precedent which will place every Governor who succeeds me under the thumb of the Judiciary, and under the inquisition of any District Attorney of any county who may find it politically expedient to drum up charges against the head of the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Nor will I permit the rights and prerogatives of the General Assembly to be trampled upon. I will defend Constitutional government at all costs.

I serve solemn warning that I will not permit the establishment of a Judicial dictatorship in this Commonwealth. I charge you to inquire fully into the present attempt to assert such overlordship, to exercise your Constitutional authority to resist it, and to take appropriate action with respect to all persons responsible for or partaking in it.

Time does not permit a full review of the recent developments giving rise to the present Constitutional crisis, but I wish to present a few of the salient facts.

In April of this year Charles J. Margiotti, who as Attorney General was my chief legal advisor as well as the chief law enforcement officer of the Commonwealth, charged in political speeches on behalf of his own candidacy for Governor that high officials of my Administration were guilty of various crimes. I demanded that he discharge his sworn duty as the State's chief law enforcement officer by prosecuting the accused, and dismissed him when he refused to do so

Mr. Margiotti, who had up to that time asserted his complete confidence in my own integrity, then entered into collaboration with the Republican District Attorney of Dauphin County in the preparation of a petition for a Grand Jury inquiry. This petition was presented to the three Republican Judges of the Dauphin County Court, who without study certified that it was founded on fact. These Republican Judges certified a petition which did not contain a single allegation that a crime had been committed within the jurisdiction of their court. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania reviewed the petition and threw it out of court, at the same time publicly censuring the action of the Dauphin County Court as "unwarranted in law." The District Attorney then amended his petition, and again the Dauphin County Court certified it without investigation. The Supreme Court, in the face of a statement under oath by the Governor of the Commonwealth that the petition was based upon manufactured evidence and was a fraud upon the court, refused to review the evidence to determine whether such fraud existed.

Ignoring the affidavit of the Chief Executive, which vitally affected the validity of the petition, the Supreme Court accepted the petition at face value.

It then proceeded to throw all Judicial discretion to the winds, to reverse every one of its previous decisions, to flout the clear and unequivocal mandate of the Constitution. It arrogated to the Judiciary the right to investigate the Executive; thereby striking at the very heart of our government.

Apparently recognizing the enormity of its conduct, and shrinking from taking such action directly, it "passed the buck" to a lower court judge of its own selection, deputizing him to do what it dared not do itself. In this manner a Grand Jury investigation of the Executive branch was ordered.

In other words, upon unsupported charges of a disappointed office-seeker and dismissed public official, through the instrumentality and a petition drawn by a henchman of the Dauphin County Republican machine, the Dauphin County Court, consisting of three former Republican officeholders who are notoriously part and parcel even today of the same Republican machine, ordered a Grand Jury investigation. Rebuffed by the Supreme Court, which could not stomach such a petition, the Dauphin County District Attorney prepared a second petition, and without investigating sworn charges of fraud the Supreme Court then went ahead, and subsequently its hand-picked judge ordered the investigation.

It went ahead on the basis of unsupported statements that the public safety was endangered and the government disrupted. Where is there any evidence of this supposed danger to public safety? Where has it ever been charged that the laws of the Commonwealth have not been enforced, the public safety protected, the public health and convenience provided for? I ask that you consider those questions with care, for they form the only justification offered by either the Dauphin County Court or the Supreme Court for their action.

I charge that the District Attorney of Dauphin County has wilfully and maliciously, for political advantage, to defame innocent persons, and to bring discredit upon high civil officers, entered into a conspiracy to obstruct justice, that he has wilfully and knowingly committed a fraud upon the courts of this Commonwealth in furtherance of that objective, and that in this attempt he has been aided and abetted by the Judges of the Dauphin County Court. I further charge that the Judges of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania have been guilty of gross abuse of their Judicial authority, that they have permitted themselves to be used as the instruments for the furtherance of a political conspiracy, and that they have transgressed upon the rights of both Executive and Legislative branches in contravention of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

I recommend that you summon both the former Attorney General, Charles J. Margiotti, and the District Attorney of Dauphin County, Carl B. Shelley, compelling both to submit publicly such evidence as they may have of any wrong-doing involving the official acts of the Governor and all other Executive officers, and further requiring them to explain why they have not caused warrants to issue for the arrest of any individuals against whom they have evidence of criminal conduct.

I recommend that you summon any and all persons who may be in possession of any information relating to any wrong-doing involving such officers, as well as any documents or othere evidence that may have a hearing upon the subject, and that you take measures to have all such evidence disclosed publicly.

I recommend that all persons accused of wrong-doing, or otherwise named in connection with such wrong-doing, be given full opportunity to testify publicly in their own behalf.

I recommend that you consider carefully the implications involved in the fact that the assistants of the District Attorney of Dauphin County in the proposed investigation include Fred C. Morgan, Republican county chairman of Dauphin County; Earl Compton, attorney for the Republican organization; Lynn G. Adams, member of the Statewide research committee of the Republican organization, and other politically-motivated Republican henchmen.

I suggest also that you investigate the conduct of this District Attorney, his assistants, and all others identified with this situation. I make this suggestion because the entire situation which confronts us is clearly and unmistakably a shameless political conspiracy engineered by the Republican leadership in Pennsylvania, which is attempting to conduct its political campaign in the courts. The fact that the courts have permitted themselves to be used for this purpose is the most damning indictment of our Judiciary within the memory of man.

The Republican leadership in this instance has resorted to a barrage of poison gas in a desperate effort to distract public attention from the epoch-making achievements of the present Administration and the present Legislature. Republican-dominated courts have been the willing tools of the Republican machine, and of the individuals who control that machine, in the present effort to tear down the entire structure of State Government in oder to reach and injure the Democratic officials who presently occupy it. No slander has been too base, no libel too malicious, no fraud too unscrupulous, for these conspirators who hurl their poisonous charges from the safe concealment of judicial protection.

I charge you to drag them into the open, so that they may be made answerable to the people and to the law for every false charge they may dare to make. The people of this State have a right to the facts; it is your duty to bring those facts before them.

I call upon you to repeal an invasion not only of the Executive and Legislative branches, but of the people's rights and prerogatives. It was the people who adopted the Constitution. It is their Constitution; their government. They, and they alone, are sovereign. Violation of the Constitution transgresses most of all upon them. In prescribing methods for the operation of their government they clearly decreed that any misconduct of either Executive or Judicial officers should be under the exclusive jurisdiction of their elected representatives in the Legislature. That decree of the people has not been obeyed by the Judiciary; it is your duty to enforce it.

Should there be any question in your minds concerning the wisdom of burdening the Commonwealth with the expense of a Special Session, I say that no price is too great to pay for the preservation of Constitutional government, but I hasten at the same time to point out that a Special Session would in all events have been necessary in October to provide appropriations for unemployment relief, so that the cost of such a Session would have been unavoidable under any circumstances.

In the call for this Special Session I have set forth a number of subjects which it is desirable for your honorable body to consider at this time.

Those subjects relative to the right of the Judiciary to investigate the Executive, and to the authority of Grand Juries, I have already discussed. The question of defining the powers of the Attorney General and district attorneys has been presented to make possible such legislation as will prevent the Judiciary from arbitrarily stripping the Attorney General, a Constitutional officer, of his historic and hitherto unquestioned powers.

Appropriations to provide moneys from the General Fund for unemployment relief and assistance are essential because the sum previously appropriated will be exhausted early in November. The impossibility of estimating in advance the extent of Federal work relief in Pennsylvania, or of anticipating the extent of relief needs, has been primarily responsible for this condition. We have kept our pledge that no one would starve in Pennsylvania.

We have relieved the real estate taxpayer by assuming under our unified assistance program many responsibilities formerly borne by local and county governments. We have for the first time provided adequate appropriations to take care not only of the unemployed, but of the aged, the blind, the widowed mothers and dependent children. This humanitarian endeavor has saved hundreds of thousands from destitution, has given new hope to the unfortunate, and in large measure has contributed to the maintenance of mass purchasing power. I am happy to report that despite the many financial responsibilities facing your State government we have not only a balanced budget but a substantial excess of income over expenditures, so that the necessary appropriations may be made directly from this excess in the General Fund without resort either to new taxation or to special fund borrowings.

The item relative to grants to the blind is designated to provide for legislation which will permit payment of existing blind pensions without change, and at the same time will permit the Commonwealth to receive Federal grants in proportion to the amount it spends for persons who are not only blind but also indigent.

Clarification of legislation relative to medical care for indigent persons is necessary because it is difficult to determine whether finincial responsibility for such care under existing laws rests upon the counties or upon the Commonwealth.

Appropriations to the Department of Property and Supplies for rental of new General State Authority buildings are necessary because existing legislation authorizes only the rental of buildings specified in the original State Authority program. These appropriations will permit the State to rent other buildings now proposed, and must be made now as evidence of the Commonwealth's good faith in order that additional Federal grants of funds may be obtained for such buildings by the General State Authority.

The suggested enlargement of the powers of the General State Authority to permit construction of school buildings and rental of such buildings to school districts is a matter of immediate and vital importance. It is estimated that 2000 new schools are needed in all parts of the Commonwealth. Many districts are in such financial distress that they could not possibly construct such buildings.

If the General State Authority is empowered to undertake such construction, and if it can obtain approval of the projects involved before the end of this September, the Federal Government will provide an outright grant of forty-five percent of the estimated $75,000,000 cost of 1000 such schools. With the General State Authority financing the remainder of the cost through sale of its own bonds, school districts will be enabled to obtain these desperately needed facilities by paying rentals to the Authority adequate to cover interest and Sinking Fund charges, such rentals to be paid either entirely by the school districts or in part by the Commonwealth, as the General Assembly may determine.

Further legislation relative to taxation by first class school districts is essential because of the invalidation of laws affecting such taxation; without it these school districts will lose many millions of dollars and will be seriously hampered in the conduct of their affairs.

Abatement of tax penalties and interest is recommended in view of the fact that many home-owners, who have been able to maintain their homes up to this time despite financial adversity, are in danger of losing those homes at a time when improving economic conditions promise at least partial relief in the near future.

Regulation of the sale and use of fireworks is so obviously necessary, in view of the terrible toll of death and injury during the recent celebration of Independence Day, that it needs no further discussion. It will suffice to say that this subject was included in order that action might be taken while the matter was still fresh in the public consciousness.

Widening of the approaches to the Delaware River bridge has long been advocated, and plans to make this needed improvement at present await only the enactment of certain legislation relative to technical phases of the problem.

The proposal relative to change of venue in criminal proceedings is designed to protect the civil rights of defendants in criminal cases by preventing the Commonwealth from removing such defendants from the county in which the offense was committed for the purpose of trial.

I recommend the outlawing of ticker service which not only encourages gambling but also permits the defrauding of the public by enabling professional gamblers to receive early returns and to make wagers after such returns are received.

The suggested amendments to the Public Utility Law are necessary to correct certain technical defects which open the way for widespread evasion of the intent and purposes of the law.

New legislation affecting the Oil Commission and other similar commissions is recommended because of recent rulings that such commissions must be created by act rather than by resolution.

The problem of anthracite is one that cannot be ignored or slighted. For many months it has been exhaustively studied by the Anthracite Coal Industry Commission, which has submitted a report and recommendations. In addition to these recommendations there have been numerous suggestions from expert sources relative to the problem of inter-state markets, the question of monopolistic financial control, nationalization, and other pertinent phases of the general subject. It is my earnest desire, in order that we may leave no stone unturned in our search for solution, that your honorable body study the Commission's report with the greatest care.

Because of my intense personal interest, and my keen desire to discover any possible remedy, whether temporary or permanent, I shall be happy to discuss this matter further with the members of your honorable body at any time, and to give my support to any plan approved by the legislature which may afford a solution.

Further appropriations to pump flood waters from coal mines and slate quarries are indicated because the original appropriations were not adequate to permit the fulfillment of the terms of the act under which such work was undertaken by the Department of Health.

Amendment of laws relative to entrances and exits from buildings will remove a technical obstacle to the development of Federal-aided low-cost housing projects.

The provision to permit the Commonwealth to purchase real estate from housing authorities opens the way for acquisition of the tract needed for the proposed expansion of the State Capitol group.

The subject relative to State care for the mentally ill is presented in order to permit consideration of recent reports and recommendations by the State Welfare Commission, the Department of Welfare, and the legislative committee which has been studying this problem.

Legislation relative to the Turnpike Commission is recommended to remedy omissions in existing laws.

Appropriations for the expenses of the Special Session are recommended, to be provided as needed with the suggestion that every effort consistent with thoroughness be made to expedite action upon the subjects of the call in order to keep such expenses at a minimum.

In closing, may I again point out that the public interest requires the fullest public investigation of all charges that have been made, that they be brought out in the open rather than kept behind the closed doors of a Grand Jury. This I have demanded from the beginning, and insist upon now.

I am confident that you will discharge your duty in this Extraordinary Session in the same spirit of public service that marked your deliberations and your actions at the last session of your Honorable Body.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR KENEDY. The Chair wishes to express the thanks of the General Assembly to the Governor for the wonderful message delivered to us this evening. Thank you very much.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1938. No. 2.

SENATE

The Senate met at 12 o'clock noon Tuesday, July 26, 1938, (E. S. T).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor, Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

O God, our God, and beside Thee there is none other—Thou art the true and living God, our everlasting King; severe in sin, yet always so forgiving! For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is thy mercy toward them that fear Thee. In the darkness of the hours, Thou hast blessed thy beloved with sleep, and the sunlight of the morning brings to us new vigor and strength.

Our Father, do Thou bless us now with the consciousness of Thy presence here at this place, at this hour at this moment, that we may know Thee as the One who kept us last night and throughout the yesterdays of life. Do Thou give to us a consciousness of Thy presence not alone, but do Thou bless us in the transactions of this day. May we seek and accept that guidance which Thou art ever so ready to give that on the morrow we may rejoice, as we look back upon the foot-prints of today. We ask it in His precious name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. KUNKEL, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 1, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five, (P. L. 30), entitled "An act to authorize changes of venue in criminal cases," forbidding changes of venue in criminal prosecutions by any court on application of the Commonwealth or prosecutor.

He also, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, (P. L. 452), entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, improve and operate projects, and to lease the same, and to fix and collect fees, rentals, and charges for the use thereof; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority, and providing for the payment of such bonds, and the rights of the holders thereof; and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency; and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant, assign convey, or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein, and to acquire lands therefor; granting the right of eminent domain; and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act," as amended; by providing for additional projects and providing for the leasing of projects by the Authority to school districts.

He also, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act to amend article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith;" by authorizing school districts, singly or jointly with other districts, to convey or lease property to the General State Authority, to acquire additional property for such purposes, to contract with and lease property from said Authority, and to levy additional taxes to pay rentals; and authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases, and in such cases defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth.

Mr. HENNEY, from the Committee on Welfare, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 5, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," by re-defining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. CAVALCANTE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 11 entitled:

An Act concerning the displacement or superseding of District Attorneys by the Attorney General.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. REED read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 12 entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding section One-A.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1938.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father we begin the day with praise and thanksgiving unto Thee. Thou are ever mindful of us and we give Thee first place in our lives. If we hallow Thy name, the work we do will be hallowed. The work of the State is usually measured in terms material, but he who said "We can not recover materially until we have recovered spiritually," spake for the ages. They, twain, must be companions. Therefore, we bow in reverence unto Thee. Thou art the hope for the day.

In His Blessed name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

STATEMENT BY MR. WOODSIDE.

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: I feel that this is not the time to review the frenzied efforts of the Governor and his aids to avoid ε grand jury investigation of the crimes alleged by Democrats to have been committed by Democratic officials. However, as a life long citizen of Dauphin County, one of its representatives, and a member of the Bar of its Court, I feel I would be derelict in my duty if I were not to voice the indignation of the people of this County over the unjustified, unwarranted and misleading attack made by his Excellency on certain of our officials, particularly our courts.

The Governor intimated that the Supreme Court censored the judges of our County. The truth is that the Supreme Court not only did not censor them but had this to say about them in this case: "We express our complete confidence in the integrity, ability, fairness and impartiality of these judges, and we are certain had they remained in charge of these proceedings, they would have discharged the trust committed to their keeping in accordance with the highest and best Judicial traditions of the Commonwealth."

And that is not all. So unjustified was the Governor's previous attack upon our Court that his own attorney had to make this apology for him:

"It is a matter of personal regret to me that the subject matter of this case has been thrown into the political arena while the case is still pending before the Court. I wish to say that as far as I personally am concerned I have the greatest respect for the Dauphin County Court. I regard its members as men of the highest integrity."

The Governor suggested that because these judges at one time were members of the Senate, this House or connected with the Department of Justice, they were disqualified to pass upon the charges of crime made by the Democrats against the Democrats. The Governor should know that since before he was born, these judges as members of the Dauphin County Bar and as citizens and officials of this County were creating for themselves a reputation for integrity never questioned through the years.

The Governor did not call to your attention that the Common Pleas Judges of Dauphin County after serving over ten years on the bench were so highly thought of that they were reelected with the support of all parties including the Democratic organization of this County. He did not tell you that the Judges of Dauphin County have jealously guarded the criminal courts against politics as was demonstrated in the trial of Senator Clark and others. He did not tell you that the Dauphin County judges, after the unwarranted attack by the Governor, themselves requested to be relieved from any further connection with the case, and that it was then that the Supreme Court appointed Judge Paul N. Schaffer of Berks County to take charge of the case.

It must be remembered that Judge Schaffer is a Democrat; that he was sufficiently respected by the Democratic controlled Commission of this legislature investigating crime and criminal procedure in Pennsylvania, to be called before it for the purpose of giving his suggestions. It is to be remembered that the Governor himself recognized Judge Schaffer as a man of ability and integrity in appointing him to important public commissions.

Of course the Governor did not call to your attention that Judge Schaeffer was fearless enough to send to jail, prominent Democratic politicians of Berks County.

But of all things, imagine the audacity of the Governor saying that it was "criminal" for the President Judge of Dauphin County to have lunch with visiting Judge Schaeffer.

In Dauphin County we still have respect for these honorable judges of our Courts and resent the unjustified attack made upon them.

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I wish to compliment the gentleman from Dauphin, who is a member of the Dauphin County Bar, and, on behalf of the Democrats, I desire to wish him God Speed in his practice before the Dauphin County Court.

I hope the Dauphin County Judges will read of the high esteem in which the gentleman holds the Dauphin County Court.

CAUCUS OF MEMBERS

The Republicans will caucus in the Senate Caucus Room immediately after adjournment.

The Democrats will caucus in the House Caucus Room immediately after adjournment.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 2:08 p. m) the House adjourned until Wednesday, July 27, 1938, at 1:00 p. m.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1938. No. 3.

SENATE

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.), Wednesday, July 27, 1938.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor, Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

O Lord, our Lord—Thou who hast set Thy glory above the heavens—how excellent is Thy name in all the earth! The heavens declare Thy glory, and the firmament showeth Thy handiwork.

The earth is Thine, and the fullness thereof, the world, and all they that dwell therein—for Thou hast founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods.

Verily, the fool hath said, in his heart, "There is no God." Thou hast said, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me."

We would praise Thee with the whole heart, and show forth Thy marvelous works—for Thou art our light and our salvation.

Guide us in the labors of the day, that we forget not the meaning of our presence here; for we know that except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it: except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.

And may Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. To this end, the goal of human destiny, the poet's dream, the prophet's vision, the purpose and promise of our God, may we commit ourselves. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate the following:

Harold J. Ranck, Cherry Tree, Indiana County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in the Borough of Cherry Tree, Indiana County, to fill a vacancy, until the first Monday in January, 1940.

Harry A. Stein, Martins Creek, Northampton County, for appointment as Justice of the Peace in the Township of Lower Mt. Bethel, Northampton County, vice William J. Karabinus, resigned, until the first Monday in January, 1940.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

He also presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows:

POSTAGE ON LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 27, 1938.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor hereby to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives authorizing the proper arrangements for postage, in order that the Legislative Journal may be mailed according to the requirements of the Post Office Department, and directing that the Appropriations Committee provide for the cost of the same in the bill providing for the expenses of the Extraordinary Session.

SALARIES AND POSTAGE OF SENATORS AND MEMBERS

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, July 27, 1938.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor hereby to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives authorizing the State Treasurer to pay, on warrant of the Auditor General, the salaries of Members of the General Assembly, and postage, to which they are entitled for an extraordinary session by virtue of the provisions of the Act of June 2, 1933, P. L. 1422.

EMPLOYEES OF THE SENATE

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE announces the following appointments, effective July 25, 1938:

CLERK TO COMMITTEE

Emanuel Wolfson, 1713 N. 31st. St., Phila., Pa., vice Maxwell S. Rosenfeld, 3220 W. Clifford St., Phila. Pa., resigned.

Joseph Nissley, Stenographer to President Pro Tempore, Vice Henrietta D. Jenkins, resigned.

The PRESIDENT. The resignations and appointments will be noted in the Journal.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his point of information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information from the Chair or this body pertaining to Senate Bill No. 13, that I introduced yesterday pertaining to legislation for bituminous coal mines. The information I desire is whether or not such legislation was called for by the Governor.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands the bill is to amend a certain section of the bituminous mining law. The bituminous mines are under the jurisdiction of a separate code of laws apart from the anthracite laws. The courts of the Commonwealth have always decided that anthracite is a subject for special legislation. The call of the Governor, nineteenth part, provides for authorizing the receipt of the report and recommendations of the Pennsylvania Anthracite Coal Industry Commission and to take such action upon the recommendations contained in the report as may be deemed appropriate in making appropriations to supply deficiencies incurred by the said Commission.

In the judgment of the Chair under this authorization legislation affecting the bituminous industry would not be in order under the call.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, if that be the case then I refer to call No. 20, pertaining to the health and condition of the bituminous coal mines and pumping water from the mines. My bill pertains to the same.

The PRESIDENT. The appropriation is made to the Department of Health for the purpose of dewatering mines and quarries. Under that provision, I do not think your bill would fit, in my judgment.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I cannot see why, when legislating anything at all pertaining to the bituminous coal mines.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair suggests that you might have the Attorney General pass on that point, and that the remarks of the Chair are its decision. It is the ruling of the Chair that it is not permissible under the call.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-five (Pamphlet Laws thirty) entitled "An act to authorize changes of venue in criminal cases" forbidding changes of venue in criminal prosecutions by any court on application of the Commonwealth or prosecutor

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Hereafter in criminal prosecutions the venue may be changed by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania or the court in which the indictment shall be pending on application of the defendant or defendants only and not on application of the Commonwealth or the prosecutor

Section 2 No writ of certiorari shall hereafter be issued by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania to remove the record of any criminal prosecution thereto for the purpose of changing the venue on petition of the Commonwealth or the prosecutor but such writs shall issue only on petition of the defendant or defendants.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 5, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty seven (Pamphlet Laws two thousand fifty-one) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by re-defining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services

Section 1. Section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws two thousand fifty-one) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2. Definitions As used in this act unless otherwise indicated

"Assistance" means assistance in money goods shelter [services] medical care or burial provided from or with State or Federal funds for indigent persons who reside in Pennsylvania and need assistance to enable them to maintain for themselves and their dependents a decent and healthful standard of living and for indigent homeless or transient persons The word assistance shall be construed to include pensions for those blind persons who are entitled to pensions as provided in this act

"Local Board" means any county board of assistance established under the provisions of this act and shall include any county relief board or Board of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund or Board of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind until abolished in accordance with law

The masculine pronoun includes the feminine.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

RESOLUTIONS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair takes up priviledged resolutions. The Chair hears none.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. HUNTLEY offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1938.

C. J. Goodnough, former Chairman of the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission, died on July 21, 1938, at the age of seventy-one years. He was born on July 15, 1867, at Whitsville, New York. His father died when he was three, and his mother died when he was thirteen. He subsequently was hired out to a farmer and and because of the limited circumstances in which he found himself, he determined to spend his leisure in study, so as to qualify for a better position in life. At the age of sixteen he had secured a first class teaching certificate, and began the teaching of school. A few years later he moved to Emporium, Pennsylvania, and obtained a position as bookkeeper and clerk in the general store of that town. He succeeded at his work of clerkship and in 1894 ran for the office of prothonotary, register, recorder and clerk of the court, and was elected. He served four terms in that office. Subsequently thereto he became general manager of the Cameron Coal Company, later general manager of the Emporium Iron Company, a director of the First National Bank of Emporium, and was a charter member and president of the Emporium Trust Company, which latter office he held until his death.

During the business years of his life he was elected as a Member to the General Assembly and served in the General Assembly a total of nine years. During two of the terms he was elected as Speaker of that body. He was appointed Public Service Commissioner on December 1, 1932, and was appointed chairman of that body on May 6, 1933. He continued to be chairman of that Commission until the new Public Utility Commission was created.

He was a man of self-respect and a man respected by all. He was a man of quiet dignity and pleasant manner. As a Speaker of this House he was well informed as to the rules, and was known for the fairness of his decisions, and endeavored to avoid any appearance of partisanship. He possessed many of the old fashioned virtues and brought much distinction to himself as well as great honor to Cameron County, in which he spent most of his life. In fact Cameron County regards him as one of her most distinguished sons.

He leaves surviving him his wife, Florence Olmstead Goodnough..

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives express their sincere sympathy to his wife on her bereavement, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to her by the Chief Clerk of this House.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. COLEMAN offered a resolution a which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1938.

Resolved, That the Speaker appoint a committee of five Members to arrange for memorial services to be held in the House of Representatives at a time to be fixed by the committee as a further mark of respect to the memory of:

The Honorable William P. Gallagher of Luzerne County, late Chief Clerk of this House;

The Honorable William J. Munley, a former Member from the County of Lackawanna;

The Honorable Charles Henry Richter, a former Member from the County of Adams; and

The Honorable C. J. Goodnough, a former Speaker of this House, from the County of Cameron.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE

The SPEAKER. Pursuant to the resolution adopted by the House the Chair appoints as a Committee to arrange memorial services, Messrs. Coleman, Bohn, Moomaw, Huntley and Longaker.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Messrs. MELCHIORRE, FALKENSTEIN and Miss BRANCATO offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1938.

Charles Turchi, the Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, died on August 21, 1937. Charles Turchi had been appointed Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the House in January, 1935, and served in that capacity up until the time of his death.

In his capacity as Sergeant-at-Arms he was always firm, but courteous, and careful to give offense to no one. He was liked by every one and will be greatly missed by his friends.

Resolved, That the Members of this House of Representatives express their sincere sympathy to the wife and family of Charles Turchi in their bereavement, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to his wife and an additional copy to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Turchi.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. McGEE and WALSH offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1938.

At the now twice famous Lying-in Hospital in the City of Philadelphia, there was born to the faithful wife of our fellow member "Leo" Ceasar, a splendid nine pound boy, who already at this early age gives definite promise of following closely in the footsteps of his worthy sire; therefore be it,

Resolved, That the House of Representatives is happy to recognize this momentous occasion in the life of one of its members, and to welcome to the ranks of its junior members this most recent newcomer.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly certified, be presented to the Honorable J. Leo Ceasar.

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, "When called to the chief magistracy of the State, I found her finances embarrassed, her citizens oppressed by taxation, her improvement system involved, and the still more precious system which gives the blessings of education to the children of all alike, sustaining a feeble and precarious existence. At the present time, no tax burdens the tiller of the soil, no increase of debt has been made to justify taxation hereafter, resources of easy and cheap credit are open, confidence is restored, and with it business is reviving, the school system is out of danger, the public improvements are in a condition of economical management."

Those were the official words, members of the House, of a Republican Governor of Pennsylvania one hundred years ago in addressing for the last time the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. This afternoon at 6:30 the people of Cumberland county will honor its only past Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Joseph Ritner by naming the highway connecting Carlisle and Shippensburg in his honor. Governor Ritner occupied a unique position in the history of Pennsylvania. His position is unique for three or four reasons. The first reason is that he became famous because he repudiated his campaign promises. In the first place, he set up a precedent of a century for the Republican party, and in the second place he redeemed the public school system from a very precarious condition because during the administration of Governor George Wolf this school system had been launched under the able leadership of Thaddeus Stevens, but there were so many loopholes in the law that the school system could scarcely function. Therefore, after having promised to relieve the taxpayers of Pennsylvania from the terrible debt that was going to be incurred by this innovation in the civilization of Pennsylvania, Governor Ritner, under the guidance of Thaddeus Stevens and Thomas Burrowes turned back upon his original intention and staunchly supported the public school system in Pennsylvania, so that in subsquent years Thomas Burrowes said that three men stand out as the champions of public education in Pennsylvania, George Wolf, Joseph Ritner and the man who guided the hand and the brain of both, Thaddeus Stevens.

Governor Ritner is outstanding for another reason. He was one of the first ardent abolitionists. So much did he favor the abolition of slavery at this early stage that John Greenleaf Whittier made him the subject of a long poem expressing the importance of his inaugural address in which he espoused the cause of anti-slavery.

Another thing that caused Joseph Ritner to stand out in Pennsylvania was that as a dirt farmer he was not a curiosity in Pennsylvania. He came here from the soil and he returned to the soil after he finished his duties in the Executive Mansion at Harrisburg.

Another thing that caused his administrating to stand out, very, very strongly was that one hundred years ago the people of Pennsylvania found it necessary to rewrite the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and so embroiled did that administration become in the conflict of the various departments of this Commonwealth that it was necessary for the Governor of this Commonwealth to call out the militia to maintain order while the Legislature enacted the laws to make it necessary to carry out the mandates of the new Constitution. So bitter was that controversy that the fiscal officers of the State of Pennsylvania refused to go along with the Governor to pay the militia that came to Harrisburg to maintain order. They went home without pay because the Treasurer of Pennsylvania refused to acknowledge the invitation of the Governor to call out the militia for the purpose for which it was called out.

In honoring Governor Ritner today, members of the House, we are issuing an invitation to the people who have a definite interest in the program that was promulgated by Governor Ritner. He was born in Berks county. He came to Cumberland county as a farm boy and worked on a farm near Newville, his final resting place. There he took unto himself a bride, and in that early stage of his life set out out across the Alleghenies in a wagon, going into Allegheny county and then into Washington county, where he received the practice and training to make him a successful legislator and Governor. The people of Washington county signally honored him by sending him to this House of Representatives, where he represented this county for four years as a member and two years as Speaker. Therefore, with an interest in the various parts of Pennsylvania and with the traditions of old mother Cumberland reaching out over the Alleghenies, as the mother of twenty-six western counties, it is a privilege on my part to invite not only the people who were the cogenitors of Governor Ritner in Berks County to this celebration this afternoon but all of the people who received from Cumberland their original share of Pennsylvania's land, Washington county.

I invite you, Mr. Speaker, to the celebration this afternoon because from your neighboring county, Washington county, was sent a Speaker to this House of Representatives. I invite the Democrats from all over Pennsylvania to attend this celebration because having produced a Republican Governor in Berks, having lived with one in Cumberland and having sent one from Washington county, I hope to show to you Domocrats that we who have come from this generation of Governor Ritner have improved ourselves by making all three counties Democratic. Then last, and probably least, I invite the Republican members of this House from Delaware, Somerset, Dauphin and Montgomery and all of the other backwood counties to come out this afternoon to view these ceremonies because I think they will be an inspiration for you there in looking back upon this hallowed soil, to think of the farm boy who started his life in Berks and then came to Cumberland on a farm and migrated to Washington, where he prepared himself for the Governorship of this State, and then went back to the beautiful Cumberland Valley, the land of milk and honey, mostly milk.

The SPEAKER. On behalf of the members of the House, especially the members from the backward counties, the Chair wishes to thank the gentlemen from Cumberland for his very kind invitation to attend this celebration.

The remarks of the gentleman from Cumberland will be spread in full upon the Legislative Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and received unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to say to the distinguished gentleman from Cumberland that the Republicans will be glad to accept his backhanded invitation to attend the ceremonies in some place down in Cumberland or Washington counties, I haven't been able to make out which, and I don't know whether he was referring this afternoon, to the period of his speech or the celebration this afternoon. Nevertheless, we will be very happy to accept his invitation because the Republican members of the House feel that they would like to do honor to the last Democratic member of the House from Cumberland county.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread in full upon the Legislative Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. ATKINS

Mr. ATKINS asked and obtained unanimous censent to address the House.

I want to appeal to the Democratic lawyers in this House.

You men have been specially trained and sense what Governor Earle has in mind in rushing these first five bills through this extra session, called primarily for this purpose.

You also are familiar with our traditional Grand Jury picture, and I want you to lead a revolt and call a halt to prevent this.

Hastily drawn legislation, affecting the whole people of this Commonwealth, in this day of fear and hystria must not be railroaded through. Have we forgotten so soon the multitudinous bills passed in the 1937 session so hastily and without mature and proper deliberation.

You men represent the people and not Governor Earle and Senator Guffey, and you are answerable to the people. Why not a public hearing on these bills? Why not invite that nationally known District Attorney of New York City, Thomas E. Dewey, who has so sucessfully reached the higher-ups and sent them to prison? And how does he do this—by Grand Jury investigations, and the same Grand Jury system we have in Pennsylvania today. His work could never have been successful through public hearings, and you lawyers well know that. It is well to follow your leaders just so long as they are right, but when they swing to the left then stand up and fight for the rights and liberties of the people. Our present Grand Jury system is the peoples' system—it gives the same rights to the poor as it does to the rich.

These bills if passed will protect only politicans and rich contractors, and make it impossible for all time for the poor people to reach the public office holder.

Are you lawyers in the House, learned in the law, willing to sacrifice your legal training and knowledge of the law to a leader who has drifted so far down stream that attacking our courts is just another bit of small routine in his days' work.

Our courts will be functioning long after Governor Earle and Senator Guffey have passed out of the political picture, and you lawyers will still be practicing before those courts. But your vote will stand recorded in the House records as long as Democratic Government exists.

Is there a man on the Democratic side of this House who has the courage to move that these five bills be sent back to committee for public hearing?

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread in full upon the Legistative Journal.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Atkins.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ATKINS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Armstrong whether or not he is a member of the Bar.

Mr. ATKINS. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman further if he is trained in the law.

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I can only answer that query as to whether or not I am trained in the law by saying that I have practiced law for the past twenty years.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Armstrong further if he will cite the statutory provisions of any of the enactments of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, instituting Grand Jury proceedings.

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot cite any act at present. I have none before me, but I know that you are tramping upon the very vitals of the Grand Jury system, not only in this State but the system as it exists in other states.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Armstrong whether there are any acts of Assembly enacted in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania defining, instituting or regulating the Grand Jury system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that question. I feel that it is taken care of and it has been taken care of. It has been handed down to us from the old English law, but I cannot recall any specific act or acts. I believe there are none.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Armstrong whether or not in his twenty years' as a member of the Bar, he has come to the conclusion that the English common law can be changed by legislative enactment.

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I refuse to answer the question when he makes facetious remarks about my practice in Armstrong county for twenty years. My practice in Armstrong county will speak for itself.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to apologize to the gentleman from Armstrong. I wish to reframe my question by asking him if it is not a matter of well established law that the English common law can be changed by legislative enactment.

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, that is a fact.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, entitled:

An Act relating to the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office made against certain civil officers subject to impeachment providing that the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives to make such investigations shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of grand juries and limiting the circumstances under which courts of quarter session may authorize grand juries to make such investigations.

The first section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1. Whenever the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment shall be charged with any offense against the laws of this Commonwealth which would constitute or involve misdemeanor in office the House of Representatives shall have exclusive jurisdiction to investigate the same except as hereinafter provided

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any court of quarter sessions to order an investigation by a grand jury of charges against the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment if the offenses charged would constitute or involve misdeameanor in office unless within ninety (90) days after the charges have been brought to the attention of the Governor he shall not convene the General Assembly in special session or unless if the General Assembly is in session when the charges are made the House of Representatives shall fail to investigate them prior to the adjournment of the General Assembly or unless after the investigation by the House of Representatives shall have been concluded a court of quarter sessions after examining the testimony taken by the House of Representatives shall determine that as to some matter or thing over which his court has jurisdiction a grand jury investigation is necessary to develop information not disclosed before the House of Representatives

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 2, page 3, line 2 by inserting at the end of the line the following: "oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or court of"

Amend section 2, page 3, line 3 by inserting after the word "sessions" and before the word "to" the following: "or any judge of such courts"

Amend section 2, page 3, line 12 by striking out at the end of the line the following: "[prior to the adjournment of the General]"

Amend section 2, page 3, line 13 by striking out at the beginning of the line the word: "[Assembly]" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "within ninety (90) days after the charges have been certified by such court or any judge thereof to the Speaker of the House of Representatives

Amend section 2, page 3, line 14, by inserting after the word "court" and before the word "if" the following: "of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or a court"

Amend section 2, page 3, line 16 by inserting after the word "determine" and before the word "that" the following: "and certify by proper order stating the reasons therefor"

Amend section 2, page 3, line 17 by striking out after the word "which" and before the word "court" the word: "[his]" and inserting in lieu thereof the word: "said"

On the question,,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 3 Nothing in this act contained shall prevent evidence presented to the House of Representatives or its committee during any investigation to which this act applies from being subsequently repeated before the grand jury of any county for the purpose of obtaining an indictment against any person involved in the charges investigated by the House of Representatives

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following new section as an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 3, by inserting between lines 26 and 27 the following new section:

"Section 4 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the sections?

It was agreed to.

The fourth section was read as follows:

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 4, page 3, line 27 by striking out after the word "Section" and before the word "This" the figure: "[4]" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure: "5"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The preamble was read and agreed to as follows:

Whereas Article VI Section 3 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth provides that

"The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth the person accused whether convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment trial judgment and punishment according to law" and

Whereas Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment" and

Whereas charges of misdemeanor in office particularly against high officers of the State government tend to destroy public confidence in the integrity of government itself and thus threaten the ability of all government to function and

Whereas such a situation is wholly different from any other situation in which persons are charged with violations of the laws of the Commonwealth and

Whereas the welfare and safety of the Commonwealth require that charges of or involving misdemeanor in office be investigated in public and not in secret and

Whereas an investigation of such charges by a grand jury concurrently with their investigation by the House of Representatives would impede and interfere with the House investigation particularly if the conclusions of the grand jury because known prior to the conclusion of the House investigation

The title was read as follows:

An Act relating to the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office made against certain civil officers subject to impeachment providing that the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives to make such investigations shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of grand juries and limiting the circumstances under which courts of quarter sessions may authorize grand juries to make such investigations

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 1, line 2 of the title, by striking out after the word "against" and before the word "civil" the word: "[certain]"

Amend page 1, line 7 of the title, by inserting after the word "courts" and before the word "of" the following: "of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or courts"

Amend page 1, line 7 of the title, by inserting after the word "sessions" and before the word "may" the following: "or judges of such courts"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 7, page 4, by inserting between lines 27 and 28 the following new paragraph:

"If any such person so committed to a State penitentiary shall persist in his refusal to swear or affirm or being sworn or affirmed shall still on being brought before the House of Representatives from the penitentiary refuse to testify the House of Representatives may make a further order for the detention of such delinquent in said penitentiary until the next succeeding General Assembly shall have met and until the House of Representatives shall make an order for his further detention or discharge as to it shall seem expedient."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this amendment, the person who refuses to testify can be sent to the penitentiary by the House?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. And, now Mr. Speaker, by this amendment, the gentleman from York intends to throw the key away, is that correct?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that is not correct.

I really hate to do this, Mr. Speaker, but the gentleman from Delaware, I understand, is also a member of the Bar and an attorney of long practice, but I do not believe that his memory goes back to the Act of 1842, which has been the law of the Commonwealth since that time, which contains the same commitment and exactly the same procedure in order to purge one's self of contempt, as set forth in this act. The only difference between the Act of 1842 and the act which we now propose to enact being that the commitment in the Act of 1842 was made to the keepers of the Dauphin County jail. In this instance, we feel that reluctant witnesses should be incarcerated in a more secure place of incarceration, the State penitentiary.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from York not think that I was correct then when I asked him whether he did not want to throw the key away.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I might say that we wanted to keep the key out of the hands of those who might possibly use it maliciously.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, did I not understand the gentleman from York a few minutes ago in interrogating the gentleman from Armstrong to ask him whether or not the common law of England could be changed by the statutes of Pennsylvania.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, with a great deal of reluctance I have to raise an objection to that question because it is not pertinent to the issue. I feel sure that tomorrow's forensic display will enable us to have a complete discussion by both sides.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from York now ducking?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Absolutely not, Mr. Speaker. I have my chin up.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The eight, ninth and tenth sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 8 Any committee of the House of Representatives conducting an investigation under the provisions of this act shall after the testimony before the committee has been completed make a report to the House of Representatives containing such conclusions and making such recommendations as to the committee may seem appropriate If the evidence has disclosed misdemeanor in office on the part of the person or persons investigated the House of Representatives may order such person or persons impeached or it may call upon the Attorney General of the Commonwealth or the district attorney of the proper county to prosecute such person or persons in the appropriate court for the offense or offenses disclosed by the evidence

Section 9 Nothing in this act contained shall exempt any civil officer from indictment trial judgment and punishment according to law

Section 10 If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid such invalidity shall not affect provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following new section as an amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 5, by inserting between lines 20 and 21 the following new section: "Section 11 The resolution which became effective the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred forty-two (Pamphlet Laws four hundred ninety one), entitled "Resolution relative to witnesses before either branch of the Legislature", is hereby repealed so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill as amended?

It was agreed to.

The eleventh section was read as follows:

Section 11 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 11, page 5, line 21 by striking out after the word "Section" and before the word "This" the figure: "[11]" and inserting in lieu thereof the figure: "12"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The preamble and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Whereas Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

An Act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General district attorneys other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 3 entitled:

An Act defining the relative powers of the Attorney General and of district attorneys in proceedings in the criminal courts authorizing the judges thereof to appoint subject to appeal to the Supreme Court special prosecutors in certain cases and providing for their compensation by the county

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 In any investigation or proceeding whatsoever pending before any court of oyer and terminer and jail delivery or before any court of quarter sessions in any county of this Commonwealth the Attorney General of the Commonwealth may at any stage of the investigation or proceeding in his absolute discretion supersede and set aside the district attorney of the county

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 2 by inserting after the word "and" and before the word "jail" the word: "general"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the as follows:

Amend page 1, section 1, line 7 by adding at the end thereof the following words: "excepting, however, proceedings or investigations directed against the Governor who appointed said Attorney General".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the adoption of the amendment offered by the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, for the reason that we are here endeavoring to pass long-term legislation which will set forth, and does set forth, in the following sections, which will be subsequently read to the House, the procedure which would cover the particular case he has referred to. The Attorney General has certain definite powers and rights. Unfortunately, even the bill as offered by me will limit those particular rights of the Attorney General. We do provide, as the amendments will show as read later, circumstances under which perhaps the Attorney General would be disqualified and actually the amendments as now offered by the gentleman from McKean would be pure repetition, perhaps by language rather than by the control of the court, where that control should be. I, therefore, ask the members of the House to vote down the amendments offerd by the gentleman from McKean.

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may we have the Clerk read the amendments to the next section referred to by the gentleman from Monroe so that we may see what the language of that amendment is before we have to vote on this question.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House; did the gentleman from Monroe refer to section 2 of the bill under consideration?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the Clerk's reading the amendment referred to.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the House will the gentleman from Monroe state whether or not it is relevant to section 2?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, it is relevant to section 2 after the word "failed".

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments to section 2.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 2, page 2, line 1 by inserting after the word "failed" and before the word "to" the following: "or is unable".

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Monroe what sort of circumstances in his opinion would prevent an Attorney General from being able to perform his duties impartially, which your amendment suggests may arise.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I might suggest that the gentleman read the decision lately rendered by Judge Schaeffer in which he stated that he though that the present Attorney General could not supersede the District Attorney of Dauphin County because of the fact that he was an appointee of the Governor who was to be investigated, and I believe he almost uses that particular language, because of the fact he was appointed by him he would not be able to act impartially. In other words that the courts should determine whether or not a man can or cannot act impartially. I go, Mr. Speaker, with that amendment, much further than the gentleman from McKean proposes to go with his amendment.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would further like to ask the gentleman from Monroe, as the author of this amendment, and his reference to Judge Schaeffer's opinion, which I have read by way of the newspapers alone, whether or not, as the author of this amendment, in his opinion he agrees with Judge Schaeffer that one of the circumstances which would make it impossible for the Attorney General to impartially discharge his duties would be the very circumstances involved in the case before Judge Schaeffer, that the Attorney General in this particular case would at one and the same time be the prosecutor of the man who appointed him as well as his defender. I would like to know whether or not in the opinion of the gentleman from Monroe the circumstances which would prevent the Attorney General from being impartial is that he would be proceeding against the Governor himself. Is that the gentleman's opinion?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman from McKean cannot clarify a rather long question which was a hard one to follow.

Mr. KANE. I will be glad to, Mr. Speaker.

The amendment of the gentleman from Monroe merely adds the words "or is unable to perform his duties impartially." In his explanation he referred to the decision of Judge Schaeffer of Berks County in the proceeding which was assigned to him by the Supreme Court, the case before him now. The reason as I understand, and if I am incorrect I will be glad to be corrected on it, that Judge Schaeffer felt that the Attorney General should not replace the District Attorney of Dauphin County in this particular matter was because the Governor who appointed him was one of the subjects of investigation. I am asking the gentleman from Monroe, as the author of this amendment, whether or not he intended this amendment to cover that very circumstance, that the Attorney General in your opinion is unable to be impartial where the Governor who appointed him is under investigation.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I intend by the amendment to hand to the court a rather large power, to be able to pass in the first instance, of course, on the manner in which the Attorney General may act if he does supersede, or perhaps before he has acted there may be such reasons that in the opinion of the court he could not act. Apparently in the case that I referred to the court was under the impression, or of the opinion, that it would be difficult or impossible, for the Attorney General to act impartially. In other words, the amendment delegates and hands to the courts the power to determine whether or not the Attorney General when he is moving to supersede, whether or not he can act impartially; if in the opinion of the court he can he proceeds; if in the opinion of the court he cannot he must step aside and the court so orders. More than that, Mr. Speaker, I cannot imagine any man demanding.

Mr. KANE. I don't wish to be difficult, Mr. Speaker, but I still desire a direct answer to my question, whether or not the sponsor of this amendment feels the Attorney General could not be impartial. Does he agree with the decision of the court or not.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am discussing the amendments I offered. I do not propose to be interrogated by any member as to whether I do or do not affirm the decision of the Dauphin County Court which the gentleman from McKean is trying to have me do. I am telling him the reasons why I have offered the amendments and the scope under which it will operate and the gentleman from McKean has no right to interrogate any member of this House whether or not he does agree with the decision of Judge Schaeffer in the recent case. This act was drawn not alone for the present conditions we face but also for any other instance that may arise in the future, and it would be impossible to anticipate the various things that might arise. The Attorney General himself might have been the subject of the investigation. My amendment will say that under such circumstances he cannot supersede. There might be many reasons why he could not. I feel, Mr. Speaker, that I have answered all pertinent and relevant questions that the gentleman has asked.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. My purpose in this interrogation was largely this. All of us who have been in court have on many occasions heard a great deal of talk both by attorneys and judges with regard to legislative intent. Sometimes it is a little amusing to us who have seen laws go through without any attempt at discussion to see the lives and property of citizens hanging by the interpretation which the judge or jury is going to place upon the legislative intent. We are passing an act which has far reaching effect. It seems to me the legislative intent is very important. My amendment is very brief and very specific. It says in so many words that where the Governor who appoints the Attorney General is himself the subject of investigation the Attorney General may not act. There is no question about legislative intent in that amendment. The gentleman from Monroe has explained to the House that the amendment which he is going to offer to the subsequent section takes care of the point in a very satisfactory manner. The words, however, are not specific; they say "in case the Attorney General is unable to be impartial" and so forth, certain things shall be done. I feel, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that there is no good reason why we as members of this body should not express our legislative intent so clearly that no citizen or court may have any doubt that what we do intend is that the Governor or no one else shall hire an attorney for his defense as well as for his prosecution. I ask you, members of the House, to say in so many words that the Attorney General shall not be allowed to supersede the District Attorney when the case of the man who hired him is before the Bar.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I understand the purpose of the amendments of the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, it is to restrict the District Attorney from acting in cases in which the Governor or the Attorney General have been charged. I wish to review, since everybody seems to have their eyes and ears centered upon the situation as it now exists in the Dauphin County courts, the situation as it occurred there in order to refresh the recollection of the members of the House who possibly have not accurately read the newspapers reports. To insert the name of the Attorney General, I am somewhat fearful is going to bring down upon him the same type of accusation that has been levelled at other officers of the Commonwealth. We will remember that in the first presentation it was definitely decided that the Governor of the Commonwealth had no connection whatsoever with the matter before the Dauphin County court. The Supreme Court decided that without any reluctance whatsoever. However, the individuals who followed and are pushing the presentation through the Dauphin County Court hit upon a very clever solution and a very diabolical solution. They brought the Governor's name into the picture for one purpose and that was for the purpose of using the fact that the Governor was in the matter as a method of disqualifying his appointee, the present Attorney General. The action of the Dauphin County Court,—I have no reluctance in giving my personal opinion about the Dauphin County Court's action or Judge Schaffer's action, rather,—in the opinion I think it was absolutely contrary to the present existing Supreme Court enunciations on that particular matter. The Supreme Court has time and again and as recently as possibly two years ago, in the case of Commonwealth versus Margiotti, which occurred out in Fayette county, indicated that the Attorney General is the chief law enforcement officer in this Commonwealth, and as the chief law enforcement officer had the right at all times to intervene in any litigation affecting the Commonwealth, criminal or civil. That was definitely enunciated by the Supreme Court very clearly, but the haze and mist that Judge Schaffer was laboring under might possibly explain some of his enunciations in his interviews with the Press. I understand from reading the Press reports in one instance that Judge Schaffer said that the Attorney General without doubt had the right to supersede. I understand further from reading the Press reports that Judge Schaffer subsequently said, "I don't know if the Attorney General has the right to supersede, but I assure you that the Attorney General has some place in this litigation, and I think that the Attorney General should co-operate." Subsequently after those two public enunciations, during which possibly he lulled our Attorney General to sleep, with some sleeping potion the Attorney General was awakened, and rudely awakened, by an opinion of the court, flatly in contradiction to the enunciations of the Supreme Court, and flatly in contradiction to the enunciations of the Supreme Court in the very instant case that he was deciding and in contradiction to the established law of the Commonwealth, and, more so, in contradiction to his two previous public enunciations on that very same matter.

I quite agree with the gentleman from Monroe, Mr.

Achterman, that this particular bill restricts the activities of the Attorney General. It restricts him more so than he is restricted by the present Supreme Court enunciations and more so than he is restricted by the common law and the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

This bill provides that the Attorney General, if the Court shall find that he is unable to perform his duties impartially, he may be removed by that court. I say that there is no necessity to indicate the Governor or Attorney General in this bill because I can but give to the members of this House this one reason why the Attorney General's name should not be specifically mentioned, and that is: I feel that those political individuals who are so politically minded that they are willing to smear the good name of the civil officers of the Commonwealth into the mud would not have the least reluctance to bring in the name of the Attorney General so that he might be specifically disqualified.

I say that this bill as it is written will not expose the Attorney General to the hazards of such an iniquitous accusation and I say that the bill as amended by the gentleman from Monroe adequately protects the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and adequately protects the Attorney General, and I ask you to vote down the amendments of the gentleman from Monroe.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 If in any such investigation or proceeding the court before which it is pending shall find after hearing that the Attorney General has failed to perform his duties impartially such court may order the Attorney General to stand aside and in such event shall appoint an attorney at law resident in another county to supersede and act in lieu of the Attorney General Any special attorney thus appointed shall serve at the pleasure of the court and shall receive from the county in which the investigation is being conducted such compensation as the court shall fix

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 2, page 2, line 1 by inserting after the word "failed" and before the word "to" the following "or is unable"

Amend section 2, page 2, line 4 by inserting after the word "county" and before the word "to" the following: "of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania"

Amend section 2, page 2, line 8 by inserting after the word "investigation" and before the word "is" the following: "or proceeding"

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read as follows:

Section 3 From any order superseding the Attorney General the Attorney General shall have the right immediately to appeal to the Supreme Court and such appeal shall automatically stay all proceedings until the Supreme Court shall have determined the appeal

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 3, page 2, line 13 by inserting after the word "all" and before the word "proceedings" the following: "investigations or"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 2, section 3, line 14 by adding at the end thereof the following: "which appeal the Supreme Court shall decide within fifteen days".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I can see no real reason for insisting that the Supreme Court should decide an appeal in fifteen days. I feel that, prompt and quick decision. I can see no reason why we should hamper or rather urge or rush the Supreme Court in what we have fond to say is their mature deliberation. I ask that the amendment be defeated.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I will make this very brief:

The gentleman from Monroe himself offered an amendment which we all voted for a minute ago, that where, under certain circumstances, the Attorney General was not able to discharge his duties impartially and fairly and so forth, that he might be replaced. The bill goes on then to provide that the Attorney General has the right to appeal from the court's displacing him in any particular proceeding. That appeal goes directly to the Supreme Court and thereafter the Supreme Court hands down a decision as to whether or not the Attorney General shall be the investigating or prosecuting officer of the Governor, we will say, or the Supreme Court itself, perhaps.

All my amendment does is to prevent the Supreme Court from exercising for too long a time what the gentleman from Monroe sarcastically refers to as the court mature judgment and consideration. One of the things which has been broadcast throughout the Commonwealth recently by very many eminent public officials is the vitriolic attack upon the courts, and I wish to make it impossible, under this bill, for the courts to be criticized on the ground that the court is holding up a decision as to whether or not, in a particular case, the Attorney General is qualified to proceed impartially and fairly. I think the time limit is ample and it is also ample, for example, to file an affidavit of defense and I think the amendment should be adopted. The gentleman from Monroe himself has stated that there is no good reason why it should not be.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from McKean.

THE SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Does the gentleman believe his amendment is constitutional?

Mr. KANE. I think so.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Do you not believe that if the Legislature should pass a law defining a definite time in which the court must hand down a decision, that it might very readily be interpreted by the court as an effort on the part of the Legislature to interfere with the operation of the court?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I think that the Supreme Court sometimes held that the Legislature has tried to interfere with it. However, Mr. Speaker, I do not think that any great harm would be done in the Commonwealth if the Legislature should in this and perhaps other cases so frame the law that the court has to act promptly.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I wish to call to the attention of the members of the House the fact that this particular amendment, offered by the gentleman from McKean, might very readily jeopardize this particular act. It is not the intention of the Legislature, and I am sure it certainly is not the intention of the author of the bill, to create a circumstance by which we are going to interfere with the orderly operation of the court in arriving at or hampering its decisions. I can readily appreciate that there might be circumstances under which the court would desire a greater time than fifteen days to dispose of a case coming up before it under this particular bill, if enacted, and I do not feel that this House should, for one minute, pass a law that would say to the court: "You must act within this time, regardless of how weighty or how serious the problem before you is." We are just gambling and being facetious, when we write into the act a condemnation of the court on the ground that, perhaps, they will not expedite proceedings before them, and we may, incidentally, jeopardize the act by raising constitutional questions which we do not desire to do, and I, therefore, ask the members to defeat the amendment.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Achterman, is it not a fact that in your legal practice, you are familiar with a great many acts of the Legislature which prescribe definite time limits within which courts must proceed, within which actions must be commenced, within which appeals may be taken, and which, by Legislative enactment, regulates the time within which the court must act?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I know of no particular act providing any time limit in which the court must hand down its decision. There are procedural time limits in which appeals must be taken. In other words, procedure is regulated by acts of the Legislature, but once the matter is before the court and has been completely argued, the question of time has never been fixed, to my knowledge, in which the court must hand down its decision. That is entirely within the discretion of the court. I wish only to point out to the gentleman that there is a great distinction between rules of procedure, insofar as litigation is concerned, and efforts to regulate the court as to the time in which it shall hand down its decisions.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was not agreed to.

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1938. No. 4.

SENATE

The Senate met at 5:00 o'clock P. M., Thursday, July 28, 1938, (E. S. T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor, Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

Gracious Father, of one blood, Thou hast made all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the earth. In a spirit of universal kinship we would rejoice in Thee, the ever accessible, availabe God, Father of us all.

Abba Father, help us to love and serve our brothers in this present life. Speed the day of our hope and dream, when man shall not crucify his brother-man upon a cross of racial hate; when what we believe may be neither credential to privilege, no bar to promotion; when we shall loom on the color of the heart, rather than the color of the face; and we learn from Thee the measure of a man.

Our Father, we ask that this historic place be made a theater and stage for a great Drama of Good Will, wherein we learn to do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly with our God: and that The choicest treasure mortal times afford is spotless reputation; that away, man becomes but gilded loam, or painted clay. Thy blessing be upon us. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Jouanal was approved.

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 452) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, improve and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees rentals and charges for the use thereof authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant assign convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein and to acquire lands therefor granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" as amended by providing for additional projects and providing for the leasing of projects by the Authority of school districts.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act to amend article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by authorizing school districts singly or jointly with other districts to convey or lease property to the General State Authority to acquire additional property for such purposes to contract with and lease property from said Authority and to levy additional taxes to pay rentals and authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases and in such cases defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it seems to me that this bill should not be passed in its present form. Section 636, provides that any school district shall have power and authority to grant assign and convey to the General State Authority with or without consideration, any lands, easements or rights in land together with any improvements, buildings or structures therein or thereof. Now lately for that grant by the school districts, the school district gets nothing. The State Authority is presumed to build a school building and then it may lease that school building to the school district for a term not exceeding thirty years, at any rentals that may be determined upon by the authorities. There is another provision in Section 640, which permits the school directors to increase the total annual school levy up to 40 mills. I should like to ask the sponsor of this bill to allow it to go over in order that we may have more time to study the same, and that some amendments may be inserted to protect the school districts and prevent the increase of the present rate of mills.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the one provision in this bill in Section 640, namely, the granting to the school districts the power of increasing their millage for the purpose of the program as set forth in this bill by five mills, it is not essential at all to the program, and as I discussed this matter with the Senator from Somerset about ten or fifteen minutes ago, I agreed with him that I would see that this bill was amended in the House to take out that provision requiring the increased five mills. That is not an essential feature about the bill at all. Now the Senator from Somerset didn't raise this question with me until just a few minutes ago. This is distinctly in the nature of an emergency program. Every day that we lose is vital to this situation on account of the fact that all these applications to take advantage of this program have to be prepared, filed and plans drawn and all that sort of thing before the thirtieth day of September of this year. There are some amendments that I want to write, some important amendments that I myself desire to have made in these bills when they go over to the House, and I can assure the Senator from Somerset that we will take care of this tax situation, if that is worrying him. Now with respect to the other section. This section does nothing more than carry out the same sort of plan that we all voted for here last year with respect to handing titles to the General State Authority. We did the same thing with the title to all of the lands of the State Institutions. We voted that they should be conveyed to the General State Authority without any consideration. That is not a formidable objection it appears to me, because we have heretofore conveyed State properties with which we were all in accord and have established that principle. And that principle is essential if we are going to receive the benefit of the PWA money and the applicant for the PWA grant must have both title and possession of the real estate against which the program is being financed by the PWA.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it seems that all of this class of bills that we are called to vote upon are presented to us with the fact that they must be passed immediately to get this or that or the other thing from the Federal Government. And we have rushed into a great deal of unconstitutional legislation by our haste. Now, it seems to me that if the school district is to have the authority to convey its present building to the state authority, to tear them down and build bigger buildings, that we should have in this Act, a referendum clause, and I am willing to go along with it if there is put a clause in here that the people of the districts have a right to vote on it. Without that I will have to vote "no."

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I can't help but accuse the Senator from Somerset in view of his last remark, of trying to accomplish in an indirect way what he doesn't want to do directly. The Senator from Somerset well knows that if there is to be any referendum on the provision of the program, that the whole program will fall. There isn't time enough for the school districts in this State to take advantage of this program and have referendums. If there were, we could have taken advantage of this under the old program. That is one of the things that these bills are aimed to correct. It is just simply a case of a few basing their judgment on the question of referendum. Mr. President, that is equivalent to a vote against a school building program of this kind in Pennsylvania, and nobody can conscientiously say that that isn't equivalent to such vote. If we are going to take advantage of this opportunity to build the school houses throughout the State of Pennsylvania, as we know the public need requires in this State, we have to have some sort of a program of expedition. The School Directors have power to build school houses now without submitting all situations to a referendum, and certainly when we take advantage of a situation wherever school districts in the State of Pennsylvania can have a school building financed to at least of 55% of the cost of that building, we certainly don't want to kill a program of that kind by inserting a provision which of necessity will kill it. Namely, submitting the whole thing to the referendum of the school districts.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally.
The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—29.

Barthold,	Haluska,	Lanius,	Rice,
Cavalcante,	Henney,	Law,	Ruth,

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HUFFMAN, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 28, 1938.

Whereas, Senator John G. Homsher is ill at his home in Lancaster County and is unable to attend the sessions of the Senate at Harrisburg, and

Whereas, because of the great love and affection in which Senator Homsher is held by every member of this body, it is the hope and prayer of all the members of the Senate that the Senator will soon recover and that his health will be restored to permit him to continue as an active member of this body, now therefore be it

Resolved, that because of the long, honorable and valuable services rendered by Senator Homsher as a member of this body, it is with a sense of the deepest regret the members realize that due to his advanced age and the seriousness of his illness, the Senator will be unable to be present with us for several weeks, and be it further

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Senator Homsher and to his family.

COMMUNICATIONS

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following Communications which were read by the Clerk.

PHILADELPHIA, PENNA.
JULY 28, 1938

Hon. Roy E. Furman, Speaker
House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Penna.

Bills number one to five introduced in this special session would destroy constitutional protections of the people never heretofore challenged. We do not believe we have yet reached the point where our fundamental liberties can be withdrawn by legislative enactment without so much as a public hearing at which the people themselves can be heard. Such procedure is without precedent in Pennsylvania and finds parallel only where all powers of the people have been usurped.

We condemn the indecent haste with which these bills are being rushed through this legislature and emphatically urge the right of all concerned to public hearings on each of these proposed enactments with adequate public notice of such hearings.

By authority of the President and Executive Committee of the Philadelphia Board of Trade (Signed) H. W. Willis, Secretary.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.
JULY 28, 1938.

Hon. Roy E. Furman
Speaker of the House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Penna.

It appears by the public press that bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives of the General Assembly which affect the general welfare and among other things propose to change existing law in the matter of investigating charges against public officers in their administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth. These bills were introduced in the House of Representatives on Monday evening of this week and we are informed are now on passage in the House of Representatives. The general public had had no opportunity to read these bills and come to an understanding of the proposed changes in the law of the Commonwealth. We therefore respectfully request that an opportunity be given for a public hearing on the subject matter of these bills and hereby make a request for such public hearing.

JULY 27th, 1938

The Honorable Secretary of Legislature
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at the special meeting of the Mount Carmel Borough Council, Wednesday, July 26th, 1938.

WHEREAS:

The Anthracite industry at the present time is in the throes of the depression and is prostrate and has untold misery and unemployment in the Anthracite region.

Be it Resolved:

That we the members of the Mount Carmel Borough Council, respectfully pray to you the Honorable Member of the State Legislature, to take some action by which the Anthracite industry can be rehabilitated.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) E. J. Fincato, Borough Secretary
Elmer J. Delcamp, Chief Burgess
Bolick Yakutis, President of Council

Resolution presented by:

The Special Hospital Commitee of Philadelphia County Council, The American Legion

Whereas, the needs of a State owned Veterans' Hospital for General Medical and Surgical care, has been determined by surveys conducted by the American Legion, and

Whereas, there are no facilities in the State of Pennsylvania, and

Whereas, Pennsylvania contributed 375,000 Veterans during the World War, and

Whereas, our disabled comrades are now located in County Poor Houses or County Institutions, and

Whereas, other Commonwealths have erected institutions to care for their disabled veterans, and

Whereas, the Federal Government has failed to provide sufficient General Medical and Surgical facilities for veterans, therefore,

Be it Resolved, that the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be urged to include in his call in the Special Session of the State Legislature, the necessity of erecting a new hospital in Pennsylvania, for the care of Pennsylvania's disabled veterans.

The Special Hospital Committee,
(Signed) Joseph K. Schmid, Chairman

PITTSBURGH, PENNA.
JULY 28, 1938

Roy E. Furman
Speaker, House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Penna.

Have called special meeting of Allegheny County Bar Association for Friday afternoon, July twenty-ninth to discuss House Bills one to five inclusive. Repuest that your body delay final action on such bills until this association can give them adequate study and consideration.

(Signed) Harold Obernauer, President

The SPEAKER: The resolution will be noted in the Journal and spread in full in the Legislative Journal.

RECESS

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, In view of the fact that the Republican members are using the House Caucus room and due to the fact that they are unable to complete their deliberations, I ask that this House recess until 3:00 o'clock, and that the Democratic members caucus in the Senate Caucus room immediately after the recess is declared.

Mr. TURNER. I would like to add to the very courteous remarks of the gentleman from York, that the Republicans thought the Democrats might as well caucus downstairs in the Senate caucus room now and get used to it.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, acting upon the requests of the two floor leaders, the Chair now declares a recess until 3:00 o'clock. The Chair hears none and a recess is declared until 3:00 o'clock.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 3:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. KELSO HOUSE BILL No. 24

An Act to further amend Section one thousand four hundred and sixteen of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by extending the age limit within which certain children engaged in farm work or domestic service may be exempted from complying with the provisions of said act relating to compulsory school attendance.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. YOURISHIN, BOHN AND WRIGHT (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 1.

In the House of Representatives, July 27, 1938

The Federal Home Owner's Loan Corporation was organized to enable persons of moderate means and low incomes to acquire and own their own homes, and as a means, by furnishing employment, of helping to overcome the economic depression.

A large number of the citizens of this Commonwealth have availed themselves of the privileges and advantages of obtaining loans from the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, and, in so doing, acted in entire good faith and in the expectancy of being able to discharge all the obligations assumed in connection therewith.

Economic conditions, beyond the control of these home owners, have, in a great number of cases, rendered impossible the meeting of the obligations assumed by them.

All signs now point towards the mending of these conditions, the gradual increase of employment, and the resumption, within the next two years, of ability on the part of small home owners to regularly meet the carrying charges on their mortgages; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Federal Home Owners' Loan Corporation is hereby respectfully petitioned to stay all sales of properties for the non-payment of any instalment of principal, interest or carrying charges under any mortgage or other obligation entered into in connection with any loan, for a period of two years.

Resolved further, That a copy of this resolution, properly certified, be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in Washington.

(Signed)
John Yourishin
John C. Bohn
Chas. Wright

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as committed, House Bill No. 15, entitled:

An act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate, efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth; conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas, and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued; requiring the commission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Genenral Assembly or to the Governor; and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employees and making an appropriation.

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER, from the Committee on Labor, reported as committed, House Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act to amend article two of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 736), entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder," as amended, by adding a new section two hundred and one and one-tenth thereto; imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers; providing for admission of certain evidence and providing for double damage under certain circumstances.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1, as follows:

An Act relating to the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office made against civil officers subject to impeachment providing that the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives to make such investigations shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of grand juries and limiting the circumstances under which courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or courts of quarter sessions or judges of such courts may authorize grand juries to make such investigations

Whereas Article VI Section 3 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth provides that

"The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office but judgement in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth the person accused whether convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment trial judgement and punishment according to law" and

Whereas Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment" and

Whereas charges of misdemeanor in office particularly against high officers of the State government tend to destroy public confidence in the integrity of government itself and thus threaten the ability of all government to function and

Whereas such a situation is wholly different from any other situation in which persons are charged with violations of the laws of the Commonwealth and

Whereas the welfare and safety of the Commonwealth require that charges of or involving misdemeanor in office be investigated in public and not in secret and

Whereas an investigation of such charges by a grand jury concurrently with their investigation by the House of Representatives would impede and interfere with the House investigation particularly if the conclusions of the grand jury became known prior to the conclusion of the House investigation

Section 1 Whenever the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment shall be charged with any offense against the laws of this Commonwealth which would constitute or involve misdemeanor in office the House of Representatives shall have exclusive jurisdiction to investigate the same except as hereinafter provided

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any court of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or court of quarter sessions or any judge of such courts to order an investigation by a grand jury of charges against the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment if the offenses charged would constitute or involve misdemeanor in office unless within ninety (90) days after the charges have been certified by such court or any judge thereof to the Governor he shall not convene the Genral Assembly in special session or unless if the General Assembly is in session when the charges are made the House of Representatives shall fail to investigate them within ninety (90) days after the charges have been certified by such court or any judge thereof to the Speaker of the House of Representatives or unless after the investigation by the House of Representatives shall have been concluded a court of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or a court of quarter sessions after examining the testimony taken by the House of Representatives shall determine and certify by proper order stating the reasons therefor that as to some matter or thing over which said court has jurisdiction a grand jury investigation is necessary to develop information not disclosed before the House of Representatives

Section 3 Nothing in this act contained shall prevent evidence presented to the House of Representatives or its committee during any investigation to which this act applies from being subsequently repeated before the grand jury of any county for the purpose of obtaining an indictment against any person involved in the charges investigated by the House of Representatives

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, these bills that are before us have apparently aroused a great amount of interest on the part of the people of Pennsylvania in the last twenty-four hours, from the number of letters and telegrams that are coming to our desks.

There are also a number of requests coming to our members and there have been a number of statements in the public press that there should be an opportunity for a hearing.

Therefore, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of a hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose the motion of the gentleman from Delaware. As Chairman of the Committee that studied these bills in the first instance I feel that they received both thorough and very mature consideration.

I oppose it also for another reason: for several days, I have been approached by members of the press, apparently knowing that a demand was going to be received for public hearings and apparently the individuals seeking those public hearings were delaying for the distinct purpose of delaying the passing of the legislation. As a matter of fact, for a period of three days I received no information from any source that a public hearing was desired. However, last evening after the adjournment of this house I finally received the information that the press was wondering whether I had received such a request. I then received a telegram from an organization purporting to be the Constitution Defense League, in which they first sought and desired a hearing. In other words, I am led to believe that this organization, and perhaps others who are now seeking the hearing, thought that the proper place to come for a public hearing was to the press, and now when they find that the legislation is about to pass they decide they had better make their call here.

I feel, if anyone has been dilatory, it has been these individuals who are now coming at this late day asking for a public hearing, and I ask the members of this House to defeat the motion.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I recognize the fact that my friend from Monroe has to plead confession and avoidance in this instance, because he does not want to grant the opportunity for a hearing. I do not desire to prolong the remarks, of course, but I do not feel that it would be fair to allow the record to stand at it is at the moment with the statement of the gentleman from Monroe.

This bill was introduced in this House on Monday night. No one had any knowledge on the outside, either the public or the press, in fact very few of the members of this House had any knowledge that such a bill was to be presented. The bill was in committee on Tuesday morning at 11:00 o'clock, and the first time I think that any of us had a chance to see a printed copy of the bill was at the committee meeting on Tuesday morning.

The people of Pennsylvania certainly had no opportunity to know until after the meeting of the Committee when the bill was reported out that such a bill was before the House. Now to say that anyone has been dilatory and to say that the public has no right to demand or ask for a hearing, or that such a request is not in good faith is certainly denying that which is apparent, that the people of Pennsylvania are asking for a public hearing, because every member here has gotten a lot of telegrams and letters today—

I repeat, there may be a few members from regions where the telegraph does not reach that have not gotten them, but I am sure that Mr. Farley's mail will have those letters here in a very short time.

Now, seriously, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel this way about this matter: I think that one of the great safeguards to the people of Pennsylvania has been the fact that we have a provision for the printing of bills and that they must take three days in passage through each of these houses. I am in contact with legislators in a good many states and I know that in some states there is great abuse from the fact that the people do not always know the character of legislation that is moving through. Certainly a day or two of thought on matters which so vitally affect the people of Pennsylvania as these is not too much to ask of my Democratic colleague, and I think you ought to take this slowly, think about it, and give an opportunity for a hearing.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I received two telegrams, one from the same organization that Mr. Achterman indicated that he received one from, the Constitution Defense League, and another telegram from a constituant of mine, Clarence W. Smyser, of York, whom I know personally, and who is a bond and security salesman in the City of York. However, to the telegram of the Constitution Defense League requesting a hearing and indicating that our action might possibly contravene the established law I extended the courtesy of a reply which I wish to read to the members of the House.

"You have been grossly misled by reports," he wired the league today, "that bills before the House change existing laws relative to investigation of civil officers. Instead they reassert constitutional provisions relative to such investigation and prevent judicial attempts to sabotage the Constitution and nullify the laws.

"If your organization is interested in defending the Constitution it has no alternative, but to join in the present battle against destruction of the Constitution and support fully the bills that have been presented, particularly since they are designed to prevent change in existing law by judicial fiat and to reassert the constitutional independence of Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches. Since the present bills reassert rather than change long existing law relative to investigations, public hearing would serve no purpose, but to delay the House in its investigation of charges against State officials. I shall look forward to your support of these bills.'"

I feel sure that we have it.

I might say that I feel the motion should be severely defeated.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. WOOD and were as follows:

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, are we now ready to take a vote on House Bill No. 1?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose House Bill No. 1 because I conscientiously feel for myself I cannot vote in the affirmative for this piece of legislation.

Will you permit me, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, to say before I advance the arguments that lead me to the conclusion that I have just stated, that I have reached my conclusion, fully well recognizing the very importance of this piece of legislation. I feel personally that we are called upon now to vote on one of the most momentous questions that it has been my privilege to be confronted with in my time of service in this House. Therefore, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the only grounds upon which I oppose this bill are grounds of constitutionality. If I am wrong, that is for the future. If I am right, that likewise is for the future. In one of the "Whereas" clauses on page two of this bill, speaking of the charges which are apparent to us as the reason why this bill was introduced, it is said: "Whereas such a situation is wholly different from any other situation in which persons are charged with violation of the laws of the Commonwealth." I begin my argument, disagreeing with that clause, and I say that the first question which presents itself is, may the grand jury investigate the conduct of the Executive Branch of the State Government. My answer to that is "yes," if the investigation concerns unlawful and improper conduct, and if the investigation concerns such conduct, in my humble opinion no person in this Commonwealth is entitled to more protection or is entitled to less protection than the most obscure citizen.

I have the authority of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court in the recent case involving the Dauphin County Grand Jury, where the Chief Justice said: "An investigation which properly concerns itself with violations of the criminal laws in matters incident to the conduct of the government, does not merely inquire into the official acts of the governing power, as in the Hartranft case, is within the power of the grand jury." The distinction therefore is based on whether or not a crime is charged. Said Mr. Justice Maxey in his dissenting opinion in the same matter: "If the Chief Executive of this state or nation should, for example, commit a crime, that crime is his private, not his official act and he is as much amenable to the criminal law for that crime as is the most obscure citizen of the land."

The second question, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, which arises from this bill is: Does the Legislature have the right to abrogate, diminish, postpone or interfere with the right of the grand jury to investigate unlawful and improper conduct on the part of the executive and other civil officers. Bear in mind, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not speaking as to whether or not any charges have been proven. I firmly believe that no charges have been proven and no charges will be proven. My answer to this question is that the grand jury has become so much a part of our fundamental law that the Legislature is without power to pass such legislation. The historic origin is known to every person in the House. It is a distinct instrumentality of the criminal courts.

Article X of the Bill of Rights says: "No person shall for an indictable offense be proceeded against criminally by information except in cases arising in the land or naval forces or in the militia when in actual service in time of war, or public danger or by leave of court for oppression or misdemeanor in office."

From the reading of Section X of the Declaration of Rights, it might appear that a person charged with misdemeanor in office cannot be compelled to answer under the Constitution on indictment found by grand jury. It is my opinion that such a contention is wholly unsound, in the face of Section 3, Article VI of the Constitution which says: "The Governor or any other civil officer shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office * * The person accused, whether convicted or acquitted, shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law."

The term "indictment" is in the very clause that gives the right to impeachment. If indictment presupposes a grand jury, and if the grand jury is a part of our judicial system, then under the law we cannot in any way postpone, diminish, abrogate or interfere with the duly constituted, legal instrumentality of the court.

It may be argued, that since the House of Representatives has the sole power under the Constitution to impeach, and since Article 6, Section 3, just referred to, designates who shall be impeached, that an indictment of a civil officer by a grand jury, does not arise until after impeachment proceedings have been instituted. A grand jury is an instrument of the court. We can no more encroach upon the proper function of the court than the court can tell the Legislature who to impeach or when to impeach. Said the same court in the famous case of Commonwealth versus Widovich, 295 Pa. 311, and the same law has been universally recognized: "But it's strength" speaking of the Judiciary: "And security come from a complete and absolute separation from political, administrative or ministerial functions."

Said the same court in the same opinion, speaking again of the judiciary: "Its powers were possibly the first to be exercised by civilization."

The final question, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, raised in my mind on House Bill No. 1 now under consideration, may be stated as follows: If the grand jury is not a constitutional instrumentality as applied to the persons enumerated in House Bill No. 1, and that we have the constitutional power to so limit its powers, should we now undertake such a task.

To my mind, the answer is, we should not. No one will deny that the true basis of the Constitution is the equality of citizenship, equality before the law, equal protection under the law. Any other basis is foreign to our Democratic way of thinking. In actuality we have never reached our ideal state, but certainly we are making progress in that direction, even in the face of a world over shadowed with dictatorships. If there is over-lordship in one branch of our government, is it not the right of the people and not another branch of the government, to meet such encroachment? By that I mean this, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have the power to levy taxes, so far as we levy taxes within our constitutional rights. We may make them burdensome or we may make them oppressive, but we have the constitutional right to levy taxes, whether or not they are oppressive, but it is certainly unwise to levy oppressive taxes. We are setting up in this act the further class distinction as to how certain persons may be brought before the orderly process of law. In dealing with such historical and original institutions as a grand jury, should we not deliberate more carefully to see whether or not the grand jury has outlived its usefulness and has descended to an inquisitorial body of oppression and abuse, or is it still the people's court, their protection against corrupt and unscrupulous persons whether of high estate or lower estate, whether Jew or Gentile, whether black or white, whether rich or poor, whether prince or pauper.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have the greatest confidence in the integrity and honesty of the high officials of my party, who are the subjects of this controversy. The people will not allow them to be destroyed, nor their liberal views which have been made into laws nullified. I am willing, as a member of the Legislature, to defend against all invasion an onslaught, against such laws, and against such persons, if the same can be done under the Constitution and without partiality or favor, allowing every man the same identical processes of the law. House Bill No. 1 in my opinion, with the very short time so far given for study, is a bill to which I cannot give my approval for the reasons already stated.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

(During the calling of the roll)

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time wishes to call the attention of the House to Rule 79 of the House:

"Call for yeas and nays—reason for votes.

The Chair wishes to read this rule:

"79. The yeas and nays of the members on any question shall, at the desire of any two of them, be entered on the journals, and the members shall have the right to insert the reasons for their votes on the journals, by submitting them in writing to the Speaker immediately after the roll has been called."

That is one of the new rules and the Chair reads it for the information of the members.

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS filed the following reason for his vote:

As these bills only give the Legislature the power and authority to hear charges against civil officers with public hearings and in no way interfere with the basic law of the grand jury system to which changes I am unalterably opposed. I desire to be recorded as voting "aye." House Bill 4 which changes the fundamental law of the "Grand Jury Investigations" established since 1368 under the old English law and in vogue in Pennsylvania since the creation of our Democracy is a vicious measure. I am opposed to it.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2, as follows:

An Act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General district attorneys other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants

Whereas Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Whenever the House of Representatives of the General Assembly shall undertake the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office against any civil officer who is liable to impeachment such investigation shall be made through a special committee of the House consisting of seven members to be appointed by the Speaker of the House for the purpose of investigating any particular charge or charges

Section 2 The committee investigating such charges may hold executive sessions to discuss plans give directions to investigators and other employes of the committee review the evidence reach conclusions and draft its report but all evidence shall be presented to the committee at hearings open to the public

Section 3 Such committee shall have the power to employ and fix the compensation of such investigators stenographers reporters and other employes as may be necessary for the conduct of its work and may employ and fix the compensation of counsel if it finds counsel to be necessary The compensation of all such employes shall be paid out of moneys appropriated to the committee for the purpose

Section 4 The Attorney General of the Commonwealth by himself or his deputy and the district attorney of any county by himself or his assistant may appear before the committee to present evidence

Section 5 Any civil officer against whom charges are being investigated by a committee of the House of Representatives may appear before such committee in person and may be represented by counsel whether or not he appears in person and the committee shall hear such evidence as such civil officer may wish to present to refute the charges made against him

Section 6 Any committee of the House of Representatives which is conducting any investigation to which this act applies may adopt rules for the conduct of its proceedings which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act but the rules of evidence shall conform to the rules of evidence governing the admissibility of testimony in judicial proceedings

Section 7 Any committee of the House of Representatives conducting any such investigation shall have the power of subpoena such witnesses and such books records and papers as it may deem necessary for the proper conduct of the investigation All subpoenas shall be issued over the signature of the chairman of the committee and shall be served by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives or such person as shall be deputized by him so to do The committee shall subpoena to appear before it all persons who have made charges against the public officer or officers under investigation whether or not such persons shall have made their charges as public officers or as private citizens If any person fails to obey the subpoena of the committee either by refusing to appear before the committee or by refusing to produce books records and documents which he has been directed to produce or if any person after appearing refuses to answer any question when directed by the committee to do so unless upon the ground that by answering he or she might incriminate himself or herself such person shall be in contempt of the House of Representatives In any such case the committee shall report the contempt to the House of Representatives which shall have the power by attachment to compel the attendance of the witness at the bar of the House and if the witness having been brought to the bar of the House he or she shall refuse to be sworn or affirmed or having been sworn or affirmed shall refuse to answer all legal questions duly propounded or to produce any books documents or papers for which demand is made the Speaker of the House shall have full power by the direction of the House of Representatives to issue to the Sergeant-at-Arms a warrant of commitment to any State penitentiary and the warden thereof is hereby authorized and required to receive and confine the delinquent until discharged in due course

If any such person so committed to a State penitentiary shall persist in his refusal to swear or affirm or being sworn or affirmed shall still on being brought before the House of Representatives from the penitentiary refuse to testify the House of Representatives may make further order for the detention of such delinquent in said penitentiary until the next succeeding General Assembly shall have met and until the House of Representatives shall make an order for his further detention or discharge as to it shall seem expedient

Section 8 Any committee of the House of Representatives conducting an investigation under the provisions of this act shall after the testimony before the committee has been completed make a report to the House of Representatives containing such conclusions and making such recommendations as to the committee may seem appropriate If the evidence has disclosed misdemeanor in office on the part of the person or persons investigated the House of Representatives may order such person or persons impeached or it may call upon the Attorney General of the Commonwealth or the district attorney of the proper county to prosecute such person or persons in the appropriate court for the offense or offenses disclosed by the evidence

Section 9 Nothing in this act contained shall exempt any civil officer from indictment trial judgment and punishment according to law

Section 10 If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid such invalidity shall not affect provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable

Section 11 The resolution which became effective the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred forty-two (Pamphlet Laws four hundred ninety-one) entitled "Resolution relative to witnesses before either branch of the Legislature" is hereby repealed so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am not objecting to this bill so much as an individual bill, as I am because it is part and parcel of a number of bills which form a very radical and new departure from what we have been accustomed to in Pennsylvania, and more particularly since it was along in April of this year that Senator Guffey, who is now fleeing to Europe, originally made the charge against high Democrats of the administration which led up to the Grand Jury investigation and to this session of the Legislature.

There has been a lot of time, fellow members, during which these things could have been discussed and plans devised; nevertheless until the beginning of this week none of us in the state of Pennsylvania had any idea exactly what was to be proposed in this special session of the Legislature.

I have received a telegram which I would like to read to the House, which does not come from my constituency, but expresses the feelings of a lot of people who have talked to me by telephone about these things. It reads as follows:

"Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, July 28, 1:35 p. m. Hon. E. Kent Kane, House of Representatives. Bills numbers one to five introduced in this special session would destroy constitutional protection of the people never heretofore challenged. We do not believe we have yet reached the point where our fundamental liberties can be withdrawn by legislative enactment without so much as a public hearing at which the people themselves can be heard. Such procedure is without precedent in Pennsylvania and finds parallel only where all powers of the people have been usurped. We condemn the indecent haste with which these bills are being rushed through this legislature and emphatically urge the right of all concerned to public hearings on each of these proposed enactments with adequate public notice of such hearings.

By authority of the President and Executive Committee of the Philadelphia Board of Trade. H. W. Wills, Secretary."

I would like to insert that into the record, Mr. Speaker.

I have had protests from people of my constituency, both Democratic and Republican, and above everything else they say: "What is going on down there in Harrisburg anyhow." It is with the view, Mr. Speaker, of enabling the constituents of each member of this House to have at least one week-end during which they may consult in person with the members they have elected to this body and whose salaries as Representatives they pay, to talk to these members and tell them what they think about these things, that I now move that this House adjourn until Monday evening next at 9:00 p. m. Daylight Saving Time.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, is it possible to convene the House of Representatives on anything but Standard Time.

The SPEAKER. In response to the parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, the Chair wishes to read Rule 13 of the House of Representatives:

"The House shall convene on Mondays at 9:00 o'clock p. m. and on every other legislative day at the hour to which the House shall have adjourned by its action taken the previous legislative day. Eastern Standard Time shall govern the sessions of the House."

Therefore the gentleman's motion is out of order.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, in order to relieve any of the members from Philadelphia, who do not understand the intricacies of Daylight Saving Time, I move now that this House adjourn until 8:00 p. m. Monday next Eastern Standard Time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules the motion of the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, out of order, because it is in conflict with Rule 13 of the House of Representatives. "The House shall convene on Mondays at 9:00 o'clock p. m. * * * * Eastern Standard Time."

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I thought you went further and read that the Rules of the House had fixed some other time. However, in view of the circumstances, I move that the House do not adjourn to meet next Monday evening, at 9:00 p. m. Eastern Standard Daylight Time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules the motion out of order as there is no such thing as Eastern Standard Daylight Time.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, thanks to a fellow Representative from western Pennsylvania, I now have a memorandum here and I am inclined to think it is right.

Mr. Speaker, I move that this House adjourn until next Monday at 9:00 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill pertains to the procedure of the House in the case of impeachment proceedings. We have always carried on impeachment proceedings in the House without much difficulty, in arranging for our committees and the procedure. I do not recall that in my time I have ever known it to be attacked.

I raised the question with the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, yesterday as to whether he intended to throw away the key, when he put in the amendment which provided that the person who was in contempt should be committed not to the Dauphin County jail but to the Penitentiary, and he replied to me by saying that he regretted that my legal practice had not gone back to the year 1842 when an act was passed pertaining to contempt proceedings before the Legislature, and he said that this bill was exactly the same as the Act of 1842, with one exception, that the person was sent to the State Penitentiary instead of to the Dauphin County jail. Now, a little knowledge is sometimes a dangerous thing. I find that the act does not conform to the Act of 1842, but is in line with the Act of 1872, because the Act of 1842 does not refer to committees, while the Act of 1872 does refer to committees of the House or of the Legislature. But the difference between the two Acts, is this, this Act is an attempt to send a man to the penitentiar. instead of to the Dauphin county jail, but under the Act of 1842 a man could be brought to the Bar of the House and committed by the Speaker at the direction of the House, but under the Act of 1872 he had to be convicted of a misdemeanor. There is a lot of difference between a man being committed to jail at the direction of the House without any further opportunity, and a man being convicted of a misdemeanor. I would be the last person to in any way curtail the powers of this House to compel attendance by witnesses on subpoena in a proper way, to secure testimony in the proper proceedings, but it seems to me that we must also look at the other side of it in order to protect and defend the prerogatives of this Legislature. The public itself has certain rights and prerogatives which we are bound to protect and defend. Therefore, it seems to me that this bill is so important, not only to the proper functioning of the Legislature but also to the protection of the rights of individuals who may be called to the Bar of this House or before a committee, that I feel that this bill should have further study, and, therefore, I move, Mr. Speaker, that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for further study.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion.
It was not agreed to.
On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my legalistic abilities and attainments have been challenged by the gentleman from Delaware. Without any feeling—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point oforder.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the roll having been called for, there is nothing else before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is not well taken. Any member is entitled to be recognized by the Chair before the roll has actually been started. The roll has not been started .

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, without any feeling of great indignation, I might say that my legalistic abilities and attainments have been challenged by the gentleman from Delaware, and in order to more or less purge myself of the charge of having made a mistatement to any of the members of the House on this floor, I wish to refer them to Purden's Statutes, Title No. 18, Section 101 and Section 102, in which it is clearly indicated that the section that was in House Bill No. 2 prior to the amendment is paragraph one of the Act of 1842, June 13, Pa. Laws, page 491; that the second section which was placed in the law by my amendment, and which I further stated to the membership of the House, was merely a further re-enactment of the second section of the same act, that section is cited in Purden's Statutes, Title No. 18 under "crimes" and is paragraph two of the Act of 1842, June 13, P. L. 491.

The gentleman from Delaware has called to the attention of the members of the House the Act of 1872, Pa. Laws 25, which does establish the procedure which the gentleman from Delaware has indicated, namely this, that in addition to the right to compel witnesses to testify before the House, on their refusal to testify before the House, the House of Representatives may send them to the State Penitentiary under our present act, House Bill No. 2, and under the act of 1842 to the Dauphin county jail. We also had the additional right by the Act of 1872 in case any witness refused to testify, to swear out a warrant before a squire, magistrate, justice of the peace or alderman, and have that individual indicted by the Dauphin County Grand Jury and stand trial in the Dauphin County Court.

I feel sure that if I am in error then Purden's Statutes are in error, since they have been cited as the authority on the statutory law of the Commonwealth. I feel sure if I am in error I owe no apology to the House, but that Purden's Statutes should apologize to the House of Representatives.

I have one point to make and the only reason I am making it is that this clearly indicates that the Republican minority on that subterfuge might vote against the bill, but let me tell you, members of the House, just as the Republicans have resorted to subterfuge after subterfuge in order to destroy the workings of the great Democratic Party and the great Democratic Administration, their efforts will not avail them of any success. This bill, together with the entire program, is going through, and should go through to prevent the besmirching of individuals holding high office into the mire for political purposes, and those purposes are the despicable purposes of the Republican minority who want to get through the court what has been denied them by the people.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, all of you will understand that any reference I may have made to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, as to his legal ability, was entirely in a humorous vein rather than in a serious vein.

I think he has demonstrated many times his very adroit and agile legal mind, but no more so than in the present instance, when he first takes the statutes as cited in Purdens and then places the blame on Purdens for the construction of the statutes to which he has referred. There is nothing the matter with Purdens. I have read both of the statutes in Purdens. The quotation in Purdens is correct, but the difficulty is on the construction which the gentleman from York has placed upon the language in Purden's Digest. Not only is that an illustration of the agility of mind of my distinguished opponent on the other side, but also is an illustration of that forensic appeal which we can expect at the end of the gentleman's remarks, when with that lightning swift thrust, he paints us Republicans as blackboards, which we hope will not be smeared with whitewash in this session.

I would just like to say to the gentleman from York and to those on the other side, and I am not saying this to the majority of my Democratic colleagues but only to those who have to lead the fight on the other side, I am reminded of a story about all of the animals out in the jungle being called in. The lion looked down into the circle and said "Where is the ostrich?" The ostrich was not in the circle. He sent somebody for the ostrich and the ostrich appeared. He said to the ostrich: "Sit down" and the ostrich stood up, he said, "Sit down, I am the lion. I am the king, you must sit down in my presence." The ostrich came over and whispered in his ear. He said, "Your majesty, I have been out in the desert hiding my head in the sand for two weeks to get away from my wife. I cannot sit down; I am sunburned." I only want to say to the gentleman from York and to those who advance the argument in this instance and in the other cases, that you are not fooling any one; that we understand the issues and we all understand the efforts that you are making.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. LONGAKER filed the following reasons for his vote.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House of Representatives: In opposing House Bill No. 2 providing for the creation of a Special Committee to be appointed by the Speaker of the House and having for its main purpose the investigation of charges leveled against any or all civil office holders, and in addition empowering the Special Committee to employ investigators, stenographers and special counsel, subpoenaing witnesses and records, and providing penalties for failure to comply thereto, my chief purpose is not to dwell at any great length on the details of the bill itself, but rather to call attention to the fact that this proposed measure is one of a series of proposed measures which will have for their purpose the taking away from the duly constituted judicial tribunals of this Commonwealth the functions which they possess under the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

The Constitution gives to the House of Representatives the sole power of impeachment and this House has on occasion made use of the power so granted. There is therefore no need at this time for unnecessary legislation in view of the precedents already established to carry out the mandate of the Constitution in impeachment proceedings. Paragraph 6 of the Bill now under consideration limits the proceedings to questions and answers which must follow the rules of evidence governing the admissibility of testimony in judicial proceedings. This Section will restrict such investigation by any Committee of the Legislature created under this Act and will curtail its power and desire to seek and determine all testimony and information vital to any issue before it, and it is unwise to handicap the Committee by the restrictions found in Section 6 of this Act. Other legislative committees are not so restricted in their public hearings and investigations and there is no reason for an exception in this case.

In opposing the bill generally as being one of a series of measures destined to usurp the judicial powers granted by the Constitution to our courts and submitting our citizens to an inquisitorial procedure foreign to that adapted by our Grand Jury System, let it be understood that if these measures are adapted the balance of power set up by our Constitution concerning the Executive, Judicial and Legislative Branches of our government becomes definitely unbalanced. The Supreme Court in its final opinion respecting the amended petition for a Writ of Prohibition filed on behalf of the Governor commented as follows: "While we are all impressed with the sincerity of the Governor's statements the only tribunal under the Constitution that can properly dispose of these issues of fact is the Court of Quarter Sesions of Dauphin County. We cannot invade its constitutional powers." And in the same opinion stated in a later paragraph: "We have no disposition to enter into a field of conflict where judicial action would unlawfully disturb the conduct of government; this should never be done if the judiciary is to survive....." "We have full confidence in the judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions to observe the constitutional requirements and meet fully the judicial demands upon them."

It can therefore be readily seen that our Supreme Court in the very language of its opinion steadfastly insists that a balance of power among the three branches of our constitutional government be maintained—but the passage of this measure and its companions will unquestionably destroy the balance. We as legislators have the undeniable right to impeach civil officers guilty of wrong doing but this right cannot be transferred to extend to a trial of issues involving the commission of high crimes and misdemeanors as now pending before the Grand Jury of Dauphin County. That is a judicial duty and function under the Constitution.

We will preserve and protect the free institutions which are the creations of ourselves and our forefathers if we perpetuate our Grand Jury System unhampered and unhindered by legislative encroachment. True liberalism defines and protects individual rights and liberties as now upheld by our judicial practice; and a weakening of that system will superimpose the might of the State as a burden on personal freedom.

The minority classes, races and sects of our people should fight strenuously against the abrogation of the powers of Grand Juries. Class, race and sect prejudices can be most violently and disastrously exercised if our present Grand Jury System which protects their rights should be supplanted by hastily created agencies forged in the heat of political passion and designed to fit a particular apparent emergency.

Let us therefore take no steps in haste which will destroy the instrumentalities whereby the least of our citizens would lose one iota of his or her individual liberty of freedom. A vote against this bill and its three companions now before you is a vote for true liberalism and will protect and defend the liberties and the freedom of the individual citizen; irregardless of his color or creed or his position in society.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 3, as follows:

An Act defining the relative powers of the Attorney General and of district attorneys in investigations or proceedings in the criminal courts authorizing the judges thereof to appoint subject to appeal to the Supreme Court special prosecutors in certain cases and providing for their compensation by the county

Section 1 In any investigation or proceeding whatsoever pending before any court of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or before any court of quarter sessions in any county of this Commonwealth the Attorney General of the Commonwealth may at any stage of the investigation or proceeding in his absolute discretion supersede and set aside the district attorney of the county

Section 2 If in any such investigation or proceeding the court before which it is pending shall find after hearing that the Attorney General has failed or is unable to perform his duties impartially such court may order the Attorney General to stand aside and in such event shall appoint an attorney at law resident in another county of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to supersede and act in lieu of the Attorney General Any special attorney thus appointed shall serve at the pleasure of the court and shall receive from the county in which the investigation or proceeding is being conducted such compensation as the court shall fix

Section 3 From any order superseding the Attorney General the Attorney General shall have the right immediately to appeal to the Supreme Court and such appeal shall automatically stay all investigations or proceedings until the Supreme Court shall have determined the appeal

Section 4 This act shall apply to all investigations or preceedings now pending as well as to all future investigations or proceedings

Section 5 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

Section 6 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 5, as follows:

An Act suspending retroactively as well as prospectively any other pending investigation legislative executive or judicial of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment which the House of Representatives undertakes to investigate and providing under what circumstances the suspended investigation may be resumed

Whereas Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment" and

Whereas whenever a charge is made against a civil officer which if true would warrant his impeachment the interests of the Commonwealth and of the accused require that the charge be investigated by the House of Representatives before impeachment proceedings are actually instituted and

Whereas it would be prejudicial to the Commonwealth as well as to the accused to have any other investigation of the same charge made by any official body other than the House of Representatives pending the conclusion of the House's investigation particularly if such other investigation resulted either in a vindication or an indictment and such result became publicly known during the House investigation

Section 1 Whenever the House of Representatives shall undertake the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment any other investigation of the same charges theretofore instituted by or before any other officer body agency or court of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof whether such investigation be legislative executive or judicial shall be suspended until the House of Representatives shall have completed its investigation and shall not thereafter be resumed unless the legislative executive or judicial officer body agency or court which shall have ordered the investigation shall after examining the testimony taken by the House of Representatives or its committee determine that a further investigation is necessary to develop information not disclosed to the House of Representatives or its committee

Section 2 This act shall apply to and suspend investigations instituted by or before any officer body agency or court of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof prior to the effective date of this act as well as to such investigations hereafter instituted

Section 3 Nothing in this act contained shall prevent evidence presented to the House of Representatives or its committee during any investigation to which this act applies from being subsequently repeated before the grand jury of any county for the purpose of obtaining an indictment against any person involved in the charges investigated by the House of Representatives

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this Bill be recommitted to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of further study and a hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House,

The Republican members of the House of Representatives oppose legislation now under consideration for the following reasons:

The Republican members of the House consider the proposed legislation is against public policy.

We believe that the passage of this legislation attacks and imperils the basic traditions upon which our government has been founded and upon which it has progressed.

We believe in maintaining and safeguarding the integrity of the Grand Jury System of this Commonwealth. We believe that such a System is an integral part of American Democracy. We believe that the present system protects the rights and liberties of all classes, races and creeds and that such a system stands as a bar to unlawfulness and disorder.

We believe that our present Grand Jury System which protects these rights and has long been tried and tested, should not be supplanted by hastily created agencies.

We believe that this legislation threatens our constitutional system of checks and balances by permitting a legislative encroachment of judicial functions and responsibilities.

We protest the haste with which this legislation is being enacted without opportunity being given the public to voice its approval or disapproval upon measures which so vitally affect the basic rights of citizenship.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I realize that the Republican minority are trying to skate on very thin ice. I realize they will possibly have to change their position, and due to the fact that they have to change their position they may possibly get themselves into a position where they will create a great many contradictions.

During the entire passage of these five bills I dare say that the Democratic majority has been most desirous that full consideration be given to the measures, and after the introduction of the bills, rather than by availing ourselves of the power that we had as a majority on last Monday night, rather than having those bills immediately referred to the committee and reported out of the committee on that same evening and passed on first reading, we adopted the policy, in view of the fact that the bills were just presented, of giving time for study and deliberation on the bill—I don't feel that I am divulging any of the secrets of the Committee on State Government, the Chairman of which is Mr. Achterman, the gentleman from Monroe—but I feel of all committee meetings ever held in the House of Representatives, that one of the most intelligent committee meetings was held on the matters involved in these five bills. An opportunity, a full and free opportunity, was given every member of this committee for a full discussion of the bills, and I dare say if some of the Republican members saw fit to leave the Committee before the completion of our deliberations, the responsibility rests with them, not with the Democratic majority.

Now that is an inconsistency on the part of the Republican minority. The Republican minority has also, as I understand by reading press reports, voted against House Bill No. 2. How can the Republican minority take the position that they have taken with me privately, that they would like to have a full disclosure of all of the charges that have been made, that the people of the Commonwealth are entitled to know the truth and accuracy of the accusations that have been made? How can the Republicans who have taken that position with me privately on the other hand vote against House Bill No. 2? A very apparent inconsistency.

I might also read what I have in my hands, a compilation of a press report indicating that Representative Harry Trout, a very distinguished member of this body from Lancaster on April 21st had this to say relative to some of the accusations. Referring to Mr. Margiotti's remark that legislation was bought and sold at the 1937 session, Representative Trout said: "He has no right to make a wild statement of that sort unless he can back it up with facts. The accusation reflects on every member of the Legislature and we have a right to know what he knows." Trout said "The charges are the bravest he ever heard concerning the legislature and the Attorney General should be called upon, referring to the then Attorney General Charles Margiotti, to present the facts to the members. If he deos not he has no right to be a candidate for Governor." Now how can remarks such as that emanating from the Republicans in a desire to know the facts be consistent with the position that the Republican minority has taken throughout the entire passage of these measures.

I say to you, members of this House, and I say to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the medium of these legislative bills the only sincere, true and honest desire of the Democratic majority in pressing for the passage of these bills is to bring out into the open the charges that have been made and would be made in the secret confines of a star chamber proceeding. The people of this Commonwealth, more than anybody else, are entitled to know whether their law officers, whether their governor, whether their Secretary of the Commonwealth, whether their Secretary of Labor, whether their other civil officers are honest or dishonest, and it is the purpose of the majority of this House to give to the people of the Commonwealth those facts. No man, no citizen, no legislator, can find fault with that desire.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I plead guilty to the quotation read by the gentleman from York, who has done me a great honor by quoting from an editorial that I wrote in the little weekly newspaper I have down in Lancaster County. I had no idea that this little newspaper of mine was of such great importance as to be read in the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We live down there in a little German community. We are just ordinary, plain Lancaster County citizens, but we do say what we think and what we believe, and we attempt to paint the picture just as our forefathers painted it when they created the present judicial system of Pennsylvania, which includes the grand jury.

This is a most unusual situation, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, and I had no intention of speaking on this question, but in self defense I am compelled to do so. I thought this was a sort of a test between the legal fraternity and that we poor farmers would not have much to do with the controversy. I have been led to believe all my life in school where I studied the Constitution of the United States and where I studied the Constitution of Pennsylvania, that the government of this state is a sacred institution, that it is fundamental and that the judicial and the legislative and the executive branches have definite functions to perform, one with the other, co-ordinating with each other.

The gentleman from York made the statement a little while ago that the Republicans are guilty for all of the mess. Members of the House, I have never heard a member of the Republican party accuse any member of the present administration of having committed a misdemeanor while in office. You boys have got a family fight here. You will recall that Senator Guffey said in Philadelphia that if the lid is ever lifted in Harrisburg the investigation in 1907, after the erection of this building, would look like a Sunday School picnic. Senator Guffey said that, the great Senator Guffey from Pittsburgh. God knows, Senator Guffey would have been in the penitentiary if it had not been for the Republicans of Pittsburgh who took pity on him and saved him. He is now on his way to Europe. He made a previous trip to Europe. He said something before he left Washington at that time and then he got out. A good many of his Democratic colleagues in the United States Senate were on his heels. The Progressive Labor World, publishd in Philadelphia, discussed that trip of Guffey to Europe and said he went there in the Mellon Oil interests. That is what the Progressive Labor World said. I don't know. Take it as you like it. Next after that my good friend of the Democratic party, Mayor Wilson, of Philadelphia. Now, we had him. We got rid of him, and you boys wish to the Lord you had never gotten him. Then there was Charlie Margiotti. We had him too. He busted us up in 1934. Then he went over to you boys. Now, he is through with you fellows too. I don't know where he is going now. That is all right. He said that legislation in this House in 1937 was bought and sold. He is the person who preferred the charges. We didn't say anything about it. He said so.

Then, you have got a lady on your side. I want to say to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, that just before I left home on Monday I wrote another editorial, and if the gang down home doesn't print it it is going to be just too bad for them. This is what she said about this Earle Administration. You will recall that His Excellency, the Governor, when a candidate for Governor in 1934, said he was going to be a member of the Milk Control Board himself. Somebody should have told the Governor, "don't say that Governor because you cannot do that; you cannot possibly do that." Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, who was a member of the Democratic National Committee, said, "If ever a group was sold down the river it was the Pennsylvania farmers thru this last milk bill. I know how the milk trust works." She was on the inside. She said further "I was offered ten thousand dollars a year and expenses merely to go to Harrisburg occasionally and to go to New York in order to get a sweet taste on what was a sour situation." That is a statement by Senator Guffey's sister. This is a kind of a family affair in accusing the Earle Administration. Now, Mrs. Miller said she did not take the ten thousand dollars. However, whether or not that is true, it indicated that there was some money available somewhere for the people high up in this present administration, so that, maybe after all there was something sold.

Let us get back to the editorial read by my good friend from York, Mr. Cohen. Just exactly what I said there is what I mean and what I stand for today. Members of the House, I stand upon it but I say that we should do it in a legal, orderly way. I did not say in there that the Governor should call a special session and pass the legislation to do what I asked him to do. No man has a right to go out and accuse this Legislature of being bought and sold unless he knows the facts, and I said in there that Charlie Margiotti, unless he produced those facts, should not be considered as a candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania. I am telling you that same thing now, but let us do it in the orderly way. Let us do it the way we have been accustomed to. Let us take it into the grand jury, and if there are not sufficient facts that Charlie Margiotti or somebody else can produce to prove the charges that have been made against the people high in this administration, then the slate is clean and they are out. If in the judgment of the grand jury, which is presided over or will be presided over by Judge Schaffer from Berks county, and I want to say to you Democrats, if the personnel of the Democratic party while in office is as clean and honorable as Judge Schaffer is, then you are a lucky bunch of guys. There is no public objection to Judge Schaffer. The Governor appointed him to an important position. He appointed him a member of the Goodrich Commission and he certainly respected the gentleman at that time and did not then think that Judge Schaffer was a labor baiter, which he said afterwards. Surely, the Governor had no idea when he appointed him to this committee that Judge Schaffer was that kind of a man. Why can we not do as we have been doing for hundreds of years and follow out the orderly line of procedure which has been set up, as the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Brown, said, to all alike, black or white, peasant or priest, everybody has the protection of the grand jury system. Surely, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is not fair to the people of this Commonwealth to change the entire procedure unless they have an opportunity of voting upon and expressing their opinions, and I think that the motions to return these bills to committee for a public hearing were in perfect order. I do not see why there is this great rush to put bills through here without careful consideration and without the people of the Commonwealth knowing how and what we are legislating. I want to go back home to my people and I want to look them squarely in the face. I want to say to them that as far as it was in my power I stood for the fundamental principles of this government.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am glad to say that the circulation of the newspaper of the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Trout, will increase. I think it deserves to increase and I hope it will increase, in fact I am going to subscribe to his newspaper because it gives me some very good arguments.

The gentleman from Lancaster says we should do these things in the ordinary way. He says "Let us do them the ordinary way; don't go through all this we are doing, but let us do it the ordinary way". Now, what is the ordinary way? Is it the ordinary way that the first Grand Jury selected should have had twenty-two Republicans and two Democrats? Is it the ordinary way that three Republican Judges should hear the charges? Is it the ordinary way that there should be appointed a Republican investigator? Is it the ordinary way that a Republican District Attorney should force and present the charges, assisted by counsel to the Republican State Committee, counsel who is also Chairman of the Republican party of Dauphin County, counsel who was a former Republican member of the Republican School Board in the city of Harrisburg, a former Assistant District Attorney, and six Republican members of the State Supreme Court? Is that the ordinary way? Is that the way the gentleman from Lancaster desired when he asked Mr. Margiotti to come out in the open with his charges? Is it the ordinary way that those charges should be secreted behind closed doors of the Grand Jury? Is that the ordinary way that the gentleman from Lancaster desires to have matters brought to the attention of the people of the Commonwealth? I don't believe it, and I don't believe that if conditions were reversed for one second would the gentleman from Lancaster remain silent or proclaim that to be the ordinary way.

Members of the House, that is not the ordinary way, that is the way that would be utilized by a defeated political party in an attempt to bring themselves once again into power. That is the way the defeated party would resort to in order to undermine the accomplishments of a liberal administration. That is the way the party would resort to in order to circumvent and overthrow and to prostitute our judicial bodies, our law enforcement agencies. That is the way, the ordinary way that was stacked up in Dauphin County; that is the way to defeat justice.

I know charges have been made. The gentleman from Lancaster says this a family fight. If it is a family fight the Democrats can settle it amongst themselves. It is not the ordinary way to have outsiders poke their noses into a family fight as they are attempting to do in the Dauphin County Grand Jury investigation, and I don't believe, just as the Democratic majority feels, that the Republican minority feels that there is one scintilla of truth in the charges that have been flaunted. They know and the members of this House should know, particularly those who served in the 1935 session, and those of you who witnessed the 1937 session, they know it is ridiculous to assume that the Democratic administration could have been corrupted by $10,000 or $20,000, for a beer bill or $100,000 for a moving picture bill. That is ridiculous. Look at the legislation that has been written on these books! Look at the taxation! They know, the gentleman on the other side, that there is not one bill that has been passed in this administration that the finger of scorn can be placed on the Democratic majority either in the House or in the Senate. They know that the members of this House stood up true blue, honest and imbued with the fact that they were passing the corporation income tax, that they were passing the foreign franchise tax, that they were passing a tax on the moving pictures, that they were passing a tax on the chain stores, that they were passing a tax on securities, that they were imposing burdens that would make $10,000, $20,000 or $100,000 seem like chicken feed. They know and the Democrats know what pressure they had to withstand to enact an honest, sincere and legitimate system of taxation. We members of this side know, and I am sure the members on the other side know the accomplishments of this Legislature, both here in the House and in the Senate. When campaign remarks by disgruntled, disposed and despicable individuals who attempt to besmirch the accomplishments of this administration, they know that is not the ordinary way. Take our increase in the Workmen's Compensation Law, take our institution of Occupational Diseases, take the other social accomplishments of this Legislature, and you know that following each and every one of those accomplishments, if an attempt were made to stop them, there would have flocked down on us moneyed individuals who would have tried to bribe us, not with $10,000 or $20,000 but hundreds and millions, and then to think that those charges, those charges that have been made in the secret confines of the Dauphin County Grand Jury, should not be aired so that at least the members of this House can vindicate their actions and their activities, and to have the members of the minority stand fast and vote "No" against the airing of those charges clearly indicates to my mind and should indicate to all the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that there is no truth in the charges and that the Republican party wants to prosecute these charges in the secret confines of the Grand Jury, so that they may again take from the people of the Commonwealth a government that has reposed in honest and truthful hands for the past your years.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not intended to be drawn into any debate this afternoon that in any way entered into the questions that are involved in this so called Democratic family squabble. I felt that we were here, as we have tried to be in the past, as members of this Legislature to adopt legislation and to act upon legislation before the House. We have considered these bills in the light of bills and in the light of the intent that is behind them on the part of those who introduced the bills. To say that by our action here we are trying to stifle anything or trying to promote anything is a base distortion of the truth. This is no place and no time for a political argument on the greatness of the legislative activities of the Democratic party because there are millions of people in Pennsylvania who have doubts upon the subject, and I think when the election next November is held you will find that the vast majority of the people of Pennsylvania will concur in the opinion that is growing in this state, that the so-called greatness of the activities and the greatness of the legislative accomplishments of my colleagues in this House have been turned down and been repudiated by the people of Pennsylvania.

We are not here on the Republican side to talk about the grand jury investigation. We have not felt that it was anything within the range of our activities here. The charges here, as the gentleman from Lancaster has said, were not made by the Republican party. The charges were made by the Democratic United States Senator from Pennsylvania and two candidates on the Democratic ticket in the last election. What would you have had the district attorney of any other county do? You would have been the first one to have been on the floor or in newspapers or upon the stump to condemn the district attorney of Dauphin county, had he not done his sworn duty and investigated the serious charges that were made, not by irresponsible parties but by men in high office in the Commonwealth. Is it a crime that it happened that the county of Dauphin is a Republican county with Republican office holders? If the same situation had happened in your county, where perhaps they have Democratic office-holders, would there have been a special session of the Legislature? I do think that there would still have been a special session of the Legislature, not for the purpose of trying to secure a fair and square investigation of the facts, but for the purpose of stifling the investigation that the grand jury was trying to hold. I think in all fairness you must say, no matter what your opinion may be of the situation, that with a judge elected by the Democrats in a Democratic county and a Democrat of long standing, and with the high attainments and integrity of Judge Schaffer, that every opportunity was given to make this a fair grand jury investigation. But, what was done in addition to that? The gentleman from York complains that the grand jury, as he said, had a couple of Democrats on it. I understand it had more, but that grand jury was thrown out and a new grand jury picked. You did not tell about that, Mr. Cohen. That grand jury today stands eleven to eleven. You know as an attorney that the district attorney of a county has no right before the grand jury except to present evidence, and that he cannot be present during their deliberations. Are you afraid to go before a grand jury of your peers which stands eleven to eleven in their political affiliations? If you are not afraid of that then why are you attempting to pass legislation to stifle that grand jury investigation, because the clear intent and purpose of this investigation is not to have an impartial investigation before this House. I say to you now that it cannot be an impartial investigation because the same condition is going to exist here which you claimed existed in the original grand jury in Dauphin county, and you are going to have one hundred and fifty-four Democrats in this House against fifty-two or fifty-four Republicans, fifty-four with a resignation and one man away ill,—now fifty-one with another man away ill. In the Senate you have the same lopsided majority. If it is unfair to say that it is unfair to have these people tried before a Republican district attorney and Republican court, then truly it must be said in the same sense, although I am not contending this, that it is unfair to try them before a House and a Senate with an overwhelming Democratic majority. I do not want to leave any misunderstanding here. We are not here on this side of the House talking about grand jury investigations. We feel that that it is a matter outside our province. We are here as members of this Legislature, and you know very well that there is existing in this House, as I said earlier this afternoon, in this legislative body a procedure for investigation of charges that are made against officials and other people. We have time and time again sent that kind of charges to the Committee on Judiciary General. A subcommittee was appointed to investigate and make a report back to the House, and once during my time in this House those matters were submitted to the floor of the House to decide whether there should be impeachment or not. There was no contention then because the law was well understood that those parties could be brought back and could be investigated by a grand jury and a presentment found. There was no question raised then by any one that this House had no right to proceed as well as a grand jury, but there was no contention made that the House had to proceed ahead of any grand jury or that the House had to gobble up all the testimony, or that the House had to gobble up all the witnesses, and that the grand jury hold off and wait until such a time as the House got through with them, and there was no contention then that the only proper body that could hear the charges, and as much as I respect this House, that this was the only body in Pennsylvania that could act with fairness. So I say to you that to come on the floor of this House in the same attitude that you would go into the Court of Quarter Sessions, if you had a murder case or a criminal case and attempted to paint the defendant lilly-white and create a villain in some one else on the outside is not within the keeping of the standards that have been established here in the House for the last two years. Every one knows that an attorney in a criminal case always attempts to paint the defendant lilly-white. Every one knows that the first thing an attorney does is to get a villain some place. Every one knows that the second thing you do is to paint the defendant lilly-white. I am not here to prejudge these men. My colleagues have not prejudiced them. They haven't said that these charges are false or true. Their action on this legislation has no bearing, and you know it, on the question before the grand jury. The sole thing we are interested in here is this, we all want to do our duty as members of this House, first to see that the legislation that passes through here is proper legislation, and you know that we stood in that committee to which you referred and made suggestions of amendments to these bills which you adopted. Our concern is to see that this is proper legislation, but in so doing we must protect the rights of the people of the Commonwealth, and whether you try to shift the burden of this whole controversy, whether you try to make District Attorney Shelley or the Republican Party the villain in the case, whether you try to gilt the defendants, whether you try to whitewash them or not, we Republicans intend to stand here as we may have the last four years, no matter how much you may beat us, no matter how many roll calls we may lose, we intend to stand here and fight for the things that we believe to be right and to fight for the kind of legislation that we think should be put forward, and we do not intend to stand for any legislation that will hamstring this investigation. We do not intend that the courts shall be made subsersive to the Legislature. We will defend the executive from invasion, just the same as we will any other branch of the government, but in so doing we do not intend to have our motives impugned. We do not intend that you shall go out and try to make a political controversy of this for political purposes and escape the political consequences for the things you have done.

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we all know and believe that a public office whether elective or appointive is a public trust; and if anyone from the highest officer of the State to the lowest menial worker is guilty of a breach of that trust, there is no punishment too great to inflict on that individual. If I, as an elected officeholder, would stand by and encourage in any manner such misdoings, I would be just as amiss in my duties to the people, and furthermore if I were to use that misnomer, "whitewash" any wrongdoing by any public officer, I would not be fit to hold public office. If I thought for a moment, that voting "Yes" meant to clear all guilty of crimes, I would not hesitate for a moment to voice my opinion otherwise. I say now and will reiterate—I do not want any of the guilty to be freed, no matter how great an office they may be occupying. We would be destroying the very principles underlying our democratic form of government if we would make it possible, by judicial or legislative means, for the higher-ups to escape for any misfeasance or malfeasance in office. No, my fellow Members, I do not believe that any of us would permit or condone anything of that order. I do not believe that any of the bills intend to say whether anybody is guilty of any crime or not guilty. I do not believe that any of the proposed bills would impede justice in any manner whatsoever. The guilty ones will be brought to trial before their peers. But I do say that the essence of these proposed bills will not make it politically expedient for the opposite party to becloud the real issues confronting the people in this coming election.

The "kept press," the vested interests, and the disgruntled politicians, have again raised their 'hue and cry' —"the integrity of the courts is being attacked—the rights of the common law grand jury are being violated—our very judicial system is to come to an end." That cry, Members, is only to hide the humane, social and labor legislation that the past session wrote in pages of history in favor of the masses.

Looking through the smoke screens set up, one can easily discern the same vicious and poisonous attacks that were made upon the greatest humanitarian of all times and the champion of the masses, Franklin Delano Roosevelt. I do not believe that the common people will believe all those contemptible lies and untruths that are published any time that anything progressive is proposed. I do not believe that our Honorable Governor is asking for any special quarters, but I do believe that he is very fair and impartial in asking that those who are guilty should be immediately arrested, tried, and punished. That certainly doesn't look like he is trying to shield and protect any of the guilty. Any of us attorneys know what a Grand Jury in the hands of any unscrupulous District Attorney can do. Why a Grand Jury acts merely as pawns in his hands, and he can swing them any way he wishes, and I believe we would be derelict in our duty if we would permit any actions of that sort. The proposed Dauphin Grand Jury investigations will be secret, and the only results that will be made public before the general election will be the indictment and nothing else. The accused have no right to state their case before a Grand Jury. Therefore the opposite party will say to the public "These men are indicted—are you going to vote for them." Very good political strategy if it would work and ultimately the public is to be the judge without hearing the evidence except by inferences, innuendos, and accusations. Every person is protected by a cloak of innocence until they are actually proven guilty is a legal axiom, and it ought to be applied in this case.

I notice among my fellow Legislators quite a bit of doubt and apprehension as to the proper methods of approaching a solution of the criminal charges against high public officials. The doubts, fear, and apprehensions are based on vicious propoganda as against evidence openly submitted. I, as a lawyer and a Member of this Legislature, feel it necessary to investigate and hear this evidence before indicting or accusing anyone. I further feel that the electorate are entitled to have the opportunity of either hearing or reading this evidence by public investigation rather than by charges and accusations made and not proven. And after the evidence is made public I would be the first to see that those guiluty are convicted and punished to the fullest extent of the law, and under no circumstances will I stand for any "whitewashing." So fellow Legislators, you are serving your people conscientiously and fearlessly by voting "Yes" on all these bills, which is for a public exposure of these charges and not just for the satisfaction of the reactionary press and the vested interests who know of no method too low or base enough in order to win this coming election.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it was not my original intent to make any comments on this particular bill, but due to the remarks of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, I do feel that a few remarks may be proper.

I feel that generally the public should understand the distinction between hearings before a Grand Jury and hearings open to the public before this House. Hearings before a Grand Jury are, of course, secret and the general public at no time learns all of the testimony, all of the story told before that Grand Jury. Hearings before the House are public and should be, and through the medium of the press the entire people of this Commonwealth will hear each and every charge and each and every witness tell their stories.

I feel as a certain Republican felt in this House, when he asked that the legislation be broad enough that the District Attorney of Dauphin County would not be throttled in producing before the Committee, that is, the Committee that will investigate and hold hearings, that he will be permitted to bring his entire story before that committee. We leaned backwards to assure him, as well as the people of this Commonwealth that that legislation would be broad enough, that there would be no possible chance of their throttling the District Attorney of Dauphin County and that there would not be an opportunity to white-wash anyone. We saw to it that it would be possible to accomplish exactly what this particular Republican asked, that the District Attorney of Dauphin County, and all others would be allowed to bring their stories before this committee. If the District Attorney had nothing then he would fry, as he said, in his own fat, and if he had testimony that indicated that misdemeanors had been committed then the officials who committed those misdemeanors would be forced likewise to fry in their own fat.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, as a layman and for the matter of clarification,—the leader on the majority side made certain statements concerning the workings of the courts. It has always been my understanding that a jury, or a grand jury, is chosen by lot, the question of their political affiliation is never asked.

It is also my understanding that the District Attorney is elected by the people, and that after he is elected that District Attorney represents all the people, and that likewise is true of a Judge.

All of these facts being true I see no reason why there should have been dragged into this discussion on the part of the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, all of these apparent discrepancies that he so boldly points out as relate to political affiliations of these men elected and sworn to do their duty.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the ayes and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Mr. TURNER, seconded by Mr. SCHROCK and Mr. WOOD and was as follows:

RESOLUTION

BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. McGEE offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted:

In the House of Representatives, July 28, 1938.

Whereas, The fortieth birthday of smiling Jimmy Walsh, now and always of Philadelphia, and very much a member of this House, has for four days escaped our attention; and

Whereas, A perusal of his most imposing biography as contained in the Pennsylvania Manual, to which all members of this body are respectfully referred (page 893), furnishes too much laudatory material for a warm weather resolution; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the General Assembly, that belated congratulations be offered the Honorable James F. Walsh, and an assurance that the first forty years are the hardest, and the further wish that this body may again congratulate Mr. Walsh forty years from now.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly certified, be transmitted to the Honorable James F. Walsh.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ALEXANDER. HOUSE BILL No. 25.

An Act to further amend clause (a) of section one thousand two hundred and five of the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by specifying an additional cause for termination of the contract of a professional employe.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

By Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. HOUSE BILL No. 26.

Referred to the Committee on State Government.

BY Mr. LOVETT. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 2.

In the House of Representatives, July 28, 1938.

Whereas, The General Assembly in the passing of laws from time to time has granted the various departments, commissions, bureaus, boards and agencies of this State the authority to make such rules and regulations as the administration of the particular laws would require; and

Whereas, Under the said legislative authority the departments, commissions, bureaus, boards and agencies of this State have from time to time made rules and regulations which have been inconsistent with the provisions of the respective; and

Whereas, Many of the rules and regulations adopted by the various departments, commissions, bureaus, boards and agencies have been so extreme, undemocratic and against the general welfare of the citizens of this Commonwealth, that the Members of the General Assembly have been criticized by the citizens for the manner in which various laws have been administered; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby declares it to be the legislative policy that no rule or regulation by any department, commission, bureau, board or agency of the Commonwealth shall become effective until after it has been submitted to the General Assembly for their approval, and be it further

Resolved, That all rules and regulations heretofore adopted by any department, commission, bureau, board or agency shall be presented to the General Assembly at the next regular session for their approval.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. HETRICK. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 11:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 7:39 p. m.) the House adjourned until Friday, July 29, 1938, at 11:00 p. m.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22. HARRISBURG, PA., FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1938. No. 5.

SENATE

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock P. M. Friday (E.S.T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy), in the Chair.

Our Gracious Heavenly Father, the gift of another day calls forth from us again, our grateful praise, and we would forget not Thy benefits. We thank Thee for health and strength for opportunity of service; the desire and ability to serve.

At this time we would remember before Thy throne of Grace two faithful members of this body, who continue to be detained by illness. We commend them to the God whom long they have served, in the service of their day and generation.

Our Father, with the grace of this day, and its challenge of service and opportunity, give unto us a sense of responsibility, a vision of Thy purpose, a will to do Thy Will.

Thou hast promised a good disposition to them that ask Thee. Grant unto us approving hearts, that we may have confidence in Thy presence.

Do Thou guide us in our search for truth and right, may Thy Spirit of Guidance rest upon this body, upon our good Governor and his associates upon the Judiciary, and may the spirit of wisdom prevail in all things.

May the blessing of God rest upon our beloved Commonwealth. In His name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

The PRESIDENT. The Notary Public Nomination, in compliance with Senate Resolution previously adopted will lie on the table.

RESOLUTION

AUTHORIZING PAYMENT OF EMPLOYEES

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President. I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HUFFMAN, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, July 29, 1938.

RESOLVED (if the House of Representatives concur), That the State Treasurer be and is hereby authorized to pay upon warrant of the Auditor General to each employee of the Senate and House of Representatives the salary or per diem compensation to which they are entitled under law for an Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly by virtue of the provisions of the Acts of Assembly under which they are elected or appointed; this resolution to be effective until the General Appropriation Law providing for the payment of the salaries of the employees of the Senate and the House of Representatives for the Extraordinary Session of 1938 is enacted into law.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. CAVALCANTE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 26, entitled:

An Act relating to grand jurors and grand jury inquiry and investigation of misconduct in civil office; indictments, presentments and district attorney bills relating to the same; the duty of the court of quarter session in relation hereto and imposing penalties

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 9, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to pay rentals and expenses in connection with public school buildings constructed or improved by the General State Authority

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 The sum of one million dollars ($1,000,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for the purpose of paying the Commonwealth's share of rentals for public school buildings and improvements thereto constructed or improved by the General State Authority and of any expenses in connection therewith

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move to amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 7, by striking out the following: "of any expenses in connection therewith" and inserting in lieu thereof: "any expenses of the department in the administration of any laws authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in leasing school buildings from the General State Authority."

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 21 (House Bill No. 1), as follows:

An Act relating to the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office made against certain civil officers subject to impeachment providing that the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives to make such investigations shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of grand juries and limiting the circumstances under which courts of quarter sessions may authorize grand juries to make such investigations

Whereas, Article VI Section 3 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth provides that

"The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth the person accused whether convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment trial judgment and punishment according to law"

and

Whereas, Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment"

and

Whereas, charges of misdemeanor in office particularly against high officers of the State government tend to destroy public confidence in the integrity of government itself and thus threaten the ability of all government to function and

Whereas, such a situation is wholly different from any other situation in which persons are charged with violations of the laws of the Commonwealth and

Whereas, the welfare and safety of the Commonwealth require that charges of or involving misdemeanor in office be investigated in public and not in secret and

Whereas, an investigation of such charges by a grand jury concurrently with their investigation by the House of Representatives would impede and interfere with the House investigation particularly if the conclusions of the grand jury became known prior to the conclusion of the House investigation.

Section 1 Whenever the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment shall be charged with any offense against the laws of this Commonwealth which would constitute or involve misdemeanor in office the House of Representatives shall have exclusive jurisdiction to investigate the same except as hereinafter provided

Section 2 It shall be unlawful for any court of quarter sessions to order an investigation by a grand jury of charges against the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment if the offenses charged would constitute or involve misdemeanor in office unless within ninety (90) days after the charges have been brought to the attention of the Governor he shall not convene the General Assembly in special session or unless if the General Assembly is in session when the charges are made the House of Representatives shall fail to investigate them prior to the adjournment of the General Assembly or unless after the investigation by the House of Representatives shall have been concluded a court of quarter sessions after examining the testimony taken by the House of Representatives shall determine that as to some matter or thing over which his court has jurisdiction a grand jury investigation is necessary to develop information not disclosed before the House of Representatives

Section 3 Nothing in this act contained shall prevent evidence presented to the House of Representatives or its committee during any investigation to which this act applies from being subsequently repeated before the grand jury or any county for the purpose of obtaining an indictment against any person involved in the charges investigated by the House of Representatives

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon its approval by the Governor.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a public hearing. In support of this motion, I would like to file communications received, and I will read two of them. The first is from the Pennsylvania State Grange.

PENNSYLVANIA STATE GRANGE
426-30 TELEGRAPH BUILDING
HARRISBURG, PA.

July 29, 1938.

To the Honorable Members of the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen:

For more than sixty years, the Pennsylvania State Grange has pleaded in the legislative halls of the State Capitol for good government and for legislation helpful to public welfare.

At the Annual Convention last November in Harrisburg, public action taken was, "The Grange is a law-abiding organization, having written into its fundamental belief, obedience to law, and the members maintain, at least, an average observance of law and authority unsurpassed by any other group. However, when the fundamental law of the Government is attacked, we may expect to find the Organization in the front rank of defense, as has been seen frequently."

On several occasions, the Grange was obliged to oppose the re-writing of the Constitution of Pennsylvania because of the methods and plans proposed to re-write the same. But, we are now faced with a proposition which is more far-reaching in its destructive effect upon the constitutional form of government, than anything that has been proposed in the past. We are facing the greatest crisis in Pennsylvania history.

During the last three days, the Legislature evidently has given little consideration to the merits of the legislation now before the State Senate, and the grange now requests of your honorable body that House Bills Nos. 1 to 5 inclusive, be referred back to the Committee, and that a public hearing be given so that we may present our views and that other citizens may be given an opportunity to be heard.

Very truly yours,

PENNSYLVANIA STATE GRANGE
/s/ John H. Light, Sec.

The following is a telegram from the Philadelphia Board of Trade.

July 28, 1938

George Woodward
State Senate
Harrisburg, Pa.

Bills number one to five introduced in this special session would destroy constitutional protections of the people never heretofore challenged. We do not believe we have yet reached the point where our fundamental liberties can be withdrawn by legislative enactment without so much as a public hearing at which the people themselves can be heard. Such procedure is without precedent in Pennsylvania and finds parallel only where all powers of the people have been usurped.

We condemn the indecent haste with which these bills are being rushed through this legislature and emphatically urge the right of all concerned to public hearings on each of these proposed enactments with adequate public notice of such hearings.

By authority of the President and Executive Committee of the Philadelphia Board of Trade.

H. W. Wills, Secretary.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, as Chairman of the Committee on Judiciary General, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia County kindly inform the Senate who signed the communication from the Grange?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Communication from the Pennsylvania State Grange was signed by the Secretary, John H. Light. The communication and telegram from the Philadelphia Board of Trade was signed by H. W. Wills, Secretary.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I hate to rise in opposition to any request that the distinguished Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward makes, but in the last three years of this Senate, we have received so many communications purporting to be requests and advices from the Pennsylvania State Grange under the signature of John Light which were without authority from the Grange or the organization that I feel that this body should at this time give no credence to any request that Mr. Light ever makes of us. We all know what a bitter and prejudiced partisan Mr. Light has been toward every piece of liberal legislation that has been in this Senate for the past four years. We know of his perverted stand on constitutional revision in 1935. We know that under John Light's signature two articles came out in the same issue of the Grange periodical, both under John Light's signature, one purporting to be for constitutional revision and the other purporting to be against constitutional revision; we know ourselves that for three years Mr. John Light has persistently used his position unfairly as Secretary of the Pennsylvania State Grange and without authority in many cases from the organization og the Grange as a whole to carry on his private compaign against the Democratic party. Now, Mr. John Light has had ample opportunity. These were House bills and if there were any public hearings upon these bills it should have been dealt with in the House. I do not believe, since there has been no public hearings requested by Mr. Light in the House and the fact that the House has not seen fit to have public hearings upon these bills, that we should at this time delay their passage upon the request of a man whom the people of Pennsylvania know that they cannot rely upon in any respect.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre if he knows of a single instance where the Pennsylvania State Grange has repudiated any action taken by its executive committee or Mr. Light.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I don't know of any instance when the Pennsylvania State Grange has repudiated the action of the executive committee of the Grange, but I do know of instances where the Pennsylvania Grange has repudiated the action of Mr. Light as Secretary, and to state one instance for the Senator from Tioga, I know that the Grange repudiated Mr. Light's actions with respect to the Milk Control Act and the way that was handled before the Committee on Agriculture in the House in the Session of 1935, and if the Senator from Tioga will take the opportunity to check the House records on that he will find that it is set out in full in the Legislative Journal.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I cannot sit in my seat quietly and permit a Senator or this floor to attack the secretary of an organization such as the Pennsylvania State Grange. Every position that this Grange has taken in the last sessions of the legislature has been sustained by the people of this Commonwealth. It is an institution that represents all that is the best in Pennsylvania and their elected officers, who have been elected by that organization, serve its organization well and when they are represented in the legislative halls are entitled to respect, and I think that the people of Pennsylvania will resent very seriously such a vicious and un-called for attack on an officer such as was made by the Senator from Centre.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga is unquestionably perverting my previous remarks. I am not attacking the organization of the Pennsylvania State Grange, of which I happen to be a member myself at present, nor am I attacking any action of their executive body, but I am attacking the presumptions that Mr. John Light has exercised in three years in matters pertaining to the Grange and I say that as a member of the Grange as well as a member of this Senate. I think the best proof of what the Grange and the people that are most closely associated with Mr. John Light think of him was demonstrated by the people in his district this primary. He comes from a rural district, a district which is predominately a farming community. He has been a Republican practically all his life and when he ran for Congress in that district at the present primaries, I believe that he was third on the Republican ticket—at least he was defeated by a very substantial majority and I say that John Light as an individual is not entitled to the confidence of this Senate.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this debate on the personality of Mr. Light is not very material to the question involved.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair agrees with you.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the unseemly haste with which this bill and the other series of bills of so much importance to this Commonwealth, have been rushed through the House and now are being rushed through the Senate, is shocking to every lover of decent and orderly government. This bill is the first bill which was introduced into the House. Thousands of telegrams, we are told, came to Members of the House asking for a public hearing on this bill, which effects the orderly administration of justice in every county of this Commonwealth. It isn't a matter of politics in this, but the bill affects prosecution against Justices of the Peace, against Councilmen, against School Directors. It affects the administration of justice in every county in this Commonwealth. The people haven't had a chance to know what is going on here. The bill was amended late last night, and certainly we are not asking too much to ask that a public hearing be given on it.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

Mr. PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, does the Senator recall the September Special Session of 1934, during the preceding Republican Administration?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, well, there have been so many Special Sessions that I am not sure whether I can recall that there was one in September 1934, or not. Possibly, you are right.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, does the Senator from Somerset, recall that in the Special Session of September 1934, the Senator from Somerset, himself, rushed through and voted for a series of bills in five days of that Session which transferred funds from the Highway Department, from the School Districts, from the Municipalities of Pennsylvania, from the Firemen's Relief Fund, from the funds for distressed School Districts. in fact every fund that the Republicans could lay their hands on, against the protest of the Democratic Party, which at that time asked for public hearings on all of these special bills.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not know that the statement of the Senator is correct. I do know that I have been unalterably opposed to the system of public relief as administered in this Commonwealth from the very beginning From the change of the first Talbot system. If these relief measures were made necessary in that Session, and they have been followed up in this Democratic Administration in every Session since they were made necessary by this system of relief which this Senator from Centre County advocated, and urged for so long, and more strongly than anyone else in the last session of this Legislature.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would just like to ask the Senator from Somerset again, if his voice was raised against the haste with which those bills were put through in September 1934?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, as I recall, the Senator was among those who were obstructing administration on the transfer of funds, at certain times to serve his own purpose, when he was just as eager to transfer them at other times without going into the root of a question and putting this relief system on a proper basis.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, it occurs to me, as a point of inquiry, we might like to know just what kind of light the Senator from Philadelphia tends to throw on the inquiry.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I did not hear the question.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ealy and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14.

Bean,	Ealy,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Cavalcante,	Gelder,	Reed,	Wolfenden,

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 22, (House Bill No. 2), as follows:

An Act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General district attorneys other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants

Whereas Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Whenever the House of Representatives of the General Assembly shall undertake the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office against any civil officer who is liable to impeachment such investigation shall be made through such standing committee of the House as the Speaker of the House shall determine unless the House of Representatives shall by resolution authorize the Speaker to appoint a special investigating committee for the purpose of investigating any particular charge or charges in which event the Speaker shall appoint such special committee as directed by the resolution

Section 2 The committee investigating such charges may hold executive sessions to discuss plans give directions to investigators and other employees of the committee review the evidence reach conclusions and draft its report but all evidence shall be presented to the committee at hearings open to the public

Section 3 Such committee shall have the power to employ and fix the compensation of such investigators stenographers reporters and other employes as may be necessary for the conduct of its work and may employ and fix the compensation of counsel if it finds counsel to be necessary The compensation of all such employes shall be paid out of moneys appropriated to the committee for the purpose

Section 4 The Attorney General of the Commonwealth by himself or his deputy and the district attorney of any county by himself or his assistant may appear before the committee to present evidence Provided however That if the Attorney General of the Commonwealth or the district attorney of any county is the subject of investigation the committee shall appoint counsel to present the evidence and the Attorney General or such district attorney shall be disqualified from presenting any evidence to the committee except on his own behalf

Section 5 Any civil officer against whom charges are being investigated by a committee of the House of Representatives may appear before such committee in person and may be represented by counsel whether or not he appears in person and the committee shall hear such evidence as such civil officer may wish to present to refute the charges made against him

Section 6 Any committee of the House of Representatives which is conducting any investigation to which this act applies may adopt rules for the conduct of its proceedings which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act but the rules of evidence shall conform to the rules of evidence governing the admissibility of testimony in judicial proceedings

Section 7 Any committee of the House of Representatives conducting any such investigation shall have the power to subpoena such witnesses and such books records and papers as it may deem necessary for the proper conduct of the investigation All subpoenas shall be issued over the signature of the chairman of the committee and shall be served by the Sergeant at Arms of the House of Representatives or such person as shall be deputized by him so to do The committee shall subpoena to appear before it all persons who have made charges against the public officer or officers under investigation whether or not such persons shall have made their charges as public officers or as private citizens If any person fails to obey the subpoena of the committee either by refusing to appear before the committee or by refusing to produce books records and documents which he has been directed to produce or if any person after appearing refuses to answer any question when directed by the committee to do so unless upon the ground that by answering he or she might incriminate himself or herself such person shall be in contempt of the House of Representatives In any such case the committee shall report the contempt to the House of Representatives which shall have the power by attachment to compel the attendance of the witness at the bar of the House and if the witness having been brought to the bar of the House he or she shall refuse to be sworn or affirmed or having been sworn or affirmed shall refuse to answer all legal questions duly propounded or to produce any books documents or papers for which demand is made the Speaker of the House shall have full power by the direction of the House of Representatives to issue to the Sergeant at Arms a warrant of commitment to any State penitentiary and the warden thereof is hereby authorized and required to receive and confine the delinquent until discharged in due course

Section 8 Any committee of the House of Representatives conducting an investigation under the provisions of this act shall after the testimony before the committee has been completed make a report to the House of Representatives containing such conclusions and making such recommendations as to the committee may seem appropriate If the evidence has disclosed misdemeanor in office on the part of the person or persons investigated the House of Representatives may order such person or persons impeached or it may call upon the Attorney General of the Commonwealth or the district attorney of the proper county to prosecute such person or persons in the appropriate court for the offense or offenses disclosed by the evidence

Section 9 Nothing in this act contained shall exempt any civil officer from indictment trial judgment and punishment according to law

Section 10 If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid such invalidity shall not affect provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable

Section 11 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of a public hearing.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The President. The Chair suggests that the speakers confine themselves to the question before us, which is to recommit.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, will the gentlemen from Philadelphia state what advantage is to be gained in a public hearing, in a matter which has entirely to do with legislative procedure?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, well, we represent the people of the Commonwealth, and the majority of the people of the Commonwealth seem to be opposed to these bills and we are trying to do our duty for the majority.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to have the Senator state whether anything may be gained by a public hearing when nobody can advise the Legislature as to their own procedure.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, well, I think the man on the street, if there is such a man, believes, like the Governor, in having a free and fair and open field for everybody to talk at once and I am sorry that the Democrats have put themselves in a position of what might be called indecent haste.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, if the Senator were asking for further consideration for himself and his colleagues, then we might be better able to understand them and I can see where there might be some question, but what interest the public has in the form of procedure which they can dictate to us, I can't see.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would suggest that perhaps the public would like to know whether this is going to be a whitewash or an honest investigation and as to whether or not the bill is so constructed that it would lead to one thing or the other. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Mercer.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask him whether we are to understand that the Democratic majority would not under any circumstances be responsive to public opinion.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would not say that. In any event I merely refer to Bill No. 22 as a procedural bill into which I believe a public hearing would not bring anything new.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the gentleman from Philadelphia makes his motion upon the basis of the request from the Secretary of the Grange and from the Secretary of the Philadelphia Board of Trade.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, well, representing their executive committee, yes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia tell this Senate what help we can get out of a public hearing from either of these two organizations that will help in determining whether or not we are correct in the procedure which we are setting up under the Constitution, which gives the right to legislate, to impeach and to hold hearings for the purpose of impeachment. What help can we get from them, then, on the question.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to say in reply that the procedure has been so rapid that the various organizations have hardly had a chance to express themselves and these happen to be the forerunners. But of course, there are other people. I have telegrams and letters from individuals which I haven't burdened the Senate with. I have one before me from a man who wants to appear because he wants to suggest impeachment of the Governor, but I didn't want to read that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I haven't the slightest doubt that there are several people in this Commonwealth that would like to impeach the Governor and several others who would also like to throw out the members of the Senate, and a great many others who voted for liberal legislation. I am quite sure that you could get a great many people in Philadelphia to offer testimony during the coming month of their confidence in this legislature and who would ask that we get their help to continue the course which we have begun. I like to deal with these things frankly and I can say that from what I see here this morning it is obvious that what the gentlemen on the other side want is not a public hearing but delay.

I say with equal frankness that what this side wants is hurry, because if there is anything the proposition with which we are dealing now needs it is to make haste by contending that the hearing on August 8 which is to be a Grand Jury charge, is to be stopped. That is our proposition and we contend as legislators that we have a right to investigate the misdeeds of our own official body. If that is so, then we can't wait for a public hearing. If there were something about this bill by which we could get the aid of the public, I would say that it might be worth while to wait at the risk of being too late.

Anybody who reads bill Number 22, and you will note I have not referred to Bill 21, anybody who reads it will find that it is a bill which suggests, in view of the fact that the Constitution so provides, that the Legislature shall have charge of conducting impeachments. This bill provides a method under which hearings may be held and committees set up for the purpose of obtaining evidence as to whether or not recommendation should be made for impeachment. I suggest to the Doctor that he write to the gentleman who wants to impeach the Governor and assure him that the best way he can begin proceedings without spending any money, is to allow this bill to be rushed through quickly, so that the District Attorney and the gentlemen who furnished them with the so-called evidence against the Governor and the rest of the Cabinet, may appear to give their evidence and send out of these newspapers who are charging that this is a white-wash, all of the evidence that they have without concealing it behind the closed doors of a Grand Jury. With all this haste we will be able to get rid of a Governor who is supposed to be dishonest so that he won't be active as a Governor in his full capacity, conducting the affairs of a State, under a stigma of being guilty of crime. I say that the sooner we give these people the opportunity to air their charges before the public, the better it will be for the public, and they will get rid of this terrible Governor who has committed so many crimes that they are afraid to tell the public what they are.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not wish to prolong this discussion, but I do want to suggest that on this motion to refer this bill back to the committee for public hearing, it seems to me the reason for it is very well answered by what happened at the [illegible] session. I am sure the members here remember [illegible] the gentleman from Philadelphia assured us all that the Family Court Bill that they passed so hastily, and all the hasty legislation passed at the last session that took two volumes to print, were properly drawn. Now we find that some twenty-six of those bills have already been declared unconstitutional. We are trying to help them out by giving them a hearing, and if there are any defects in these bills, a hearing will bring them out and show them how to draw constitutional legislation. That is the reason for this and it gives an answer to Mr. Law's inquiry for the necessity of a hearing. It is really necessary to get these hearings, it seems to me, because they would find that hasty legislation drawn by this Administration won't stand up.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I feel the same way about the decision of the Supreme Court on the bill which I sponsored, as I do about the decision that the people gave the Senator from Tioga's candidacy for United States Senator. I feel very badly about it. I also want to say that a much abler man than I, and one whom the gentlemen on the other side can name, said that the Constitution is what the Supreme Court said it was. It is because the Supreme Court seems to be so indefinite about what the Constitution is that it might be advisable to help the Supreme Court in this matter. Sometimes they tell us we can't levy taxes, and then proceed to levy taxes themselves. In this case, we don't want them to declare on one day that the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania can be investigated and on the next day let a lower court decide whether that is true or not.

I repeat again, I feel just as badly about the action of the Supreme Court on my bill, as I do about the action of the people of Pennsylvania on the Senator's candidacy.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ealy and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15.

Bean,	Ealy,	Owlett,	Sones,

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 23, (House Bill No. 3), as follows:

An Act defining the reative powers of the Attorney General and of district attorneys in proceedings in the criminal courts authorizing the judges thereof to appoint subject to appeal to the Supreme Court special prosecutors in certain cases and providing for their compensation by the county

Section 1 In any investigation or proceeding whatsoever pending before any court of oyer and terminer and jail delivery or before any court of quarter sessions in any county of this Commonwealth the Attorney General of the Commonwealth may at any stage of the investigation or proceeding in his absolute discretion supersede and set aside the district attorney of the county

Section 2 If in any such investigation or proceeding the court before which it is pending shall find after hearing that the Attorney General has failed to perform his duties impartially such court may order the Attorney General to stand aside and in such event shall appoint an attorney at law resident in another county to supersede and act in lieu of the Attorney General Any special attorney thus appointed shall serve at the pleasure of the court and shall receive from the county in which the investigation is being conducted such compensation as the court shall fix

Section 3 From any order superseding the Attorney General the Attorney General shall have the right immediately to appeal to the Supreme Court and such appeal shall automatically stay all proceedings until the Supreme Court shall have determined the appeal

Section 4 This act shall apply to all proceedings now pending as well as to all future proceedings

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General, for the splendid purpose of a Public Hearing.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ealy and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—16.

Bean,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Scarlett,

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 24, (House Bill No. 5), as follows:

An Act suspending retroactively as well as prospectively any other pending investigation legislative executive or judicial of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment which the House of Representatives undertakes to investigate and providing under what circumstances the suspended investigation may be resumed

Whereas Article VI Section 1 of the Constitution provides that

"The House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment"

and

Whereas, whenever a charge is made against a civil officer which if true would warrant his impeachment the interests of the Commonwealth and of the accused require that the charge be investigated by the House of Representatives before impeachment proceedings are actually instituted and

Whereas, it would be prejudicial to the Commonwealth as well as to the accused to have any other investigation of the same charge made by any official body other than the House of Representatives pending the conclusion of the House investigation particularly if such other investigation resulted either in a vindication or an indictment and such result became publicly known during the House investigation

Section 1 Whenever the House of Representatives shall undertake the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment any other investigation of the same charges theretofore instituted by or before any other officer body or agency of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof whether such investigation be legislative executive or judicial shall be suspended until the House of Representatives shall have completed its investigation and shall not thereafter be resumed unless the legislative executive or judicial officer body or agency which shall have ordered the investigation shall after examining the testimony taken by the House of Representatives or its committee determine that a further investigation is necessary to develop information not disclosed to the House of Representatives or its committee

Section 2 This act shall apply to and suspend investigations instituted by or before any officer body or agency of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof prior to the effective date of this act as well as to such investigations hereafter instituted

Section 3 Nothing in this act contained shall prevent evidence presented to the House of Representatives or its committee during any investigation to which this act applies from being subsequently repeated before the grand jury of any county for the purpose of obtaining an indictment against any person involved in the charges investigated by the House of Representatives

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General, for the purpose of a Public Hearing.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ealy and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—17.

Bean,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Scarlett,
Cavalcante,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Sones,
Chapman,	Howell,	Reed,	Wolfenden,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, to be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I am very glad to note that the opposition is growing to these bills. It has increased one vote on each bill. Perhaps by the time it gets to the public, and in November, there will be a real storm of votes. That certainly is our hope.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Saturday, July 30, 1938 at 12:05 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 2:27 o'clock P. M. until Saturday, July 30, 1938 at 12:05 o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1938. No. 6.

SENATE

The Senate met at 12:05 o'clock A. M., Saturday, July 30, 1938.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor, Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

Our Lord and our God, Thou hast established Thy throne in the heavens and Thy Kingdom ruleth over all! It is Thy glory we recall the illustrious roll of the Immortals who have presided over the destinies of our Commonwealth and our Nation. Under Thy guidance, we have never made an evil choice. We rejoice in the high standard even to our present day.. Yet as in the song of the psalmist. "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." Little does it matter who our President or our Governor may be, if Thou, O God, art King!

We thank Thee for Thy guardianship over the affairs of our beloved nation. "Thou hast not dealt so with any nation." Thou hast saved us from perils, from within and without. Do Thou save us from ourselves. Help us faithfully to render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's. Above all, we would render unto Thee the things which are Thine.

Bless this assemblage of men, here of right by the confidence and the suffrages of there fellow-citizens. As we assemble in the darkness of this early hour, help us to put on the armor of light. Destroy those things within our hearts that kill, that we may make room for the things which bring happiness and peace. In his name. Amen .

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 21 (House Bill No. 1), entitled:

An Act relating to the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office made against civil officers subject to impeachment providing that the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives to make such investigations shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of grand juries and limiting the circumstances under which courts of oyer and terminer and general jail delivery or courts of quarter sessions or judges of such courts may authorize grand juries to make such investigations

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, all the sections of this bill, the entire bill, is a hybrid so unique in its makeup, that the keenest ornithologist would not be able to determine whether it is a crow, a vulture, or an eagle. I don't know who drew the bill up, but the bill just conglomerates many subjects together without regard to any constitutional limitations. The bill confuses impeachment proceedings and the matters relating thereto, with the criminal procedures and matters relating to them. Under the Constitution, impeachment proceedings are in the sole power of the House of Representatives, while under that same Constitution the judicial functions are entrusted to the Judiciary. In this bill, the Governor is given judicial powers. This bill invades the Judiciary and gives the Governor the right to receive information which under the Constitution, is purely within the province of the judiciary. That information is concerning the commission of misdemeanors in office. Now, this bill if passed will completely paralyze the judicial arm, in all cases now pending in the courts of our Commonwealth involving misdemeanors in office which under Section 4, of Article VI, of the Constitution are entrusted to that Department of our Government that deals with the criminal law.

On our statute books, General Sessions have passed laws defining certain misdemeanors in office, and then providing that upon conviction of the same, as part of the sentence, the Court shall decree removal from office. Now in all these cases, Mr. President, the matter of impeachment is not involved, because the Constitution specifically provides that upon conviction of a misdemeanor in office or of any infamous crime, the penalty must be removal from office, and the manner of inquiring into the misdemeanors in office, and infamous crimes, is a matter delegated by the Constitution to the Judiciary. This bill provides that before the Judicial arm, under the statutes now on the statute books, may proceed to try and convict and remove from office a public official, that it first must give an account of the same to the Executive. That is a pure and simple diversion of the Judicial powers. I say it should not be done. I have a fair knowledge of what is attempted by this bill. But the aim attempted can be accomplished within constitutional limitations without disturbing our constitutional form of government by confounding as this bill confounds, matters that are purely of the legislative branch, and matters that are purely of the judicial branch.

Take for instance, the term 'civil officers' used. Well, who are civil officers? A little election board officer is a civil officer. A registered assessor in a township is a civil officer. Road supervisors are civil officers. School directors are civil officers. Constables, justices of the peace, city councilmen and all the way up to the Executive. How many cases are now pending on the records of our judiciary, involving the prosecution of election frauds, by election officers, violation of the school board by school directors, violation of the road laws by road supervisors? What effect will this act have upon all of those prosecutions? There is just one effect. It paralyzes the judicial arm, notwithstanding that all of these charges on the records now are governed by Section 4, of Article VI, of the Constitution, and impeachment proceedings are not in any way involved. Yet this bill requires that the Governor be informed of all these cases, and before the judicial arm can move to justice, it must wait until this session is adjourned.

Now surely, the objective that is sought by the framer of this bill can be accomplished directly without paralyzing the judicial arm in all of these hundreds of cases that are now on the records in our courts. If these bills are aimed at rectifying any abuses that may have arisen here in the courts of Dauphin County in this crisis, of which we were informed by his Excellency, this bill can be framed to cover that particular situation, and not paralyze the arm of the judiciary all over the State of Pennsylvania in cases that have nothing to do with the crisis here in Dauphin County.

It is because of this promiscuous handling of these powers of sovereignty, powers of the Legislature and powers of the Judiciary that I am compelled under the oath of office to defend and obey the Constitution, to vote against the passage of this bill.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, since the convening of the General Assembly, I have devoted most of my time to a study of the issues raised by the Proclamation of the Governor, laying especial concentration on those matters that have to do with the regulation of investigations involving public officials.

In doing so, I have endeavored to set aside all bias or prejudice, to ignore all political considerations that might be associated therewith, and to view the same from the high position of a public servant interested solely in a solution that will preserve and protect the interest and welfare of the people of this great Commonwealth.

Problems of grave importance touching the fundamental and basic law of organized society, have been presented to this Senate for consideration. Serious and grave charges have been made against certain officials of this Commonwealth. In the eyes of the law, they stand today innocent of all charges, and as the law classifies them, so do I. The presumption that declares them innocent has been a part of our criminal jurisprudence for centuries. In my investigations, this salutary and wise presumption has been kept constantly before me so that no tarnish whatever might fall upon the good names of those accused. I accuse no man, I judge no man, I entertain no hatred and my action in this trying hour is completely devoid of malice. The call to this session invests us with the solemn duty to determine how these accusations shall be investigated, and in doing so our obligation to the people directs that we be guided solely by conscience and reason.

Our government is a government of the people. By gradual growth and development up through the centuries the rights and liberties of all have been jealously guarded and protected by a wise system of laws made and promulgated by and for a free people. Our jury system is a part of this growth. The origin of our grand jury runs far back into the early history of English jurisprudence, and nothing need be said of its general use today. Grand juries have been defined as "watchmen stationed by the laws to survey the conduct of their fellow citizens, and inquire where and by whom public authority has been violated, or our Constitution and laws infringed." A grand jury is of the people, and the oath in part is "diligently to inquire and a true presentment make, as well of all such matters as shall be given them in charge as of those things which they may know of their own knowledge." Under our grand jury system, it is then the people who inquire. In Pennsylvania, in order to protect the rights of the accused, the freedom of the grand jury is very much restricted.

"Our courts, mindful of the danger that this body might, if unrestrained and unguided, encroach upon the very liberties which it was created to protect, have imposed definite limitations upon its investigatorial powers" said the Supreme Court in McNair's petition.

"It is an arm of the criminal court and criminal acts alone must be the foundation of its deliberations. A grand jury's investigation cannot be a blanket inquiry to bring to light supposed grievances or wrongs for the purpose of criticizing an officer or a department of government, nor may it be instituted without direct knowledge or knowledge gained from trustworthy information that criminal conspiracy, systematic violations of the law or other criminal acts of wide spread nature prevail and at least one or more cognate offenses should exist upon which to base a general investigation."

Is then the grand jury empowered to conduct this investigation? The law as quoted answers in the affirmative.

But rumors and reports are current tending to strike down the grand jury as the proper agency to carry on the investigation of the matters before us on the ground that political bias and ill-will dwell in those who are authorized to direct the same. If such allegations are true, a serious situation indeed prevails.

Has human frailty reached such a state of depravity that it will sacrifice innocent people for the sake of political advantage? If this be so, it is not the fault of the grand jury system but the sin of those who operate it, and their misconduct, Mr. President, in such a case will be thrown back to the people for well deserved and just punishment and any political party that would woo success by such reprehensible methods is doomed to failure.

It has been said that "the court of Quarter Sessions has no power to set such an inquiry in motion unless it has reasonable cause to believe that an investigation will disclose some criminal misconduct which is within its jurisdiction to punish. The grand jury must not be set upon fruitless searches, founded upon mere rumor, suspicion or conjecture. "

"When a court orders an investigation it acts under its official responsibility and must answer for the steps taken when it is not justified in the exercise of sound judicial discretion but is the result of an arbitrary capricious exercise of power."

Mr. President, surely the Court will not blacken the judicial ermine by departing from the path of law and right to destroy or create political prestige.

Is it possible in such an investigation that persons will degrade themselves so completely as to violate that high and sacred precept by bearing false witness against another? The destruction of this ancient maxim means the end of all law.

Such possible wrongdoing on the part of those who would participate in a grand jury inquiry is certainly dangerous and destructive, and should be the subject of a plan for moral betterment, as no legal system, however formidable, can long survive if operated by weak and unscrupulous men. The solid foundation of our republic was conceived, builded and protected by sincere and devout fathers who learned early the lasting value of dealing justly, honorably and truthfully with all men, and we today, Mr. President, would do well to follow their example.

Our grand jury, although at times in bad and unscrupulous hands, might do injury to those it should protect, still remains one of the boasted bulwarks of our liberty, and to enter its sacred domain for the purpose of limiting or transferring its vested and time-honored powers, will in the end lead to irreparable injury. This being so, its functions should not be restricted or hampered by this Assembly.

There are those who would take away from the grand jury certain of its functions and deliver them to the House of Representatives. Under the Constitution of this great Commonwealth, Article VI, Section 1, "the House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment." The people of Pennsylvania, Mr. President, through their Constitution, have given the power of impeachment to the House of Representatives, as Senator Cavalcante has so well explained, but in so doing they did not destroy in the slightest degree the functions of the grand jury. The House of Representatives can sit for the purpose of a hearing on the question of impeachment, and as this is the method prescribed by the people, the accusations leveled at certain public officials should be heard by the House of Representatives, where all facts and inferences should be disclosed and considered, but such deliberations should be confined within the limits prescribed by the Constitution now in effect today.

As all power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their peace, safety and happiness, the power given by them to the grand jury should not be curtailed and the authority vested in the House of Representatives by them should likewise not be interfered with.

Therefore, Mr. President, from my study of these questions I believe firmly that the institutions of the people should be permitted to function as heretofore, and that any investigation the grand jury of Dauphin County has a legal right to make, shoud not be thwarted or disturbed, and at the same time, Mr. President, any investigation the House of Representatives desires to undertake under its constitutional authority should likewise not be hindered or disturbed.

Mr. President, I believe that in the end the people will judge; and in the end, right will triumph.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I understand there are a large number of people who are anxious to know my position on this program, on this issue, which is the heart of these four bills. Two of my close personal friends are seemingly on opposite sides. I shall vote to support the entire program with the firm conviction that future revelation will prove that I voted for the best interests of the people.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, on this bill, I simply wish to rise to emphasize one feature which the Senator from Fayette County brought out so well. There seems to be a misapprehension among the members of this Senate, as to the meaning of the term 'civil officer.' We have the same term in the Constitution of the United States. Mr. Storey in his able work on the Constitution, gives a definition which is approved by the Supreme Court of the United States. "The term 'civil officer' is held to mean any officer of the United States who holds an appointment in the National Government. Whether his duties are Executive or Judicial in the highest or lowest department of the Government, with the exception of officers in the army or navy." This term has been discussed in many cases. In a case from another state, the Supreme Court says, "In a certain popular acceptation, the word 'civil officer' under this state, might possibly be interpreted to mean 'state officer' in the sense of participating directly in the administration of the State Government as such, but they are none the less civil officers under the State, because their functions are confined to the local administration. The offices are created, and the officers are appointed, and their powers given, and their duties defined, and their salaries fixed directly by the Act of Legislature. They exercise a share of the powers of civil government, and their authority comes directly from the State. They are to be considered as much civil officers under this State, as the Judge of the Court, or the Mayor of the city." In the first section of this bill, after numerous whereases, it is said that whenever the Governor or any other 'civil officer' who is liable to impeachment, and that under the definition of 'civil officer' means anyone holding a public office, except those in the army and navy, above the rank of mere employes or clerks, any officer who is liable to impeachment shall be charged with any offense against the laws of this Commonwealth, which would involve the misdemeanor in office, the House of Representatives shall have exclusive jurisdiction to investigate. There are now, so I am told, bills to be presented to the Grand Juries involving misconduct of councilmen, school directors, election officers in many counties of this Commonwealth but this Act of Assembly, says the House of Representatives has exclusixe jurisdiction to investigate except as hereinafter provided. It doesn't give any provisos. It starts in the second section, and says under a certain case before the Court of Quarter Sessions has the power of ordinary investigation by the Grand Jury, to submit any bill to the Grand Jury, or permit it to be submitted to the Grand Jury he must notify the Governor, etc. because the House of Representatives has exclusive jurisdiction. In my opinion this act is unconstitutional, and will throw the administration of justice in many courts of this Commonwealth at the present time into confusion and until it is construed by the Superior Court might involve every court in this Commonwealth. It will throw these courts, I say, into great confusion. Why an act so poorly drawn, so confusing, may be permitted to pass this Senate is beyond me.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I take it that the discussion of this bill will involve all the rest of this group of bills which is the subject matter of this controversy, and because of that I don't hesitate to take the floor and express my opinion on the bill, and some of the things that have been said. I wouldn't have made any statement on the bill, were it not for the fact that some of the previous speakers, the first and last speakers, have thrown into the situation a condition which doesn't exist. The picture that is painted by the speakers so far is that the House of Representatives, that the passing of this act rather, will make it impossible for justice to be administered, in cases involving constables, school directors, and road supervisors, and that the passage of this law will violate the constitutional provisions against the grand jury. If any one of the previous speakers can point out to me in the Constitution where the grand juries are mentioned and where they are made a constitutional body, I shall be glad to acknowledge that I know nothing about the subject, and will govern myself accordingly. I have looked through the Constitution, through the index, I have read every section of it, over and over again to make sure, and there isn't the slightest word in the Constitution, concerning Grand Juries.

The gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, has said that Section 4, of Article VI, interferes with the administration of these acts and raises a barrier that we can't surmount. The Section reads in part "All officers shall hold their offices on the condition that they behave themselves well while in office, and shall be removed on conviction of misbehavior in office, or of any infamous crime." I call attention to the members of the Senate that before you read Section Four it might be well to read Section Three. "The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office, but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth; the person accused whether convicted or acquitted, shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to the law." I call attention to the fact that this section reads he "shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, judgment" and not "investigation," indictment, trial and judgment. The Senator from Somerset has said that under the decision interpretating what a civil officer is, then every officer including the road supervisor will be subject to this act. Well, I am afraid if that is a proper criticism of the act it is also a proper criticism of the Constitution because if the civil officers ae liable to impeachment and the House of Representatives under Section 1 shall have the sole power of impeachment, then the same objection still exists to the condition and the same interference might exist in the administration of criminal law, because there is nothing in this Constitution which prohibits, and on the contrary the Constitution provides, that the General Assembly shall impeach those people if the interpretation put by the Senators from Fayette and Somerset is correct. However, I read the second portion of Section 3 because that helps me to point out what appeared to be a misconception or a misinterpretation of this situation.

Assuming that all that these gentlemen say is true there is still no interference with justice because there is nothing to stop any one of the various districts through their criminal courts from arresting and indicting any supervisor or any member of a school board and assuming that they are correct, there is nothing even under this bill which would prevent the board from being tried by their own district and investigated by a grand jury because the act provides that there can be no grand jury investigation by any other tribunal if within 90 days after the charges have been brought to the attention of the Governor, he does not or he fails to call a session of the Legislature. Therefore if the Governor is notified that there are fourteen or fifteen school directors or road supervisors who have committed a crime, or are alleged to have committed a crime, and there is going to be a grand jury investigation, if the Governor doesn't act in ninety days, then of course these gentlemen in the various districts can proceed. There have been arguments advanced during the course of this week, some of which have been brought to my attention. People say "Well, that may sound alright but how about the Statute of Limitations?" And my answer to those gentlemen is repeated here, the Statute of Limitations gives the people the power if they believe that a crime has been committed, and honestly believe it as they should, the power to proceed to indict on a District Attorney's indictment. They can go before the grand jury with their witnesses and have the indictment found by the grand jury. If the Grand Jury, the so-called sacredness of the grand jury, is to be used to protect and to permit fishing expeditions for political purposes then I think this bill is a good bill.

I think that what the Supreme Court said in regard to the petition that had been presented to it for a grand jury investigation that as far as every one of these charges is concerned, it is admitted that beyond the conferences with the former Attorney General, the District Attorney of Dauphin County has made no independent investigation whatsoever as to their truth. There ought to be some protection for decent and honorable citizens from the kind of scandalous statements that have been promulgated in this procedure. I don't want to get involved in the calling of names or the description of attitudes but I make the statement merely for the purpose of making my point plain. We have been accused by the newspapers that we are preparing a 'whitewash.' The Governor of the Commonwealth has been charged with the commission of serious crime. The Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in that very proceeding said that as far as every one of these charges is concerned it is admitted that "beyond the conferences with the former District Attorney General, the District Attorney has made no investigation whatsoever as to their truth." In spite of that fact and in spite of the fact that the Supreme Court was able to get that knowledge the Dauphin County Court certified as it was required to do, (otherwise there would have been no investigation) that there is credible evidence to warrant the calling of a grand jury and I think that when that kind of a proceeding involves the officers of the State charged with the responsibility to see to it that the State functions shall not be interrupted, that something must be done to prevent a persistence in that scheme or arrangement, call it whatever you will.

We all know that a member of the Legislature during a Session cannot be arrested and that is class legislation if you may say so, but there is a definite reason for it. It would be very easy at this moment if someone found me walking into the chambers of this Hall knowing I intend to vote for all of these bills to arrest me on charges fictitious or otherwise and take me into the county jail and confine me for the hour or two that was necessary to enable the Senators to get off the steam that is usual in these proceedings and then return me afterward upon a copy of the charge. That would be very easy to do and unless we were immune from that kind of treatment there would be very little proper voting on legislation. It is also equally easy to present charges behind closed doors or make unsupported charges of this kind against a Governor or some other officer of the State, threaten them with those charges and intimidate them to the extent that they might concede and make concession for the purpose of avoiding having their names in the newspapers.

And so it is important to know that those conditions which exist, which we are discussing today were known to the framers of the Constitution and they must have known what they were doing when they said that there shall be impeachment in a case in which fiscal or civil officers are concerned and in order to protect the Commonwealth provided that irrespective of whether a conviction is obtained in the House of Representatives, nothing shall prevent the criminal authorities from proceeding with the investigation. Many people have been scared away from these bills by the charge that they will interfere with the criminal law and I say that if the gentlemen have evidence, which is required according to the decision of the Supreme Court to support a petition, that they don't need an investigation. They can issue their warrant of arrest. There is nothing in any one of these acts that prevents any county, any district attorney in any county, from proceeding to inaugurate criminal proceeding and allow the arm of the criminal law to function. The whole trouble and the difficulty is, and I would like to reverse the situation and say that if there is all of this evidence against the Governor, then I can see no reason why everybody on both sides of the house should not vote for the investigation by the House of Representatives, the investigation which is suggested here. Because everyone knows that the Democratic party would commit political suicide by the passage of these bills if they did not give the District Attorney or any one else who has made charges the opportunity to come before the House and present them and I say that if they do that and present them, then the object has been obtained. The desire to maintain decency and honesty in office will be obtained because everyone of the members of this Senate by voting for these bills commit themselves to the proposition, and I commit myself now publicly to the proposition, whether it be the Governor or any lower officer, if there is developed in these hearings testimony which proves that any officer, any civil officer mentioned or not mentioned in the proceedings has been guilty of crime, I shall vote for his impeachment and I don't care what the rest of the members do about it. That is one of the reasons why I am in favor of these bills, because we don't want to wait and allow a Governor to function as a Governor, to perform the functions that he does, to decide that Mr. X shall not be pardoned for a crime, decide that certain money shall be expended, to perform functions which involve the life and liberty and safety of our citizens if he is the kind of a Governor or the kind of an official that the people who made these charges say he is. I say that every memebr of this Senate, certainly the Democratic members of the Senate are in duty bound to back the Governor and the rest of the officers as long as we believe, and I believe, that they are sincere in the proposition that they don't want these proceedings to be held behind closed doors of a grand jury, with nobody to know what the facts are until after January 1, and during that period of time the Governor will be acting as Governor.

I want to say that I don't know, I have been an assistant district attorney myself and I have practiced law for twenty-five or twenty-six years, I don't know of any district attorney who ever lost a case before a grand jury and I haven't the slightest doubt that if this District Attorney goes before any grand jury they will have enough influence and fluency of words to say to them, "after all, all we have to do is make a prima-facie case and bring in that indictment." I don't know what is to stop anybody from preventing the grand jury from having hearings in October or November and making it impossible to have a trial of these who are charged until after their term of office has expired. And I for one am not in favor of allowing that to continue.

I want to finish by making this statement, which I repeat, that there is no member in this room who can point to any provision in the Constitution which says "That the grand jury can investigate," I go further and say that there is no mention of the grand jury and I call attention to the fact that even if all that has been said is true we are not dealing with indictment or trial or hearing or presentment of evidence to the grand jury. What we are saying here is that there shall be no investigation by a grand jury of charges behind closed doors when it involves the officers of this State. We are only repeating what the Supreme Court has said and I have heard a great deal about the sanctity of the court and if there is any sanctity in the court there must be some attention paid to their word. The Supreme Court in this petition said, "We have no disposition to minimize or enlarge the rule of Hartranft's appeal nor to enter into that field of conflict on the judicial act which unlawfully disturbs the conduct of government. This should never be done."

If you read this opinion you will see that it specifically states that the Governor of the Commonwealth cannot be investigated by the Grand Jury. I say that the members of the Senate need have no hesitancy or fear on their part that we by these bills are in any way interfering with the criminal function of the Criminal Court. The Supreme Court says, "You can't proceed on this petition because you have no evidence." Now they contend that they have the evidence, and I say that the Governor has suggested, and I suggest in all decency if these men have the evidence which I understand is permitting the newspapers to print the charges which they have, then in fairness and decency and in the interest of good government a warrant should have been issued long ago.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, there may be considerable impulse for a demonstration on the other side of the rail but within the railing where we are dealing with very fundamental principles I trust we can keep our heads and be cool. The gentleman from Philadelphia has challenged members of this Senate to point to him in the Constitution where anything is said about grand juries. In Section 9 of Article I, in the Declaration of Rights preceeding our Constitution, I shall read it in full. "In all criminal prosecutions the accused hath a right to be heard by himself and his counsel, to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him, to meet the witnesses face to face, to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and, in prosecutions by indictment or information"—I want to emphasize and want the gentleman from Philadelphia to note the use of the word "indictment" in that Section. Then in Section 10 of the Declarations of Rights we have this expression, "No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information," and there follows an exception then under the very article that the gentleman spoke of concerning impeachment and removal.

Article VI, Section 3, "The Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office, but judgment in such cases shall not extend further than to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of trust or profit under this Commonwealth; the person accused, whether convicted or acquited, shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment according to law." Now we are to assume, at least, that the framers of the Constitution were intelligent men and what did they have in mind when they used the word indictment and indictable offenses? Mr. President, there is no agency under jurisprudence that returns indictment. Nobody, no agency under our form of Government that the expression "indictable offenses" is used in connection with except grand juries. Grand juries or bodies acting in similar capacity are the ones that return indictment against individuals. It is only to grand juries that we must look to for offenses that are indictable because the word "indictment" is cognate to grand juries and nothing else, and surely since these words were used by the framers of the Constitution, did they or did they not contemplate the grand jury as part of the government for which they were writing the Constitution? Surely we can arrive at no other conclusion but that when they used those expressions, those words, that they did contemplate a grand jury in their form of government.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette might also have referred to Section 6, of the Bill of Rights, which says that trial by jury shall be as heretofore: "Trial by jury shall be as heretofore, and the right thereof remain inviolate." A jury in a criminal case, of course is preceded by the indictment after the investigation by the grand jury. If it is desirable to proceed by investigation to discover whether impeachment shall be made by the House of Representatives, we have plenty of laws constitutional for such a proceeding without any additional act. The Bill which we have before us is one of this series of bills introduced into this Legislature for the purpose of stopping the grand jury investigation of the charges of malfeasance in office brought against the Governor and other members of this official family.

In his address at the opening of the Session, the Governor asserted that the charges made were simply part of a plot of the Republicans to discredit his administration and that the action of the courts in permitting a grand jury investigation was in violation of the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

In view of the attitude of the Governor,—the head of the Democratic party in the state—it of course, becomes unpleasant for the Democratic members of this Senate to differ from him—as to the justness of the legislation which he has demanded, and any member of the Republican party which seeks to oppose these bills is branded as an unfair partisan.

We have been chosen, however, as members of this body, to do our duty to the Commonwealth, first; and I think we should attempt to study these bills in that light.

I can readily understand that the Governor would be justly indignant against anyone who, he thinks, is charging himself or his friends of wrong-doing without proper warrant; but that his anger should carry him so far as to denounce the courts for merely hearing the complaint is surprising, to say the least.

I am in no manner familiar with the evidence which may be furnished to sustain the charges made. It may be that the evidence is wholly insufficient to convict. It is also true that these charges were made during a heated campaign by rival candidates for office.

Nevertheless, made in the form they were and by Democratic officials who were in a position to know the truth or falsity of the same, they could not be ignored. When they were brought to the attention of the Governor he did not then call the Legislature into Special Session. He was satisfied to have a grand jury investigation provided that investigation would be in charge of his own Attorney General. He at that time apparently conceded the legality of the investigation if only he might control it.

When we consider the fact that the charges were made by the former Attorney General who had been the intimate associate and adviser of the Governor for over three years, and who would be most likely to know what was going on under the cover of administrative procedure, it seems absurd to say that this is a Republican plot. When we know the Democratic United States Senator strongly indicated the need for investigation and other Democratic leaders took the same position, the people will not look with favor upon any attempt to brush aside these charges of corruption by saying they are merely Republican propaganda.

Suppose there is no truth whatever in the allegations of wrong-doing upon the part of officials charged therewith. Why not let the investigation proceed in the usual and proper manner? Why the necessity for all this legislation in what everyone will believe is an attempt to shield persons who are guilty?

The public believes this session has been called purely to whitewash the guilty. The passage of these acts will confirm that suspicion in the minds of the people. And if these men who are charged are innocent they have nothing to fear from any investigation. To try to change the rules of a case after it has started looks bad. If the accused are not guilty, why run? "It is the wicked who flee when no man pursueth."

We all know it is very difficult to convict one who is guilty as every presumption is in his favor. The Senator from Philadelphia has said that the District Attorney has secured an indictment in every case. We all know that there are many bills in every court, that have been thrown out, ignored by the Grand Jury. The grand jury does not convict, it may merely indict or point out one for trial. Then, before the accused is brought to trial or is required to make a defense, he is given full knowledge of all charges against him. He must be confronted face to face by his accusers, he may cross-examine them in every respect necessary for his defense and before he can be convicted, his guilt must be proven beyond all reasonable doubt.

Now, this grand jury institution, as pointed out by the Senator from Washington, is a very ancient institution which goes back to the time of Edward III of England, or perhaps the reign of Henry II, or possibly even to Anglo-Saxon times. The oath taken by the grand jurors, which was given in part by the Senator from Washington, has been little changed for centuries. It is

"You shall diligently inquire and true presentments make of all such matters, articles and things as shall be given to you in charge, as of all other matters and things as shall come to your knowledge in the present service: That the Commonwealth's counsel, your fellows,' and your own you will keep secret. That you will present no one from any hatred or malice, neither will you leave anyone unpresented for fear, favor, affection, hope of reward or gain, but will present all things truly, as they come to your knowledge, according to the best of your understanding."

In McNairs petition (324 Pa. p. 48), a case which was cited by the Governor in the articles which he had published in papers, it is said by the Supreme Court:

"The ordinary conception of the duties of a grand jury was to guard the rights and liberties of the people; it was so understood at its inception. Because of the method by which its deliberations are conducted and the secrecy surrounding them, it is a particularly suitable body to investigate misconduct of public officials and public evils."

"Where it is made to appear to a court * * * that there exists a system of crime among public officers, or criminal conspiracies respecting public business, safety or health, or other criminal acts affecting these functions of a widespread nature, jeopardizing or demoralizing public security or health, the judge may properly order such investigation."

It is a well known fact that election frauds, wide spread terrorism by racketeers, conspiracies among public officials and the like cannot be broken up by open investigations where witnesses are intimitated and their lives are in danger. The grand jury system has come down to us because it has stood the test of the ages. This system protects the individual but it also protects the public and this is of the greater importance.

The Governor accuses the courts of trying to usurp unconstitutional power and encroach on the prerogatives of the legislative and executive branches of the government.

Laying aside all political arguments, we all know that is pure nonsense. What kind of government would we have if the executive branch would be immune from all liability to account through the courts for its wrong-doing? We would be in the same position as Germany, where Hitler passed a law making legal his previous summary execution of hundreds of his opponents; we would be in the same position as Russia and other countries, where the will of the executive is the law.

The Governor in his message called attention to acts of the courts in the historic instances of the "bloody assizes" of Jeffries of England and the Star Chamber proceedings. But, those were cases where the courts acted under the domination of the King. Where the courts have been uncontrolled by the executive power they have protected and preserved the rights of the people and we can only look with dismay to the time when they may be rendered powerless so to act. If the Governor has his way to subordinate the courts to the executive arm of government, then, is our system of checks and balances gone—then indeed is our Constitution destroyed.

The Republicans are not interested in this case as such, but only as citizens of this great Commonwealth. The Republican Senators are not interested as Republicans, but only as members of this body, whose duty it is to do what is best for our state.

We feel that the Democrats should take the initiative in clearing up this situation. And I am glad that Democratic Senators have taken the lead in pointing out the Unconstitutional features of this Act.

When, during a Republican administration here, charges of graft were made in the building of this Capitol, the leaders promptly brought to justice those who were guilty. When, in a Republican Federal administration, scandals arose concerning western oil lands, the guilty men, though high in office, did not escape.

It was not very pleasant for the administration leaders in those cases to send to prison their associates, but, justice and the welfare of the country as well as of their own party required the drastic steps taken, and eminent lawyers of the opposite political party were selected to lead the fight for clean government so that no charge might be made that the attempt to prosecute was not in good faith.

Even though the Governor may be entirely without fault, I won't charge him with being guilty of any crime, he should remember that in this country the theory that the King can do no wrong does not prevail, and he should submit himself to the ordinary procedure of the law, just the same as any other citizen. If he protects himself and his associates by this unorthodox method of passing retroactive legislation, all those charged may escape conviction even though some of them may possibly be guilty, but all will be considered guilty in popular opinion, even those who in fact are innocent.

Therefore, better delay legislation. Let the courts act. Give them every opportunity to clear up in a satisfactory manner these allegations of corruption—made by the Democratic Attorney General, made by the Democratic United States Senator, made by numerous other prominent Democrats all over the State. Then you will show that you are sincere. Then and only then will you escape the charge that this session has been called to permit the guilty to escape their just deserts.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to call attention to the fact that the section referred to by the gentleman from Somerset in regard to trial by jury does not refer to the matter of crime investigation. That section only refers to the petit jury. I have that statement on the authority of many distinguished attorneys, both on the floor and off, and both Democratic and Republican. Certainly many of the latter have no prejudice in either of the present bills. I want to say further that it seems strange to me if the purpose of our colleagues on the right is solely to keep this legislation within the Constitution, that there has been no attempt made on their part to introduce amendments to these bills, which might put them in better shape to suit them. If they think the public are not satisfied why have they not proposed amendments? If would appear more as if the purpose here has been to delay action because the position taken has been uniformly against not only the two bills which would suspend the action of the Grand Jury pending the Legislative Investigation, but also against the other two bills—one of which affects only the matter of the relative powers of the District Attorney and the Attorney General, the other of which has only to do with procedure in legislative investigation.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, despite the newspaper barrage—despite the telegram lobby barrage—, I intend to vote for the four bills that are uppermost in our minds in this morning hour.

But I would vote against every one of these bills if I had any reasonable grounds for belief that the Dauphin County grand jury would act speedily and not prolong its investigation behind closed doors.

Early in the primary campaign, Charles J. Margiotti began making serious charges against high State officials. Soon many newspapers that are now abusing this administration, began to call upon him forthwith to prosecute if he had any evidence of wrong doing on the part of these officials. Throughout the passing days and weeks, his charges became stronger and they finally included the Governor of the Commonwealth. In the meantime, these newspapers and hundreds of citizens of the Commonwealth kept insisting that he prosecute if he had any evidence. But he did not prosecute.

After the primaries, Mr. Margiotti consulted with the district attorney of Dauphin County and the machinery for a grand jury investigation was set up. The Governor publicly called upon both Mr. Margiotti and the district attorney to prosecute if they had any evidence. This, all of these Senators well know. But no prosecution has been started notwithstanding the repeated calls of the Governor of the Commonwealth. This does not look good to me.

I am afraid that the district attorney intends to prolong the grand jury investigation until after the election. I am afraid that the district attorney, with Mr. Margiotti as his mentor, is willing for political purposes, to ruin the reputation of the Governor without giving the Governor an opportunity to defend himself until after the election.

The Governor of this Commonwealth is entitled to much better treatment than all this comes to. He is not only the Governor of the second greatest State in the Union but also a candidate for the high office of United States Senator. But he is much more than this. He bears on his body the scars that he received in defense of his country in her critical hour. He has the highest distinction that our government gives her sons for valor in her defense.

In the same war in which the Governor showed his valor, my youngest brother laid down his bright young life on the altar of his country and felt upon his noble brow the breath of the eternal morning. If I were to vote against these bills, under the circumstances, and thus help make it possible for a district attorney, animated by political rancor, to ruin the Governor, my dead brother's comrade, without giving him a chance to defend himself until after the election, I fear that my brother's spirit would whisper reproaches to me from the heavens until the hour of my death.

If it shall turn out that the Governor and the other high officials actually have been guilty of crimes, I shall be the first to urge that they be punished to the extent of the law. I will not attempt to whitewash any person. But I will not be a party in an attempt to ruin them with no chance on their part to defend themselves until after election.

Keep in mind that these bills will not prevent the district attorney from starting prosecution tomorrow if he believes he has evidence justifying prosecution. He can arrest the Governor and the other officials any day, any hour, he chooses if he thinks he has evidence justifying such action. He can not only start the prosecution. He can carry it through unhindered by these bills. All these officials—the Governor and the others—, if found guilty in the criminal courts, can be sentenced unhindered by these bills and serve their sentence unhindered by these bills.

When I was running for the office I now hold, I promised the people of my district that, if elected, I would bring my conscience with me to the Pennsylvania Senate, hold on to it while here, and then take it back with me to good old Armstrong and Butler Counties when my term is over. My conscience, I repeat, will not permit me to vote against these bills—it will not permit me to join in the attempt to ruin the Governor of a great commonwealth without giving him a chance to defend himself until after election day.

It is silly to say that these bills "wreck the grand jury system." They simply tend to prevent its being used for political purposes. And what good citizen wants the grand jury used for political purposes?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I do not wish to delay the debate on this bill. The Senator from Somerset has made a plea for the conducting of the investigation in the usual and proper manner and has referred to the only precedent that we have in this State for a situation such as this, namely the Capitol Graft Scandal of a generation ago. The Capitol Graft Scandal was thrown wide open by a speech of former State Treasurer Berry that was made in the county seat of Centre,—my home county. And when the State Treasurer made that speech, he told in that speech exactly who the parties were, who were involved, how much was involved, what misdemeanors were involved and with certainty and accuracy and without hesitation exactly what that scandal consisted of.

Now, when the Senator refers to the usual situation with respect to investigations, let us compare the difference between Berry's attacks on the Capitol Graft Scandal and what the Supreme Court itself said about the charges brought by District Attorney Shelley. In its opinion, the Supreme Court states as follows: "Generally speaking, and this observation applies to each and everyone of the charges made in the petition, they are vague, uncertain, indefinite and, as we have stated above, an investigation based thereon, if permitted to be carried through, tends to hinder the State Government and cripple its functioning."

The Capitol Graft Scandal, after the facts were disclosed and laid before the public in their entirety, was handled by a Legislative investigation. Now if the gentleman from Somerset feels that we should handle the matter as it was handled in the Capitol Graft Scandal, why does he object to a Legislative Investigation now? Why is there any objection to any investigation of this kind? Certainly unless the situation is tinctured all through with a political complexion, what objection can the members of the other side of the House have against a legislative investigation? There is only one reason that I can possibly see, and let us analyze a little the political complexion.

In Dauphin County they have a District Attorney and three assistant district attorneys, but who must be hired especially to conduct this investigation but the attorney for the Republican organization? They have a County Detective and a whole force of assistants and probation officers in Dauphin County, but who must be hired to do the investigating but the number one gum-shoe artist of the Republican State Committee?

Not only that, we learn in the last few days about the very rooms in which this grand jury is to sit, that the District Attorney who is to conduct the investigation is a part owner of that building, in spite of the fact that Dauphin County has a Court House where a grand jury investigation could be held.

Now, why should we attempt under any circumstances to pretend anything else than this whole investigation has been from the start and will be, if conducted without any let or hindrance or without any attempt to bring the whole matter before the public, nothing but a system of political blackmail, calculated to influence the general election and not for any reason at all will it be a matter of bringing to justice any people before the judgment of this state,—any civil officer. It is foolish and technical to try to read from the Constitution any constitutional provision regulating the grand jury.

To quote again, as the Senator from Somerset quoted, in Article I, Section 6 of the Constitution, "Trial by Jury shall be as heretofore." In other words what the framers of the Constitution protected was the rights of the defendant.

The Senator from Somerset says that we are trying to cloak this investigation with confusion. What can be more of a confusion than to have a politically minded District Attorney who takes the minions of the Republican State Committee and puts them on a payroll which is costing this state today $2000 a week to pay for these Republican agents? What could be more confusing in the minds of the public than a situation of that kind? Nothing could be more confusing.

We ask in this investigation only one purpose,—to bring this whole matter before the light of public scrutiny and that is exactly what the agents of the Republican State Committee and the members on the other side of this House do not want. They do not want any public scrutiny of any of this situation until after the general election in November.

Mr. President, it is the only stock in trade that they have by which to influence this November election. They know as we all know that the administration of George H. Earle has given the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, fiscally and administratively, one of the best administrations in the history of the Commonwealth. They cannot go out and successfully attack this administration or its administrative record. And, Mr. President, if this is the only thing, the only attack that they can make on it in the eyes of the public, why do they shun and why do they fight against the public investigation in this situation? What is it that should be so dangerous about publicity in this situation? Why shouldn't we have it open in the Halls of this House, in the Halls of the Legislature, where everybody can get a seat and every newspaper man in the State of Pennsylvania can hear just what the situation is? Why do they struggle so hard to keep the whole thing behind the closed doors of the grand jury room? There certainly cannot be a bona fide reason for a situation of that kind.

I do not want to repeat what has already been said so ably and so professionally and so intelligently, but, Mr. President, there is not a thing in the Constitution of Pennsylvania that says the grand jury is any necessary adjunct to the administration of justice in this State and it is no more than a couple of years ago that the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of this State stood before the Crime Conference and recommended the complete abolition of the grand jury system in Pennsylvania, or words and recommendations substantially to that effect. And year after year we wrestle with the same recommendations at the Bar Association conventions,—the revision or abolition of the Grand Jury system. We all heard it preached to us in law school,—that it is an antiquated institution of government and one that does not serve the arms of justice any more. Perhaps back in the reign of King Henry, II, of England, that the Senator from Somerset refers to, and after all that is approximately nine hundred years ago now, maybe there was some justification for it, but the current of professional and judicial and legal opinion seems to be that there is not today.

We appeal that we want to accomplish but one thing in this investigation and that, Mr. President, is to lay the cards on the table. There may be some cards that we turn up that are not included in Mr. Shelley's petition. If they are black cards, they ought to be turned up whether in his petition or not and it does not make any difference who they hit or who they hurt if the cards are black. That is the purpose of the Democratic Party, Mr. President, in asking for a legislative investigation. The sole purpose,—to bring this whole situation out in the open and we do not intend to hide this or the defendants behind a technical situation which is unsupportable. We want that and we want it clearly known to every person in this State and it is certain we are not going to allow this thing to be conducted, an investigation to be conducted, by the Republican State Committee. Nothing could be more unfair to the people of this Commonwealth and nothing could be more unfair to the State Administration.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I intend to vote for these bills, but I resent very much the statements made by the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, pertaining to Mr. Margiotti. I know that some of his remarks are not true and I move, Mr. President, that the remarks made by the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, be stricken off the record.

Mr. PRESIDENT. The motion is not in order. It is part of the debate. You have a right to rise to a question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not intend to say anything about this bill, but I cannot sit here and let these remarks go unchallenged. My friend, the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, stated that we object to a legislative investigation. Let me make it clear right here and now that without any legislation they have ample authority to investigate and have investigated from time immemorial. But we do object and every right thinking citizen must object, I think, when confronted with the provision of an investigation by the Legislature. They say the Courts of this State shall not function as normally, that there shall not be any investigation by a court.

I submit, Mr. President, and members of this Senate, this is a serious matter. It is no time for an inflammatory political speech, and I do not intend to touch upon politics, but I do intend to point out that this act provides that when an officer is charged with a misdemeanor, nobody can investigate until the Legislature investigates. In other words, this act makes a different provision for officers who committed a crime, than any other citizen, and provides that nobody can look into it. A county detective cannot investigate a crime if information comes to him there has been embezzlement of school funds, or borough funds, there can be no investigation for ninety days, unless the Governor calls the Legislature. Now, it is merely throwing dust in our faces, to stand up here and say that we are objecting to a Legislative investigation because a Legislative investigation can proceed. The Legislature is in session at this time, it is a time honored prerogative of the House, and we are not objecting to it, and let's make that clear here and now.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I cannot allow such confusing remarks of the Senator from Tioga, to go unchallenged without a brief reply. Perhaps, the Senator from Tioga had better familiarize himself with Article I, Section 10, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. This Section reads as follows: "No person, shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, excepting cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office." In those cases, Mr. President, which are the kind of cases covered by the situation all the District Attorney of Dauphin County has to do is to draw up the information and go to the court and ask for a warrant. All he has to do is to sign it himself, just has to put it before the grand jury or anybody else. In five minutes he can arrest the guilty party. Why should we have months of delay in matters of this kind, when all he has got to do is to walk up to a court with the information, provided in Section 10, of Article I of the Constitution of this State? The second procedure only applies outside of the military and naval forces and for officers who are guilty of misconduct to be proceeded against in this manner. This section is intended to cover offenses by civil officers. The District Attorney can proceed thereunder, and give a warrant for all of these people. He has been challenged for three months to do that, and doesn't have the nerve to come out in the open, and I would say to you, Mr. President, that the remarks of the Senator from Tioga are confusing, when they attempt to explain away the opposition on the other side of the House to bring this matter before the eye of public scrutiny.

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, I hesitate to arise at this time and talk on this bill, but I feel that it is my duty to do so. I feel that the statements made, that the passage of this bill will interfere with and stop the orderly procedure of the court cannot go unchallenged.

A careful reading of the bill will indicate that the only thing that is made unlawful is the right of a quarter session court to order an investigation: There are various ways of proceeding before this body known as the grand jury. I think that is where the confusion arises in analyzing the bill. The time honored and accepted way of proceeding before a grand jury is first to issue a warrant, cause arrest have a hearing before a magistrate and have an indictment drawn by the district attorney and presented to the grand jury, in which case, mark you gentlemen, the individual charged has a right to a hearing before a magistrate, has a right under the Constitution, to have witnesses face him, has a right to hear all of the charges, and if you please, at the hearing before the magistrate, and has a right to offer testimony in his own defense. That is the ordinary way as we all know of a proceeding involving grand jury and indictment returned by grand jury. There are some extraordinary methods of getting indictments before a grand jury. Two that I know of, one of which is the District Attorney's bill which he frames himself upon information and with the leave of the court presents it to the grand jury; and the other is the extraordinary remedy of a grand jury investigation ordered by the court of quarter sessions.

In all of these cases I have ever read on this subject, every judge and every lawyer has stressed the limits, and extraordinary remedies should be rarely used, simply because, gentlemen, they are subversive of the fundamental principles of the Constitution as set forth in the Declaration of Rights, namely; the right to be heard in your own defense, the right to be faced by your accusers.

These are the fundamental principles of the Bill of Rights which are declared, which we are talking about. Let's clear up some things about the Constitution.

The Declaration of Rights in the Constitution of this great Commonwealth expresses the spirit and purpose of this Constitution which we are trying to interpret. It says at the very outset, "that the general, great and the essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and unalterably established." And mark you well, ladies and gentlemen, that "All men are born equally free and independent, and have certain inherent and indefeasible rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty, of acquiring, possessing and protecting property and reputation, and of pursuing their own happiness," and then you have the provision of those accused of crime to be faced by the witnesses and so on and so forth.

All of these things, gentlemen, are rights declared in the Declaration of Rights, to be indefeasible and inherent in every man, and it is for that reason, that these other remedies, the grand jury investigations instituted by the court have been called extra-ordinary remedies.

The crux of the whole situation is the fact that the grand jury investigation now in progress whether based upon grounds which are false or true cannot be heard until after the November election. In the meantime, gentlemen, men in high office, men holding the highest positions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, are under suspicion, with no means, no methods of preserving those rights, I have just read to you in the Declaration of Rights. This bill that is before us for passage does not in any way shape or form, and let this be clear gentlemen, if there is any doubt in anyone's mind, abolish the grand jury, does does not take away the powers of the grand jury, does not, if you please, take away this extraordinary power of a grand jury to institute investigations by order of the court, does not even take away that extraordinary power. This Act merely says in accordance with the Constitution that investigations of this kind, shall be within the exclusive jurisdiction of the House of Representatives, and this extraordinary remedy may investigate after the House has made its investigation, or in the event that no investigation is ordered or made by the House.

Now gentlemen, if these charges are true, is there any earthly reason why there should not be an investigation by the House of Representatives. Is there any earthly reason, why this district attorney, and everyone else who has any information should not produce it before the House, so that these men may know what these charges are, so that the public may know whether or not these charges are true or false. How can any Republican, how can any American citizen vote against a proposition such as this, which makes it possible to uphold a fundamental right of man, not technical right, but the fundamental right to reputation. Gentlemen, the issue seems clear to me, instead of destroying the Constitution, by passing this bill you are upholding the Constitution. An even more fundamental constitutional question arises of whether or not this grand jury investigation which means to investigate state officials is an invasion of the executive functions, as well as the legislative functions of our government. In my humble opinion it is. No grand jury of any county of this State, has a right under the Constitution to investigate officials that are state-wide officials. There is no grand jury in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that has the right, by order of a court to institute a grand jury investigation of the executive and legislative branches of the Government; and mark you, gentlemen, I am not talking politics. I am talking fundamental constitutional principles, I am talking rights of free men. As soon as you destroy, as soon as you fail to have a separation of power, you destroy the fundamentals of democracy itself. For that reason, gentlemen, and for these reasons, that are fundamental in my opinion, I intend to vote for these bills with a clear conscience, that I am upholding the Constitution of this great Commonwealth.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Barthold.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Barthold, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, section 10, of the Declaration of Rights to the Constitution, provides that "No person shall for indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, "et cetera," "or by the leave of a court for oppression or misdemeanor in office." If a man accused of oppression or misdemeanor in office cannot be proceeded against by information, will the gentleman from Northampton tell us how he may be proceeded against.

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, this answers itself, I think. Everyone knows that anyone charged with misdemeanor in office may be proceeded against by information, followed by arrest, followed by a hearing before a magistrate, followed by indictment before a grand jury.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does not this section prohibit any proceeding against a man by criminal information?

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, it does not. As I understand the section, the word 'information' in this section in Article I of the Constitution referred to the form of information, as well so well explained by Senator Ealy, I believe. That word 'information' refers to that ancient practice in England where the King, either the King himself or through his advisors proceeded against an individual without any affidavit of any kind. Simply went in and said, "this man committed a crime, therefore incarcerate him." That is what the word 'information' in that section of the Constitution means as far as I understand it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, is the gentleman reading the same section as I am, which says "No person shall for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces"—I repeat that "No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office."

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, if the Senator from Fayette will read the cases, interpreting the word 'information', I am sure he will understand it.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, then I take it that the gentleman from Northampton, contends under this section, that persons may be proceeded against for indictable offenses by criminal information for oppression or misdemeanor in office.

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, of course not. That isn't the meaning of that provision.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, well then if you cannot proceed against them by criminal information, how may we proceed?

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, perhaps I did not understand the Senator from Fayette, when he used the word information. I was using the word information, in the sense imparted in the decision, namely, the old English custom of proceeding by a King or his henchmen, in making a statement about an individual, and having him incarcerated. That is prohibited under our Constitution at the present, but that particular provision of the Constitution in my judgment does not prevent the arrest upon information sworn before an alderman, followed by a hearing before an alderman and grand jury and then indictment. It doesn't prohibit that in any sense of the word at all.

The PRESIDENT. Now that matter has been cleared up.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 22, (House Bill No. 2), entitled:

An Act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I just wish to say one word on this bill. There has been an amendment inserted in the Senate which takes out the right of the District Attorney to present evidence to this investigating committee of the House. If the sponsors of this bill are correct in that they want a full and free and open hearing, it is inconceivable that they would deny the right of the District Attorney of the County who may be particularly concerned from presenting that evidence. It also provides that the Attorney General shall be the prosecutor. That is a great chance for the Governor, when he can appoint his own prosecutor in the case.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 23, (House Bill No. 3), entitled:

An Act defining the relative powers of the Attorney General and of district attorneys in investigations or proceedings in the criminal courts authorizing the judges thereof to appoint subject to appeal to the Supreme Court special prosecutors in certain cases and providing for their compensation by the county

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, Section I of this Act reads as follows:

"In any investigation or proceeding whatsoever pending before any court of oyer and terminer and jail delivery or before any court of quarter sessions in any county of this Commonwealth the Attorney General of the Commonwealth may at any stage of the investigation or proceeding in his absolute discretion supersede and set aside the district attorney of the county."

This section spells the death knell of home rule in the office of District Attorney of this Commonwealth. Under the Constitution adopted after the Revolution, and up to 1850, all criminal proceedings conducted in the name of the Commonwealth were cared for and prosecuted by an Attorney General appointed by the Governor. For a discussion of the origin and development of this office, see "The Department of Justice," by Hon. Thomas A. Baldridge, Volume 34, Pennsylvania Bar Association Report 319.

"As the population of the Commonwealth grew and the commercial and social pursuits of the people became more complex, the duties of the Attorney General increased and became too onerous for one man to administer. To meet the situation it became the custom of the Attorney General, by virtue of his common law powers, to appoint as many deputies as seemed expedient by him in his common law power to appoint deputies."—See Vol. 4, Reeve's History of English Law, Chapter 25, Page 122.

"Under this arrangement the Attorney General was able to meet the demand of the citizens for a prompt and just adjudication of cases by appointing a deputy in each of the several counties of the Commonwealth. The office of the deputy situated in the county was soon looked upon as the only agency within the county to which the people might go with complaints and prosecutions in the name of the Commonwealth. This arrangement was in effect until 1850 when the legislature passed an Act providing that the qualified voters of the city and county of Philadelphia and of each and every county in the State, shall, at the general election on the second Tuesday of October next, and every three years thereafter, elect one person, learned in the law, who shall be called the District Attorney of said county." This is the Act of May 3, 1850, P. L. 655. This same act of Assembly after creating the office of District Attorney, further provided "The officers so elected shall sign all bills of indictment, and conduct in court all criminal or other prosecutions in the name of the Commonwealth, or when the State is a party, which arise in the county for which he is elected, and perform all the duties which now by law are to be performed by deputy attorney general."

"In a quo warranto proceeding instituted by the Attorney General in the case of Commonwealth against Commercial Bank, 28 P. A. 391, decided in the year 1854, Judge Lourie speaking of this act says "On the first demurrer the defendent raises the question whether the act of third May, 1850, relating to District Attorneys, does not take away the authority of the Attorney General to institute this proceeding. We do not think that it does; it was intended to vest in the District Attorneys an independent authority instead of the one dependent upon the Attorney General which his deputies had before. It does not deprive the Attorney General of the authority especially given him to institute this proceeding and possibly it has effected his authority no further than in taking from him his former power of appointment and in the authorities incident to that power." In the case of Commonwealth against McCombs 56 Pa. 436, Justice Strong said, "The office of District Attorney is not one of those offices which are usually denominated constitutional. Unlike that of sheriff or coroner it is not mentioned in the constitution and no provision is made therein for the election or appointment of such an officer. The office had no existance until it was created by the Legislature by force of the Act of Assembly of May 3, 1850. That act directs that such an officer should be chosen in each county to hold his office for a term of three years, and defined his duties to be substantially those which had before that time been performed by a Deputy Attorney General. Not having been mentioned by the Constitution the Legislature was left with unrestricted power to describe what the duties of the office would be, what the length of his tenure, what its emoluments, and how it should be filled. Having the power to create they have also the power to regulate and even destroy. Undoubtedly the Legislature may at any moment repeal the act of 1850 and abolish the office. They may provide a substitute for it. Constitutional officers are in some respect beyond Legislative control. In most cases their tenure and the mode of filling them is prescribed by the fundamental law."

After these cases, came the one of Gilroy against the Commonwealth, 105 Pa. 484 in which the Supreme Court said, "In other words, he who occupies the position formerly filled by the Deputy now takes the place of a principal whose powers are measured by those which previously belonged to the Deputy." From 1850 until 1874, the office of District Attorney existed under this act of Assembly. As set forth in the decision of the Commonwealth against McCombs, its existence was entirely at the discretion of the Legislature. It is significant to note that during this period the people had come to regard the office as one of great importance in the county. The only disturbing feature was that the Legislature might at any time abolish the office by repealing the Act of 1850. As the Legislature, had by virtue of the sovereign power conferred upon it by the people, separated the Attorney General from the duties and authorities formerly exercised by him through the Deputy in the county, so the people by virtue of the sovereign powers inherent in them removed the office of District Attorney from the reach of the Attorney General and the Legislature by providing in Article XIV, Section I of the Constitution, as follows: "County officers shall consist of sheriffs, coroners, prothonotaries, registers of wills, recorder of deeds, commissioners, treasurers, surveyors, auditors or controllers, clerks of the courts, district attorneys, and such others as may from time to time be established by law." By virtue of this provision of the Constitution the office is now a Constitutional one and cannot be abolished but the Legislature can control the incumbent. If he refuses or it be improper for him to act it may afford a remedy. In the case of Commonwealth against McHale, 97 Pa. 397, the Supreme Court said, "While the Legislature may not abolish the office it can control the officer, it can regulate the performance of his duties and punish him for misconduct as in the case of other officers, and where he neglects or refuses to act or where from circumstances of a given case it is improper and delicate, it is competent for the Legislature to afford a remedy. This is all that the Act of 1866 does and we think its provisions are not obnoxious to any constitutional provisions." In the case of Commonwealth against Havrilla 38 Pa. Sup. Ct. 292 and in the case of the Commonwealth against Irvin 110 Pa. Sup. Ct. 387, the Court says, "The Legislature may not abolish the office but it may regulate the method of its administration. Cases may arise where by reason of personal interest or relationship or other sufficient consideration it would be highly improper for the District Attorney to act. This has been taken notice of by the Legislature and provision made for conducting the prosecution in such cases. This does not violate any right of the District Attorney for impinge against any provision of the Constitution."

The omission to specify the powers and duties of the office in the Constitution by no means cloak the District Attorney with the common law powers and duties exercised by the Attorney General or his deputies. When once the people have created the office by the provisions of their Constitution, the offce becomes subject to the provisions of the same Constitution and the laws as enacted thereunder. This is true of all such offices, even the judicial ones. The common law powers and duties attaching to the office prior to the adoption of the Constitution are only exercised if the same are not inconsistent or if the same are necessary to carry out the will of the people as manifested in the structure of the Constitution.

Following this cannon of interpretation, the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth in Commonwealth against Lehman in 309 Pa. 486, speaking through Justice Linn, said "As the Constitution does not prescribe the duties of the District Attorney it has been held that the Legislature may regulate the performance of the duties of the office and provide for cases in which it would be improper for the elected officer to act." Here then is the frank pronouncement of the Supreme Court and Superior Courts of our Commonwealth to the effect that under the Constitution the Legislature alone is the one to regulate and define the powers and duties of the office of District Attorney. Its powers, duties and emoluments are entrusted to the Legislature for regulation and definition. Nowhere in the Constitution is the Judicial Department given power to interfere with the tenure of the office. The person elected enjoys it until a vacancy or displacement occurs under the provisions of the Constitution or the statutes passed thereunder. However and notwithstanding these clear and positive judicial decisions the Supreme Court of this Commonwealth in the case of Commonwealth ex rel. Reilley against Margiotti, 188 Atlantic Report 524, said as follows: "We conclude from the review of decided cases and historical and other authorities that the Attorney General of Pennsylvania is clothed with the powers and attributes which enveloped Attorneys General at common law, including the right to investigate criminal acts, to sign indictments, to appear before the grand jury and submit testimony, to appear in court and to try criminal cases on the Commonwealth's behalf. And in all these activities, to supersede and set aside the District Attorney when in the Attorney General's judgment such action may be necessary."

Thus by this monstrous decision the Supreme Court conferred upon the Attorney General the power to supersede and set aside a constitutional officer who is entitled to the tenure of his office until displaced therefrom by the provisions of the Constitution and the statutes enacted thereunder. The decision is a bold invasion by the Judiciary of the field of sovereign prerogatives withheld from them by the people. Just recently in the crisis that made necessary this present Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly, the Judiciary in the courts of Dauphin county denied to the Attorney General of this Commonwealth the very authority which the Supreme Court had by a previous breath conferred upon him. It was unlawful in the first instance for the Judiciary to invade forbidden ground. The admission of their guilt is made manifest by their denial, in the second instance. The decisions I have cited firmly shows that the office of District Attorney is a Constitutional one and cannot be abolished, set aside or superseded except as provided by the Constitution. Section I of the bill now before us confers upon the Attorney General the absolute discretion to abolish, set aside and supersede the tenure of the District Attorney in any county of the Commonwealth. The bill completely scuttles a constitutional office and tears away from the people another agency of home rule.

My oath of office to defend and obey the Constitution restrains any desperate inclinations on my part, and compels me to vote against its passage. The bill is unconstitutional and outrageous because it permits the Attorney General to displace the District Attorney in any case whatsoever, and not in cases where the District Attorney is under a disability to act, as the Judiciary indicated in the cases of Commonwealth against Lehman already cited by me.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the District Attorney is elected in each county to hold office for a period of four years. He represents the Commonwealth in the prosecution of criminal cases. He is a salaried officer—the maximum salary paid in Pennsylvania being $12,000 in Philadelphia County; the minimum salary being $500 in Fulton County, and fees in Elk County. The present system of this office works fairly well in counties commanding considerable revenue. In counties where the revenue is meager, the salary is small, and as a result, the office is only sought by attorneys desiring experience or those who have failed to make sufficient income in private practice. Consequently, the Commonwealth is frequently inadequately represented in the prosecution of important criminal cases. In many counties, political expediency hampers impartial prosecution.

I will give this to you as I have it: This is the recommendation:

"That the office of District Attorney as now constituted should be abolished; that the prosecuting authority should lie in the Department of Justice, and prosecuting attorneys should be assigned to judicial districts, and cases, by that Department."

This is an extract from an address made by the number one gum shoe man of the Republican State Committee and the present chief investigator for the District Attorney of Dauphin County, Major Lynn G. Adams.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 24, (House Bill No. 5), entitled:

An Act suspending retroactively as well as prospectively any other pending investigation legislative executive or judicial of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment which the House of Representatives undertakes to investigate and providing under what circumstances the suspended investigation may be resumed

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this bill suspends retroactively as well as prospectively any investigation pending the investigation by the Legislature. I want to make it clear again that the investigation by the Legislature can proceed without any legislation. The postponement of the Dauphin County grand jury probe of this present administration until a House Committee completes its investigation and the court after reviewing the testimony taken before that committee comes to the conclusion that the grand jury probe is still necessary, has some rather startling ramifications to which no one has called public attention.

This legislative investigation can be prolonged by the House committee until the first of December when the life of this body expires. It is not improbable that the investigation committee will then not have completed its task and that this administration will convene the new legislature in special session to start the Legislative investigation all over again. Such a move would again preclude a grand jury probe. Just when this legislative investigation will end neither the public nor those in the minority party can foretell, but mark you, in the meantime the statute of limitations continues to run and indictments for crimes more than two years old become absolutely worthless unless the decision of the Supreme Court is that the grand jury probe now pending is still necessary. The longer the grand jury probe is delayed the less there will be to probe. If crime has been committed, the longer the grand jury probe can be delayed the less the number of valid indictments which can be found.

Now I am not charging the Governor and those responsible for this legislation with being actuated by such a base motive. I don't know what the motive is. The Governor has demanded a thorough legislative investigation and I am taking him at his word. I doubt whether it ever entered the mind of the Governor's bill drafters and advisers that the statute of limitations entered into this picture.

For I find in these bills no safeguard that the running of the statute of limitations will be suspended during the time the hands of the grand jury are tied. And it is clear to anyone who gives the matter any thought whatever, that the inclusion of such a safeguard in these bills would be unconstitutional for the reason that it would not come within the provision of the Governor's proclamation, and probably also because it would be special legislation of the type prohibited by the Constitution. The enactment of this bill is bound to have the effect of freeing any person from prosecution for a crime if the two year period of limitation expires between August 8th and the time the grand jury is again permitted under these bills to resume its probe of this administration, and indictments are found. On the other hand if this is one of the motives behind these bills, then this administration stands indicted before the public with the basest kind of deception in not disclosing its ulterior purpose, and in resorting to this method of escape. The people of the Commonwealth will judge this for themselves.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is now necessary to make an answer to that kind of statement, particularly the charge of the gentleman from Tioga, doubting that the statute of limitations has been considered by the framers of this bill. I repeat, that the gentleman from Tioga has not paid attention to some of the things that have been said on both sides of the House. There is nothing that defies any constitutional provisions. Trial and indictment may be had, irrespective of anything the Legislature does. It is still the law, and any act that we pass to the contrary would certainly be a controvention of the Constitution. Now it is silly to stand up here and talk about a statute of limitations when we are investigating the very charges of the district attorney that date back far enough to make them invalid by virtue of the existing statute of limitations, going back to 1935, and I say to the gentleman from Tioga that he better tell the district attorney that unless he hurries up and gets an indictment in the ordinary way in which I or anybody else would be indicted, the statute of limitations will run, and he will be chargeable with it and nobody else. What I am trying to find out is whether or not they want to have the facts produced that warrant an indictment or whether they merely want to delay proceedings.

I also want to answer the gentleman's first statement that he is afraid we will try to pass the time, when the statute of limitations will run for how long I don't know, and I answer him by saying that we are here today to get this thing out in the open so that they won't be able to drag this past election day, and past the present term of office of the men who are charged. And I say that it is a crime and that it is a disgrace to the Commonwealth to have the newspaper headlines, which are carried all over the Nation, advertise the fact that a Governor of a great Commonwealth, and many other official officers of a great Commonwealth are charged with heinous offenses, with crimes that are in themselves grave criminal offenses, and it is a disgrace that nobody has done anything to get them out of office, if they are guilty of those criminal actions. I say that if Mr. Owlett, the gentleman from Tioga, wants to know what we will do I can suggest that the hearing will be open and that the District Attorney, Mr. Shelley, will be called to ask him to tell in public that which neither he nor anybody else has yet told, what the facts are concerning the charges which he made against the Governor of Pennsylvania and other officers. I wouldn't have said another word on this subject, but I don't think that we should permit these written prepared speeches which may be handed out to the newspapers, to go unchallenged in the statement that the statute of limitations will prevent anybody from being convicted and that we are here engaged in helping to get past the period of the statute of limitations. What I would like to say and have the newspapers quote (I am sure they won't but fortunately there are radios, and it can be told to the people) is this: That an opportunity is being offered to these gentlemen, who are all citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to engage in a decent, fair and honorable project, forgetting all politics.

A Republican and a former Democrat who was a former Republican have charged that grave offenses have been committed by high officials of a great state. The people read these charges all over the country. People think that Pennsylvania has become a place filled with criminals in high office. We are advertising our own state against its best interests, and the longer we continue to have these charges concealed behind closed doors, we are undermining, we are disgracing the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We are all citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I say that I want the newspapers to state that we ask these gentlemen to join us in the efforts to bring before the public as soon as possible the facts in connection with this case. I want to reiterate what Senator Barthold has said, that we are not going to permit a statement to be made that we are trying to upset ordinary procedure, but we are trying to invoke a procedure which will guarantee ordinary and decent rights, and protect the individual in his reputation, and not permit extraordinary proceedings to be used for purposes of besmirching the reputation of the Governor of this Commonwealth.

He is in the position that if these Senators here, the Democrats, had not sustained him in his request to permit him and the rest of the officers of the State to go before the public in the only way that is now open to them, and let these facts be brought out, he would have been in the position of having been compelled to resign his office. Decent man that he is, he could not have remained in office with these charges hanging over him, acting as Governor, if his own Senators had not backed him up. It is to the credit of every man who voted for these bills that they are giving to this man who has not yet been convicted, the same chance to go before the public as an ordinary man who is charged with stealing a loaf of bread. He would never have had the chance he is entitled to. He can never get before this grand jury, and from all I can gather it is their purpose not to permit him to get before this grand jury . If there be any dragging here, it will be done by the prosecution by the district attorney in dragging out these proceedings, while this investigation is going on if they have any opportunity to do so. If the gentleman from Tioga has any charges, I assure him that he will get an opportunity to prove them, and he needn't worry about the statute of limitations.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would just like to remind the Senator from Tioga, that if the district attorney would have listened two months ago to the Governor's request to make an arrest, he would have then effectively closed the statute of limitations in every respect, and if the district attorney or Mr. Owlett wants to hold the statute of limitations all he has to do is to make an arrest tomorrow or any time.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, at this very moment we have a committee we refer to as the Ruth Committee, investigating certain conduct on the part of the judiciary which also may involve misconduct in office. Will this action of the Senate also suspend the activity of that committee?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest that the Senator take a look at Senator Ruth, who is the Chairman of that committee, and I am sure he is not the type of individual who will permit his investigation to be suspended by this act. Now, as to the legal question, there is nothing in the act that will prevent his investigation. There is nothing in this act that prevents Major Lynn Adams from investigating any charges. There is nothing in this act that will prevent the district attorney from investigating any charges. There is nothing in this act to prevent the district attorney from taking his whole force of detectives and investigating the charges. There is something in this act to prevent the district attorney upon rumor and heresay from ruining the reputation of a great governor. That is what there is in this act.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, now that the crowd of asses have exuded their passions, and the echoes of the outbursts of the gentleman from Philadelphia are still in the hall, I may read the section of this act to the gentleman from Philadelphia, and he may then answer whether this act will suspend the Ruth Commission or not. Section 1, "Whenever the House of Representatives shall undertake the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment or any other investigation of the same charges theretofore instituted by or before any other officer, body or agency in this Commonwealth or any political subdivision thereof, whether such investigation be legislative, executive or judicial shall be suspended until the House of Representatives shall have completed its investigation."

Mr. PYTKO. Mr. President, it had not been my intention to join the debate on these bills. But in view of the fact that the gentleman from Fayette has inquired with regard to the effect of the passage of Bill Number 5 on the Ruth Commission, I would like to inform the gentleman from Fayette that the Ruth Commission has already completed its investigation and the report will be filed with the Assembly this coming week. This bill will have no effect on the continued investigation of the Ruth Commission by virtue of the fact that that investigation is completed, and the gentleman from Fayette need not worry that it will not be able to complete its work.

I want to state for the information of the gentleman from Fayette and the members of the Senate who have voted against these four bills, that the one wish I had in voting for every one of them was to prevent a partial investigation taking place where an impartial investigation should be had.

The gentleman from Germantown, Mr. Woodward, questioned me privately with regard to the apparently anomalous position I was in when I opposed public hearings on these bills. He wanted me to reconcile my position here with my stand on the Ruth Commission, in regard to public hearings.

We had twelve hundred witnesses who appeared complaining about our courts, twelve hundred witnesses charging that the courts have trampled on individual liberties and the rights guaranteed by the Constitution. We didn't want to see any judge, Republican or Democrat, pilloried. We wanted to ask these judges to explain what they had done. We didn't want them enveloped in a cloak of suspicion without giving them the opportunity of appearing before the Commission and defending what they had done.

The Governor leaned backward in recommending to the Ruth Commission that we select as our counsel a Republican, in order that our investigation should be impartial. I want to point out to you, gentlemen, that on our commission we had two Republican members, Senator Mallery from the Senate, and Representative Woodside from the House, and they were there to guard the interests of those who are placed in high position and are members of the Republican party.

With the Dauphin County investigation, you have a different situation. You have nothing but Republicans conducting the investigation, and do you think that we will believe you when you say that they who are admitted to have only a partisan spirit, are going to conduct an impartial investigation of our Administration? No, you will agree with me, if you are intelligent, if you are honest, that that isn't the case. You can't doubt the sincerity of the Governor that has been evident in every move that he has made, especially when he requested our commission to select a Republican counsel so that the possibility of a partisan investigation might be eliminated.

Gentlemen, I supported each and every one of these bills only to be consistent with the attitude that I assumed as a member of the Ruth Commission. When I tell you that the evidence that we have in the files of that commission will show that simply because a man referred to a judge sitting on the Philadelphia courts as the nether portion of a horse, that man languished a year in jail without a hearing, do you mean to tell me, gentlemen, that that is upholding the Constitution? Do you mean to tell me that that isn't a fit subject for an investigation? That our investigation should have been of a sort where the judge would have been given the opportunity to appear in public to justify what he had done? Before this session is completed, we will cite you many more instances.

I like to hold our judiciary in high esteem, when they are worthy of it. But they should not trample justice.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I hope you will take official notice of the fact that the last controversy was strictly between Democrats.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. LEWIS, OSTROFF and REUBEN E. COHEN

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 3.

In the House of Representatives, July 30, 1938.

Whereas, relief for the unemployed of Pennsylvania, both through direct and the works programs, has been recognized as a vital problem by the present administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, the General Assembly, in order to properly meet this problem has made certain appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance that those in need may not suffer from want of sustenance; and

Whereas, the successful carrying out of any program, particularly relating to the subject of relief, must need have the cooperation of the Executive and Legislative bodies of both the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions; and

Whereas, the American way of living still clings to the inherent belief that a job and not direct relief should provide the necessary requisites of life; and

Whereas, we are today faced with the problem of insufficiency of funds to carry out the relief program set up by the General Assembly in the session of 1937, and it is necessary in this Special Session that additional funds be found and appropriated in order that no citizen of the Commonwealth be permitted to suffer; and

Whereas, this most crucial condition has in some degree been effected through the deliberate lack of cooperation by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia, wherein there exists, due to its metropolitan character and the size of its population, a great need for both direct relief and work relief to even a greater degree than any other part of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, the Council of the City of Philadelphia has heartlessly ignored a condition brought about by its neglect whereby the direct relief load in the City of Philadelphia had to be increased out of proportion to that of any other section of the Commonwealth while the work relief program in the number of employed is out of all proportion to any other section of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, this imposes an unfair burden upon the Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that might otherwise be avoided were the Council of the City of Philadelphia to appropriate funds available as the city's contribution to the Works Progress Administration program whereby 39,812 unemployed families in Philadelphia could be removed from direct relief and be given employment that would supply their needs and at the same time be of a useful nature to the City of Philadelphia; and

Whereas, this condition has continued unabated for a considerable time despite the plea made by prominent citizens of all political faiths and leaders of both industry and labor in the City of Philadelphia and throughout the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, His Excellency, George H. Earle, the Governor of the Commonwealth, has time and again requested that the City Council of the City of Philadelphia assume its responsibilities in caring for its citizens where possible; and

Whereas, the cost of maintaining those on the direct relief rolls who would have been placed on works relief projects had the proper cooperation been extended by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia totaled $1,343,000 for the month of June, 1938, and from the beginning of the year to June, inclusive, the sum of $6,241,000; and

Whereas, it is the bounden duty of elected officers to set aside any regard for political expediencies when the lives and welfare of our citizens are concerned;

Be It Therefore Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania and the Senate of Pennsylvania in Special Session convened due now memorialize the Council of the City of Philadelphia to immediately appropriate available funds that the opportunity to work as supplied through Work Progress Administration projects may no longer be denied to the deserving people of Philadelphia; and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this joint resolution properly certified to by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be transmitted to His Honor, S. Davis Wilson, Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and to George Connell, President of the City Council of the City of Philadelphia.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. SHAW, returned from the Committee on Welfare with the recommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations, House Bill No. 11, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts, page forty-five), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven."

The SPEAKER. The bill is now re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 15, entitled:

An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued requiring the commission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly or to the Governor and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes and making an appropriation

The first section was read.

Section 1. There is hereby created a commission to consist of five competent members which shall be known as the Oil Industry Investigation Commission which shall exist and function as an agency of the General Assembly for the purpose of making a careful impartial and thorough investigation into the operation of the oil industry within the Commonwealth and to make a report of its findings and recommendations

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2.

An Act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General district attorneys other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend the title, page 1, line 4, by inserting after the word "impeachment" the words "authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation"; also same page, line 6, by striking out the words "district attorney" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "and"; amend Section 1, page 2, line 11, by inserting after the word "charges" the words "The Speaker of the House shall designate one of the members of the committee as chairman"; amend Section 4, page 3, by striking out in lines 7 and 8 the words "and the district attorney of any county by himself or his assistant"; amend Section 7, page 5, line 6, by striking out the words "discharged in due course" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "he or she has purged himself or herself of the contempt or has been otherwise discharged by the House of Representatives"; also same page by striking out all of lines 12 to 20 inclusive as follows: "If any such person so committed to a State penitentiary shall persist in his refusal to swear or affirm or being sworn or affirmed shall still on being brought before the House of Representatives from the penitentiary refuse to testify the House of Representatives may make a further order for the detention of such delinquent in said penitentiary until the next succeeding General Assembly shall have met and until the House of Representatives shall make an order for his further detention or discharge as to it shall seem expedient"; amend Section 11, page 6, line 10, by striking out after the figures "11" the words "The resolution which became effective the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred forty-two (Pamphlet Laws four hundred ninety-one) entitled 'Resolution relative to witnesses before either branch of the Legislature' is hereby repealed so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "All acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith are hereby repealed."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House: I realize that the hour is early or late, as you want to take it, and I know we are all anxious to go home and I, therefore, would hesitate to inject any debate at this time were it not for the fact that I believe that the matter I am going to bring to your attention is extremely important.

Under Section 4 of this Act, on page 3, the bill as it left the House, provides that the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, by himself or his deputy, and the district attorney of any county by himself or his assistant, may appear before the committee to present evidence. The Senate amendment leaves the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, by himself or his deputy to appear before the committee and present evidence. With that I have no quarrel. It is perfectly proper that the Attorney General, in his capacity, and under the decisions, as to his duties, should have the right to appear before the committee and present evidence, but my objection to the bill as it now stands is in the fact that it has removed the opportunity of the district attorney of any county to appear and present evidence. I understood that it was the desire, from the great number of expressions made by the gentleman from York during this past week, that, in the instant case, we have a full, free, open investigation of the charges that have been made; that it was the desire to bring them out into the light to afford the opportunity to everybody to know what the charges were that were being made and on what were they based. In the fact that was passed by us all we know it refers not only to the present situation but to any situation that may arise in the future. It seems to me that if we are determined that the investigation before this House shall be free, open and fair, there is no reason to exclude the District Attorney from the presentation of testimony which might not involve high officials of the government at Harrisburg. The evidence which has been secured by the District Attorney, might not involve such officials. It might involve local officials. It might be perfectly possible to have an investigation of those local officials by the House to determine whether there should be impeachment. Certainly, the District Attorney of a county who is estopped, under the acts as they now stand, from starting any grand jury investigation until this House has had a chance to either be called in session to act, and then he must wait, after the House has been called in session, or, if it is in sesson, he must wait the ninety day period before he has a chance to act. If the House has the right, certainly he should have the opportunity to come before any committee; it should not be a question as to whether the committee wants to call him, but as he has charge, as the chief law enforcement officer in his own county, and is charged with the ferreting out of crime, certainly he ought to have the opportunity to present his testimony. Now, you may say, and I think that the answer of the gentleman from York immeditely will be: "Why, the Attorney General will present the testimony." Every lawyer knows that there is a great deal of difference in the presentation of testimony; every lawyer knows that the leaving out of some small piece of testimony may be the turning point on the question as to whether there is an indictible offense or whether there is sufficient testimony upon which impeachment proceedings could be based. Therefore, it is an important question as to who is going to present the testimony. There might be a situation in a county of the State, there might be a local condition which the district attorney had investigated and wanted to call the grand jury. It would be possible for a friendly majority of the House to switch it into Harrisburg, and with a friendly Attorney General to present the testimony that has been gathered by the local district attorney, it might be possible to present an entirely different picture than the one which the district attorney himself might present, had he an opportunity to appear before the committee. Certainly any group of men who want to have a fair investigation cannot object to any one appearing before the committee to present testimony. The Act provides that the committee shall have the power to select its own attorney. If the argument be that you would not want to have all kinds of people appearing before the committee to present testimony, then why should not the Attorney General, as well, be barred and the attorney only for the committee present the testimony? I can see a very sound reason why the Attorney General should appear, in addition to counsel for the committee, if the Attorney General feels that he should present testimony which he has, but I cannot see a clear, sound and logical reason, with the intent of having a fair and open investigation, with the intent to bring out all th facts why the district attorney, as well, should not have the opportunity, if he so desires, to appear before the committee and present testimony, and, therefore I oppose concurrence in this amendment.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would say that the argument advanced by the gentleman from Delaware would be very pointed were it not for Section 6 of the Act which provides:

Any committee of the House of Representatives which is conducting any investigation to which this act applies may adopt rules for the conduct of its proceedings which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act * * *" which clearly indicates to my mind that the control or designation of who should appear is a question to be decided by the Committee during the conduct of the trial or the proceeding, and Section 4 to which the gentleman from Delaware objects, that is, the deletion of the section to which he objects, was taken out for a very good reason. First, the section as drawn provides that the Attorney General of the Commonwealth, by himself or his deputy, and the district attorney of any county, by himself or his assistants, may appear before the Committee and present evidence. Undoubtedly this legislation is drawn for the long future, but we also realize that this legislation is drawn to meet the situation that has been created in Dauphin County, to allow the district attorney of any county, as the act had been written, to appear, possibly might so retard the speedy conduct of an open hearing, that this method of investigation would not be nearly as effective as an investigation by the grand jury, so, in order to avert the possibility that the people of the Commonwealth were not being given the opportunity to quickly hear all the charges and all the evidence in support of those charges, and in order that the hearings might not be confused by the possible presentation of sixty-seven district attorneys throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it was thought that under the circumstances, it would be more expeditious to delete the district attorney section of Section 4.

I also wish to call your attention that Section 8 provides that the district attorney could be called upon as a witness to testify, and I assure you that we will be only too glad if the House Committee appointed were to issue that invitation to the district attorney of Dauphin county. I might further add that this Act is not unique, and when we analyze the situation as it exists in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania I feel that the deletion of that section is quite proper. We are about to undertake an investigation of charges that have been levelled at state officials, there is no tribunal in the entire Commonwealth that has the broad aspect that has representation from all the counties of the Commonwealth except this House of Representatives. There is no tribunal in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that extends from the Delaware to the Ohio, from New York to Maryland, except the House of Representatives. To my mind, the presentation of charges involving State officials, should be undertaken by a body that has the interests of the entire Commonwealth at heart. The charges that are levelled against those officials are charges, undoubtedly as indicated, against the peace and dignity of Dauphin County, but they have a larger import, a far larger import, for those charges are not only charges levelled against the peace and dignity of Dauphin County, but they are charges that involve the peace and dignity of the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. For those reasons, it is quite proper that the House of Representatives should be the body that inquires into those charges; they are State-wide, they will have State-wide representation, the action is by a State-wide body. Secondly, in order to assure a more expeditious and efficient open hearing in the matter, it is quite proper that the deletion made of Section 4 should have been so done, and I ask the members of this House to concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I must again say that the gentleman from York, as always, is most adroit in his argument. I know he was hard puto to find an argument in this case. I don't see what the investigation has to do with the argument before us here. No one is denying the right of the House to investigate, or the propriety of the House to investigate. If the purpose of deleting the section pertained to the district attorney of any county appearing before the Committee, it would have been perfectly possible to have made an amendment which would, of course, have stated that the district attorney of the county wherein the crimes, or within which the alleged crimes had been committed could appear. Now, the question of the District Attorney appearing and offering testimony, that is, testifying himself, is an entirely different question. As the gentleman from York well knows, as to the District Attorney presenting evidence, the District Attorney may not be able to testify under the rules of evidence which are prescribed in the acts that we have passed this week, and the District Attorney would be barred from testifying as to many things as to which he might have evidence to present to the Committee. The Attorney General might have no interest in the case, he might not have anything to do with the testimony, might not know anything about the testimony, and yet he could step in and present evidence before the Committee. There is no limitation on him, there is no question raised that he could delay the proceedings which he very well might do, but it is the District Attorney who is being barred from appearing before the Committee, and I do not believe that there is any member of this House who will not say that the District Attorney should have the right to appear. True the District Attorney might be invited by the Committee to appear, but there is a lot of difference between the District Attorney appearing in his own right, and having to wait upon the Committee to determine whether he could come in, because the Committee might be partisan or opposed, and might want to prevent the District Attorney from appearing.

I might say right here inasmuch as I do not want to debate any question pertaining to the Grand Jury inventigation, I said it was not germaine, I can only draw one conclusion from the elimination of this part of this section, and that ts that the full intent and purpose is to prevent the District Attorney of this county from appearing before the Committee and presenting testimony, and if that be the intent, it must be clear to the average man who reads it, it doesn't take a lawyer to determine it, that we cannot hope to have a free, open and non-partisan investigation of these charges.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I am at a little bit of a loss to understand this bill and the question I am putting is trying to clarify the situation. I would like to ask the gentleman from York if in his opinion it would be the intent of the committee to call the District Attorney of Dauphin County before the investigating committee to give testimony.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that I think the power to appoint the committee is vested in the Speaker of the House and that I am not in a position to state what they might or might not do. I will say to the gentleman from Philadelphia as I will say to the gentleman from Delaware that I believe it is the full intent of this House that the hearings before the committee shall be held only for on purpose, namely to acquaint the committee as well as the people of Pennsylvania with the facts. The committee acting with the discretion as it is empowered to do by this Act and particularly by Section 6 which gives them the right to make the rules and regulations under which this investigation shall be conducted, they will have to determine those questions themselves and I feel that nothing could be expected of that committee except honesty, fairness and true dealings.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe the gentleman from York understood my question. I merely asked if in his opinion the committee would do this.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from York has not so far been appointed to a committee and I think the question of the gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman asked for an opinion.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is my sincere opinion that the District Attorney of Dauphin County will undoubtedly be invited to appear before the committee.

Mr. TUMELTY. That is the point I want to bring out, Mr. Speaker. The way the thing has been carried on so far they tried to make it appear that the committee will not give the District Attorney of Dauphin County a chance, and I wanted it expressed on the floor of the House that it was the opinion of the members of the Democratic side that the District Attorney of Dauphin County would be called.

INTERROGATION

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York if in his opinion the District Attorney will be invited into the committee and also invited to present testimony.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, utilizing the same preamble to the answer to the gentleman from Crawford that I utilized in my answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, namely, that I am not able to speak for the committee, if the gentleman is asking my personal opinion, I would say, yes. The intent as I see it of the section was not to exclude the District Attorney of Dauphin County but not to include all of the district attorneys of all of the sixty-seven counties of Pennsylvania.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. HARKINS. HOUSE BILL No. 32.

An Act proposing an amendment to articles two and three of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

By Mr. HARKINS. HOUSE BILL No. 38.

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county, city (except city of the first class), borough, town, township, school district (except school district of the first class), and poor district taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period, and preserving certain tax liens; and providing for the extension thereof.

Referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

STATEMENT BY MR. WALSH

Mr. WALSH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, owing to the flood of oratorical pyrotechnics during the session, I was reluctant to take the time in which to thank the members for the honor which they bestowed upon me last night in the resolution that was offered in my behalf by Representative McGee. Forty years ago all of the trouble started. I was born. Naturally my memory of the momentous event is not very vivid but very dim. I have been informed that I was a pretty baby but time has wrought its havoc.

In conclusion, members of the House, I wish to once again express to my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. McGee, and to this honorable body my sincere thanks for the great honor they bestowed upon me in felicitating me upon my birthday.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. DAVID H. WEISS

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to mention this fact that the County of Philadelphia is not the only county that happens to have a birthday among its members. The County of Westmoreland has also the honor of having a birthday for one of its members, Representative Lovett, and I know that the House will extend its sincere congratulations to Mr. Lovett on his forty-fourth birthday.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF HOUSE BILLS Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 5.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg.
July 30, 1938.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following:

House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 6, entitled "An act relating to the investigation of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office made against civil officers subject to impeachment providing that the jurisdiction of the House of Representatives to make such investigations shall have precedence over the jurisdiction of grand juries and limiting the circumstances under which courts of oyer and terminer and the circumstances under which courts of quarter sessions or judges of such courts may authorize grand juries to make such investigations."

House Bill No. 2, Printer's No. 12, entitled "An act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants."

House Bill No. 3, Printer's No. 8, entitled "An act defining the relative powers of the Attorney General and of district attorneys in investigations or proceedings in the criminal courts authorizing the judges thereof to appoint subject to appeal to the Supreme Court special prosecutors in certain cases and providing for their compensation by the county."

House Bill No. 5, Printer's No. 9, entitled "An act suspending retroactively as well as prospectively any other pending investigation legislative executive or judicial of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment which the House of Representatives undertakes to investigate and providing under what circumstances the suspended investigation may be resumed."

GEORGE H. EARLE.

RESOLUTION

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE AUTHORIZED

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 30, 1938.

Whereas, Article VI, Section 1, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania provides that the House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment; and

Whereas, Article VI, Section 3, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania provides that the Governor and all other civil officers shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office; and

Whereas, the District Attorney of Dauphin County has filed before the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, to No. 235, March Sessions, 1938, a petition and supplemental petition requesting a grand jury investigation of certain charges against the Governor and certain other civil officers of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Act No. 1 of this extraordinary session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, approved the thirtieth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, provides that whenever the Governor or any other civil officer who is liable to impeachment shall be charged with any offense against the laws of this Commonwealth which would constitute or involve misdemeanor in office, as charged in the petition and supplemental petition filed by the District Attorney of Dauphin County before the Court of Quarter Sessions of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, to No. 235, March Sessions, 1938, the House of Representatives has exclusive jurisdiction to investigate the same; and

Whereas, such charges intend to destroy public confidence in the integrity of the government itself and thus threaten the ability of our government to function; and

Whereas, it is to the vital interest and welfare of the people of this Commonwealth that all such charges be investigated by the House of Representatives, to the end that the guilty be impeached and the innocent vindicated; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that, pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 2 of this extraordinary session of one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, approved the thirtieth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, and in pursuance of the constitutional powers and duties of the House of Representatives, the Speaker of the House of Representatives is hereby authorized and directed to appoint a special committee, consisting of seven members of the House of Representatives, one of whom shall be designated as chairman, which committee shall inquire into, and concerning, the official conduct of those named and charged, touching their conduct in regard to matters mentioned in the aforesaid petitions of the District Attorney of Dauphin County, and especially whether the said Governor and other civil officers aforementioned, or any of them, have been guilty of any impeachable offense, and to report to the House of Representatives the conclusions of the committee in respect thereto, with its recommendations, to the end that the House of Representatives may take appropriate action thereon.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection?

Mr. TURNER. With the understanding, Mr. Speaker, that this is the resolution to appoint an investigating committee under the act which the Governor has just signed, we are glad to grant unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER. I presume, Mr. Turner, that is the resolution. The Chair hears no objection, and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as this resolution states, charges such as those made in the petitions of the District Attorney of Dauphin County, does the gentleman from York not think it would be well to have appended to this resolution the petitions of the District Attorney, because while they are a matter of official record there, they are not a matter of record in the House?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I might say, as the gentleman from Delaware indicated, the charges that are now filed in the Dauphin County Court are not only official records but they are also public records, we felt that it was not necessary in the drafting of this resolution to set forth those charges. However, I can assure the gentleman from Delaware that at the Tuesday meeting of this House that the presentation to the grand jury of the charges as filed by the District Attorney, both the first presentation and the second presentation, will be presented through the House to the specially appointed committee.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

By Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. HOUSE BILL No. 38.

An act making an appropriation for the expenses of the special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives on the day of , one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, pursuant to a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on the day of , one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, by authority of the act, approved the day of , one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, (Act No.), entitled "An act defining the procedure for, and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives, and its committees, of charges of, or involving, misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment; authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation; authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel, and the officers investigated; providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear, produce evidence, or testify, and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants."

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SPEAKER

The Chair wishes to announce that the meeting of the Rules Committee will be held on Tuesday at 11 o'clock Eastern Standard Time instead of the time that was heretofore fixed.

The Chair has an important announcement to make. The Chair wishes to announce that checks will be available at the Chief Clerk's office in five minutes.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, August 2d at 2 p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent? Is there any objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Tuesday, August 2d, 1938, at 2:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:31 a. m.) the House adjourned until Tuesday, August 2, 1938, at 2:00 p. m.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 . HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1938. No. 7.

SENATE

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock P. M., (E.S.T.), Tuesday, August 2, 1938.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor, Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

From age to age, O Lord, Thou art our God, and to Thee, a thousand years is as the flight of yesterday. A mighty fortress is our God a sure refuge in time of storm.

Strange voices fall upon our ears. A voice crieth out, "There is no God—but bread to spare for all." Another saith, "Yea, there is a God—and I am He!" Above the din of confusion, may we know, hear and heed the still small Voice.

Our Father, may we draw near unto Thee at this time. Do Thou bless our Commonwealth. Bestow Thy Grace upon these here representatives; upon those committed to tasks of leadership. May they realize that the true, faithful minister of state is truly a servant of God. We would covet the rule of right, rather than the right to rule.

Cautious, but progressive yet forward may our footsteps be, seeking the right as Thou givest us to know the right, forgetting not that thrice armed is he whose cause is just.

With a vision of the invisible, may we look aloft and afar, beholding a new life, a new heaven and a new earth. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The House met at 2:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Rev. FRANCIS A. KIRCHNER, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Harrisburg, Pa., offered the following prayer:

O Eternal God of might, wisdom and justice, through whom authority is rightly administered, laws enacted, judgments decreed, assist with Thy Holy Spirit of Counsel and Fortitude the members of this assembly.

Grant that in their legislative work they may be useful to the people of this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by encouraging due respect for virtue and religion and by a faithful execution of their duties in justice and honesty.

Let the light of Thy Divine Wisdom direct their deliberations; let it shine forth in the proceedings framed for our rule and government.

Inspire them to remember always that every man is their brother, and that Thou art the common Father of all, to Whom some day they must give an account of all their thoughts, their words and their acts, of this day and every day.

May these, our representatives, then, with Thy divine guidance, proceed to the preservation of peace, the promotion of happiness and the increase of industry, sobriety and useful learning, and perpetuate to us the blessings of equal liberty. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. OMINSKY from the Committee on Rules reported as committed, House Resolution No. 3.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act to amend article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determining of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by adding a new section two hundred and one and one-tenth thereto imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers providing for admission of certain evidence and providing for double damage under certain circumstances

The first section was read as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand five hundred fifty-two) is hereby further amended by adding thereto section two hundred and one and one-tenth to read as follows

Section 201.1 In any action brought to recover damages for personal injury to an employe in the course of his employment or for death resulting from such injury the following legal presumption the rules for admitting certain evidence and the amount of damages which can be recovered shall apply

(a) When injury results to an employe in the course of his employment it shall be presumed that the employer's negligence caused said injury which presumption may be rebutted by the employer and both the injured employe and the employer will be permitted to introduce testimony showing the cause of said injury The final determination in all cases shall be a question of fact for the jury

(b) When an employe sustains an injury in the course of his employment the hearsay rule of evidence shall be extended to include declarations remarks and utterances made by the injured employe within twenty-four hours after the injury was sustained

(c) If the jury finds that the employe's injury was caused or contributed to by the employer's violation or failure to observe any safety law or regulation in effect at the time of the injury the injured employe or his dependents shall be entitled to double damages

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 201.1), page 2, lines 25 and 26 by striking out the following: "the hearsay rule of evidence shall be extended to include"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 201.1), page 2, line 27 by striking out the following: "Twenty-Four" and insert in lieu thereof "Twelve"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 201.1), page 2, line 28 by inserting after the word "sustained" the following: "shall be admissable as competent evidence."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

Mr. YOURSHIN offered the following amendments:

Amend bill, page 3, by inserting after line 5 the following sections: "Section 2. The provisions of this act shall be severable, and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act. It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein.

Section 3. This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The title was read and agreed to as follows:

An Act to amend article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by adding a new section two hundred and one and one-tenth thereto imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers providing for admission of certain evidence and providing for double damage under certain circumstances

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. WAGNER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted.

In the House of Representatives, August 2, 1938.

Whereas, On March 5, 1938, William D. Kinney, a former Member of this House, died at the age of 72 years. He was first elected as a Member of the House of Representatives in 1932, and was reelected in 1934. He represented the First District of Erie County. He was born in Erie on September 23, 1866, and upon completing his education he learned the printers' trade and later became a reporter and finally city editor of the Erie Evening Herald. In 1916 he was elected a member of the Erie City Council and served for sixteen years, being nominated three times by both Democratic and Republican parties. He served fourteen years as Director of Parks of the City of Erie.

His death has caused deep and sincere sorrow to all who had the privilege of knowing him, and particularly to his legislative colleagues; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives expresses to his family its deepest and sincere sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be suitably engrossed and sent to his family by the Chief Clerk; and be it further

Resolved, That when this House holds its memorial services for certain deceased officers and Members, it shall include among those to whom honor shall be paid, the name of William D. Kinney.

STATEMENT BY MR. FINNERTY

Mr. FINNERTY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I did not intend to inject myself into these proceedings, but when a gross injustice is done to a neighbor of mine, I feel that I would be remiss in my duty if I did not bring it before this House. I am going to ask you to bear with me for just a moment, while I read to you an article taken from the Philadelphia Evening Ledger, of July 27, 1938, concerning an incident that happened in the Traffic Court in the County of Philadelphia, presided over by Magistrate John J. O'Malley. The article reads as follows:

"One-act drama entitled 'A Night in the Traffic Court'. Chief Magistrate O'Malley (to man before the bench): So you're here on a warrant

"Man: Yes, sir.

"O'Malley: Why

"Man: I didn't pay any attention to a summons for illegal parking. But, please, Your Honor, I just got married at Winnetka, Ill., last month. Fidelia Richards is her name. The summons arrived while I was out of town.

"O'Malley (studying man): Aren't you the son of the late W. W. (Bill) Roper, former Princeton Football coach and Councilman

"Man: Yes, sir.

"O'Malley (with a wave of his hand): Discharged! Next case.

"Mrs. Mary Soloman, 27, of 4928 Aspen Street, steps to the bench. She has a worried look.

"O'Maley: Charged with reckless driving, eh.

"Mrs. Soloman: But, Your Honor, I don't think I was driving recklessly. You see I was driving my mother home from University Hospital. She was nervous and sick. I was careful.

"O'Malley: Who's your committeeman?

"Mrs. Soloman: John Boykin.

"O'Malley: Democrat, isn't he?

"Mrs. Soloman: Yes, sir.

"O'Malley: You walk right over to the cashier and pay a $12.50 fine."

I consider, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that this is a travesty on justice and that Magistrate O'Malley violated his oath of office and should be impeached, and later on I will probably bring impeachment proceedings against him.

During the weekend I called on Mrs. Soloman and she told me she wanted to appeal the case, but that she had no lawyer and did not know the form and when she asked the Magistrate and he found she was a Democrat, the officer pushed her away from the desk. Now, the Soloman's are highly respectable citizens, good neighbors, from the 44th Ward, in the 18th Legislative district, and are members and good members of Rev. Shepard's church, so you know, when you are a member of Rev. Shepard's church, you must be a good religious person.

Our Governor has truthfully said that there is one law for a Republican Governor and another law for a Democratic Governor. Most people were under the impression that that was only for the high civil authorities, but I find in this case of Magistrate O'Malley, that this runs through the minor judiciary.

Now, as I am not a lawyer, and, therefore, not learned in the law, to me it seems that it is a crime and not constitutional to be a Democrat.

Thank you.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The Appropriations Committee will hold a meeting in the House Caucus Room during the recess period.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess for fifteen minutes. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess for fifteen minutes.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FALKENSTEIN. HOUSE BILL No. 39.

A Joint Resolution propsing an amendment to section fifteen, article five, of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. JOHN J. BAKER, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies, for the payment of rates, rentals, and other charges that may be due on leases and other contracts executed by such department with the General State Authority for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth of various projects, structures, buildings, and facilities of the Authority or for the services rendered by the Authority or its projects.

Mr. WELSH, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 16, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to supply the needed cost of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded, directly or indirectly, by the high waters during March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, or in which human bodies are lying.

Mr. MELCHIORRE, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 11, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts, page forty-five), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance, for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven."

Mr. ACHTERMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 34, (Senate Bill No. 9), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to any pay rentals and expenses in connection with public school buildings constructed or improved by the General State Authority.

Mr. WESTRICK, from the Committee on Appropriations, re-reported as committed, House Bill No. 15, entitled:

An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubrication oils and gasoline to the people of the Commonwealth conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued requiring the comission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly or to the Governor and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employees and making an appropriation.

Mr. KILROY, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 38, entitled:

APPOINTMENT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE

Thte SPEAKER. In accordance with Act No. 2 of the Special Session of 1938 and the resolution of this House, I am constituting a special committee for the purpose of investigating the charges set forth in a petition of the District Attorney of Dauphin County, filed in the Court of Quarter Sessions of that county.

On this committee I am appointing the following Members of the House: Messrs Herbert B. Cohen, Chairman; Schrope, Gerard, Ominsky, Bierly, Turner, Perry.

I have every confidence in the men I have selected, that they will discharge the duties of their office with the utmost fidelity, and that they will make an honest, fair, impartial and searching investigation of all these charges so that the public may be advised of their truth or falsity, and that they will not permit politics or friendships to sway them from their path of duty.

These are charges which cannot be overlooked or brushed aside. The reputations of men are at stake. If they are innocent, the public is entitled to know this fact; if they are guilty of misdemeanor in office, then the duty to be performed is plain under the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth.

I ask the committee to organize as soon as possible and promptly proceed with the investigation.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 3:46 p. m.) the House adjourned until Wednesday, August 3, 1938, at 1:00 p. m.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY AUGUST 3, 1938. No. 8.

SENATE

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock P. M., (E.S.T.), Wednesday, August 3, 1938.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor, Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto Thy name, O most High: to show forth Thy loving kindness every morning, and Thy faithfulness every night.

O that all men everywhere would praise Thee for Thy goodness, and for Thy wonderful works unto the children of men. Creator of all things, Giver of all good gifts—lacking wisdom, we have been taught to ask of Thee the giver of all good gifts, who giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not.

We exult in thy revelation that Thou art our Father. Give unto us a sense of human brotherhood—a great truth yet strange to an unheeding world. Bless the deliberations of this day; and may our endeavors rebound to the common weal.

Endue us with Thy Spirit, that the adorning graces may have place in our walk and conversation, and shine forth in our lives. In His name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Wolfenden asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. HOMSHER, on account of illness.

He also asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Bucks, Mr. BUCKMAN, on account of illness.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public which were laid on the table.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. SHAPIRO read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 27, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act, approved the eleventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws, four hundred eighty-seven), entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Welfare to determine the legal residence of indigent, insane, feeble-minded and epileptic persons, returned to this Commonwealth by the authorities of another State, or transferred from one poor district to another by the department, and requiring the proper district to pay the costs of the care and treatment of such persons in accordance with the laws relating to indigent insane persons," by relieving poor districts of certain costs and placing such costs on the Commonwealth.

Which was committed to the Committee on City Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 28, entitled:

An Act relating to institutions of counties, cities, and institution districts for the care, maintenance and treatment of mental patients; providing for the transfer of such institutions to the Commonwealth; providing for the management and operation, or closing thereof, and the maintenance of mental patients therein; conferring and imposing upon the Governor, the Department of Welfare, and counties, cities and institution districts certain powers and duties; prohibiting cities, counties and institution districts from maintaining and operating institutions in whole or in part for the care and treatment of mental patients; and repealing inconsistent laws.

Which was committed to the Committee on City Government.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 29, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the eleventh day of July, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws, nine hundred ninety-eight), entitled "An act for the prevention and treatment of mental diseases, mental defect, epilepsy, and inebriety; regulating the admission and commitment of mental patients to hospitals for mental diseases and institutions for mental defectives and epileptics; governing the transfer, discharge, interstate rendition, and deportation of mental patients; providing for the payment by individuals, counties, or the Commonwealth of the cost of the admission, care, and discharge of mental patients; and imposing penalties," as amended, by further defining and limiting the institutions in which persons metally ill may receive care and treatment; relieving counties and poor districts of the payment of the cost of admission, care, and discharge of mental patients, with certain exceptions; imposing such costs on the Commonwealth; and repealing inconsistent laws.

Which was committed to the Committee on City Government.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with these bills I should like to make a statement.

Pennsylvania is one of only 5 or 6 states in which the responsibility for the care and maintenance of indigent mentally ill persons is divided among state, cities, and counties.

Experience has proven that the care and maintenance of indigent mentally ill persons should be centralized in the State government in order to insure their proper and uniform care, custody, safety and welfare. The bills introduced today will place Pennsylvania in line with the majority of the states in practice in this important subject. It marks, also, the second step in the efforts of our committee to correct the appalling conditions existing at Byberry in Philadelphia. The enactment of these bills into law will mark the final step.

One of these bills provides for the taking over of the real and personal property as well as the management of any institution operated by any county, city or institution district for the care, maintenance and treatment of mental patients, and transfers and vests the same in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It provides that the Welfare Department shall promptly make an investigation and survey of the institutions transferred to the Commonwealth for the purpose of determining: (1) Which of them are necessary having regard to the number of persons requiring care and treatment and the geographical locations and capacity of other mental hospitals; (2) Which of them, having regard to existing facilities, may be operated by the Commonwealth in such a manner as to insure the proper maintenance, safety and welfare of the patients, and from time to time, but not later than May 31, 1939, by Governor's proclamation, determine which of the institutions shall be operated and managed by the Commonwealth as State mental hospitals and which, if any, shall be closed.

The bill further provides that as each institution is taken over the Governor shall direct the Department of Welfare to operate and manage the same in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth relating to such hospitals.

Until the institutions are actually taken over, the cost of management and operation must be borne by the present operating authorities, and under existing laws as to contributions from the State. When and if these institutions are taken over and until May 31, 1939 (the end of the present State biennium), the several counties in which the institutions are maintained will be obliged to make contributions to the State in accordance with existing laws ($3.00 per week). After May 31, 1939, the State will assume full obligation for the costs incurred in care and maintenance of patients of the institution, and the various cities and counties will be freed from any further cost in connection with care and maintenance of the mentally ill.

The second bill makes amendments to the Mental Health Act of 1923 so that its provisions will conform with the plan provided for in the above act. The first bill provides that the Philadelphia Hospital for Mental Diseases at Byberry shall be taken over immediately after the passage of this act. If and when these institutions are taken over, they will be operated by the Secretary of Welfare.

The passage of these laws insures a saving of millions of dollars to the several communities involved. In Philadelphia alone the saving should be close to $1,000,000.00 per year after May 31, 1939. The result of this legislation should mean a reduction in the tax on real estate in the several cities and counties now operating institutions for the care of the mentally ill.

The bills will be available for distribution after printing. There will be no attempt to rush them through, but constructive criticism is invited.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. DENT read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 30, entitled:

An Act authorizing the compromise of delinquent taxes on lands and the penalties, interest and costs due thereon, before a tax sale of such lands; and providing the procedure in such case.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to make a very short statement regarding this bill. In introducing this piece of legislation I want to say that it was the result of hearings and studies made by the Tax Commission relative to the question of delinquent taxes and accumulated taxes and interest, particularly on industrial properties. We find that many properties have been assessed during their boom period. During the last seven or eight years there has been quite a decrease in production of a great many industries in mines and mining. By putting in this piece of legislation we hope to allow those people who own these properties to go to the Commissioner and effect a compromise before the tax sale rather than after the property is sold and later coming in and trying to get the property from the people who bought it in. This I believe will open the road to many small industries and particularly small mines in Pennsylvania to again become productive that have been tied down with great loads of accumulated tax interest. I therefore ask that the Committee who gets this piece of legislation for consideration give it a speedy consideration in Committee and allow it to come on the floor in order that some remedy may be given to those people who are overburdened by taxes.

The PRESIDENT. Similar bills based on practically the same principle are being handled at this session by the Committee on State Government and if there is no objection the Chair feels obliged to send this bill to that Committee on State Government.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SECRETARY

The President Pro Tempore announces the appointment of Paul Bisbing as page to the President Pro Tempore of the Senate vice Melvin Scott resigned.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE ON DEATHS OF SENATOR EROE'S FATHER AND BROTHER

Mr. LAW offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 3, 1938.

Whereas, Divine Providence has seen fit to take away within the space of a few months the brother and father of the Honorable William J. Eroe, Jr., Senator from the Forty-seventh Senatorial District, comprising the Counties of Beaver and Lawrence; and

Whereas, E. George Eroe, brother of Senator Eroe, was a resident of Cleveland, Ohio, where he had been prominent in business, active in the American Legion and in various civic and fraternal organizations; and his death on March 13, 1938, was a great loss to his family and his many friends; and

Whereas, William J. Eroe, Sr., the father of Senator Eroe had attained the age of 86, and passed away quietly, in his sleep on May 18, 1938, after a long and useful life during which he was respected and esteemed as a citizen interested in the well being of his fellow citizens and active in civic betterment; and

Whereas, William J. Eroe, Sr., was especially esteemed in the city of New Castle where he was for many years engaged in business as a jeweler and watchmaker, and also served for a period in the City Council; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extend to Senator Eroe and his family their profound sympathy and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to Senator Eroe.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act removing the remaining additional persons now serving as Pennsylvania members of the Delaware River Joint Commission by virtue of appointment by the General Assembly under the act approved June twelfth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seventy-five) and providing for the appointment of their successors.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—30.

Barthold,	Haluska,	Lanius,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Henney,	Law,	Rupp,
Dando,	Heyburn,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Dent,	Huffman,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Rankin,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kahle,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	Rice,	Thompson,
Gilson,	Kunkel,

NAYS—6.

Chapman,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Wolfenden,
Deitrick,	Gelder,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 10, as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws sixteen) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to defray the cost of pumping the water from the slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred thirty-six" by making a further appropriation to supply the deficiency incurred and needed under the provisions of said act

Section 1 The sum of one hundred forty-seven thousand dollars ($147,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Health for the purpose of supplying the deficiency incurred and needed for the purpose of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which were flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six including the purchase and installation of pumps motors and other equipment the purchase of electric power and all necessary incidental expenses under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 14, entitled:

An Act providing for the adjournment and re-adjournment of county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands that were to have been held in the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, or one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, for nonpayment of taxes in counties except those of the first and second class, and preserving the lien of all taxes on such lands.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill but I observe that he is not present.

Therefore I should like to interrogate the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Barthold, who reported the bill out of Committee.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Northampton, Mr. Barthold, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this bill and the following bill, perhaps the following two bills, were introduced on July twenty-eighth and the people who are very much concerned with these bills have not had a chance to study them sufficiently. There are so many confusing problems which arise in connection with these bills that I wish to ask whether they will not be permitted to go over until next week in order to give us a chance for further study.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President, it will be agreeable for them to go over in order.

The PRESIDENT. The request is made that the bill go over in order. The Chair hears no objection and the bill goes over in order.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 15, on second reading, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county, city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class), and poor district taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period; and preserving certain tax liens, and providing for the extension thereof.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Billl No. 20, as follows:

An Act abating certain tax penalities and interest on city and school taxes in cities of the first class and school districts of the first class

HOUSE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING PHILADELPHIA CITY COUNCIL TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR W. P. A. PROJECTS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 29, 1938.

Whereas relief for the unemployed of Pennsylvania both through direct and the works programs has been recognized as a vital problem by the present administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas the General Assembly in order to properly meet this problem has made certain appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance that those in need may not suffer from want of sustenance and

Whereas the successful carrying out of any program particularly relating to the subject of relief must need have the cooperation of the Executive and Legislative bodies of both the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions and

Whereas the American way of living still clings to the inherent belief that a job and not direct relief should provide the necessary requisites of life and

Whereas we are today faced with the problem of insufficiency of funds to carry out the relief program set up by the General Assembly in the session of 1937 and it is necessary in this Special Session that additional funds be found and appropriated in order that no citizen of the Commonwealth be permitted to suffer and

Whereas this most crucial condition has in some degree been effected through the deliberate lack of cooperation by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia wherein there exists due to its metropolitan character and the size of its population a great need for both direct relief and work relief to even a greater degree than any other part of the Commonwealth and

Whereas the Council of the City of Philadelphia has heartlessly ignored a condition brought about by its neglect whereby the direct relief load in the City of Philadelphia had to be increased out of proportion to that of any other section of the Commonwealth while the work relief program in the number of employed is out of all proportion to any other section of the Commonwealth and

Whereas this imposes an unfair burden upon the Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that might otherwise be avoided were the Council of the City of Philadelphia to appropriate funds available as the city's contribution to the Works Progress Administration program whereby 39,812 unemployed families in Philadelphia could be removed from direct relief and be given employment that would supply their needs and at the same time be of a useful nature to the City of Philadelphia and

Whereas this condition has continued unabated for a considerable time despite the plea made by prominent citizens of all political faiths and leaders of both industry and labor in the City of Philadelphia and throughout the Commonwealth and

Whereas His Excellency George H Earle the Governor of the Commonwealth has time and again requested that the City Council of the City of Philadelphia assume its responsibilities in caring for its citizens where possible and

Whereas the cost of maintaining those on the direct relief rolls who would have been placed on works relief projects had a proper cooperation been extended by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia totaled $1,343,000 for the month of June 1938 and from the beginning of the year to June inclusive the sum of $6,241,000 and

Whereas it is the bounden duty of elected officers to set aside any regard for political expediencies when the lives and welfare of our citizens are concerned

Be It Therefore Resolved that the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania and the Senate of Pennsylvania in Special Session convened do now memorialize the Council of the City of Philadelphia to immediately appropriate available funds that the opportunity to work as supplied through Works Progress Administration projects may no longer be denied to the deserving people of Philadelphia and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this joint resolution properly certified to by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be transmitted to His Honor S Davis Wilson Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and to George Connell President of the City Council of the City of Philadelphia

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I understand we are having a session of the Senate tomorrow and I cannot understand this resolution. I ask it go over until tomorrow.

The PRESIDENT. Under the rules if there is objection to immediate consideration the Chair has no alternative but to refer it to committee.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, before that is done I would like to call the attention of the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, to some facts in the hope that he will withdraw his objection. The Council of the City of Philadelphia meets on Thursday. Council will be obliged to take some action on this matter Thursday. On the desks of most of the Senators they will find the picture of what the situation in Philadelphia is and what this is intended to strike at. It is a report from the Assistance Board.

In the City of Philadelphia there has been spent since June over six million dollars by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in direct relief, because of the failure of the Council in Philadelphia to appropriate money required in order to obtain W.P.A. funds. Now this is one of the few memorials that I have seen in the Senate that has a proper place. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is particularly interested in this resolution. It is interested because of the fact, that if Council does not assume its burden, it is throwing the burden right back again to us. The figures that I have submitted to you will show what I have said to be true. In January, 1938, we spent $656,000 more than was anticipated by the Board of Public Assistance. In February, $795,000. In March, $1,030,000. In April, $1,172,000. In May, $1,245,000. In June, $1,343,000.

Now, the Council can appropriate the money. If Council will appropriate the money these additional unexpected expenditures will be avoided. The political aspect of the situation has been covered by the leader of the Democratic party and the Philadelphia leader of the Republican Party since yesterday and if Mr. Ealy is worried about the job I suggest that he sit down and apportion the jobs if there be any. There is no excuse or reason why this money should not be appropriated. The same councilmen who are refusing to appropriate this money are talking about issuing bonds for the purpose of building a three million dollar palace for the Municipal Court in Philadelphia at the same time that they are refusing to take advantage of several millions of dollars that will be spent by W.P.A. the moment that there is appropriated a little less than two million dollars by the City of Philadelphia

I would ask the gentleman from Somerset to withdraw his objections to this bill so that we can send it down to the Council at the meeting tomorrow. That is the purpose of asking for immediate action today.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not see what right we have to interfere with the Council of Philadelphia. I think we should let this lie aside for a moment until we can read it over and see what it means and see if there are any objections.

The PRESIDENT. Under the rules if there is objection the Chair has no alternative but to refer it to committee.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, this is not a matter of being Republican or Democrat, it is simply a matter of knowing what is in the resolution and we were not able to understand the reading of it. I move that the resolution be laid on the table for the present.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented for concurrence bill of the House of Representatives, as follows:

House Bill No. 17 (Senate Bill No. 31), entitled:

An Act to amend article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by adding a new section two hundred and one and one-tenth thereto imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers providing for admission of certain evidence and providing for double damage under certain circumstances

Which was committed to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

RECESS

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 4:00 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.)

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a Bill, at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HUFFMAN read in place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 32, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two and five of, and to add section three and one-tenth to, the act, approved the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717), entitled "An act fixing the number, compensation, mileage, and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly, and providing for their election or appointment, term of office, and manner of filling vacancies;" further regulating the term of office of such officers and employes and the compensation of certain officers and employes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would suggest that this bill be sent to the Committee on Judiciary General. It has nothing to do with appropriations.

The PRESIDENT. The bill will be re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING PHILADELPHIA CITY COUNCIL TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR W P A PROJECTS

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of House Resolution No. 3 (Printer's No. 17) which was laid on the table.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 29, 1938.

Whereas relief for the unemployed of Pennsylvania both through direct and the works programs has been recognized as a vital problem by the present administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas the General Assembly in order to properly meet this problem has made certain appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance that those in need may not suffer from want of sustenance and

Whereas the successful carrying out of any program particularly relating to the subject of relief must need have the cooperation of the Executive and Legislative bodies of both the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions and

Whereas the American way of living still clings to the inherent belief that a job and not direct relief should provide the necessary requisites of life and

Whereas we are today faced with the problem of insufficiency of funds to carry out the relief program set up by the General Assembly in the session of 1937 and it is necessary in this Special Session that additional funds be found and appropriated in order that no citizen of the Commonwealth be permitted to suffer and

Whereas this most crucial condition has in some degree been effected through the deliberate lack of cooperation by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia wherein there exists due to its metropolitan character and the size of its population a great need for both direct relief and work relief to even a greater degree than any other part of the Commonwealth and

Whereas the Council of the City of Philadelphia has heartlessly ignored a condition brought about by its neglect whereby the direct relief load in the City of Philadelphia had to be increased out of proportion to that of any other section of the Commonwealth while the work relief program in the number of employed is out of all proportion to any other section of the Commonwealth and

Whereas this imposes an unfair burden upon the Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that might otherwise be avoided were the Council of the City of Philadelphia to appropriate funds available as the city's contribution to the Works Progress Administration program whereby 39,812 unemployed families in Philadelphia could be removed from direct relief and be given employment that would supply their needs and at the same time be of a useful nature to the City of Philadelphia and

Whereas this condition has continued unabated for a considerable time despite the plea made by prominent citizens of all political faiths and leaders of both industry and labor in the City of Philadelphia and throughout the Commonwealth and

Whereas His Excellency George H. Earle the Governor of the Commonwealth has time and again requested that the City Council of the City of Philadelphia assume its responsibilities in caring for its citizens where possible and

Whereas the cost of maintaining those on the direct relief rolls who would have been placed on works relief projects had the proper cooperation been extended by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia totaled $1,343,000 for the month of June 1938 and from the beginning of the year to June inclusive the sum of $6,241,000 and

Whereas it is the bounden duty of elected officers to set aside any regard for political expediencies when the lives and welfare of our citizens are concerned

Be It Therefore Resolved that the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania and the Senate of Pennsylvania in Special Session convened due now memorialize the Council of the City of Philadelphia to immediately appropriate available funds that the opportunity to work as supplied through Works Progress Administration projects may no longer be denied to the deserving people of Philadelphia and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this joint resolution properly certified to by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be transmitted to His Honor S Davis Wilson Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and to George Connell President of the City Council of the City of Philadelphia

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate Committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the forgoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, In connection with this resolution, I offer the following amendment to amend the preamble to the resolution at page 2, line 5, by striking out after the word "whereas" the rest of line 5, all of lines 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and the first two words "neglect whereby" on line 14.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, there are some of us that feel that the Senate of Pennsylvania and the House of Representatives are not concerned with the policy of the members of Council of any city of the State. Also there are certain facts set forth in this resolution which have not been established to our satisfaction. We are therefore going to vote "No" on this resolution. However, I do not wish to raise a technical objection and delay the passage of this resolution for merely a day, therefore I withdraw the objection which I made heretofore.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution as amended?

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, have we voted on the resolution as well as the strike-out amendments?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate agreed to the strike-out amendments and then we put the question on the adoption of the resolution as amended which was agreed to by the Senate.

Mr. GELDER. Should we not have a vote on whether or not we agree to the strike-outs?

The PRESIDENT. If you want that, alright.

Mr. GELDER. Incidentally, Mr. President, I want to say that we have no objection to the strike-outs because it improves the resolution by removing offensive language that never should have been in such a resolution, if it is going to be passed at all.

The PRESIDENT. The record will show that the amendments were adopted by the Senate and then the resolution, as amended, was adopted.

May the Chair point out to the Senate that in putting the original motion, as amended, he had asked the Senate how they wanted to vote, then put it to a voice vote. The Chair is of the opinion that this being a concurrent resolution, and in view of the fact that there were negative votes we had better call the roll.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shapiro and were as follows; viz:

YEAS—26

Barthold,	Haluska,	Lanius,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Henney,	McCreesh,	Rupp,
Dando,	Heyburn,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
DiSilvestro,	Huffman,	Rankin,	Shapiro,
Eroe,	Jacobs,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kahle,	Rice,	Thompson,
Gilson,	Kilgallen,

NAYS—6

Chapman,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Wolfenden,
Deitrick,	Gelder,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RICE, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which this motion was not agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is out of order. There has been no intervening business.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call up for consideration House Resolution No. 1, Printer's No. 1.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is not in the Senate, but that constitutes business.

RECONSIDERATION OF MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the motion to adjourn was not agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I voted "Nay."

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I voted "Nay."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

An Act to confirm and validate past tax or assessments made by school districts of the first class and liens filed thereon.

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

STATEMENT BY MR. JIROLANIO

Mr. JIROLANIO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, ever since this special session was called, at no time did I think it would have been proper for me to get up and take the time, and burden this group of distinguished Statesmen, but the events of the past forty-eight hours have so troubled my conscience that I do not feel I would be fair to myself had I remained in my seat and not given voice to my feelings.

For the past one hundred and fifty years, we the people of Pennsylvania, and we the people of the United States have taken great pride in the form of government under which we have been living; a form of government which is known to every one as that of delegated powers to three separate and distinct groups, each taking its particular part in the running of the government, which has been of such a nature that all of the countries in the wide world, with the exception of ourselves have been jealous of it. Here in Pennsylvania we have taken this pride highly and I think that the prerogatives enjoyed by each one of those three groups have been so high that not one of the three ever saw fit at any time to transgress upon the powers of the others, yet, lo and behold! Although the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania gives to this honorable body certain rights, inalienable rights, which are given only to them, and that is the House shall have the sole power of impeachment, lo and behold! a certain black-robed gentleman saw fit yesterday, mind you, to take away from this legislative body the right of investigation. I ask of you whether it has ever been held where any acts have been passed, the presumption has been that they have been unconstitutional. It has always been the presumption in law that whenever the Legislature passes any acts that those acts are constitutional, and although that presumption has existed from time immemorial, that presumption was wiped away by a certain gentleman in black within the last forty-eight hours. He has gone a step further. This gentleman in black has seen fit to gag the House of Representatives, which is attempting at this time to perform its full duties under its legislative prerogative under the Constitution. All of us here, as we look at that sign above us, read: "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free," although we are interested in that saying, we are being deprived of that very prerogative, and by whom? By some one who is not a member of the Legislature, by some one who under no constitutional authority, has any right whatsoever to infringe upon our undertakings; and, going a step further, trying to prevent witnesses from appearing. Mind you, ladies and gentlemen, although we are a constituted body, a body which has certain prerogatives, we are being denied by a certain gentleman, the right to hear the truth as to whether or not certain claims have any merit in them or not. Although this legislature and the members thereof change every two years, and the people have expressed their desire in having us come here and express through us their own desires, a certain black-robed gentleman has seen fit to deprive all of the people of Pennsylvania of this constitutional guarantee.

I wonder whether the Legislature of Pennsylvania, particularly the House of Representatives, is going to stand by and have itself relegated to the back ground by black-robed gentlemen, which has been happening for the past one hundred and fifty years, slowly and slowly, inch by inch. None of the other Departments of the government of our State has seen fit to deprive us of that which is rightfully ours and now, along comes one Judge, one individual, who sees fit to stop the will and the expression of two hundred and seven members of the House of Representatives, and with one stroke of the pen, endeavors to stop the probe that we are trying to conduct, and the investigation we are trying to make of the men who will be called before us to find out whether there is any truth or falsity in the charges that have been made. Are we to be deprived of the opportunity of having them appear before us?

I say unto you, members of the Legislature, by our very act and by the fact that the committee is composed of seven distinguished persons, and by the very fact that two of those distinguished members are very good, highly reputed Republican lawyers and by the very fact that those two gentlemen would have the right of cross examination, and by the very fact that all the matters could be brought out openly before the public, that this Legislature is not interested in whitewash proceedings, but only that justice shall survive and truth shall be brought out. Are we going to stand idly by and see our powers usurped by the judiciary or are we going to stand upon our constitutional guarantees and demand that this Legislature shall be given the opportunity of an investigation, without interference by any individual or particular group?

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

And said bill having been read at length the first time, Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 15, entitled:

n Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued requiring the commission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly or to the Governor and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employees and making an appropriation.

The first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1. There is hereby created a commission to consist of five competent members which shall be known as the Oil Industry Investigation Commission which shall exist and function as an agency of the General Assembly for the purpose of making a careful impartial and thorough investigation into the operation of the oil industry within the Commonwealth and to make a report of its findings and recommendations

Section 2. Three of the five members of the commission shall be appointed by the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in making said appointments one of the members thereof shall be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and shall be a member of the Senate at the time of his appointmnt one of the members shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and shall be a member of the House of Representatives at the time of his appointment one of the said five members shall be designated chairman by the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in making such designation The members of said commission are hereby constituted agents and deputies of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purpose herein stated

Section 3. The said commission acting for and on behalf of the General Assembly shall serve without compensation and shall make a careful thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the whole oil industry and its by-products in the Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasolines to the people of this Commonwealth at reasonable prices not inconsistent with the fair costs of production and distribution the said commission shall have power to inquire into any abuses evils or unfair trade practices which it may find to exist within the Commonwealth for the purpose of making report thereof to the General Assembly as herein provided

Section 4. The said commission acting for and on behalf of the General Assembly shall have power to meet hold hearings and make its investigations whether or not the General Assembly is in special or regular session or is in adjournment The commission shall ascertain and report to the General Assembly as soon as possible its findings with respect to the operation of the oil industry within the Commonwealth and its recommendations if any as to any legislation which may be needful to correct any abuses evils or unfair or improper trade practices found to exist and connected with the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth which are found to be prejudical to the interests of its citizens Provided however That if the General Assembly be not in session at the time of the completion of the report and recommendations of the commission the commission shall then submit its report and recommendations to the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in receiving the same and shall submit said report to the General Assembly when it convenes in session thereafter

Section 5. The commission shall have power to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any proper person corporation partnership or association to appear be fore it and to answer such questions touching matters with respect to the oil industry in the Commonwealth inquired into by the commission for and on behalf of the General Assembly and to procure such books papers records and documents as the commission may deem necessary Such subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum may be served upon any proper person corporation partnership or association and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth or by the General Assembly itself Each member of the commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmation to witnesses appearing before the commission

Section 6. If any person corporation partnership or association wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the commission or to produce any books papers records or documents subpoenaed by the commission the commission or any member thereof shall file a petition with a court of common pleas having competent jurisdiction over said person corporation partnership or association setting forth such facts The said court of common pleas or a judge thereof shall thereupon issue a rule upon said person corporation partnership or association returnable no less than five nor more than seven days from service thereof commanding said person corporation partnership or association to appear before said court and show cause why the subpoena subpoena duces tecum or similar order of said commission shall not be complied with

If said person corporation partnership or association upon the return day of said rule to show cause is or are unable to show legal cause why the subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission should not be complied with the said court of common pleas shall forthwith enter an order of court directing said person corporation partnership or association to comply with the terms of said subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission If thereupon such person corporation partnership or association shall refuse or fail to comply with the said order of court the said court of common pleas shall forthwith adjudge said person corporation partnership or association to be in contempt of court and such person corporation partnership or association shall thereupon forthwith be subject to the penalties provided by the Commonwealth in such cases Provided further That if any subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission is deemed invalid by the court the commission is authorized to issue a proper subpoena duces tecum or order against such person corporation partnership or association

Section 7 The said commission may employ and fix the compensation of such counsel experts clerks and assistants as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the commission

The eighth section was read as follows:

Section 8 The sum of thirty-seven thousand dollars ($37,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the commission for the payment of the expenses of the members and for the payment of the compensation and expenses of counsel experts clerks and assistants of the commission for postage telegraph and telephone charges for the use of automobiles for witness fees allowed by the commission for supplies and printing and for all other expenses deemed necessary and proper by the commission

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Section 8, page 7, lines 13 and 14, by striking out the following: "thirty-seven thousand dollars ($37,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "twenty thousand dollars ($20,000)"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The ninth section and preamble were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 9. This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

Whereas Petroleum oil constitutes one of the great natural resources of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the nation and

Whereas Lubricating oils gasolines and other by-products of petroleum are of necessity so generally used by the people of the Commonwealth and of the nation as to constitute them essentials of our modern civilization and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has long been a leader in the production refining marketing and distribution of petroleum and its by-products and

Whereas The prices of oils and gasoline are at present subject to wide and unpredictable fluctuations apparently dependent neither upon the normal relation of demand to supply nor the reasonable expenses of production and distribution but seemingly upon intense and frequently uneconomical competition in the oil industry in the course of which prices are seemingly capriciously raised or lowered by the refiners of oils and gasolines in an at- to dominate their industry and

Whereas The operation of the whole oil industry within this Commonwealth daily affects the lives welfare and well-being of its citizens and is indispensible to the flow of commerce within the Commonwealth and

Whereas The public has a vital interest in the economical operation of the oil industry to the end that lubricating oils gasolines and other by-products are efficiently supplied to the people at fair prices consistent with the reasonable cost of production and distribution and

Whereas The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is invested with the full legislative power of the Commonwealth under and by virtue of Article II Section 1 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and there under has ample authority to obtain knowledge of facts and information needful in the rightful and intelligent exercise of the legislative power and

Whereas The General Assembly is desirous of obtaining all proper information and knowledge of facts with respect to the whole operation of the oil industry and its component parts within the Commonwealth in order to predictate any possible future legislation and

Whereas It is the desire and purpose of the General Assembly to create a commission which shall procure such facts and information for and on behalf of the General Assembly and report thereon with recommendations if any now therefore

The title was read as follows:

An act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate, efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth; conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas, and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued; requiring the commission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the Genenral Assembly or to the Governor; and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employees and making an appropriation.

On the question.

Will the House agree to the title?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title, page 1, lines 12 and 13 of title, by striking out the word: "employees" and inserting in lieu thereof: "employes"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered to be transcribed for third reading.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 17, as follows:

An Act to amend article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by adding a new section two hundred and one and one-tenth thereto imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers providing for admission of certain evidence and providing for double damage under certain circumstances

Section 1 Article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as re-enacted and amended by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand five hundred fifty-two) is hereby further amended by adding thereto section two hundred and one and one-tenth to read as follows

Section 201.1 In any action brought to recover damages for personal injury to an employe in the course of his employment or for death resulting from such injury the following legal presumption the rules for admitting certain evidence and the amount of damages which can be recovered shall apply

(a) When injury results to an employe in the course of his employment it shall be presumed that the employer's negligence caused said injury which presumption may be rebutted by the employer and both the injured employe and the employer will be permitted to introduce testimony showing the cause of said injury The final determination in all cases shall be a question of fact for the jury

(b) When an employe sustains an injury in the course of his employment declarations remarks and utterances made by the injured employe within twelve hours after the injury was sustained shall be admissable as competent evidence

(c) If the jury finds that the employe's injury was caused or contributed to by the employer's violation or failure to observe any safety law or regulation in effect at the time of the injury the injured employe or his dependents shall be entitled to double damages

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, just a short explanation as to the purpose of these amendments:

Back in 1915 when the Workmen's Compensation Law was first adopted there was inserted in the bill, Article II, which covers damages by action in law, taking away certain defenses from employers in order that they may come under the Workmen's Compensation act.

In 1937 the compensation bill was amended, and since then approximately fifty percent of the employers have rejected the act. This is an amendment to the liability feature of the act which tends to further take away some of the defenses that they have, in that the presumption of negligence is placed upon the employer instead of the employee. Further, it also places a penalty upon the employer wherein, if he violates any section of any safety law or rule of any of the Departments of the State, if the jury so finds, then the employee will collect double damages. After all of the evidence that may be presented in the case is on the question of fact for the jury to find, and I ask the members of this House to vote for this bill.

In other words, where the compensation law applies, this does not affect any one, any employer, carrying compensation insurance, but any employer that has rejected the compensation law, their employees would have the right to sue under this section.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. ECKLES filed the following reasons for his vote:

I voted "No" on this bill (House Bill No. 17), for the reason that I feel that it opens the door to fraud.

Aside from the fact that I seriously doubt the constitutionality of the same, it permits a person to build up a case with self-serving declarations made after a period of time when the same could possibly be considered a part of the res gestae and uttered spontaneously.

I have always favored full measure of justice for laboring people, but in my opinion this bill is unjust and unreasonable.

Mr. STEWART filed the following reason for his vote:

1. I consider (b) and (c) under Section 201.1 unconstitutional.

2. I consider it unwise legislation for both the employer and employe, for it will lead into expensive controversy.

Mr. WILSON filed the following reasons for his vote:

I hereby file my reasons for voting "No" on House Bill No. 17 on final passage today which would amend the Workmen's Compensation Law of our State by adding a new section (201.1) thereto imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers, providing for administration of certain evidences and providing for double damages under certain circumstances.

1. It gives an unusual advantage to persons not under the Compensation Act and has no place in such act because it is only meant to apply to employers who reject the act. As such it is unconstitutional, being class legislation.

2. It undertakes to change a long standing rule of law relating to evidence. It endeavors to extend or enlarge the term "Res gestae" by giving a certain number of hours after an accident is sustained in which the injured employee may make declarations, remarks and utterances and the same will be admitted as evidence regardless of the rule relating to "res gestae." It is understood as class legislation; applying only to actions against employers who may invoke the Workmen's Compensation Act.

3. In effect it undertakes to punish the employers who may reject the Workmen's Compensation act by creating double damages in such cases. No other class of damage cases is covered; therefore, it is unconstitutional, being class legislation.

4. Its purpose is plain; it is meant to intimidate and deter all employers from taking advantage of the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act which allow them to reject such act by serving 60 days notice upon employees and filing such notices and proofs of service of same with the Department.

5. Those who reject the Workmen's Compensation act should continue to have the same rights under the other acts of our Commonwealth as other litigants. It is clearly class legislation.

RESOLUTIONS

REPORT OF SLATE COMMITTEE

Mr. O'KEEFE offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate adoption.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 2, 1938.

Resolved, That Clarence B. Clark, 67 Logan Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, be appointed Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms to replace Junius Lee, resigned, effective August 1.

RESOLUTION No. 3.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 3, Printer's No. 18, on page 3 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 29, 1938.

Whereas, relief for the unemployed of Pennsylvania both through direct and the works programs has been recogniezd as a vital problem by the present administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas the General Assembly in order to properly meet this problem has made certain appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance that those in need may not suffer from want of sustenance and

Whereas the successful carrying out of any program particularly relating to the subject of relief must need have the cooperation of the Executive and Legislative bodies of both the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions and

Whereas the American way of living still clings to the inherent belief that a job and not direct relief should provide the necessary requisites of life and

Whereas we are today faced with the problem of insufficiency of funds to carry out the relief program set up by the General Assembly in the session of 1937 and it is necessary in this Special Session that additional funds be found and appropriated in order that no citizen of the Commonwealth be permitted to suffer and

Whereas this most crucial condition has in come degree been effected through the deliberate lack of cooperation by th City Council of the City of Philadelphia wherein there exists due to its metropolitan character and the size of its population a great need for both direct relief and work relief to even a greater degree than any other part of the Commonwealth and

Whereas the Council of the City of Philadelphia has heartlessly ignored a condition brought about by its neglect whereby the direct relief load in the City of Philadelphia had to be increased out of proportion to that of any other section of the Commonwealth while the work relief program in the number of employed is out of all proportion to any other section of the Commonwealth and

Whereas this imposes an unfair burden upon the Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that might otherwise be avoided were the Council of the City of Philadelphia to appropriate funds available as the city's contribution to the Works Progress Administration program whereby 39,812 unemployed families in Philadelphia could be removed from direct relief and be given employment that would supply their needs and at the same time be of a useful nature to the City of Philadelphia and

Whereas this condition has continued unabated for a considerable time despite the plea made by prominent citizens of all political faiths and leaders of both industry and labor in the City of Philadelphia and throughout the Commonwealth and

Whereas His Excellency George H. Earle the Governor of the Commonwealth has time and again requested that the City Council of the City of Philadelphia assume its responsibilities in caring for its citizens where possible and

Whereas the cost of maintaining those on the direct relief rolls who would have been placed on works relief projects had the proper cooperation been extended by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia totaled $1,343,000 for the month of June 1938 and from the beginning of the year to June inclusive the sum of $6,241,000 and

Whereas it is the bounden duty of elected officers to set aside any regard for political expediences when the lives and welfare of our citizens are concerned

Be It Therefore Resolved that the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania and the Senate of Pennsylvania in Spcial Session convened due now memorialize the Council of the City of Philadelphia to immediately appropriate available funds that the opportunity to work as supplied through Works Progress Administration projects may no longer be denied to the deserving people of Philadelphia and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this joint resolution properly certified to by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be transmitted to His Honor S. Davis Wilson Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and to George Connell President of the City Council of the City of Philadelphia.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. RUSH, BROAD, THOMPSON, HAYS, FINNERTY, McSHANE, WHITENIGHT, WALSH and SHEPARD offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 3, 1938.

We, in Assembly met, do hereby this day honor and respect the gentleman from Montour County, Honorable Lloyd W. Welliver, born in Exchange, Pennsylvania in 1868, "just seventy (70) years young."

A life-long Democrat with a State-wide acquaintance, he was elected to the House of Representatives in 1895, the youngest member of the House, served two terms—that of 1895 and 1897. He was a member of the House before many of the present younger members were born, and he rarely ever missed a session.

He was here altogether during eight sessions of the Legislature, having been in the House that was in session when the Capitol was burned. They had no "air-conditioned" House in those days. And he was very active in the sessions of the House during the Capitol graft scandals. And strange to say, we today "have the same heat and scandals," in this extraordinary session.

And it is very fitting and proper with the "high tide of Democracy" sweeping the country at this time, we do honor to this representative, a man who is genial, affable and of the strictest integrity; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the members of this House, take pleasure in paying this tribute to a faithful public servant.

Mr. WELLIVER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the resolution offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Finnery, let me say that this speech of mine will not be dressed up for this occasion.

I am sorry to say after coming back to this House after an absence of forty years, I have been accused of having burned down the Capitol. I want you folks to give me the benefit of the doubt in this case.

Coming back to this special session, and I don't know what will become of it, I want to say what happened Monday night. Coming down Locust street in front of a bulletin, I happened to overhear a certain individual criticizing Governor Earle for trying to whitewash the grand jury and the judges. There was a big crowd gathered, and in that crowd there was a young man running around criticizing the Governor. I heard this chap say that if anybody appeared to testify before the House they ought to be shot. I said to the young man in the presence of the audience, "I am going to arrest you for making dangerous threats." You never saw a horse run around a race track as fast as this young man ran down Locust street. I hollered to him to come back, and I said to the audience, I will always defend the innocent no matter what their color may be, no matter what their politics may be and no matter who they are,—I will defend them if I can.

There are a few politicians in my county who gave me the hardest fight of my career and who intended to trim me with a thousand or twelve hundred votes, but when the votes were counted they only pulled a few pin feathers. They only had twenty-seven of a majority to crow over.

I want to say to this audience that I have had a wonderful and colorful life for the past forty-five years, and in that time I asked the prettiest girl in Montour County to marry me and I have her on my hands now and I still think she is as pretty as ever.

I want to thank you for the interest you have taken in me during the past session, as well as other sessions.

I want to say to the Press something in regard to the great title they have given me in the last three years, such as the War Horse, the Fighting Judge, the Man of Many Battles, the Live Wire, the Orator from the Sun Kissed Hills of Montour County. I want to say to the members of the House that unless you fight for a thing you won't get anything.

I want to thank you one and all for your kindness in this House. I do not know whether I deserve it or not. I wish you all good luck, and I am coming back on a sticker campaign next year.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

PERMISSION TO USE HALL OF HOUSE GRANTED

Mr. OMINSKY asked and obtained permission for the Special Legislative Committee to meet in the hall of the House for the purpose of holding public hearings.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. LEWIS and OSTROFF. HOUSE BILL No. 40.

An Act to ratify, confirm and make valid the actions, proceedings, expenses and expenditures of the commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth, appointed pursuant to the joint resolution, approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, (P. L. 540), entitled "A joint resolution authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investgation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate, efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth; conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas; requiring the commission to make a report of its findings to the Governor, together with its recommendations as to such regulatory legislation as may be needful to correct any abuses and evils connected with such industry which are prejudicial to the interests of the citizens of this Commonwealth; authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes; and making an appropriation," and its amendment.

Referred to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

By Mr. OSTROFF. HOUSE BILL No. 41.

An Act validating a joint resolution approved the twenty-second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, entitled "A joint resolution authorizing the appointment of a Commission to make a survey of the topography of the Commonwealth; to make recommendations concerning landing fields and aviation facilities; and making an appropriation."

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess until 3:30 p. m. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess until 3:30 p. m.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 3:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. POWERS. RESOLUTION No. 4.

In the House of Representatives, August 3, 1938.

Whereas, This House on July 16, 1936, passed a very laudatory resolution in which the sterling qualities of the Honorable Lloyd W. Welliver were eulogized. The resolution as adopted on that date reads as follows:

"Seated in Seat No. 7 of the House during this Session, is a member who occupied the same seat number in this House forty years ago.

After an absence of these many years, which were marked with success in other lines of endeavor, including the political field in his home community, he has returned to his early scene of triumph where he again earned the friendship and good will of the membership of this House.

'The War Horse,' 'The Seasoned Campaigner' and 'The Fighting Judge,' titles by which he is familiarly known throughout the State, evidence the affection with which he is regarded by the members of the political party of his early choice, by his friends regardless of political party, and by his community to which he has given such loyal service; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives recognizing the sterling qualities of the Orator from the sun-kissed hills of Montour County, the Honorable Lloyd W. Welliver, and the unique distinction resting on any person who has served in this House in two sessions, separated by a period of forty years, extend to him on this occasion their best wishes for many more years of success and useful service;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable Lloyd W. Welliver by the Chief Clerk of this House."

On July 16, 1936, the above resolution was unanimously adopted by this House, and is herewith re-adopted.

In the election of 1937, the Honorable Lloyd W. Welliver again ran as a Member of the House of Representatives, and was elected by an overwhelming majority. In the Spring Primary of 1938 he was again a candidate for re-election as a Member of the House. It was a bitterly fought campaign in which the "Fighting Judge" carried election division after election division with large majorities until the returns of the division of his opponent came in five hours after all the other returns had been filed, which division wiped out the majority of the "War Horse" and gave his opponent a majority of 27 votes.

It has been charged that his opponent not only spent huge sums of money to defeat the "Seasoned Campaigner," but also lined up the votes of the WPA., PWA, the General State Authority, the Fish Commission, and the Milk Control Board against our old friend and colleague.

The United States Campaign Expenditures Committee had a group of investigators in Montour County immediately before the Primary and on Primary Day, and their reports have been sent to Washington for the consideration of the Senate Committee. It has been reported that the irregularities in conjunction with the nomination of the "Fighting Judge's" opponent will result in the bringing of hundreds of indictments, therefore be it

Resolved, That the United States Senate Campaign Expenditures Committee continue their investigation of the expenditures and irregularities occurring in Montour County in the Primary Election of 1938; and be it further

Resolved, That the activities of the employes of the WPA, PWA, the General State Authority, the Fish Commission and the Milk Control Board be thoroughly investigated to determine to what extent they contributed to the defeat of "The Old Campaigner"; and be it further

Resolved, That this House herewith expresses its indignation with the manner and methods used to defeat the "Fighting Judge"; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives reaffirms its confidence in the honesty, integrity, and fair dealing of the Honorable Lloyd W. The will of both the Democratic and the 500 Republican voters of Montour County must not be defeated; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable Lloyd W. Welliver by the Chief Clerk of this House.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HAGERTY, from the Committee on State Government, reported as committed, House Bill No. 29, (Senate Bill No. 7), entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fifty-two) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politc with power to construct improve and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees rentals and charges for the use thereof authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States of any Federal agency and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant assign convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein and to acquire lands therefor granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" as amended by providing for additional projects and providing for the leasing of projects by the Authority to school districts.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HAGERTY. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his personal privilege.

Mr. HAGERTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would just like to announce to the House that there is a delegation of ladies present from the 28th Ward, Democratic Women's Auxiliary of Philadelphia.

I had a resolution prepared to congratulate the ladies on their appearance here today, but as we are adjourning in a few minutes, I want to thank them from the floor for coming here today, and hope they enjoy their visit to Harrisburg.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Legislature Journal.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 9:00 a. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 3:43 p. m.) the House adjourned until Thursday, August 4, 1938, at 9:00 a. m.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 4, 1938. No. 9.

SENATE

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock A. M., (E.S.T.) Thursday, August 4, 1938.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy vigil through the curtained hours of night; for renew-vigor and strength; for the light and promises of the day. We would remember in prayer one of our comrades in his recent bereavements. May sweet memory and precious hope conspire against sorrow, and the alchemy of faith turn sorrow into loving trust. Nor do we forget two venerable comrades in their prolonged illness; another, a victim of painful accident. Be very near to them all. Our Father, as accumulating duties press upon us, bestow upon us Thy all-sufficient grace. May a mutual respect and esteem, so manifest, inspire a generous rivalry of courtesy and good will.

In the deliberations and tasks of this day, bless us, lead us, enlighten us—we ask in Thy precious name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS TO RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING PHILADELPHIA CITY COUNCIL TO APPROPRIATE FUNDS FOR W.P.A. PROJECTS

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House of Representatives, informing the Senate that the House has concurred in amendments made by the Senate to House Resolution No. 3, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, July 29, 1938.

Whereas relief for the unemployed of Pennsylvania both through direct and the works programs has been recognized as a vital problem by the present administration of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas the General Assembly in order to properly meet this problem has made certain appropriations to the Department of Public Assistance that those in need may not suffer from want of sustenance and

Whereas the successful carrying out of any program particularly relating to the subject of relief must need have the cooperation of the Executive and Legislative bodies of both the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions and

Whereas the American way of living still clings to the inherent belief that a job and not direct relief should provide the necessary requisites of life and

Whereas we are today faced with the problem of insufficiency of funds to carry out the relief program set up by the General Assembly in the session of 1937 and it is necessary in this Special Session that additional funds be found and appropriated in order that no citizen of the Commonwealth be permitted to suffer and the direct relief load in the City of Philadelphia had to be increased out of proportion to that of any other section of the Commonwealth while the work relief program in the number of employed is out of all proportion to any other section of the Commonwealth and

Whereas this imposes an unfair burden upon the Department of Public Assistance of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that might otherwise be avoided were the Council of the City of Philadelphia to appropriate funds available as the city's contribution to the Works Progress Administration program whereby 39,812 unemployed families in Philadelphia could be removed from direct relief and be given employment that would supply their needs and at the same time be of a useful nature to the City of Philadlphia and

Whereas this condition has continued unabated for a considerable time despite the plea made by prominent citizens of all political faiths and leaders of both industry and labor in the City of Philadelphia and throughout the Commonwealth and

Whereas His Excellency George H Earle the Governor of the Commonwealth has time and again requested that the City Council of the City of Philadelphia assume its responsibilities in caring for its citizens where possible and

Whereas the cost of maintaining those on the direct relief rolls who would have been placed on works relief projects had the proper cooperation been extended by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia totaled $1,343,000 for the month of June 1938 and from the beginning of the year to June inclusive the sum of $6,241,000 and

Whereas it is the bounden duty of elected officers to set aside any regard for political expediencies when the lives and welfare of our citizens are concerned

Be It Therefore Resolved that the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania and the Senate of Pennsylvania in Spcial Session convened due now memorialize the Council of the City of Philadelphia to immediately appropriate available funds that the opportunity to work as supplied through Works Progress Administration projects may no longer be denied to the deserving people of Philadelphia and

Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this joint resolution properly certified to by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be transmitted to His Honor S Davis Wilson Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and to George Connell President of the City Council of the City of Philadelphia.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Be Ii Further Resolved that a copy of this joint resolution properly certified to by the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House of Represeentatives be transmitted to His Honor, S. Davis Wilson, Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and to George Connell, President of the City Council of the City of Philadelphia

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendment.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 2 by striking out in lines 5 to 14 inclusive the following: "this most crucial condition has in some degree been effected through the deliberate lack of cooperation by the City Council of the City of Philadelphia wherein there exists due to to its metropolitan character and the size of its population a great need for both direct relief and work relief to even a greater degree than any other part of the Commonwealth and

Whereas the Council of the City of Philadelphia has heartlessly ignored a condition brought about by its neglect whereby"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House concur in the amendment made by the Senate.

The motion was agreed to, and the amendment was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 3, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, August 8, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, August 8, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WOODSIDE. The resolution is out of order, Mr. Speaker, under the ruling of the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The Chair was about to ask for unanimous consent of the House to consider this Senate resolution.

Will the House give its unanimous consent for the consideration of the resolution? Is there objection?

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I understand that you are going to ask the House for unanimous consent for the consideration of this resolution?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. TURNER. The question arises in my mind, and I would like to ask the Speaker concerning it, whether you can suspend the rules by asking for unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER. There are two methods of suspending the rules, either by unanimous consent or by a vote on a motion to suspend the rules.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a further question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr TURNER. Mr. Speaker, would not the motion be to suspend the rules and not unanimous consent for the consideration of the resolution?

The SPEAKER. Unless unanimous consent is obtained it will be necessary to suspend the rules. The Chair states that either method is proper; unanimous consent of the House, or by a motion to suspend the rules.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not want, of course, to be technical about what on the surface appears to be a very small question, and I am not arising for the purpose of opposing the desire of the House to meet on Monday night at 8:00 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, which seems to me to be a desirable thing to do. But we have had a number of motions last week about meeting and the Chair ruled that under the Rules we must meet on Monday night at 9:00 p. m. and it seems to me that the Chair should rescind its original ruling which I did not hear, and, therefore, if I state it wrongly I trust the Chair will set me right, that the unanimous consent for the adoption of this resolution to suspend the rules, it seems to me, is a very dangerous precedent. In other words, it seems to me, Mr. Speaker, if I may talk across to the rostrum in this way, merely that we may have the procedure straight, we might get ourselves into some uncomfortable position in the future, that any suspension of the rules should come as the result a motion, where the members of the House may clearly understand the purpose of the motion.

The SPEAKER. Replying to the question of parliamentary inquiry of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner. The resolution now before the House violates Rule 13 of this House.

There are two methods that may be followed to place this resolution before the House. One is to get unanimous consent of the House and the other by a majority vote of the members elect suspending this rule.

The Chair again asks for unanimous consent for the consideration of this resolution. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Reising asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. MURRIN, for today's session.

Mr. Holland asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS, on account of illness in the family.

Mr. Scanlon asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. GANSER on account of illness.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 15, as follows:

An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued requiring the commission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly or to the Governor and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes and making an appropriation

Whereas Petroleum oil constitutes one of the great natural resources of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the nation and

Whereas Lubricating oils gasolines and other by-products of petroleum are of necessity so generally used by the people of the Commonwealth and of the nation as to constitute them essentials of our modern civilization and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has long been a leader in the production refining marketing and distribution of petroleum and its by-products and

Whereas The prices of oils and gasoline are at present subject to wide and unpredictable fluctuations apparently dependent neither upon the normal relation of demand to supply nor the reasonable expenses of production and distribution but seemingly upon intense and frequently uneconomical competition in the oil industry in the course of which prices are seemingly capriciously raised or lowered by the refiners of oil and gasolines in an attempt to dominate their industry and

Whereas The operation of the whole oil industry within this Commonwealth daily affects the lives welfare and well-being of its citizens and is indispensible to the flow of commerce within the Commonwealth and

Whereas The public has a vital interest in the economical operation of the oil industry to the end that lubricating oils gasolines and other by-products are efficiently supplied to the people at fair prices consistent with the reasonable cost of production and distribution and

Whereas The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is invested with the full legislative power of the Commonwealth under and by virtue of Article II Section 1 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and thereunder has ample authority to obtain knowledge of facts and information needful in the rightful and intelligent exercise of the legislative power and

Whereas The General Assembly is desirous of obtaining all proper information and knowledge of facts with respect to the whole operation of the oil industry and its component parts within the Commonwealth in order to predicate any possible future legislation and

Whereas It is the desire and purpose of the General Assembly to create a commission which shall procure such facts and information for and on behalf of the General Assembly and report thereon with recommendations if any now therefore

Section 1 There is hereby created a commission to consist of five competent members which shall be known as the Oil Industry Investigation Commission which shall exist and function as an agency of the General Assembly for the purpose of making a careful impartial and thorough investigation into the operation of the oil industry within the Commonwealth and to make a report of its findings and recommendations

Section 2 Three of the five members of the commission shall be appointed by the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in making said appointments one of the members thereof shall be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and shall be a member of the Senate at the time of his appointment one of the members shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and shall be a member of the House of Representatives at the time of his appointment one of the said five members shall be designated chairman by the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in making such designation The members of said commission are hereby constituted agents and deputies of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purposes herein stated

Section 3 The said commission acting for and on behalf of the General Assembly shall serve without compensation and shall make a careful thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the whole oil industry and its by-products in the Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasolines to the people of this Commonwealth at reasonable prices not inconsistent with the fair costs of production and distribution the said commission shall have power to inquire into any abuses evils or unfair trade practices which it may find to exist within the Commonwealth for the purpose of making report thereof to the General Assembly as herein provided

Section 4 The said commission acting for and on behalf of the General Assembly shall have power to meet hold hearings and make its investigations whether or not the General Assembly is in special or regular session or is in adjournment The commission shall ascertain and report to the General Assembly as soon as possible its findings with respect to the operation of the oil industry within the Commonwealth and its recommendations if any as to any legislation which may be needful to correct any abuses evils or unfair or improper trade practices found to exist and connected with the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth which are found to be prejudicial to the interests of its citizens Provided however That if the General Assembly be not in session at the time of the completion of the report and recommendations of the commission the commission shall then submit its report and recommendations to the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in receiving the same and shall submit said report to the General Assembly when it convenes in session thereafter

Section 5 The commission shall have the power to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any proper person corporation partnership or association to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters with respect to the oil industry in the Commonwealth inquired into by the commission for and on behalf of the General Assembly and to procure such books papers records and documents as the commission may deem necessary Such subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum may be served upon any proper person corporation partnership or association and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth or by the General Assembly itself Each member of the commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmation to witnesses appearing before the commission

Section 6 If any person corporation partnership or association wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the commission or to produce any books papers records or documents subpoenaed by the commission the commission or any member thereof shall file a petition with a court of common pleas having competent jurisdiction over said person corporation partnership or association setting forth such facts The said court of common pleas or a judge thereof shall thereupon issue a rule upon said person corporation partnership or association returnable no less than five nor more than seven days from service thereof commanding said person corporation partnership or association to appear before said court and show cause why the subpoena subpoena duces tecum or similar order of said commission shall not be complied with

If said person corporation partnership or association upon the return day of said rule to show cause is or are unable to show legal cause why the subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission should not be complied with the said court of common pleas shall forthwith enter an order of court directing said person corporation partnership or association to comply with the terms of the said subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission If thereupon such person corporation partnership or association shall refuse or fail to comply with the said order of court the said court of common pleas shall forthwith adjudge said person corporation partnership or association to be in contempt of court and such person corporation partnership or association shall thereupon forthwith be subject to the penalties provided by the Commonwealth in such cases Provided further That if any subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission is deemed invalid by the court the commission is authorized to issue a proper subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order against such person corporation partnership or association

Section 7 The said commission may employ and fix the compensation of such counsel experts clerks and assistants as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the commission

Section 8 The sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the commission for the payment of the expenses of the members and for the payment of the compensation and expenses of counsel experts clerks and assistants of the commission for postage telegraph and telephone charges for the use of automobiles for witness fees allowed by the commission for supplies and printing and for all other expenses deemed necessary and proper by the commission

And said bill havinng been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1938. No. 10.

SENATE

MONDAY, August 8, 1938.

The Senate met at 8:00 o'clock, P. M. (E. S. T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty One, our strength and song, because Thou art our defense the rock of our salvation we shall not be moved. We thank Thee our heavenly Father for the presence with us this evening of one who has been laid aside with illness and has come back to us in vigor and in strength. We would remember at this time our venerable Dean of this body. We thank Thee for the good tidings that come concerning him that he is rising above the weight of years and the hand of affliction.

Our Father Thy guiding hand hath brought us to this hour and place. Lift up we pray Thee the light of Thy countenance and we shall be glad of Thy Presence.

We pray at this time for our beloved nation, for our Commonwealth for our ministers and leaders of State for this Assembly, for these Senators and those who labor here, grant Our Father, that we may strive to give unto Thee our best and that we may be worthy of Thy best.

On forward path, with upward look, we go on our way. Help us all here and now to dedicate ourselves to the cause, as Thou, Oh God! givest us to know the right. We dedicate ourselves to the helpless and the forgotten ever remembering that the fear of man bringeth a snare but whosoever putteth his trust in the Lord shall be safe. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

NOMINATION RECALLED

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, August 8, 1938.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In accordance with the power and authority vested in me as Governor of the Commonwealth, I do hereby recall my nomination made to your Honorable Body under date of July 28, 1938, for the appointment of Mr. Phillip Shay, Williamsport, Lycoming County, as a member of the Lycoming County Board of Assistance.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move that at the request of His Excellency, the Governor the foregoing nomination for appointment as a member of the Lycoming County Board of Assistance be returned to the Governor.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has just been informed that the nomination of Mr. Phillip Shay of Williamsport was referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations and is now in that Committee. Therefore, the action of the Senate granting the request of the Governor is declared out of order and the request of the Governor is referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public which were laid on the table.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, last week in connection with the discussion on the request made for a hearing on the four bills with reference to the legislative investigation the question arose as to the authority of Mr. John H.

Light of the Grange who, on behalf of the Grange, requested a hearing. I understand that each Senator has on his desk a letter from Mr. Boak, Master of the Pennsylvania State Grange, which, with the Senate's permission I desire to read at this time, that it may become a part of the record of this session. The letter is as follows:

PENNSYLVANIA STATE GRANGE
PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY

New Castle, Pa., August 2, 1938.

Honorable G. Mason Owlett
State Senator of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Senator Owlett:

Noting that Senator Thompson of Centre County while addressing the Senate on July 29 questioned the authority of our Legislative Representative, John H. Light, to represent the Pennsylvania State Grange in legislative matters, it is evident Senator Thompson is not informed on Grange matters and, therefore, in justice to the Grange and for the information of the members of the State Senate, I wish to state:—

First, that since 1873 the Pennsylvania State Grange has been represented at Harrisburg in legislative matters, and Mr. Light is now, and has been, the duly authorized Legislative Representative of the Pennsylvania State Grange for the last twelve years. He has full authority to speak for the State Grange at all times.

Second, the Pennsylvania State Grange is a truly representative body and the work of Mr. Light is approved by Subordinate and Pomona Grange delegates. These delegates compose the legislative body of the Order and their acts in annual session become the policies of the State Grange and a policy once adopted by the State Grange remains the policy of the Order until modified by subsequent action of the State Grange in annual meeting.

Third, the Pennsylvania State Grange has always been interested in good government and our request for a public hearing last Friday was based upon the action of the State Grange at the annual convention last November:

"When the fundamental law of the government is attacked, we may expect to find the Organization in the front rank of defense, as has been seen frequently."

Fourth, the Grange is the oldest and largest farm organization in the nation, with a membership of 67,000 in Pennsylvania. At the National Capitol, as well as at State Legislatures generally, the Grange is recognized as the leader in agriculture.

I trust this letter will clarify the situation as clouded by Senator Thompson and that we may continue to be accorded the usual privileges given to organizations and individuals, to present the adopted policies of the Pennsylvania State Grange. Thanking you, I beg to remain

Very truly yours,

J. A. BOAK, Master
Pennsylvania State Grange

The PRESIDENT. The statement will be made a matter of record.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. We will now hear from the Senator on Agriculture, Mr. Thompson, who will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I think the Master of the State Grange, Mr. Boak, has gone entirely afield in this controversy and is making a sort of tempest in a tea pot. Reiterating the words that I made on the floor of the Senate the week before last, in response to Mr. Light's letter, what I said was that the Senate of Pennsylvania should not delay its action on any measures of legislation on account of any communication bearing the name of John Light on account of the fact that he had at different times in the past four years presumed upon the patience of this Senate and had misrepresented his position more than once before one House or the other of this legislative body. I still insist that it is a fact, and if called upon, I feel confident that it can be established by reference at different times during the past few years to the Journal of one House or the other.

The Master of the Grange, as I say, has raised a sort of tempest in a tea pot over this situation. He has written to every member of the Senate, I believe, concerning the position of Mr. Light. Nobody doubts the fact that Mr. Light is still the legislative representative of the Grange and as long as Mr. Light does not try to deceive either of the legislative bodies he will receive the consideration that any legislative representative is entitled to. I was surprised nad astounded last week to find that the Master of the State Grange, professing the interest that he has in public matters, did not know who the Senator from his own Senatorial district was. Senator Eroe brought me a letter addressed to him from the Master of the State Grange. We all know that Senator Eroe served a number of years in the lower house very creditably before coming into the Senate. The Master of the State Grange, although coming from his own County, did not know the name of the Senator that represented him, this man who professes such a tremendous influence and such a tremendous interest in public matters.

I would just like these remarks to appear on the record in conjunction with the offering of the letter by the Senator from Tioga.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, pursuant to the joint resolution adopted and approved on the 9th day of March, 1937, and known as Act Number 11 (P. L. 35) and amended on July 2, 1937 (P. L. 2703) I have the honor to present the report of the Joint Legislative Commission to investigate the criminal justice practice and procedure, and probation and parole of persons guilty of crime.

Along with this report we have deposited with the Attorney General's office the files approximating 13,000 pages of sworn testimony to substantiate the statements made in this report. The report has been distributed to every member of the House and Senate, every newspaper in Pennsylvania, every judge and district attorney, and to the public libraries. I ask that the report be filed.

The PRESIDENT. The report of the Ruth Commission will be received and filed.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, owing to the fact that I was not present at the hearings held by the Ruth Commission, and consequently did not have the opportunity to see the witnesses or hear their testimony, I have deemed it advisable not to sign the final report that has just been filed, But, in my failure to do so, I do not want to be understood as in any way reflecting upon the action of the committee or on its final report.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

MR. BUCKMAN Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

THE PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his question of personal privilege.

MR. BUCKMAN. Through illness and the advice of my physician, I was obliged to be absent during the first two weeks of this session. I regret this very much and I greatly appreciate the action of my colleagues in granting me a leave of absence. During my 28 years of service in this Senate, I have never been absent before but for two weeks. One week I was in the hospital and the other week I got married.

Had I been present, I would have, however, Mr. President, voted with my Republican colleagues on the bills that passed this Legislature. I feel that there were enough unconstitutional measures passed at the Session of 1937 without passing any more at this special session.

BILL INTRODUCED

Messrs. RUPP and RODGERS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 34, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by adding thereto section twenty.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 14, entitled:

An Act providing for the adjournment and re-adjournment of county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands that were to have been held in the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven or one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, for nonpayment of taxes in counties except those of the first and second class, and preserving the lien of all taxes on such lands.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—39

Barthold,	Frey,	Lanius,	Reed
Bean,	Gelder,	Law,	Rodgers,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 20, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on city and school taxes in cities of the first class and school districts of the first class

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILLS POSTPONED

Mr. SHAPIRO, Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. RODGERS, Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO, Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 15 on second reading, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county, city (except city of the first class), borough, town, township, school district (except school district of the first class), and poor district taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period; and preserving certain tax liens, and providing for the extension thereof.

be postponed for the present.

Mr. KILGALLEN, Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 30, on second reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the compromise of delinquent taxes on lands and the penalties interest and costs due thereon before a tax sale of such lands and providing the procedure in such case.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REQUEST TO PUT BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 32 on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections two and five of and to add section three and one-tenth to the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717), entitled "An act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment term of office and manner of filling vacancies" further regulating the term of office of such officers and employes and the compensation of certain officers and employes

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 32, Printer's No. 17, is not on the desks of the Senators and therefore no action can be taken on it.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I withdraw my request that the bill go over in its order.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill

No. 32, on second reading, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 33 (House Bill No. 15), as follows:

An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued requiring the commission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly or to the Governor and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes and making an appropriation

Whereas Petroleum oil constitutes one of the great natural resources of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and of the nation and

Whereas Lubricating oils gasolines and other by-products of petroleum are of necessity so generally used by the people of the Commonwealth and of the nation as to constitute them essentials of our modern civilization and

Whereas The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has long been a leader in the production refining marketing and distribution of petroleum and its by-products and

Whereas The prices of oils and gasoline are at present subject to wide and unpredictable fluctuations apparently dependent neither upon the normal relation of demand to supply nor the reasonable expenses of production and distribution but seemingly upon intense and frequently uneconomical competition in the oil industry in the course of which prices are seemingly capriciously raised or lowered by the refiners of oils and gasolines in an attempt dominate their industry and

Whereas The operation of the whole oil industry within this Commonwealth daily affects the lives welfare and well-being of its citizens and is indispensible to the flow of commerce within the Commonwealth and

Whereas the public has a vital interest in the economical operation of the oil industry to the end that lubricating oils gasolines and other by-products are efficiently supplied to the people at fair prices consistent with the reasonable cost of production and distribution and

Whereas The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is invested with the full legislative power of the Commonwealth under and by virtue of Article II Section 1 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and thereunder has ample authority to obtain knowledge of facts and information needful in the rightful and intelligent exercise of the legislative power and

Whereas The General Assembly is desirous of obtaining all proper information and knowledge of facts with respect to the whole operation of the oil industry and its component parts within the Commonwealth in order to predicate any possible future legislation and

Whereas It is the desire and purpose of the General Assembly to create a commission which shall procure such facts and information for and on behalf of the General Assembly and report thereon with recommendations if any now therefore

Section 1 There is hereby created a commission to consist of five competent members which shall be known as the Oil Industry Investigation Commission which shall exist and function as an agency of the General Assembly for the purpose of making a careful impartial and thorough investigation into the operation of the oil industry within the Commonwealth and to make a report of its findings and recommendations

Section 2 Three of the five members of the commission shall be appointed by the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in making said appointments one of the members thereof shall be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate and shall be a member of the Senate at the time of his appointment one of the members shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and shall be a member of the House of Representatives at the time of his appointment one of the said five members shall be designated chairman by the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in making such designation The members of said commission are hereby constituted agents and deputies of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the purposes herein stated

Section 3 The said commission acting for and on behalf of the General Assembly shall serve without compensation and shall make a careful thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the whole oil industry and its by-products in the Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasolines to the people of this Commonwealth at reasonable prices not inconsistent with the fair costs of production and distribution the said commission shall have power to inquire into any abuses evils or unfair trade practices which it may find to exist within the Commonwealth for the purpose of making report thereof to the General Assembly as herein provided

Section 4 The said commission acting for and on behalf of the General Assembly shall have power to meet hold hearings and make its investigations whether or not the General Assembly is in special or regular session or is in adjournment The commission shall ascertain and report to the General Assembly as soon as possible its findings with respect to the operation of the oil industry within the Commonwealth and its recommendations if any as to any legislation which may be needful to correct any abuses evils or unfair or improper trade practices found to exist and connected with the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth which are found to be prejudicial to the interests of its citizens Provided however That if the General Assembly be not in session at the time of the completion of the report and recommendations of the commission the commission shall then submit its report and recommendations to the Governor who shall act as the agent of the General Assembly in receiving the same and shall submit said report to the General Assembly when it convenes in session thereafter

Section 5 The commission shall have power to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any proper person corporation partnership or association to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters with respect to the oil industry in the Commonwealth inquired into by the commission for and on behalf of the General Assembly and to procure such books papers records and documents as the commission may deem necessary Such subpoenas or subpoenas duces tecum may be served upon any proper person corporation partnership or association and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth or by the General Assembly itself Each member of the commission shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmation to witnesses appearing before the commission

Section 6 If any person corporation partnership or association wilfully neglects or refuses to testify before the commission or to produce any books papers records or documents subpoenaed by the commission the commission or any member thereof shall file a petition with a court of common pleas having competent jurisdiction over said person corporation partnership or association setting forth such facts The said court of common pleas or a judge thereof shall thereupon issue a rule upon said person corporation partnership or association returnable no less than five nor more than seven days from service thereof commanding said person corporation partnership or association to appear before said court and show cause why the subpoena subponea duces tecum or similar order of said commission shall not be complied with

If said person corporation partnership or association upon the return day of said rule to show cause is or are unable to show legal cause why the subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission should not be complied with the said court of common pleas shall forthwith enter an order of court directing said person corporation partnership or association to comply with the terms of the said subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission If thereupon such person corporation partnership or association shall refuse or fail to comply with the said order of court the said court of common pleas shall forthwith adjudge said person corporation partnership or association to be in contempt of court and such person corporation partnership or association shall thereupon forthwith be subject to the penalties provided by the Commonwealth in such cases Provided further That if any subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order of the commission is deemed invalid by the court the commission is authorized to issue a proper subpoena subpoena duces tecum or order against such person corporation partnership or association

Section 7 The said commission may employ and fix the compensation of such counsel experts clerks and assistants as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the commission

Section 8 The sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the commission for the payment of the expenses of the members and for the payment of the compensation and expenses of counsel experts clerks and assistants of the commission for postage telegraph and telephone charges for the use of automobiles for witness fees allowed by the commission for supplies and printing and for all other expenses deemed necessary and proper by the commission

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, August 8, 1938.

The House met at 8:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

DEATH OF MEMBER ANNOUNCED

The SPEAKER. The Chair announces with profound sorrow the death this morning of the Honorable Francis T. Baker, a Member of this House from the County of Union since 1927.

The Chair requests as a mark of respect that the Members remain standing with heads bowed until the gavel falls after the prayer by the Chaplain.

PRAYER

The Chaplin, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

All wise and ever gracious Father, as we resume our duties on this new week day, we call upon Thee to bless our great Commonwealth, our Governor, the Speaker of this House and every member.

We call to mind, Heavenly Father, that one fellow member, has "gone the way of all the earth". We pray in behalf of all members who cherish his memory, and in behalf of his sorrowing family. We know "it is appointed unto man once to die", yet death is accompanied with sorrow and regrets to friends and loved ones. Thou art the one who alone can comfort and it is to Thee we turn for solace. May the memory of the departed, the good he did, keep our minds filled with joy, and the spirit of his life ever move us to high ideals and good service.

In Christ name, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Thursday, August 4, 1938.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Thursday, August 4, 1938, when, on motion of Mr. FLANAGAN the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: On the insistence of a constituent, I feel compelled to read to this House for identification another "Dear Oswald" letter.

"Dear Oswald:

"In the last letter I wrote to you I was tellin you about some of the troubles with milk inspectors and our outdoor utilities and then we was having trouble with the fellows who used to be Republicans and crawled on the Democratic band wagon so they wouldn't have to walk. Well we still have the milk inspectors to worry about and we still have the Band-wagon Republicans but the WPA is takin care of our Chick Sale troubles as fast as they can get to them. All over the country you can see these monuments of grey standing in memory of Mark Twain's "Old Back House."

"I see by the papers that you are having an investigation of the Democrats. The Republicans started one several months ago to get their names in the paper and now the Democrats has started one and they are gettin the same names in the paper that was there before. I think you Republicans has played a dirty trick on the Democrats some how because the investigation is advertisin Shelley and Margiotti all the time and not gettin no investigatin done.

"Margiotti got a lot of advertisin out of this stuff last Spring and now these fellows is stirrin up a lot more by showin how he joined up with your Republican caucus at Morgans house and showed you how to put the show across. First thing you know Charlie will be runnin on a sticker campaign for Governor again with all the free advertisin he is gettin, and Shelley will get a free ticket for the Senate or District Attorney or maybe Auditor General. You never can tell what that free advertisin will do and the way this investigatin committee is workin Margiotti and Shelly is gettin all of it.

"Well this investigatin committee idea is all right. No woman ever got a reputation for bein a bad house keeper by havin a Spring house cleanin and gettin the rugs and things out on the clothes line for a good airin. It wasn't no confession of carelessness for her to clean out the dirt once or twice a year. It is goin to be a whole lot better for the Democrats to do their own housecleaning than to let the Republicans do it for them providin the Democrats can get some of the free advertisin the other fellows has been gettin. It aint goin to hurt the Democrats if they find some dirt neither. Every body expects to find dirt when they start house cleanin. Even if all the Democrats is clean they kept enough Republicans in office to learn the Democrats all the tricks and since the old place didn't have a house cleanin in 40 years them Republicans that hung on to their old jobs could learn the Democrats a plenty.

"We mind how Witkin started out investigatin the Highway Department when Sam Lewis wanted to get the goods on Pinchot. Well about the time he got the windows open and started to dust off the piano the whole job was called off and the neighbors didn't even have a chance to see how much dirt was swept under the bed. Over our way we want to see this house cleanin go on and we don't want to have the committee stop when they get the Democratic dirt swept out. We want to see the floors scraped and the closets cleaned so that we know if we done right four years ago when we yelled "throw the rascals out."

"Speaking about four years ago we give Charlie Margiotti a lot of dirt to spill on you fellows—that is we gathered up all the dirt that was stickin out the windows. We gathered up a battered and disgusted Republican to go along with Charlie to nod his head when Charlie would spill a nice armful of dirt and say "that is the truth." Well that act went across big every place it was showed and when Charlie had done his act and our witness had done his noddin Charlie would take a big bow and say "Now ladies and gentlemen, just elect us Democrats and we will throw the rascals out and put the Republicans in jail as quick as you can say Jack Robinson." Now Charlie didn't put them Republicans in jail and we would like that house cleanin committee to dig up that old dirt and put them Republicans in jail at the same time that they put our Democrats in. There ain't nothing like treatin everybody alike.

'Now Oswald I think our Democrats could learn a lesson from your mistakes. You know when us Democrats started to get after John McClure and almost got him in jail you fellows all got around him and tried to hide him. You didn't join in with the Democrats and try to clean house and you didn't start no investigatin committee or try to impeach him on nothin. You even got mad at a Senator when he made a speech about him and called him names that you couldn't live down today if our Democrats would stop advertisin Shelley and Margiotti and get to diggin for dirt.

"It ain't goin to hurt us to get investigated by the grand jury or the investigatin committee. Even if the things that Margiotti say is true they ain't no worse than the things he said about you Republicans and if we get a half dozen Democrats that will make our party that much stronger because you fellows still have yours circulatin the smear you.

"I don't see why the Democrats is waiting for this investigation committee to get started before they open this campaign. Nobody over here thinks George Earle stole anything and the folks over in Perry County say that Charlie Jones wouldn't steal nothing so I don't see why they don't get their heads together and get them a chauffer like "Caesars wife" and start out campaignin. People is going to forget all about the good us Democrats done if someone don't pipe down on Shelley and Margiotti. It is abut time that us Democrats get some free advertisin.

"We don't stop producin milk as soon as our herd gets a dose of Bangs Disease. If the State Inspector comes and condemns a cow or two they go to the bucher and the suspicious ones go into quarantine until they get another blood test. The healthy ones keep right on making money for us until we find out how the suspicious ones react.

"Now if George and Charlie Jones need votes as bad as we need money they will do exactly the same thing. They will put the suspicious ones in quarantine until the committee and the grand jury run them blood tests and then go out over this state to tell the people the good we done in three and a half years. If a half dozzen Democrats and a half dozzen Republicans get caught because of the dirt that comes out of this house cleaning our party won't suffer because we will get credit for cleaning our own house and you will still have John McClure.

Hopefully yours,

HIRAM."

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. FISS offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

In the House of Representatives, August 8, 1938.

The Honorable Francis T. Baker, one of the ranking Republican Members of the House of Representatives, and a generally well liked veteran of six regular, and seven special sessions, passed away suddenly at the Geisinger Hospital early this morning, where he had been a patient for some days, after being stricken with illness during attendance on the present legislative session.

Mr. Baker was born and reared in Union County, which he represented as Legislator. Popular with all of his constituents, he was particularly the friend of the farmers with whom he had come in contact during a long career as salesman of farm implements and machinery; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House express its deep-felt sorrow over the loss of an able and conscientious colleague, and make suitable note thereof on the minutes of this session; and be it further

Resolved, That a committee of seven Members of this House, to be appointed by the Speaker, be designated to represent the House of Representatives at the funeral of the Honorable Francis T. Baker; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, properly certified, be forwarded to the widow of the deceased.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1938. No. 11.

SENATE

TUESDAY, August 9, 1938.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock P. M., (E. S. T.).

The President (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

O Thou that dwellest in the heavens, we lift up our eyes unto Thee in praise and prayer and thanksgiving—for Thou art pleased with the petitions of Thy people.

We bless Thee for the heritage of our fathers. How mightily Thou hast wrought in them! In a land of unfailing plenty, through them and under Thee, we are a free people except for the manacles which we have forged for ourselves.

By the calendars of time we are even now a young nation—and we believe the greatest is yet to come, if we serve and honor Thee. Forbid, Oh God! that evil ways shall bring upon us our sunset at our noon-tide! but lead us in the path of Thine own high purpose.

We ask and pray Thee for that wisdom that is from above, that we may ponder the path of our feet—for the the path of the just is as a perfect and shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The President—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HUFFMAN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public which were laid on the table.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. HUFFMAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 9, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, August 15, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and that when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, August 15, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

RESOLUTION GRANTING USE OF SENATE CHAMBER FOR PUBLIC HEARING ON HOUSE BILL No. 17.

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 9, 1938.

Resolved, That the use of the Senate Chamber be given to the Committee on Labor and Industry, on Tuesday afternoon, at two o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, for the purpose of a public hearing on Senate Bill No. 31 (House Bill No. 17), amending Workmen's Compensation Act of 1915. P. L. 736.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING CERTAIN INFORMATION OF THE RUTH JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMISSION

Mr. KUNKEL offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, August 9, 1938.

Whereas, The Ruth Commission, reporting on the administration of criminal justice, reveals disregard or ignorance of the law, chicanery, trickery and defiance of the constitutional rights of individuals on the part of some Philadelphia courts covered by its investigation; and

Whereas, This Commission also reports "that the only sure protection . . . is the character and integrity of our justice officers;" and

Whereas, This report thus reflects upon Philadelphia courts and judges in general, since it fails to reveal names, cite instances or state facts in support of its findings; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Ruth Commission be requested to report forthwith in detail the facts, naming courts, cases and judges involved in arbitrary, illegal and underhand acts in violation of the law and the constitutional rights of citizens.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection and the resolution is referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

EMPLOYE OF THE SENATE

Mr. JACOBS, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 9, 1938.

Resolved that Wadsworth S. Stutts of Mifflin, Juniata County, be elected a page of the Senate, vice Earl Foster Crawford, resigned.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 33 (House Bill No. 15), entitled:

An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate, efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth, conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas and conferring upon the courts of common pleas power to enforce obedience to subpoenas so issued, requiring the commission to make a report of its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly or to the Governor and authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I wish to speak in opposition to this bill. I am not opposed to this bill if it can be shown me that the sponsor of this measure will undertake amendments that may justify its enactment.

First, it is a useless bill. The sponsors of the bill would make us believe that this act will cure the so-called iniquities of the petroleum industry and that gas will be sold very much cheaper than it is now being sold. The price today of gasoline is about six and one-half cents, or rather the cost of production wholesale. The state tax is three cents, the federal tax is one cent, making something like ten and one-half cents. This is not including its distribution, freight, or the local dealers.

Mr. President, this bill is a nuisance bill. One of the large independent oil companies in my district kept their office force the entire time for about two months at the previous hearing. We have received two questionnaires and a great many questions are being asked that we have no record of because we have never kept records. It is a great nuisance to us; one of these questionnaires is fifteen pages and the other is sixteen pages long.

This bill is an expensive bill. We appropriated eighteen or twenty thousand dollars for this Commission's expenses. I am not concerned about the large companies or industries, but I am concerned about the small producers and oil people who constitute about sixty per cent of the producers of oil. The sixty per cent that I represent I am very much concerned about, and I think that this Oil Commission bill will impede legislation and I hope that the Senate will vote against this measure.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, in regard to this bill I would like to call the attention of the gentlemen of the Senate to the fact that the purpose of this bill is to carry out a purpose which we had at the last session, but the Courts determined that the bill, because it happens to be in its particular form a joint resolution rather than a bill, was not sufficient.

After the investigation was begun some very interesting facts were learned about the oil business. So long as the Committee only touched the little fellows nothing was said, but by the time they started to get to a position where they were stepping on the toes of the Pews and the other big oil leaders of Pennsylvania, those special privileges that we have heard so much about, these big fellows stepped in and got action from the Court to stop the Commission from sitting. As soon as the Court had determined that the Act was unconstitutional, immediately prices were reduced to the oil producers. They received less money and the old practices which had been stopped in the matter of unfair competition between refiners and small independent gasoline dealers were resumed.

Throughout the entire State there is a chaotic condition in the oil and gasoline industry which can only be stopped by the completion of the investigation which was begun and which we are by this bill proposing to continue. I ask that all the members join in voting for this bill which will bring respectability and order to the oil industry of Pennsylvania.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, this bill, House Bill No. 15, was introduced to correct, as the Senator from Mercer told you, the objection of the Supreme Court to having the Commission created by a resolution instead of an act. If the gentlemen of the House will recall, last Spring a year ago when the Oil Commission was created, it was created as it has always been done heretofore in the history of the Commonwealth, and has never been challenged,—by a joint resolution.

The Cities Service Oil Company took exception to the Act and the Supreme Court declared the Commission out of order on account of the fact that it was created by a resolution and not an act. Probably two-thirds of the work of this Commission has been done. The material, the information and all that sort of thing is lying in the Commission's old offices in Pittsburgh, uncompiled and unedited. This is a tremendous loss of valuable information that has been accumulated on the oil industry in Pennsylvania, which of course will not amount to anything unless it is compiled. The Commission held hearings constantly for months and all this testimony is there. Were the Commission revived by this bill, all of that could be edited and compiled and analyzed and a report made to the Governor and to the Legislature, as the bill provides.

The appropriation which is called for in the bill is only the unexpended balance of the original appropriation and against that the Commission has a number of bills which are as yet unpaid. A large portion of the appropriation as called for in this bill is represented by the Commission's bills which are as yet unpaid, and the balance will be sufficient to carry on the work of the Commission and complete it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he was a member of the commission which was halted in its work.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I was a member, yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator be willing to inform the Senate as to the employees, and expenditures that have been made to date by this Commission that was unconstitutionally formed?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I can't give you that exact data. There are some of the employees of the Commission, principally the executive employees, who have not drawn their salaries for compensation up to date. The executive secretary, I believe, drew no compensation after the litigation began and many accounts of the commission are unpaid. The Commission has the expenses of the litigation, and its counsel, the expense of printing the papers, and that sort of thing. I would imagine although I want it to be clearly understood that I don't attempt to give accurate information, but I believe that about seven or eight thousand dollars worth of bills of the Commission remain unpaid.

Mr. OWLETT Mr. President, will the Senator inform the Senate as to the number of employees of this Commission?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would imagine that the number of employees would be about ten, including counsel for the Commission.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator give us the names of the counsel and the other employees that were employed by the Commission?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the counsel for the Commission were Mr. William Litke of Bellefonte and Mr. John H. Fertig of Harrisburg.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator advise us the salary that they were to be paid?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, Mr. Litke and Mr. Fertig both received two hundred and fifty dollars a month.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, will the Senator give us the names and the salaries of the rest of the employes of this Commission?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, Dr. Ross, the executive secretary of the Commission,—who has helped in work of this nature which was done by the French Government a number of years ago when they made their survey and made their regulatory legislation in connection with the wine industry in France,—I believe I am correct when I say he was paid at the rate of four thousand dollars a year. The rest of the help of the Commission was stenographic, secretarial, telephone operators etc.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator one more question, whether or not this is a detailed statement of the expenses thus far and whether the unpaid bills could not be furnished by this Commission to the Senate before we act on this measure.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would say that they could if the Senator from Tioga had acted with diligence when he saw this bill up for first reading last week, and made that inquiry last week or made that request last night when the bill was up on second reading. I think the Senator is being unfair to the Commission and the Senate when he comes in here when the bill is on final passage and asks for a detailed statement, when he could have made that request a week ago.

REQUEST TO PUT BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, we on this side of the Senate have come to expect such a charge from the Senator from Centre, and the questioning of motives whenever any of us arise in matters in which he is involved, so that to be accused of unfairness is nothing more than expected when any such question is raised. However, I believe that before this Senate acts on the bill we ought to have the facts on the amount of money expended and the amount of unpaid bills and all the other data. We were asked to appropriate fifty thousand dollars, and thirty thousand dollars has already been illegally expended, and I ask that the bill go over in order.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, if the Senator from Tioga will wait five minutes I will have the information.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, all I ask is that it go over in order until we have the information.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to the motion that the bill go over in its order generally. If the Senator means that this go over until the end of the calendar today I am perfectly satisfied.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that it go over in its order until the Senate has its information as to what has been expended and as to the unpaid bills, the detailed information. If the information can be gotten in half an hour that is all the time needed.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the Senator from Tioga has seen this bill on the calendar for a week I object to the bill going over.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move that the question together with further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Shapiro and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—14.

Bean,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Scarlett,
Buckman,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Wolfenden.
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Woodward.
Deitrick,	Lanius,

NAYS—26.

Barthold,	Gilson.	Kunkel,	Rupp,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Law.	Ruth.
Dando,	Henney.	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Dent,	Huffman,	Pytko,	Sipe,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Eroe,	Kahle,	Rodgers,	Thompson,
Frey,	Kilgallen,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—26.

Barthold,	Gilson.	Kunkel,	Rupp,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Law.	Ruth,
Dando,	Henney,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Dent,	Huffman,	Pytko,	Sipe,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Eroe,	Kahle,	Rodgers,	Thompson,
Frey,	Kilgallen,

NAYS—14.

Bean,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Scarlett,
Buckman,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Wolfenden,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Woodward,
Deitrick,	Lanius,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 27, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the eleventh day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred eighty-seven) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Welfare to determine the legal residence of indigent insane feeble-minded and epileptic persons returned to this Commonwealth by the authorities of another State or transferred from one poor district to another by the department and requiring the proper district to pay the costs of the care and treatment of such persons in accordance with the laws relating to indigent insane persons" by relieving poor districts of certain costs and placing such costs on the Commonwealth

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the eleventh day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred eighty-seven) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Welfare to determine the legal residence of indigent insane feeble-minded and epileptic persons returned to this Commonwealth by the authorities of another State or transferred from one poor district to another by the department and requiring the proper district to pay the costs of the care and treatment of such persons in accordance with the laws relating to indigent insane persons" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The [poor district wherein the legal residence of such person is so fixed by the Department of Welfare] Commonwealth shall be liable for the costs of the care and treatment of such person [in the same amount and shall guarantee the payment thereof and shall pay the same in the same manner as provided by law in like cases when the legal residence is admitted by the poor district such liability on the part of the poor district shall continue as in other cases unless and until the legal residence of such poor person is otherwise judicially determined]

Section 2 This act shall become effective the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President. I move that Senate Bill No. 27, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on City Government, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President. I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 26, as follows:

An Act relating to [illegible] institution districts [illegible] ment of mental patients [illegible] such institutions to the Commonwealth providing for the management and operation [illegible] closing thereof and the maintenance of mental patients therein conferring and imposing upon the Governor and the Department of Welfare and counties cities and institution districts certain powers and duties prohibiting cities counties and institution districts from maintaining and operating institutions in whole or in part for the care and treatment of mental patients and repealing inconsistent laws

Whereas experience has proven that the care and maintenance of indigent mentally ill persons should be centralized in the State Government in order to insure their proper and uniform care maintenance custody safety and welfare and

Whereas complete care for such persons in institutions operated exclusively by the State Government will effect great economies for municipal subdivisions

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 2 It shall be unlawful hereafter for any county city or institution district to operate or maintain in whole or in part any existing institution for the care of mental patients or thereafter to begin to operate or manage any institution in whole or in part for this purpose Provided however That the county city or institution district having charge of any such existing institution shall continue to operate and manage the same under existing laws until the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth with the approval of the Governor formally takes over the management and operation of such institution or formally closes such institution in the manner hereinafter prescribed in this act

Section 3 The Department of Welfare shall promptly make an investigation and survey of the institutions hereby transferred to the Commonwealth for the purpose of determining (1) which of the institutions are necessary having regard to the number of persons requiring care and treatment because of mental illness and the geographic location and capacity of other such mental hospitals and (2) which of the institutions having regard to existing facilities may be operated by the Commonwealth in such a manner as to insure the proper maintenance custody safety and welfare of mental patients Upon the completion of its investigation and survey the Department of Welfare shall submit to the Governor a report setting forth its findings and recommendations with respect to the institutions deemed necessary and suitable for the care maintenance and treatment of mental patients and the institutions deemed unnecessary or unsuitable for this purpose Upon receiving the report of the Department of Welfare the Governor shall from time to time but not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine having regard to the standards of necessity and suitability hereinbefore set out in this section determine which of the institutions shall be managed and operated by the Commonwealth as State mental hospitals and which institutions if any shall be closed Provided however That the Governor shall direct the Department of Welfare to take over the management and operation of the Philadelphia Hospital for Mental Diseases at Byberry as soon as practicable after the effective date of this act and before the completion of the investigation and survey hereinbefore required in this section Before the management and operation of any institution is taken over by the Department of Welfare the Governor shall issue his proclamation setting forth the date on which the Department of Welfare will take over the management and operation of the institution In the event it shall be determined that a particular institution is to be closed the Governor shall issue a proclamation setting forth the date on which such institution will be closed The original of any such proclamation shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and a copy thereof shall be furnished the county city or institution district authorities having charge of such institution

Section 4 Each institution subject to this act which the Governor shall direct the Department of Welfare to operate and manage shall be operated and managed by such department as a State mental hospital in accordance with the laws of the Commonwealth relating to such hospitals The Department of Welfare in managing and operating any such institution shall have all the powers and perform all the duties vested in and imposed upon boards of trustees of State mental hospitals by the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-seven) and its amendments designated as The Administrative Code of one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine All mental patients in any such institution at the time the management and operation thereof is assumed by the Department of Welfare shall have the same status as if originally committed or admitted to a State mental hospital Commitments may be made to any such institution mental patients may be detained maintained and cared for therein and transfers may be made therefrom and thereto in the same manner and in accordance with laws applying to other State mental hospitals The Department of Welfare shall have power to designate the counties of the Commonwealth from which commitments may be made to any such institution

Section 5 When the Commonwealth through the Department of Welfare assumes the control and management of any institution subject to this act the terms of all officers and employes and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of any such institution shall thereupon become employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Welfare

Section 6 In the event it shall be determined that any institution subject to this act shall be closed the Department of Welfare shall take charge of such institution and the terms of all officers and employes and the local management of such institution shall cease and terminate The officers and employes of such institution shall thereupon become the employes of the Commonwealth subject to removal by the Secretary of Welfare when their services are no longer required No new patients shall be admitted to any such institution after the date specified for its closing The Department of Welfare shall as soon as practicable transfer the patients in such institution to any other State mental hospital including any institution transferred to and being operated by the Commonwealth under this act as a State mental institution As far as practicable the department shall transfer such patients to such State mental hospital nearest to the locality in which the institution to be closed is located After the patients in such institution are transferred therefrom the Department of Welfare shall with the approval of the Governor turn the institution and its grounds over to the Department of Property and Supplies for use for any other State purpose as may be deemed necessary and advisable by the Governor

Section 7 After the effective date of this act and until the management and operation of a particular institution is formally assumed by the Department of Welfare or until a particular institution is closed under the provisions of this act but not later than the thirty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine the county city or institution district engaged in the operation and management of that institution shall continue to bear the expense of administering and operating the institution and the Commonwealth shall contribute towards the expense of indigent patients therein to the same extent and in the same manner as pertained under existing laws on the effective date of this act

Section 8 (a) All obligations incurred by reason of the erection acquisition or maintenance of a mental institution by the county city or institution district which are outstanding on the date that the Commonwealth shall take over the operation and management of such institution or shall order such institution closed shall remain the obligations of such county city or institution district and shall be paid in the same manner as though said operation and management still remained in said county city or institution district For the payment of such obligations the proper authorities of such county city or institution district shall continue to have the power to levy and collect taxes as if control and management of the institution were still vested in such county city or institution district

(b) All amounts due any county city or institution district for the care of any mental patient in any institution transferred to the Commonwealth by this act that have accrued and remain unpaid on the date that the Commonwealth shall take over the operation and management of such institution or the date such institution is closed may be collected by the county city or institution district in the same manner and to the same extent as if the control and management of the institution were still vested in such county city or institution district

Section 9 The following acts and parts of acts are hereby repealed

The act approved the twenty-fifth day of May one thousand eight hundred ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws eighty-three) entitled "An act to provide for the maintenance care and treatment of the indigent insane in county and local institutions" as amended

The act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred nine (Pamphlet Laws five hundred thirty-five) entitled "An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the maintenance care and treatment of the indigent insane in county and local institutions' approved May twenty-five one thousand eight hundred ninety seven increasing the weekly sum therein authorized to be paid from one dollar and fifty cents to two dollars"

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

Section 10 Section nine of this act shall become effective on the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine and in all other respects this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President. I move that Senate Bill No. 28, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on City Government, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 29, as follows:

An Act To amend the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred ninety-eight) entitled "An act for the prevention and treatment of mental diseases mental defect epilepsy and inebriety regulating the admission and commitment of mental patients to hospitals for mental diseases and institutions for mental defectives and epileptics governing the transfer discharge interstate rendition and deportation of mental patients providing for the payment by individuals counties or the Commonwealth of the cost of the admission care and discharge of mental patients and imposing penalties" as amended by further defining and limiting the instututions in which persons mentally ill may receive care and treatment relieving counties and poor districts of the payment of the cost of the admission care and discharge of mental patients with certain exceptions imposing such costs on the Commonwealth and repealing inconsistent laws

if the said superintendent shall be satisfied after examining the applicant that he is in need of hospital treatment and will be benefited thereby and that the mental condition of the applicant is such as to render him competent to make such application said superintendent may receive and care for the applicant in the hospital [Provided that a bond in the amount of five hundred dollars ($500.00) payable to the Commonwealth conditioned that the cost of care and maintenance of such patient be paid or in lieu thereof that an endorsement by the poor authorities of a county or poor district be furnished to the superintendent of such hospital]

Such patient shall not be detained for more than ten days after he shall have given notice in writing to the superintendent of his desire to leave said hospital but if in the opinion of the superintendent it is inadvisable to discharge such patient the said superintendent shall notify the friends or relatives of the patient or other persons liable for his support

Section 302 Whenever it shall appear that any person is mentally ill or in such condition as to be benefited by or need such care as is required by persons mentally ill the superintendent of any hospital for mental diseases may receive and detain such person on the written application of any relative or friend or the legal guardian of such person or any other responsible citizen and on the certificate of two qualified physicians that said person is mentally ill and is in need of treatment and care in a hospital for mental diseases [Provided That a bond in the amount of five hundred dollars ($500.00) payable to the Commonwealth conditioned that the cost of care and maintenance of such patient be paid or in lieu thereof that an endorsement by the poor authorities of a county or poor district be furnished to the superintendent of such hospital]

The application aforesaid shall be in the form prescribed by the department and shall state the name sex and residence of the patient the opinion that said patient is mentally ill and that care in such hospital is necessary for his benefit and the facts on which the said opinions are based and such other facts or information as may be required by the department If the facts called for or any of them are unknown to the applicant or applicants it shall be so stated in the application

In the certificate aforesaid the physicians shall each state his residence that he has resided in this State for at least three years that he has been licensed to practice medicine in this State that he has been in the actual practice of medicine for at least three years or has had at least one year's experience as physician in a hospital for mental patients that he is not related by blood or marriage to the patient or to the applicant or any of the applicants that he is not connected in any way as medical attendant or otherwise with the hospital to which application has been made for the admission of the patient that he has examined the patient with care and diligence within one week and that in his opinion the patient is mentally ill and in need of hospital care He shall further state in said certificate the information relative to the patient given him by others and the facts as to the physical and mental condition and the behavior of the patient which he has himself observed on which he bases his opinion

The aforesaid application and certificate shall be sworn to or affirmed before a judge or magistrate and said judge or magistrate shall certify to the genuineness of the signatures and to the standing and good repute of the signers of the certificate The certificate shall not authorize the admission of the patient unless the patient shall be admitted within two weeks of the date thereof

Section 303 Any person who is mentally ill may be placed and detained in a hospital for mental diseases by order of the court of common pleas or other court of record of the county in which the said person resides or is or of any law judge of said courts upon a sworn or affirmed application by any responsible person addressed to said courts or judge which application shall be accompanied by a sworn or a affirmed certificate of two qualified physicians Said application and certificate shall conform in all respects to the forms prescribed by the department and be executed not more than two weeks before the same are presented to the court or judge Such procedure may be held at any place in the discretion of the court or judge who may or may not in his discretion require the presence before him of the said mental patient

A certified copy of the order of the court or judge which shall impose liability for the payment of the cost of care and maintenance of such patient on his estate or on the persons liable under existing laws for his support or on the [proper county or poor district] Commonwealth and copies of the application and of the certificate shall accompany the patient and be given to the superintendent in charge of the hospital in which the patient is ordered to be placed The said application certificate and order shall be kept on file in a special docket in the court

Such an order shall not authorize the admission of the patient unless he shall be admitted to the hospital within two weeks from the date thereof The superintendent of said hospital shall receive the said patient and may detain him therein until said patient shall have recovered or shall be removed according to law

Section 304 An application may be made to a court of common pleas or judge thereof for an order for the admission of any person thought to be mentally ill to a hospital for mental diseases whereupon the court or judge thereof may in its or his discretion immediately appoint a commission to inquire into and report upon the facts in the case Such commission shall be composed of three persons two of whom shall be qualified physicians and the other a lawyer They shall in their inquisition hear such evidence as may be offered or as they may require relating to the mental condition of the person whose admission to a hospital for mental disease is sought as well as the statements of such person or his counsel and shall make a report in writing to the court or judge thereof setting forth whether or not they find that the person in question is in fact mentally ill and a proper subject for admission to a hospital for mental disease and setting forth the facts on which their conclusion is based

If such commission finds that the person in question is mentally ill and is a proper subject for admission to a hospital for mental diseases and the court or judge thereof shall approve the report of the said commission said court or judge shall thereupon order the person to be admitted to and detained in the hospital named in the application which order shall impose liability for the payment of the cost of care an maintenance of such patient on his estate or on the persons liable under existing laws for his support or on the [proper county or poor district] Commonwealth A certified copy of the order of the court or judge and copies of the application shall accompany the patient and be given to the superintendent in charge of the hospital in which the the patient is ordered to be placed The said application and order shall be kept on file in a special docket in the court The court or judge may or may not in its or his discretion require the presence in court of the person thought to be mentally ill and the procedure may be held in any place in the discretion of the court or judge

If the person thought to be mentally ill shall refuse to submit himself to an examination by the aforesaid commission the court or judge thereof may issue a warrant for the bringing of said person before said commission for examination

Section 305 The superintendent of any hospital for mental diseases may receive in the hospital of which he has charge and detain for temporary care as a patient for a period not to exceed ten days any person who is or is thought to be suffering from mental illness on the written application to said superintendent by the legal guardian or relative or friend of such person which application shall be accompanied by a certificate of at least one licensed physician that immediate temporary care in a hospital for mental diseases is necessary for such person by reason of mental illness

Said application and certificate shall be given to the superintendent or other officer of the hospital at the time of the admission of the patient

If after the admission of such patient the superintendent shall be of the opinion that the patient does not require such temporary care the superintendent shall discharge said patient or shall notify the said guardian relative or friend on whose application the patient was admitted to forthwith remove the patient from the hospital whereupon it shall be the duty of said guardian relative or friend to remove him and said guardian relative or friend shall be liable to the hospital for the expenses incurred including those for care maintenance and removal

If the said superintendent shall be of the opinion that the patient requires further care and if the patient shall not have been removed from said hospital the said guardian relative or friend shall before the expiration of said period of ten days cause the patient to be duly committed according to law unless said patient shall have signed a request to remain as a voluntary patient [Provided in either event That within the ten-day period a bond in the amount of five hundred dollars ($500.00) payable to the Commonwealth conditioned that the cost of care and maintenance of such patient be paid or in lieu thereof that an endorsement by the poor authorities of a county or poor district be furnished to the superintendent of such hospital]

When such patient is so further committed the costs of such commitment shall be considered to include the expenses incident to his admission for temporary care

Section 306 The superintendent of any hospital for mental disease may receive and detain as a patient for a period not exceeding ten days any person whose case is certified to be one of violent or dangerous mental illness or of other emergency by two qualified physicians in a certificate similar to the certificate required in section three hundred and two of this act except as to being sworn or affirmed to Upon the request of one of the aforesaid physicians or any relative or friend or of the guardian or committee of said patient a sheriff or constable or police officer shall cause the delivery of said patient to the superintendent of said hospital

The person requesting such admission shall within ten days after the date of admission apply to a judge of the court of common pleas or other court of record of the county in which the patient is or resides or was apprehended for the commitment of said patient as mentally ill in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred and three of this act The certificate aforesaid may be used as the certificate of mental illness required in said section If within the said ten days no commitment be made or if the patient does not sign a request to remain in the hospital as a voluntary patient or if the patient be not removed the applicant aforesaid shall be liable to the hospital for the expenses incurred which may be recovered by the Commonwealth by suit in assumpsit

Section 307 The guardian committee or any relative or friend of a person thought to be mentally ill may make application to the court of common pleas or other court of record of the county wherein such person resides or is or to any judge thereof for an order for the commitment of such person to a hospital for mental diseases for observation diagnosis and treatment Such application shall be accompanied by the sworn certificate of two qualified physicians setting forth upon a form prescribed by the department that such person is in such a condition as to require observation in a hospital for mental diseases and giving the information called for by said form Thereupon or in his own discretion without such application the court or judge if satisfied that the condition of such person is such as to make his commitment desirable for his best interests shall commit him for such period and under such limitations as the court or judge may direct to the institution indicated in the application or to such other like institution as the court or judge may designate Provided That such court or judge at the time of commitment by order shall impose liability for the payment of the cost of care and maintenance of such patient on his estate or on the persons liable under existing laws for his support or on the [proper county or poor district] Commonwealth

The superintendent or other person in charge of the institution to which the said person is committed shall before the expiration of the period of commitment of the patient make written report of said patient's mental condition to the court or judge making the commitment Thereupon the court or judge if satisfied that the patient is not mentally ill shall order his discharge and that the cost of his transportation commitment care and treatment be paid by the person so committed by the applicant for his commitment or by the [poor authorities of the county or poor district in which such person is resident] Commonwealth as the court or judge shall deem just and proper otherwise the court or judge shall make such order for the further disposition of the patient as may to him seem proper

Section 309 The superintendent of any State or licensed school for mental defectives may receive and detain any mentally defective person resident of this State under twenty years of age and incapable of being properly educated and trained in the public schools whose condition or mental defect and whose need of and fitness for care in a school for mental defectives shall have been certified to by a qualified physician and whose admission shall be applied for by a parent guardian or relative of such person or by any other responsible person having custody of such mentally defective person or being liable for his support

The said application shall be made on a form prescribed by the department and shall state the name sex age and residence of said mentally defective person and such other facts as may be required by the department If the facts or any of them are unknown to the applicant it shall be so stated in the application

[If the said application is for the admission of a person to a school owned and controlled by the Commonwealth it shall be endorsed by the authorities of the county in which the said person resides if there be such authorities in said county otherwise by the directors or overseers of the poor districts in which said person resides]

But before any person shall be admitted to any school for mental defectives under the provisions of this section the consent of the managers or superintendent thereof to such admission shall have been obtained

[The poor authorities of any county or the overseers of the poor district therein in endorsing an application for the admission of a person to said school shall state whether or not such person has an estate of sufficient value or a parent or parents of sufficient financial ability to defray the expenses in whole or in part of supporting such person in said school and if there be such means of support in part only then the amount per month which the parents or parent or legal guardian of such person may be able to pay and the person or persons who make the application for such admission shall therein make statement under oath as to such means of support] Before said managers or superintendent shall accept an application for the admission of any person the Department of Revenue shall fix the amount if any which shall be paid for such support according to the ability of such parents or parent of the person or according to the value of such person's estate if any and shall require payment for such support so far as there may be ability to pay as a condition to the admission or retention of said person Said amount may at any time be changed by said Department of Revenue upon receiving further information concerning such means of support When neither the said person nor his parent or parents defray the expense of his support in said school [the poor authorities or directors or overseers of the poor endorsing the application shall pay to the Department of Revenue as collection agency of the school such an amount for clothing as may be required for the comfort and advantage of said person at an annual rate to be established by the Department of Revenue Provided That when clothing is furnished to a patient by relatives or others a county or poor district shall nevertheless be obliged to pay the established annual rate for clothing for such person to the department All other] such support at the school shall be provided for by annual appropriations at such per capita rates as shall be appropriated by the General Assembly on the application of the trustees or managers after submission of the same to and approval by the Department of Welfare Provided however That in any judicial district in which there is a municipal court vested with the exclusive jurisdiction over proceedings concerning children suffering from epilepsy nervous and mental defect admission of mentally defective or epileptic children to any State or municipal institution from said judicial district shall be exclusively vested in said court

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 36 (House Bill No. 8), as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of rates rentals and other charges that may become due on leases and other contracts executed by such department with the General State Authority for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth of various projects structures buildings and facilities of the Authority or for the services rendered by the Authority or its projects

Whereas By Act Number eighty-nine A adopted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at the sesison of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and approved by the Governor July second one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven the sum of two million seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($2,750,000) was appropriated to the Department of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth for the payment during the period ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine by the Commonwealth of annual rates rentals and other charges for the use and occupancy of or the right to use or occupy the projects structures buildings and facilities leased by The General State Authority to the Commonwealth and

Whereas Leases and contracts to lease have actually been entered into which will require payment of approximately one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) out of the said appropriation to The General State Authority as rent for projects which have been and are being constructed and improved by the Authority for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas The Executive Department of the Government of the Commonwealth is about to apply to The General State Authority for the construction of projects additional to those which were undertaken by the Authority on behalf of the Commonwealth and the Pennsylvania State College during the years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight in the financing of which additional projects the Authority will be aided by United States Government Grants amounting to forty-five (45) percentum of the cost of construction and

Whereas Such additional projects though commenced prior to January first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine will not be completed and leased to the Commonwealth until after May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine Therefore

Section 1 The Sum of or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropraited to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment during the period ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one by the Commonwealth of annual rates rentals and other charges for the use and occupancy of or the right to use or occupy the projects structures buildings and facilities leased by The General State Authority to the Commonwealth or for services rendered by the Authortiy or its projects construction of which projects structures buildings and facilities may have been commenced after the date of this act and prior to January first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine payment of such annual rates rentals and other charges shall be made in equal monthly or quarterly installments or otherwise as required by the respective leases

Section 2 The appropriation made by this act shall be budgeted and expended in accordance with the requirements and provisions of the leases referred to in section one and shall be allocated by the Governor to provide payment of the rentals reserved in such leases The Auditor General and the State Treasurer shall honor the requisitions of the Secretary of Property and Supplies in accordance with such allocations

Section 3 The appropriation made by this act or as much thereof as may be necessary shall be earmarked and retained as a fund in the General Fund to meet the payments which may become due during the period from June first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine to May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and forty-one under the terms of such contracts as by virtue of the provisions of The General State Authority Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five as amended may be entered into by the Commonwealth acting by and through the Department of Property and Supplies as lessee and The General State Authority as lessor to lease such additional projects to be undertaken by the Authority

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 36 (House Bill No. 8), the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations, for the purpose of further study.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, August 9, 1938.

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Oh Lord, Thou who art from everlasting to everlasting; Thou who made heaven and earth; Thou who breathed into man the breath of life and made him a living soul, we pause to speak with Thee.

We thank Thee for this great wide, wonderful, beautiful world, which Thou hast given unto us. Everywhere we behold Thy finger prints and bold expressions of Thy thoughts. The great ranges of mountains, with their snow-capped peaks, are Thy thoughts lifted up; the vast stretches of fertile plains are Thy spread out; the great deep oceans, remind us of the unfathomed depths of Thy thoughts; we lift our eyes unto the heavens at night time, and we cry out "Yea the heavens declare the glory of God". As man is "God's noblest work", His highest type of creation, may we resolve in our hearts that nature shall not out-do us in manifesting Thy glory; that whatever we do or say, shall be done and said all to Thy honor and glory.

In His name, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. WAGNER, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

STATEMENT BY MR. JIROLANIO

Mr. JIROLANIO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am very sorry to again appear before this mike to take up the time of this legislative body, but, as every one knows, this morning steps were taken before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, and in pursuance of those steps a writ of prohibition was said to have been granted, and, I believe by this time has been granted staying the grand jury probe, and I, as a member of this Legislature, feel that something has happened that has never happened before in the history of mankind.

Today, in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, thirteen high officials and honest men are being charged with certain crimes, and if we are to follow the ruling of this writ of prohibition nothing will happen until some time in September, and, at the same time these thirteen officials, their families and their children are being looked upon by their friends and neighbors as criminals. At the same time, although the interest and the personel rights of these thirteen officials are at stake the interests and the rights of the people of Pennsylvania are far above those. Don't we Representatives of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania have the right to know whether these thirteen officials are guilty or not guilty of the crimes or charges which have been set forth against them. and I say unto you members of the House that we have seen fit to select a committee and that committee is responsible only to the House and to no one else. We are the boss of that committee, they are our servants, like we are servants of the people. It is the duty of that committee to continue in this investigation. I want to say now that no where in the opinion of the learned Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, Justice Kephart, did he say that this committee did not have the right, nor that it should not go ahead with this investigation, but I do remember, and I heard it said with my own ears by one member of the committee that he promised that the witnesses prohibited by court order from testifying would not be called. I say unto you, as members of the Legislature, that that committee or any member of that committee had the right to say to any one that witnesses would not be called.

If the law is as it is and if Judge Schaeffer saw fit to stifle this investigation some persons are trying or attempting to call it a whitewash while we are attempting to do our duty to see that the charges are aired, openly and above board, and while one gentleman clothed in a black robe saw fit to stifle everything, are we going to place the stamp of approval on it and say, "Yes, you have done right." No, I, for one will not vote for such action. I demand that the investigating committee continue in its activities and in its work until all evidence that can possibly be found shall be brought before this committee, in order that the people of Pennsylvania shall know, as they must know, whether the charges that are hurled at its officials are true or false. They say unto us, I might say, "We shall let everything ride until September." I have always had a lot of respect for Judge Kephart, and I still do; I feel that he acted like a fine, legally trained man and a gentleman; he did everything that was asked of him, and he ruled in our favor, but I do not think that it is fair to the Legislature or fair to the people of Pennsylvania to say that everything shall be stopped until September, and that some time in September, when some gentleman, who are earning $19,000 a year, now on vacation, that when their vacation period is up, at that particular time, the charges shall be brought before the full court.

I believe that an emergency exists today in Pennsylvania, whereby the honorable gentleman of the Supreme Court should come together in special session, to find out whether or not these charges are true, and whether or not these acts are constitutional or unconstitutional. Are we here to represent the interests of ten million people, or are we here to present the interests of one political group, seven men or one man? I for one will stand for action by the committee, and I asked every member of that committee to live by the oath he took and to remember that his constituents back home are looking upon him, not only his Democratic and Republican constituents, but the people of this Keystone state and the people of the United States are watching us to see that we perform our duty, which is given to us under the constitution.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JIROLANIO. I am not going to gagged, Mr. Speaker, I assure you.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that the gentleman from Northampton means to imply from that remark that I would be in any way a party to gagging him.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I say to the gentleman from Delaware, no.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say to the gentleman from Northampton that I enjoyed his remarks immensely especially that part in which he referred to this committee as being servants of this House. A servant is one who is not of the same equality. I, therefore, would like to ask the gentleman from Northampton whether he was not mistaken when he said that the committee members were servants of the House.

Mr. JIROLANIO. I would say, no.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Northampton whether I understood him correctly to say that he felt that the Legislative committee should go on with this investigation.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question, I would again say that I feel that the investigating committee should continue with the duties imposed upon it by this House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Northampton whether that duty, as I understand it, is to investigate not only the charges that have been made, but all of the conditions that come within the resolution of the House.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I might say to the learned gentleman from Delaware, that he should be more familiar with the duties of the committee, being a member, than I am.

Mr. TURNER. Your servant thanks you. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Northampton.

I would like to inquire of the masterful gentleman from Northampton whether he believes that the delay that is occasioned by the recess of the Supreme Court is an improper delay?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I would say, yes, because it is not expediting the charges, and it is not telling the people of Pennsylvania whether there is any truth or falsity in the charges.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to ask the gentleman from Northampton whether he is in accord with the statement made by Mr. Handler, representing Mr. Shelley, this morning, that the District Attorney desired an immediate disposition of the question, so that the investigation would not be held up?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry that the learned gentleman from Delaware did not understand me correctly. I said that the House Committee shall do the investigating and not the District Attorney. We are investigating. I am not interested in the District Atorney, I am interested in the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Northampton this question: But you believe, and I take it from your answer, do you not, that the delay should be shortened, at least it should be within a shorter period of time, that there should be a decision by the Supreme Court.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I am not interested in any delay or in any decision of the Supreme Court; I am only interested in the action of the House and its servants.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, without admitting that part of the answer about servants, I wish to ask the gentleman from Northampton, does he feel that the House Committee should immediately proceed with the investigation.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, my answer to that question is yes, and the committee should call Shelley and everybody else connected with it and place them in jail or incarcerate them some place, where no one can reach them: some where, where Margiotti cannot give them a learned opinion, especially.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. MOOMAW asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Judiciary Special to meet during the session of the House.

STATEMENT BY MR. BLANK

Mr. BLANK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House:

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I have listened very carefully to the remarks of the learned gentleman from Northampton and to the interrogation of the gentleman from Delaware. I cannot help but feel as I have for several weeks a feeling of frustration as a result of the things which have transpired since the calling of the House into extraordinary session.

I do not believe that there is a member of this House who has a higher regard for the judiciary of this Commonwealth than I. I do not believe that there is any member of this House who is more primarily interested in and will insist upon the orderly processes of government but I wondered at the proceedings that have ensued.

I wonder whether the gentleman at present presiding over the Dauphin County Court realizes that this House of Representatives is a constitutional body; that this House of Representatives as a constitutional body is charged under the Constitution to investigate any alleged misconduct in office of any civil officers of this State.

In discharge of that constitutional duty a committee has been appointed. We have charged that committee with the investigation of the charges which have been made and since the date of that order we have been frustrated from beginning to end.

I say to the members of this House that I concur most heartily with the learned Chief Justice of the Supreme Court when he said at the hearing this morning that the Supreme Court would do all within their power to prevent a conflict between the legislative and judicial branches of the government of Pennsylvania. I do really hope that every member of this House is interested in preventing that conflict and I know that we as elected representatives of the people of this state demand an investigation of these charges. We demand that this investigation be proceeded with. We demand that it proceed forthwith.

I believe, if I know the temper of the members of this House, that we will demand an immediate investigation of these charges. The Governor and other high officials have been charged with serious crimes. I think we want to know the foundation of these charges. The people of the state want to know the foundation of these charges and as stated I will reiterate the demand of an immediate investigation by this House Committee.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

STATEMENT BY MR. MARINO

Mr. MARINO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: I think that most of you recall that during the last regular session, I introduced in this House several measures attempting to define jurisdiction of the judicial branch of government. Many of you may recall that the first bill I introduced was introduced within a fortnight after my being admitted to this House.

I introduced those measures at that time defining the authority or the jurisdiction of the judiciary branch of government, because I thought that there was a usurpation of authority by the judiciary. I felt that there had been a long train of abuses by that portion of the government and that those abuses had become of so serious a nature and character that they were striking at the very foundation of our democracy.

Many of you may recall that one of those measures finally did pass this House. That measure required that at least six members of the Supreme or Superior Court would have to concur before they could invalidate an act of the General Assembly. Mind you, I introduced those bills over a year ago, before the judiciary bit me. In other words, I was for muzzling the dog, a long time before it bit me. Well, many members of the administration may be getting the impression of wanting to do the work now, because of the fact that it is affecting them personally.

The measures that have been passed by this House during the last two or three weeks are important measures, and the law should be abided by, by the judges just as much as any other individual in the State, but I do not want to talk about those laws. I do want to talk about the constitutionality of those laws. The fact that the Courts questioned the constitutionality of those acts is nothing more than they have done on previous occasions through what they claim the right of "implied power" in the Constitution. Mind you, I have read the Constitution and I have not been able to see from whence they get their "implied power" to declare the acts of the General Assembly unconstitutional, and the action that they are proceeding with now in declaring the acts of this Legislature as being unconstitutional. They are simply following the procedure that they followed before.

I desire to call to the attention of this House at this time something that I believe is far more serious than even the declaration that an act of the General Assembly is unconstitutional. I desire to call to the attention of the members of this House the fact that one man, a judge of the Court of Common Pleas, has violated his oath of office in that he has acted in absolute contradiction to his oath, because he has acted in absolute contradiction to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, and by that ruling of the Supreme Court Justice of Pennsylvania this morning, I say that he, too, is violating his oath of office when he stated that he would not release the jury's evidence to the investigating committee of this House. That is what the Chief Justice ruled this morning. I say that when Judge Schaeffer and when Chief Justice Kephart prohibits any individual or individuals from testifying before this House, they are taking away from this House the sole power of impeachment, as given in Article VI, Section 1. Article VI, Section 1, states that the House of Representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment. Mind you, it does not delegate any of the powers of impeachment to the judiciary, it does not delegate any of the powers of impeachment to the executive branch of government, nor does it delegate to any individual within this Commonwealth the power of impeachment. It delegates the power of impeachment to the members of this House and to the members of this House alone. They, and no one else, are to be the judges as to who shall be impeached, and I say that when the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court or any individual, whether he be a judge of the Court of Common Pleas or any one else, instructs any individual to withhold any information from this House, he is violating that part of the Constitution. If this House is to have the sole power of impeachment, it can only impeach after a thorough investigation, it can only impeach after the investigation has been concluded, it can only impeach after having received the evidence, and when a court prohibits individuals from testifying before this House, it is taking away our authority, and it is upon this issue, these grounds, that I believe that the members of this House should stand their ground and fight this battle until it is over and I am sure that the battle will be won. We are sent here with certain prerogatives we are sent here with certain rights and duties to perform, and I believe that those of us who are members of this House, if we will do our duty in excercising our rights, that the power of impeachment will be retained by the membership of this House. If we allow this transgression by the judiciary to take away from us the sole power of impeachment, there is no use for this House to sit any longer, and I hope that the members of this House will continue to fight this thing out until it is won.

The Speaker. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Schor asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN for the remainder of the week on account of illness in the family.

Mr. Coakley asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. VanSICKLE for today's session.

Mr. HINDMAN asked and obtained leave of absence for himself for the remainder of the week.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is the House about to recess?

The SPEAKER. Yes, very shortly.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, are you going to proceed with the calendar first and then recess?

The SPEAKER. That is the plan.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess for fifteen minutes to permit the Republican members to caucus in the House Caucus Room

Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess for fifteen minutes.

COMMITTEE MEETING

Members of the Rules Committee will meet immediately after recess in the Speaker's Office.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented for concurrence bill numbered and entitled as follows:

SENATE BILL No. 14 (HOUSE BILL No. 54)

An Act providing for the adjournment and readjournment of county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands that were to have been held in the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven or one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight for nonpayment of taxes in counties except those of the first and second class and preserving the lien of all taxes on such lands.

Referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 9, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, August 15, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time: and that when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, August 15, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

The SPEAKER. Concurrence in this resolution requires unanimous consent or a suspension of the Rules.

Will the House give its unanimous consent for concurrence in the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the consent is granted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 10 Printer's No. 20 was passed over at the request of Mr. Schor.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 30 (Senate Bill No. 8), as follows:

An Act to amend article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by authorizing school districts to convey or lease property to the General State Authority to acquire additional property for such purposes and to contract with and lease property from said Authority authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases and in such cases defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth and authorizing the withholding of State appropriations in certain cases

Section 1 Article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following new sections

Section 636 Any school district shall have power and authority with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction to grant assign and convey to the General State Authority with or without consideration any lands easements or rights in lands together with any improvements buildings or structures therein or thereon now owned by such school district or hereafter acquired by it needed or convenient to carry out the purposes of these amendments or to lease to the Authority for a term not exceeding ninety-nine (99) years at a nominal or such other rental as may be determined any or all such lands easements or rights in lands together with any improvements structures or buildings therein or thereon

Section 637 Any school district shall have power and authority with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction and in the manner hereinbefore provided to acquire title in the name of the school district to any additional lands or interests in lands which may be required to carry out the purposes of these amendments

Section 638 Any school district shall have power and authority with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction to enter into contracts with the General State Authority to lease as lessee from the Authority any school building or any improvement thereto and the furnishings and equipment thereof constructed by the Authority for a term not exceeding thirty (30) years at such rental or rentals as may be determined by the Authority and upon the completion of such school buildings or improvements and the furnishings and equipment thereof the school district shall have power and authority to lease the same as lessee for a term not exceeding thirty (30) years at such rental or rentals as may be determined by the Authority

Section 639 The Department of Public Instruction shall have power and authority with the approval of the Governor to join with any school district in entering into any of the contracts and leases with the General State Authority authorized by the preceding section of this act Under all such contracts the Commonwealth shall pay to the Authority the following proportional parts of the rental or rentals agreed upon In the case of school districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less seventy per centum (70%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) and not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) sixty per centum (60%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than fifty thousand dollars (($50,000) and not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) fifty per centum (50%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) and not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) forty per centum (40%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) and not more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) thirty per centum (30%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) and not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) twenty per centum (20%) of such rental or rentals and in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) ten per centum (10%) of such rental or rentals Provided That in the case of financially distressed school districts the Commonwealth shall pay all or such additional part of the rental or rentals as the Department of Public Instruction shall from time to time determine

Section 640 In all cases where an audit under the direction of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction reveals that the board of directors of any school district has failed to pay or to provide for the payment of any rental or rentals due the General State Authority for any period in accordance with the terms of any lease entered into under the terms of these amendments the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall notify such board of school directors of its obligation and may withhold out of any state appropriation due such school district an amount equal to the amount of the rental or rentals owing by such school district to the General State Authority until such time as he is officially advised that all obligations of such school district with reference to any such rental or rentals past due have been met and paid in full or arrangements to pay same have been made in a satisfactory manner and approved by him

Section 641 With the approval of the Department of Public Instruction and of the county board of school directors any two or more school districts may jointly enter into contracts and leases with the General State Authority for the construction or improvement of a school building and the furnishings and equipment thereof for the joint use of such school district and may either jointly or individually convey or lease as hereinbefore provided to the Authority any lands and improvements now owned or hereafter acquired by any one or more of such school districts The sharing of the cost of such land and improvements and of the rental or rentals payable to the Authority and the maintenance government and control of the school shall be agreed upon by the boards of directors of such districts so joining in such manner and in such proportions as they may agree upon All schools established under the provisions of this section shall be maintained governed and controlled as other public schools under the laws of this Commonwealth Sec. 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 640), page 6, line 9 by striking out the following: "of" and inserting in lieu thereof: "or"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constiution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is required.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 28 (Senate Bill No. 5), entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws two thousand fifty-one) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by re-defining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Welfare Committee, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAW. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, on page 3 of this bill the only change that I can see in the whole bill is the words "medical care" are placed in there instead of "services." I would like to know from the Chairman of the Welfare Committee just what the words "medical care" include.

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, I will say that I am advised by the Department that the term "medical care" will include not only the diagnosis by a physician but will include also the supplies necessary to correct whatever is the matter with the patient.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw, if there are any set rules as to how this medical care is to be administered. In other words, a person who is receiving assistance, will he have to go through some procedure to get medical care?

Mr. SHAW. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, I will say that under the old SERB regulations it was necessary for the person who was on relief and who needed a doctor to go to his visitor and ask for a medical order. The new regulations being set up by the Department permit any person who is on relief to go to his own family doctor, in case he has any, or to any other reputable physician in his territory. It was felt that this would simplify matters greatly and at the same time do away with any criticism that the recipient of relief might make of his work. The old procedure was very complicated. This, we believe, to be much simpler. It is to be tried out in the period from the 15th of September, when the bill takes effect, until the next meeting of the Legislature. If by that time we have found it is not working out as we expected, then the House and Senate can change it. In the meanwhile, the Department of Public Assistance is to make the rules under which this particular form of assistance is to be administered, and knowing the way that Mr. Howe, the Secretary has worked this plan out, I feel it is for the best interests of all the recipients on relief.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is anything in the complicated rules as to the prices a physician could charge.

Mr. SHAW. I am informed, Mr. Speaker, that the representatives of the healing arts, as I believe they are termed, have worked out a schedule of prices with the head of the Department. I believe that there is a minimum charge of one dollar, and in the more complicated cases, such as obstetrics and fractured limbs, and so forth, the members of the healing arts have agreed that their regular prices will be halved instead of the full price. Does that answer your question, Mr. Tumelty?

Mr. TUMELTY. Yes, Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I thank the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaw.

I did not want to take up your time because I know you all want to get away, but I did think we should have on the record just what is going to happen under "medical care," because I feel there will be a lot of argument over this feature and it would be just as well to have in the Legislative Journal and in the records just what we intended when we passed the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

STATEMENT BY MR. SHEA.

Mr. SHEA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am going to give you some medical advice for nothing. I previously on the floor of this House made the statement that I had more brains than any other man in the Commonwealth and I still stick to that statement.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I understand the situation that confronts the people of this Commonwealth. I have to go home when we adjourn and I have to tell the people of my district what has happened. And, members of the House, my district consists of workers, of industrialists and of men who need help, all of whom have seen the Supreme Court kill everything that we have accomplished for their benefit. I cannot go home without telling them I have done something here, and my suggestion, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, is that we appoint a lunacy commission to look after some of the witnesses that we expect to appear before this House. When I look at some of the biological inferiorities, when I come in contact with them, when I see their termors, when I see their irregular pupils, and when I see them actually going haywire, there is no wonder that I ask that they be examined by such a commission previous to their testimony here. I saw one of them today protected by strongarmed men, with fear of phobia, and all this tends to verify my suspicion in connection with my experience through many a psychiatric institution in this state. I am not saying this in the spirit of levity, but I am doing this so that our great parties, both of them, shall be protected from those who are about to testify.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we are the victims; we picked out a hot potato. We have the welfare of this House and its prerogatives at heart and we are going to do our duty. Furthermore, I am going to ask that each and every one of them submit to a Wasserman and Kahn test to ascertain whether they are entirely free of that great disease which the Commonwealth is now trying to eradicate.

Members of the House, that is all I have to say. May this information which I have given here sink in, and it is my earnest hope that it be carried out.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 29 (Senate Bill No. 7), as follows:

An Act to further amend section four of and to add section 9.2 to the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fifty-two) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct improve and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees rentals and charges for the use thereof authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant assign convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein and to acquire lands therefor granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" by providing for additional projects the acquisition of property from school districts and the leasing of projects by the Authority to school districts imposing duties upon the Department of Property and Supplies the Department of Labor and Industry and all departments having an interest in certain projects and authorizing the Department of Public Instruction and school districts to contract with and lease from the Authority.

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. SHUGARTS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, page 2, lines 11 and 12 of title by striking out the following: "dements" and inserting in lieu thereof: "departments"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 6, line 18, by striking out the following: "such"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

The SPEAKER. The Chair calls to the rostrum the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Coleman, who as chairman of the Committee, will conduct Memorial Services for the deceased members and officers of this House.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. The Chair declares a recess for the period of these Memorial Services.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Mr. COLEMAN Presiding.

The CHAIRMAN. This afternoon, we pause in the midst of a busy legislative session to lay, in imagination, a wreath of fresh flowers on the graves of the late Chief Clerk of the House, Willim P. Gallagher, the late Speaker of the House, C. J. Goodnough, and the late members, the Honorable Francis T. Baker, the Honorable Charles Richter and the Honorable William J. Munley. Today our thoughts turn to reverence as we meet to honor them with the tribute of our praise.

HONORABLE WILLIAM J. MUNLEY

The CHAIRMAN. In recollection of when they were here moving among us, beautiful unpainted pictures appear in the mind of how much sweeter life is that they lived. These men are not dead; they live in their examples and their influence; they live in the splendor of their deeds; they live in the hearts they left behind; they live in the traditions that pass from generation to generation and from age to age they have just wandered over the boundary, there to illuminate and irradiate the pathway of mankind.

The duty of a Chairman on such an occasion is to present the speakers to eulogize their respective friends. Other speakers will pay tribute to the other four Legislative sons but I cannot help but express my feeling about Lackawanna County's son, the late Honorable William J. Munley. On such sad occasions as will mark this hour it is very difficult for one who has been so very closely associated with our departed friend to utter what is in his heart. But I would be false to my deepest emotions if I failed to bring the love of my heart and embalm it in his memory today.

Some months ago, Bill, as we called him out of a spirit of endearment, was attending a wrestling match in Scranton's Town Hall. He was a familiar figure at all of these sporting events, and little did those of us, who observed him cheering his respective favorites on that occasion, realize that while he looked to be at the very zenith of his health and strength, his end was near. He was seized with a stroke, and died two days later, on March 9, 1938, in the Scranton State Hospital. He was the oldest Democratic member of the House, having been elected for eight consecutive terms.

The news of his death caught me with a catch in my throat and I cannot say anything that would mean exactly as I feel. He was one of my best friends. To say that I liked him does not adequately express my feelings. My admiration bordered upon idolatry. He was one of the finest men I ever met. In our altogether too few associations there ripened a deep friendship between us.

I had wondered how a man in these days of economic distress could continue to capture the hearts and minds of the people of his district. My first meeting with him gave me the reason. Like thousands of others I was caught within the radius of the power of his personality. He radiated faith in himself. He had that indescribable personal magnetism which arrested attention and predisposed others in his favor.

When I was first elected representative Bill Munley arranged to have me sit next to him in the 1935 session of the Legislature. It wasn't necessary for me to come here with a natural aptitude for the work because he was a great teacher. I never had to traverse the legislative highway or penetrate the parliamentary wilderness unaccompanied. Bill Munley was always with me. I recall that shortly after election in 1934 I visited his home to ask him to recommend some literature that I might read so that I would have some semblance of a background for the work when the Legislature convened. "The little tricks that mean most to a legislator," said he, "you cannot get in the pages of books. It must come from practical experience." He was right. Munley knew all the tricks of the legislative game. He gave me the benefit of his years of experience. He was not the demonstrative or spectacular type. Glaring headlines in the newspapers had no appeal to him. He was thorough and made a searching examination of all legislation. He had both feet on the ground at all times. I sought his advice frequently and he gave it freely. Whenever I contemplated some action that might put me in an unfavorable light as freshman legislators are prone to do, Munley would always point out to me the error of my action. He did it in such a fashion that the danger of offending was entirely eliminated. His conduct in the Legislature won the love, compelled the respect and challenged the admiration of every member of this House. If the Divine Master sought someone to breathe into his heart and soul a model disposition he would have to pattern it after Bill Munley.

I could recite hundreds of little nameless, unremembered acts of his love and kindness. He was always doing something for some body, not openly, not ostentatiously, but something for the pleasure of helping others. He was a perfect gentleman in every sense of the word. I never heard any of his colleagues nor anyone else criticize anything that he did or said. Always unruffled, he never lost his temper. He was always in a friendly state of mind.

It is difficult for me, being so closely associated with him, to accept the fact that he has gone. He died where "Manhood's morning almost touches noon, and while the shadows were still falling towards the West." He was 53 years old. The world is a better place because he lived. He has left behind him a monument richer than gold, more enduring than granite and that is the memory of a man who had many friends and no enemies. Nothing that I can say, nothing, perhaps, except the tender touches of time can soften or assuage the grief and the feeling of great loss upon the part of the members of his own household, who are here today. However, I am sure it must be a great consolation to them to be able to cherish during the remaining days of their lives the memory of such a splendid citizen, such a patriotic public servant, such a devoted and considerate father and husband.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin.

HON. WILLIAM P. GALLAGHER

Mr. YOURISHIN: Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House: We should not, I think, be doing justice to the feelings which are uppermost in all of our hearts if we adjourned this session without taking notice of the gap which has been made in the official family of the House of Representatives by the untimely death of William P. Gallagher, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives in May of 1938.

It is a loss of which I hardly trust myself to speak, for apart from ties of friendship there had subsisted between him and the membership of this House for the past number of years, a close friendship and affection which no political differences were ever allowed to loosen or even weaken. Nor can I better describe him than by saying that he perhaps of all men of his day came nearest to the mold and ideal of chief clerk, which every member of the house would like to see or aspire to and if possible to attain.

The bounty of nature, enriched and developed, not only by training but by constant self-discipline through life blended in him gifts and graces which taken alone are rare, but when combined in such a man are rarer still. Body, mind and character, the news room, the field of sports, his church, the Senate and the House of Representatives each made its separate contribution of faculty and experience to a many-sided and harmonious whole. But what he was he gave: Gave with such ease and exuberance that I think it may be said without exaggeration, that wherever he moved he seemed to radiate vitality and charm. He was, as we here know, a strenuous character. He has left behind him no resentments and no enmities, nothing but a gracious memory of a manly and winning personality: the memory of one who served with an unstinted measure of devotion his county and his State.

He has been called away in what we thought was the full tide of a buoyant life, still full of promise and of hope. What more can we say we can only bow once again before the decree of the supreme wisdom. Those who loved him, and they are many, in all ranks and walks of life, when they think of him will say to themselves:

This was the happy man. This was he who every man in life should wish to be.

> And while we pause in our humble way
> To pay our respect to a man we admired
> With unanimous thoughts in our hearts we pray
> His reward will be great for the cause he aspired.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Longaker.

Mr. LONGAKER: Mr. Chairman, and fellow members of the House: It is a privilege and an honor to be called upon to make a slight contribution to the services held this day in which we are honoring the lives, the services, and the memories of those who served in various capacities of trust and responsibility either as members or officers of this House.

The gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, has outlined generally the life and career of our esteemed friend and lately our Chief Clerk, Honorable William P. Gallagher, and therefore my brief remarks will be confined to a discourse concerning his services as Chief Clerk. I approach my subject with a deep appreciation that my humble remarks will fall far short of properly eulogizing the characteristics of our friend; and with the further acknowledgement that the use of words and phrases are inadequate to properly portray the deeds and actions constituting a life of useful service as rendered by him. And particularly we of the Republican minority salute him as our true counselor and friend.

It is most fitting that all of us regardless of color, creed, or political preference, might meet on common ground and share together the sorrow, yes, and the joys as well, that this hour will bring. It is fitting that we meet in the forum where he presided as our Chief Clerk and where at times the acromonies and sarcasms of debate tend to create barriers between us which should have no place in our common desire to labor together for the common weal. Therefore, in the midst of a Special Session of this Legislature, a session which by its very issues seems destined to be filled with strife and contention, it is a welcome interlude to turn our thoughs and hearts to the consideration of a life of friendliness and service: and is somewhat akin to a cooling breeze on the hot sands of the desert. If there lived a man known to all of us to whom we might repair in times of joy or sorrow, or success or failure, and share equally his graciousness, his kindness, and his encouragements, it was Billy Gallagher. And so we turn to his spirit now.

Many members of this House first entered the services of the Commonwealth as Legislators on New Years day 1935. On that same day, the House of Representatives honored itself by selecting as its Chief Clerk, William P. Gallagher of Luzerne County. From that time to the date of his untimely demise, which occurred on the 25 day of May, A. D. 1938, Billy Gallagher, as we all knew him, won his way completely into our hearts. Some public officials are prone to show favoritism to those from whom they might expect special favors. This did not apply to him. As new members of the Assembly in the Session of 1935, we were soon taught to understand that regardless of our newness in office, personal accomplishment, or political affiliation, we were all considered alike in the same fair and just manner by the man whom we honor today. No matter how slight the wish or how serious the problem, we were always met with the same honest and sincere desire on his part to serve us as members of this Assembly. And in his smiling way he would always say "that's what we are here for." Might we learn this lesson of service from Billy Gallagher and might we more often when called upon to perform a duty for others say in the same smiling manner "that's what we are here for."

This spirit of true friendship and sincere service permeated the atmosphere of his office from the first to the last day he graced it, and his immediate associates and assistants in that office seemed to share that same spirit; and it might be truly said that the latch string was always available to the members of the House.

On one of my last visits to his office I was accompanied by my son, Jack, who is aged 9 years. We had a very pleasant visit because Billy Gallagher seemed to know just what to say and do when youngsters were concerned. When learning of his unfortunate passing a few months ago Jackie inquired "Do you mean that nice man we met in the Capitol at Harrisburg last summer?" Surely one discovers many times his true position in life by the unspoiled and unpredjudiced judgment of a child's observations.

Billy Gallagher will no longer be with us in a physical sense to share our problems and pleasures, but his spirit will forever hover over this place; and in the heat of political passion, and in the toilsome endeavors of all or any of us to solve the pressing and perplexing problems of the day which assail us on all sides, it seems natural that we might repair again to him, and that we might temper and moderate our sometimes selfish desires and demands by testing them by the same principals of love and understanding which characterized his every thought and action. Although the memory of his life may never be commemorated by the erection of a physical memorial, nevertheless there has already been created in our hearts a perpetual existing and living memorial of service which can never be erased.

We are better men and women and per chance better public servants because he passed along our way and shed upon us his smile and unselfish devotion to duty.

In truth Billy Gallagher, was one of God's Noble Men.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Snyder, Mr. Fiss.

HONORABLE FRANCIS T. BAKER

Mr. FISS. Mr. Chairman and Members of the House, it is fitting that we pause to pay tribute to another very honorable man, one who has been a member of this House for six regular sessions and seven special sessions.

Francis T. Baker was born on a farm in Vicksburg, in Union County, sixty years ago. Vicksburg is located in one of the very beautiful valleys of Pennsylvania, in fact one of the garden spots of this great State. Francis Baker was a fine type to the people of that community and he represented Union County in this House for six regular sessions; a county that is noted for its fine homes and farms, its excellent churches and schools, and is also the home of Bucknell University. He lived in Lewisburg, where Bucknell University is located. He was one of its very finest citizens, loved and respected by all. He was a good father, he loved his home life and kept his house in order. He did not have many scholarly attainments, he did not aspire to be a specialist in the law or in medicine or in any special manner whatever, but one of his marked qualities was honesty. Truth is one of the very fundamentals of life itself. In his efforts to serve his people, he was honest in every sense of the word. Even though he did not aspire to be a prince or lord * * * I think that is beautifully expressed by the poet Burns.

"Princes and lords are but the breath of kings; an honest man is the noblest work of God."

So that is one of the fine traits, I am sure we have all found in Francis T. Baker. He was always ready to render service to his many friends and to those who were in need and he did render that service. If a man was mowing his field and his reaper broke down, many of those farmers sent for Francis Baker and he came no matter what hour of the day, early or late. If he was in his field reaping or cutting wheat and his binder broke down, Francis Baker was always on the job. I know of several cases that I visited him at his home, where men came as late as eleven o'clock at night and asked him to go many miles to help them out for their next day's work, and Francis Baker never refused. Let us remember that these are the commonplace fidelities of life.

The people of Union County thought so much of Francis Baker that on many occasions he was returned as a member of this House, carrying every district in Union County. He was also a candidate for reelection and was unopposed. It merely proves the truth of what I said that Francis Baker was loved and revered by the people of Union County.

As a friend to those of you who knew him for the six terms in this House, he was always ready to aid, he was always ready to greet you with a pleasant smile and a good handshake, so that all in this House could call him friend. He did not ask what party we belonged to, he only wanted to be a friend. He was faithful in every action, faithful to his duties in this House, to his home life, in his business, in everything he undertook to do, so we might say of Francis Baker, he was faithful in every act. He was the soul of honor. On moral questions that arose, you generally found Francis Baker on the right side of the question, so his honor was clear, and in this memorial to Francis Thompson Baker, may we be reminded that the commonplace fidelities of life are as everlasting as the final destiny and future of man. These qualifications he possibly exemplified, far better than many of us, and they are as lasting as the everlasting hills of Union County, the county he loved.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Moomaw.

HONORABLE CHARLES H. RICHTER

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Chairman and members of the House: I feel greatly honored in being able to rise at these Memorial Services and in my humble way, attempt to pay reverent tribute to the late Honorable Charles Henry Richter, of Adams County, who was my only colleague from the thirty-third Senatorial District.

I also feel greatly honored to have been chosen by the Speaker to be one of the members to represent this House of Representatives at Mr. Richter's funeral.

Mr. Richter was elected to the House in 1936. Those who learned to know him real well, will remember him as being one who always acted as his conscience dictated, always trying to vote and act in the manner which he thought was the desire of the majority of his constituents. While he did not often appear in debate I know of no member who studied pending legislation more carefully or who more truly tried to represent the wishes of his constituents by his vote, than did Mr. Richter. I am sure this House, as well as the people of Adams County, keenly feel the loss of such an able Representative.

His election to the House was not his first step in serving the public, in fact, his entire life has been in the public service.

He was born on January 18, 1875, in Berwick Township, Adams County. After attending schools in the community, he later graduated from Cumberland County State Normal, which is now Shippensburg State Teacher's College, and took special courses at Eichelberger Academy at Hanover.

At the age of 17, he started teaching in the public schools of his community and later taught in the public schools of Hanover and then last he taught again in Berwick Township, the place of his birth. His service as a school teacher includes 45 terms.

Aside from his public service as a teacher, he also served his Community ably as a Justice of the Peace for more than 30 years, having first been appointed by Governor Pennypacker.

Politically he was always active in the affairs of the Democratic Party and has represented his party as a delegate to the State Convention and Chairman of the County Convention.

Mr. Richter was also very active in church and fraternal circles. He was a member of the St. Mark's Lutheran Church of Hanover and also a teacher of a large Men's Bible Class. He was an active member of the Masonic Order and the Elks, having served as exalted ruler of the Elks, at one time.

By his activity in public life, church and fraternal circles, he was well known and held the highest respect of his community. His untimely passing on June 24, 1938 meant a great loss of the highest type of citizenship to those who knew him.

His home life was parallel to his public life. He was married in 1910. Two children were born to this union, who survive him, although his good wife preceded him in death, having passed on to the great beyond, in 1928. He always enjoyed his home life and gloried in being the father of a happy family.

His entire boyhood, school, public, church, fraternal and family life was one of the highest character.

By his passing to the great beyond his family has lost a kindly father, his church and fraternities lost an ardent worker, his pupils and associates in school lost an efficient and helpful leader, and the people of his community lost a friend and neighbor, whose entire life was the finest example of the highest type of American citizenship.

HON. C. JAY GOODNOUGH

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Huntley.

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I take this opportunity of honoring the memory of Hon. C. Jay Goodnough. I fully realize that anything I may say will neither add to nor detract from what he accomplished as a citizen of public service. Yet, to recall some of the traits of his character might be of interest to us as well as to light the pathway for some benighted person trudging along a hard road to achieve success in the journey of life.

At the age of thirteen Mr. Goodnough was an orphan boy, facing the world with scarcely any relatives or friends, all alone, without means and possessing a limited amount of education. He soon learned that life was real and earnest. Being a boy of courage and judgment, he was able to face the problems of his environment, and to reach the conclusion that education was the essential foundation on which to build an efficient and successful life. He also perceived that character was the greatest element in human happiness and responsibility.

His business and political activities have already been spread upon the record of this House thru a privileged resolution, and I will therefore not dwell on this part of his life. I prefer to mention some of the distinctive qualities which helped to make him great. He had a motive for a higher position in life and worked to attain it. He had self respect of such dignity as to cause other people to respect him. He was rather reserved and quiet, but when he spoke he had the tact of saying the right thing in the right place. He was unassuming but whenever called upon to perform any duty, he accepted the challenge and was capable of rising to all emergencies. He was a common man of the common people, endowed with common sense and a spirit of fair play. These characteristics are such as characterized a great man.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair now asks that the members of the House stand in silent prayer out of respect to the memory of our departed friends.

May their souls and all the souls of the faithful departed rest in peace.

The Chair wishes to thank the members who participated and also the membership of the House for their splendid cooperation during these services.

The Chair now turns the gavel back to the Speaker of the House.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

MEMORIAL SERVICES TO BE PRINTEED IN JOURNAL

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the remarks made during the Memorial Exercises be printed in full in the Legislative Journal.

The motion was agreed to

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. WALSH and McGee offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 9, 1938.

Wherefore, The Clan of Corrigan has borne an honored name down through the centuries, even unto the realm of the Druids; and

Wherefore, The now famous Douglas Corrigan, who flew to California via Dublin, emulates the intrepid spirit of his ancestors; and

Wherefore, This House is singularly honored in having as a fellow member the Honorable John P. Corrigan who exemplifies the fact that the Clan of Corrigan never springs from anything but springs at them; and Wherefore, The Honorable John P. Corrigan frequently parallels the feat of his famous Clansman by going home via the Bolton;

Now therefore be it Resolved, That the House of Representatives takes cognizance of the presence of its distinguished member by extending to him its assurance of its deepest respect; and

Be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, properly certified, be transmitted to the Honorable John P. Corrigan.

Mr. CORRIGAN: Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House of Representatives, I do not feel that I deserve any of the credit and I do not want to take away any credit from the man for his great achievement in the furtherance of aviation, just because he is my namesake.

I wish however, to thank you, ladies and gentlemen of this House.

RESOLUTION

Mr. MARINO offered a resolution and asked unanimous consent for its immediate consideration and adoption.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objections and consent is not granted. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk.

CONGRATULATIONS

Messrs. HESS, LARUE, ROTHENBERGER and BALTHASER offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 9, 1938.

Whereas, On the morning of August 4, 1938, Warren Hess, a Member of this House, asked that his colleague, Albert S. Readinger, be excused for the day; and

Whereas, Unanimous consent was granted, the membership was not acquainted with the reason for the request of the excuse; and

Whereas, It has now been disclosed that Mr. Readinger had a race with the stork to the Reading Hospital, at Reading, Pennsylvania, where it has been further disclosed Mr. Readinger arrived safely, but before he had an opportunity to do much damage to the hospital property, it was announced that he was the father of a son, Alan Styer, and it has been further reported that our colleague, Albert, his wife, Ruth, and the baby, Alan, are all doing very nicely; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives congratulate Albert S. Readinger and his wife on the new addition to the Readinger household; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House be directed to forward the felicitations of this House to the proud parents.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The Committee on Education will meet on Monday August 15, 1938, at 7:30 p. m. in Room 324.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn out of respect to and in memory of the late Hon. Francis T. Baker, until Monday, August 15, 1938, at 8:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 4:13 p. m.) the House adjourned until Monday, August 15, 1938, at 8:00 p. m.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, AUGUST 15, 1938. No. 12.

SENATE

MONDAY, AUGUST 15, 1938.

The Senate met at 8:00 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL. D., offered the following prayer:

Infinite Spirit and Lord of all, we would come in humility and reverence to this hallowed moment. A day in Thy courts is better than a thousand. Give us to know the glory of Thy presence, the benediction which follows sincere worship.

Give unto us a wholesome sense of need and grace to discern the reality of spiritual values.

Loving Father, we confess a restless anxiety for our worthy Governor and his gracious companion, as they wing their way over mountains and seas, through cloud and storm to other lands. God bless them. Keep guardianship over their loved ones. In all, we trust to the guiding hand that bears the waterfowl upon his long flight, as seasons come and go.

Do Thou be in the midst of us. Lead our counsels. Make our decisions. May we love nothing but truth, fear nothing but wrong. Keep us faithful to our nation, to our Commonwealth, to the humanities of life; above all, to Thee. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. LAW, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House which was twice read as follows:

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING PAYMENT OF MILEAGE OF SENATORS AND MEMBERS

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the State Treasurer be and is hereby authorized to pay on warrant of the Auditor General to each member of the General Assembly mileage to and from their homes, at the rate of five cents per mile, circular, for each week a member was in actual attendance at the session of the Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly, (convened in Session on call of the Governor July 25, 1938) by virtue of the provisions of the Act of Assembly approved the tenth day of May, A. D., 1927, P. L. 880.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. RUTH read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

An Act to amend and re-enact section five hundred and twenty-four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended by limiting and prescribing the method of fixing the levy of school taxes in school districts of the first class.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 40, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one hundred eight, five hundred six, five hundred seven, eight hundred thirteen, eight hundred fourteen, and one thousand one hundred thirty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended, by providing for the merger of certain school districts with other districts; redefining indebtedness of school districts; empowering the county boards of school directors to employ an attorney and fix his compensation; increasing the salaries of member of the county board of school directors; and providing for limitations on the appointment of district superintendents.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

He also read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 41, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for the payment of salaries of members of, and attorneys employed by, county boards of school directors.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 42, entitled:

An Act to amend article two of section one of the act, approved the twelfth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 575), entitled "An act providing for joint action by Pennsylvania and New Jersey in the development of the ports on the lower Delaware River, and the improvement of the facilities for transportation across the river; authorizing the Governor, for these purposes, to enter into an agreement with New Jersey; creating The Delaware River Joint Commission and specifying the powers and duties thereof, including the powers to finance projects by the issuance of revenue bonds; transferring to the new commission all the powers of the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission; and making an appropriation," by fixing the term of office of certain members.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Boards.

Mr. RICE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 43, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Lieutenant Governor.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION TO FURNISH THE SENATE COPIES OF REPLIES FROM PUBLISHERS RELATIVE TO TEXTS ON EARLY PENNSYLVANIA HISTORY

Mr. SIPE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, August 15, 1938.

Whereas, the Senate by a unanimously adopted resolution during the last regular Session of the General Assembly, directed the Superintendent of Public Instruction to issue a protest to such publishers of school texts as offered for sale to the public schools of Pennsylvania texts on United States history that tell considerable about the first settlements in Massachusetts, New York, Virginia and other states but at the same time either ignore the first settlements in Pennsylvania altogether or else make very inadequate mention of the said first settlements; and

Whereas, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, about ten days after the adoption of said resolution, sent a communication to the Senate in which he said that he had issued the protest as directed and was receiving replies thereto from certain publishers of textbooks on United States history.

Therefore be it resolved that the said Superintendent of Public Instruction be directed to furnish the Senate with copies of all replies received by him to date from the said publishers.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, in connection with the foregoing resolution I wish to remind the members of the Senate that in the last general session a resolution was adopted unanimously, directing the Superintendent of Public Instruction to issue protests on such publications of text books used in schools of Pennsylvania which, while telling considerable about the beginnings in a number of other states, either ignore the beginnings of Pennsylvania altogether or pass them over lightly. That was the resolution.

About ten days later the Superintendent of Public Instruction sent a communication to the Senate in which he stated that he had issued the protest to a number of publishing companies as directed and was receiving very favorable replies.

I, for one, believe that the Senate of Pennsylvania is entitled to see what those replies are—whether they are favorable or not. So this resolution which I offered directs the Superintendent of Public Instruction to furnish a set of copies of all replies which he has received to date from the publishers.

I, therefore, ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

RECESS

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SECRETARY

The Sub-Committee on Welfare will meet tomorrow in Room 325 at 10:00 o'clock A. M. (E. S. T.).

During the recess the Committee on Appropriations will meet in Room 265.

Immediately after the meeting of the Committee on Appropriations, the Committee on City Government will meet in Room 265.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. STIEFEL from the Committee on City Government, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 35, (House Bill No. 22), entitled:

An Act to confirm and validate past tax levies or assessments made by school districts of the first class and liens filed thereon.

He also from the Committee on Appropriations re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 36 (House Bill No. 8), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies, for the payment of rates, rentals, and other charges that may become due on leases and other contracts executed by such department with the General State Authority for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth of various projects, structures, buildings, and facilities of the Authority or for the services rendered by the Authority or its projects.

Mr. BARTHOLD. Mr. President. I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARTHOLD from the Committee on Appropriations, re-reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 37, (House Bill No. 11), entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts, page forty-five), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven."

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 5, on concurrence in House amendments, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Emergency Relief Board," by re-defining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what will a vote "Aye" mean?

The PRESIDENT. Do you mean one vote "Aye"? That means nothing at all.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the Chair will answer my inquiry I will endeavor to get twenty six votes "Aye", but I would like to know what those twenty six votes mean.

The PRESIDENT. Nothing is in order but the vote.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I raised a question of parliamentary inquiry on the vote.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Tuesday, August 9, 1938, when, on motion of Mr. CADWALADER the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. MARINO. RESOLUTION No. 5.

In the House of Representatives, August 9, 1938.

Whereas, In the last primary election, various candidates running for political office, made charges of misconduct on the part of various officers of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The district attorney of Dauphin County, seized these political statements and instigated a grand jury investigation; and

Whereas, Those accused have demanded from time to time that the evidence be presented at once and that the grand jury proceed to final conclusion, or if sufficient evidence were on hand to immediately issue warrants for the officers concerned; some of the charges are directed to every Member of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, It is only proper that all persons involved, either be indicted and convicted, or acquitted prior to the general election so that the voters may know whether they are voting for innocent or guilty men for public office; and

Whereas, It cannot be too well emphasize that the voting public has a right to know and to know promptly, whether or not the public officers for whom they are going to vote, are guilty of the charges made or innocent; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania before whom the constitutionality of certain acts must be determined before the legal proceedings, both before the Dauphin County Grand Jury and before the House Committee may go forward, shall meet in extraordinary session prior to their regular September session, to determine the constitutionality of the respective acts covering the inquiries above referred to.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 40, entitled:

An Act to ratify, confirm and make valid the actions, proceedings, expenses and expenditures of the commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth, appointed pursuant to the joint resolution, approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, (P. L. 540), entitled "A joint resolution authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate, efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth; conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas; requiring the commission to make a report of its findings to the Governor, together with its recommendations as to such regulatory legislation as may be needful to correct any abuses and evils connected with such industry which are prejudicial to the interests of the citizens of this Commonwealth; authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes; and making an appropriation," and its amendment.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 38, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the expenses of the special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives on the day of one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight pursuant to a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on the day of one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight by authority of the act approved the day of one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (Act No.) entitled "An act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants"

TIME EXTENDED ON BILL

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 23, Printer's No. 23, on page 2 of today's calendar bills on second reading, be extended two weeks.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 26, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county, city (except city of the first class), borough, town, township, school district (except school district of the first class), and poor district taxes; prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period; and preserving certain tax liens, and providing for the extension thereof.

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 All penalties and interest imposed on delinquent county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years and all penalties imposed on such taxes for the tax years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate and on delinquent poll taxes levied for any of such years are hereby abated without the necessity of further action by the authority levying the tax if said delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided This section shall not be construed to abate the interest accrued on the taxes for the years of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven but no further interest shall be imposed on such taxes after the payment of the first installment as hereafter provided so long as the taxpayer complies with the provisions of this act

In order to receive the benefits of the installment system of payment provided by this act twenty per centum of the delinquent taxes due for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and for all previous years and of the accrued interest due on the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven taxes shall be paid on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and the final twenty per centum on or before the first day of November one thousand nine hundred and forty-two And provided That the respective current taxes (the institution district taxes in lieu of the poor taxes) on such parcel or parcels of real estate and on delinquent poll taxes levied for the years subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight during such installment periods assessed and levied by such taxing authority shall be paid before they become delinquent For the purposes of this act a tax shall be deemed to become delinquent on the date when a penalty attaches to the tax If and whenever any of the said current taxes or any of the said installments are not paid when due and payable as herein provided then and in that event there shall become due and payable for such year a sum equal to one-fifth of the total amount of the abated penalties and interest in addition to the other payments required to be paid under this act during that year which said additional sum shall be payable and must be paid at the time the next succeeding installment payment becomes due under this act If such additional sum is not so paid then the total amount of the abated penalties and interest less the aggregate of any such additional sums theretofore paid shall be revived and added to the unpaid taxes with the same force and effect as if such abated penalties and interest or portion thereof had never been abated and the taxpayer shall not thereafter be entitled to any further benefits or privileges under this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. HONTZ offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

It is fitting that this House make due note of the death of a member of the Governor's Cabinet. The Honorable Michael James Hartneady, born at Mauch Chunk on August 31, 1879, passed away at his home in Nesquehoning, on August 12, 1938.

The Secretary of Mines began his career as a breaker boy, picking slate at the early age of eleven, and gave his whole life to anthracite mining, passing through the successive stages from the lowliest position to the highest.

Mr. Hartneady was a life-long member of the Democratic Party. His life's work was devoted to the interests of labor. He served, for 26 years as an official of the United Mine Workers of America. To a considerable extent through his efforts, has mining been made safer for the thousands of Pennsylvanians engaged in the industry; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives give reverence to a staunch and loyal public servant who no longer can serve the cause for which he lived; bemourn the loss to the Commonwealth, to the mining industry, to the Democratic Party, and to his hosts of friends; and express its sympathy for the widow and relatives of the Honorable Michael J. Hartneady, late Secretary of Mines of this Commonwealth; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk be instructed to transmit a certified copy of these resolutions to Mrs. Catharine Cadden Hartneady, the widow of the deceased.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. STANK from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, House Bill No. 47, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Anthracite Coal Industry Commission, created by the act, approved the eighth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 21), entitled "An act creating the Anthracite Coal Industry Commission, defining its powers and duties; and making an appropriation."

Mr. MELCHIORRE from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, House Bill No. 57, entitled:

An Act to provide for the expenses of the extraordinary session of the Legislature, assembled July twenty-fifth, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, in pursuance of the proclamation of the Governor of the Commonwealth, dated July twenty-second, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, and the supplements thereto.

Mr. McELROY from the Committee on Municipal Corporations, reported as committed, House Bill No. 54, (Senate Bill No. 14), entitled:

An Act providing for the adjournment and readjournment of county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands that were to have been held in the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven or one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight for non-payment of taxes in counties except those of the first and second class and preserving the lien of all taxes on such lands.

Mr. FLANAGAN from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 49, (Senate Bill No. 10), entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws sixteen) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to defray the cost of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred thirty-six" by making a further appropriation to supply the deficiency incurred and needed under the provisions of said act.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. OMINSKY and FINNERTY.

RESOLUTION No. 6.

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas, Section one of article five imposes upon the Magistrates' Courts a very important part of the judicial power of this Commonwealth; and

Whereas, Magistrates' Courts are constitutional courts, and Section eleven of article one provides that "all courts shall be open; and every man for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial or delay;" and

Whereas, It has been called to the attention of the General Assembly that the Magistrates' Courts of Philadelphia have not been open during the week-ends of this summer; and

Whereas, This is not only in violation of the Constitution of this Commonwealth, but also in violation of the Magistrates' Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, section ten of which specifically provides: "There shall be established a central police court in the city hall of the City of Philadelphia, which shall be open, with a magistrate continually present thereat, during the entire twenty-four hours of each day, and to which the mayor of the City of Philadelphia shall regularly assign from the body of magistrates a sufficient number of magistrates to hold the same for the period of one month; Provided, however, That the same magistrate shall not be assigned for consecutive months, and that no magistrate shall be assigned to said court more than once in every six months;" and

Whereas, There were only one or two magistrates available over the last few week-ends, is inexcusable in that there are twenty-eight magistrates in Philadelphia; and

Whereas, Heretofore it was presumed that the reason that laxity existed in the Magistrates' Courts was that there was no supervising authority over the magistrates, and accordingly under the act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, such supervisory power and authority was given to the common pleas court of Philadelphia in section thirty-four of said act, which provides as follows: "The judges of the courts of common pleas shall have the power, from time to time, as they deem necessary, to inquire into and consider and and all matters and things touching the administration of the business of the magistrates and the performance by them of their duties, and, for this purpose, to issue out of any of the courts of common pleas writs of subpoena for the summoning of witnesses and the production of books, papers, and documents of the magistrates, or others, as may be relevant and proper to such inquiry, and to take such lawful and proper action in the premises as the said judges deem necessary;" therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania respectfully requests the board of judges of the common pleas court of Philadelphia to convene in special session for the purpose of inquiring into the administration by the present magistrates of the Magistrates' Courts of Philadelphia, and to institute such proceedings as shall be necessary for the removal of those magistrates found guilty of violating the provisions of the said act; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed to the secretary of the board of judges of the common pleas courts of Philadelphia, to the mayor, the district attorney, and the superintendent of police of the City of Philadelphia.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. HOLLAND. RESOLUTION No. 7.

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas, During the past two decades, the automobile industry has developed rapidly with attendant reduction of prices to such an extent that the great majority of families and business firms now own and operate motor vehicles; and

Whereas, The general use of the automobile and other motor vehicles created the demand for more improved streets and highways, a portion of which cost is born by the revenue procured from motor vehicle licenses and gasoline taxes, while the real property owners have been required to maintain most of the city and borough streets for the benefit of such motor vehicles, as well as to mortgage their properties through municipal bond issues by city, county, borough and township governments for further improvements of streets, alleys and for maintenance of the same in addition to supplying through direct taxation on such real properties, including the homes and farms of this Commonwealth, sufficient funds to provide the essential safety devices and motor patrols for the facilitation of motor vehicular traffic; and

Whereas, The unfair tax burden place upon realty owners for financing the expenses of traffic patrols, traffic signal lights and their maintenance, better traffic committees, traffic planning commissions, traffic courts with its attendant costs of magistrates, etc., stolen car division of detective forces, and homicide squads, and many other direct costs of a similar nature, such as the civil and criminal divisions of the courts of common pleas, and the municipal and county courts, for the settlement of claims resulting from the popular use of the automobiles and trucks; and

Whereas, Real estate owners who own twenty-six per centum (26%) of the total wealth of this Commonwealth are now required to pay approximately ninety per centum (90%) of the cost of all local government, including aforementioned safety devices and measures for the protection of automotive traffic, and in addition the cost of operating the public schools, which tax burden is admittedly out of all proportion and should be remedied at the earliest possible time through equitable legislation; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives in Extraordinary session assemble request and direct the State Highway Department to make a survey of the costs to the municipalities of the Commonwealth for all such traffic regulation and safety services attributable to the automobile and motor truck usage of the municipal streets and highways for the purpose of enabling the next general sesion of the Legislature to properly draft bills to relieve the real property owners of such municipalities of the entire cost of such services resulting from the popular use of automotive equipment; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the State Highway Department shall present to the House of Representatives, at the next regular session, a report of the facts obtained by the above specified survey.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHEA. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege, to unburden myself of the suspicion of larceny. Mr. Speaker, I want to establish my honesty before this House. Mr. Speaker, I want also to establish the fact that I am an American citizen, that I have been born an American, of American parents and American grand-parents. I was born in the little town of Summit Hill in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Pennsylvania. I went to high school there and during one of my vacations I picked slate. I want you to understand, Mr. Speaker that I am a better slate picker than Tom Kennedy, and Tom Kennedy is a great deal better than Judge James. I wandered from the valleys of the Blue Ridge Mountains down to Pennsylvania's No. 1 city, the city of Brotherly Love. I also taught military medicine in the broad valleys of our Commonwealth. I have ridden horseback down through the valleys and scaled the hills until I got to a point where I saw the panorama of York before me.

Mr. Speaker, I want to purge myself of larceny and the larceny that I want to purge myself of, and which I want to get rid of, is the fact that on St. Patrick's Day last, when the Legislative Sons of St. Patrick had their banquet, I was out with a Republican member of this House, and during our little sojourn he lost his teeth. I thought this member was a friend of mine until I read an item in the Philadelphia Inquirer and when I saw what he called my party, I thought he referred to me. Now, gentlemen I have no teeth belonging to David Perry. I will try those that I have in my face to see if they will fit him.

Now Mr. Speaker, may I ask David Perry to make an apology to this House for even having the remotest suspicion that I took his teeth.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. MOOMAW. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 8,

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas, the Governor has asembled this Extraordinary Session for the purpose of considering, among other things, legislation making illegal the use of devices or methods of transmission of information or advices in furtherance of gambling; and

Whereas, it is essential that the General Assembly have a full disclosure of the facts pertaining to the use of machines or instruments and other devices that are used to furnish or obtain information to be used in gambling before proper legislation may be enacted with respect thereto; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that there is hereby created an investigating committee, which shall be composed of three Senators, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate, one of whom shall be designated as Chairman, and three Members of the House of Representatives, to be appointed by the Speaker thereof, whose duty it shall be to make a careful and thorough investigation of the existing practices, means, machines, instruments and devices whereby information is knowingly gathered, obtained, disseminated and received in the furtherance of gambling, for the purpose of reporting to this Extraordinary Session of the General Asembly, as early as possible, its findings and its recommendations as to such changes or improvements as it may find to be necessary or desirable to correct any inperfections, insufficiencies or defects in existing laws relating to gambling, to the end that the gambling evil may be more readily and more completely eliminated; and

Resolved, that the committee may employ, and fix the compensation of, such counsel, experts, clerks and assistants, if any, as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the committee; and

Resolved, that the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman, requiring and demanding any proper person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents relating to the subject of inquiry as the committee may deem necessary. Each member of the said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully refuse to appear or testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records or documents, as aforesaid, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House agreed to transcribe House Bill No. 26, Printer's No. 19, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof.

on page 3, of today's calendar, bills on second reading, be reconsidered.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, these amendments, to begin with, are being offered agreeable to Mr. Weiss, sponsor of the bill, and, secondly, the reason they are being offered now is because the amendments prepared by the county commissioners of some of the smaller counties have just reached us. This is not a partisan proposition, in any way. It simply is an attempt to insert the necessary wording into this tax abatement bill which will permit the governing authorities of each county to abate the taxes or not, as they see fit. In other words, if the conditions in the counties which the sponsors of the bill represent here are such that those counties wish to abate taxes, we would not be passing a law which would make it mandatory upon my county and some others which might not wish to abate the taxes to do so, whether they wish to or not. The sole purpose of these amendments is to make it a matter of local government in each county to decide whether or not they wish to abate taxes, and any of you whose counties wish to abate taxes will still have the entire privilege to do so.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. McDEVITT and Mr. SPROUL and were as follows:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1938. No. 13.

SENATE

TUESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1938.

The Senate met at 1:30 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.).

The PREESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

Thou living and eternal God, whom we find not in wind, or earthquake, or fire, but in the still small voice, we would have Thee speak to our hearts and we would speak unto Thee. As we stand near the open door of parting ways, it is good to be still a moment and know that Thou art God. We would seek Thy wisdom in our further deliberations. Bestow upon us all a spirit of moderation, a heart for justice, a sensitiveness to right; and many there abound a mutuality of concession and good will.

In respect to grave issues of which we speak so little here, yet think so deeply, may we choose the silence that is golden, above the eloquence that is silver, not forgetting that:

"The greatest treasure mortal times afford,
Is spotless reputation;
That away,
Man is but gilded loam, or painted clay."

Let the words of our mouth, and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord our rock and our salvation. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. McGINNIS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. Rice and Mr. Law.

That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor to be referred to on appropriate committee be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into executive session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. Rice and Mr. Law.

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—36

Barthold,	Eroe,	Kahle,	Rice,
Buckman,	Frey,	Kilgallen,	Rodgers,

DiSilvestro,	Huffman,	McGinnis,	Thompson,
Ealy,	Jacobs,	Reed,	Wolfenden,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. WOODWARD read in his place and presented to the Chair, Senate Bill No. 44, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Yes sir, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I notice that the gentleman from Philadelphia has introduced a constitutional amendment and that several others of these introduced by him are on the calendar for today. I want to call the attention of the gentleman from Philadelphia to the provision of the Constitution relating to amendments.

Article XVIII, Section 1 reads, "Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives and, if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journal with the yeas and nays taken thereon and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same to be published three months before the next general election."

I would like to inquire from the Senator from Philadelphia what can be the purpose or object of introducing this amendment, if under the Constitution it must be published three months before a general election and there is not sufficient time before the next general election to publish any of these amendments.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, a similar amendment was passed at the last regular session but it increases the limit of indebtedness in Philadelphia from ten percent to fifteen percent and the City Comptroller, Dr. White, has given a lot of publicity to some of these disadvantages of allowing Philadelphia to borrow so much money and I, therefore, thought that I would be wise and accept the Comptroller's suggestion and therefore I have lowered the debt limit from fifteen percent to twelve and one-half percent, hoping that that would meet the Comptroller's objections. This particular joint resolution is put in at this time to overtake the one that passed in the last regular session and would be voted on in November, presumably.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, Yes sir!

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it not true that this is in effect a new amendment and that it cannot be advertised within the time specified in the constitution?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, my understanding is that in this Special Session we are free to introduce constitutional amendments and if they were passed the second time this winter session, they would be in order for the voting the next November. That is my understanding. You may have me on the advertising but it is very unkind to press a technicality.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I raise these questions specifically because we all have on our calendar these bills and there ought to be some action taken on constitutional amendments. Considering the beating that we have been taking from the gentlemen on the other side, on the question of the unconstitutionality of our measures, at the last session I think we would be very deficient if we did not pay attention to some of those suggestions. Senator Buckman, for instance, came back in a hurry to help us see that we passed no more unconstitutional legislation, and here is a specific provision of the Constitution which provides that there must be three months advertising after the first passage of constitutional amendments and therefore I ask the gentlemen to help us. We should not take any further beatings from the Supreme Court on this issue later and I ask them to join with me in dropping these bills from the calendar.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia if he understands that the Constitution provides that these constitutional amendments shall be advertised after they are passed once by the Legislature or after they are passed the second time?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the constitutional provisions which I read provide that the amendment must be advertised after it has been first passed by the Legislature for the first time.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia kindly read that clause again.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I shall be glad to as I know that the Senator from Bucks does not have his glasses with him.

Article XVIII, Section 1, reads: "An amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives and if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same to be published three months before the next general election in at least two newspapers in every county in which such newspapers shall be published."

Now to further emphasize my point I ask the gentleman to listen to the next provision. "And if in the General Assembly next afterwards chosen, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same again to be published in the manner aforesaid."

It is because of that, that I take the position that there are two advertisings necessary, one after each passage by each separate House. There is not any question about it in my opinion and it seems to me that the introduction of these amendments is either a waste of time or is merely for the purpose of making idle gestures.

I am very much concerned about the constitutionality of all of these amendments, now that the gentlemen have called my attention to those acts which have been declared unconstitutional as the result of our activities in the last session.

RESOLUTION

REQUESTING INFORMATION RELATIVE TO AEROPLANE USED BY GOVERNOR GEORGE H. EARLE.

Mr. OWLETT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, August 16, 1938.

Whereas Honorable George H. Earle, Governor of the Commonwealth, is now vacationing in South and Central American countries in a new Stinson aeroplane owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and

Whereas said aeroplane was purchased within the last few weeks by the Pennsylvania Motor Police at a cost of $15,192.45, out of the appropriation made to the Pennsylvania Motor Police for the current biennium out of the Motor License Fund and

Whereas said airplane is being piloted by an officer of the Pennsylvania Motor Police and

Whereas there is no authority under any statute authorizing the use of State property by any officer of the Commonwealth for vacation purposes and

Whereas there is no authority in this act appropriating out of the Motor License Fund to the Pennsylvania Motor Police money for the purchase of aeroplanes said appropriation being for salaries and general expenses; Now Therefore Be It

Resolved that the Honorable Percy W. Foote, Commissioner of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, be requested to furnish to the Senate forthwith a detailed statement of the cost of the plane now used by the Governor on his vacation trip, a statement of the authority under which said plane was purchased and paid for from the Motor License Fund, and a statement of the authority under which he permitted the use of said plane by the Governor of the Commonwealth for a vacation trip to South America, and that he advise the Senate the arrangements under which he permitted an officer of the Pennsylvania Motor Police to pilot said plane.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, very gladly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the purpose of this resolution is to ascertain the cost of the aeroplane that the Governor is using.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, no, it is the purpose of the resolution, Mr. President, to ascertain the authority under which the Pennsylvania Motor Police first, purchased for $15,000—we know the cost, $15,192.45,—out of the Motor License Fund, an aeroplane for a vacation trip for the Governor. The second purpose is to find out by what authority State property can be used for a vacation trip by the Governor and other officers of the Commonwealth. That is the purpose of the resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to ask whether or not the resolution is within the scope of the call for this special session.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this is a special session of the Legislature and a resolution of that nature, to my mind, can be passed by this Senate. It is merely asking for information for the information of this Senate on the facts with reference to the use of that plane. I would like to call the Senate's attention to the fact that it has been noted in the papers that it is a State-owned plane. I quote the following Associated Press dispatch, as follows: "Mexico City, Aug. 15—Governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania, on a vacation tour, landed here at 2:25 P. M. today. He was met at the airport by United States Ambassador Josephus Daniels."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that does not bother me—the fact that he landed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will continue. "With the Governor in his State-owned monoplane were his wife and his pilot, Capt. A. M. Banks, of the Pennsylvania State police."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Tioga, whether he is not one of the gentlemen who spoke from that side of the House, a short time ago, about the unconstitutionality of the legislation which has been passed, and whether he is not making a decision on a constitutional question rather quickly.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to state—

The PRESIDENT. Let the Chair state that in the judgment of the Chair the resolution is permissible in that it seeks information; we adopted a similar resolution last evening.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like a roll call on the motion to suspend the rule.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, under the motion is the resolution debatable at the present time?

The PRESIDENT. Only within a narrow limit. The question is on suspending rule 39 in order to give immediate consideration. Discussion should be on the rule.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, very gladly.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as I understand it, the Senator objects to the fact that the Governor is using an aeroplane belonging to the State for a vacation trip.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this resolution merely requests the head of the Pennsylvania Motor Police to advise the Senate under what authority he purchased this aeroplane out of motor license funds, to advise the Senate under what authority he permits it to be used for a vacation trip, and under what authority he permits it to be piloted by an officer of the Pennsylvania Motor Police. That is what the resolution calls for; it merely asks for information for this Senate. If the Senate does not care to know about it, that can be determined by their vote on it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think the Motor Police has a right to buy any equipment that will further its efficiency. I do not believe that the Motor Police ever had specific instructions to buy motorcycles when they did not have them but they found that they were better than horses and they bought them. But as far as the vacation trip is concerned we might remind the Senator that the President uses a warship to go fishing. Every President has had special equipment of all kinds to take him places.

As far as this particular trip and vacation is concerned I think that maybe the point that the Senator wishes to make is that he is disappointed that the Governor landed safely. I think this is petty politics. Maybe they had better give it to Shelley to investigate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if it is petty politics when the State of Pennsylvania spent $15,192.45 out of motor license funds for an aeroplane ride for the Governor down to South America I think the people can judge that rather than the Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there are a number of matters in the call to which attention could be directed with much more force and effect than on this resolution, and I should like to speak on the question as narrowly as possible. I would like to call attention to the fact that this resolution is not an information-seeking resolution but is a statement-making resolution and has no force or effect.

This resolution starts out with the statement that the Governor is now vacationing in Central America in a Stinson aeroplane owned by the Commonwealth. Therefore whether or not it is owned by the Commonwealth does not need to be inquired into.

"The aeroplane was purchased within the last few weeks by the Pennsylvania Motor Police at a cost of $15,000." In view of that statement I cannot see what can be the purpose of this resolution which requests somebody to furnish the Senate with a detailed statement of the cost. We have the statement. There is a statement in the resolution as to the cost and as to the ownership of the aeroplane used, and I want to say for the benefit of the members of this Senate that all this resolution can do is merely give us a letter from Mr. Foote saying that it cost $15,000 and that the Governor is using it. Whether he is using it for vacationing or not is not asked in this resolution, which merely asks by what authority he is using it. This merely calls attention to the fact that the Governor of Pennsylvania has used an aeroplane belonging to the State and everyone who knows anything about it knows that he is using it for a perfectly legitimate purpose, for the purpose of investigating the Motor Police and learning how the State Police functions where he is. It comes in pretty bad taste if that is all these people can find to complain about. It is a new low. They ought to sell out at this new low.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, perhaps for the benefit of the members of the Senate I can enlighten them with reference to the facts, such as I learned them. I went today, after reading this article, to the Auditor General's office to find out whether this was a State aeroplane. I learned at first that all the planes were purchased through the Department of Revenue for the Aeronautics Bureau and that no other department of State government owned any aeroplanes. Then after many calls and very fine cooperation from the Auditor General's office they did run down the fact that this was an exception to the rule, and that the Motor Police had purchased this plane. As a matter of fact, it has not yet been paid for. The requisition has been signed by the Governor and I was shown the requisition. It had been approved but the check had not been issued. The purchase order was made out to the Pennsylvania Motor Police, Order No. A 185666, for one Airflane, Model SR-10, Stinson, as per specifications submitted. Cost, $15,192.45.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his point of order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, the matter before the Senate is not debatable and ought not to have been debated this far, and I object.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken. May the Chair suggest that the resolution seeks information and the Senator is now giving information.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the resolution contains matters or allegations which if true may rightly be the basis of impeachment proceedings. Under the legislation already passed by this session of the General Assembly, the power to investigate charges which may result in charges sufficient to sustain impeachment proceedings is reposed in the House of Representatives, and therefore this resolution is out of order.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his point of order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I insist that this is not debatable. The resolution is not before the Senate and cannot be debated until it comes back from committee.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is sustained.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Owlett and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—11.

Buckman,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Wolfenden,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Owlett,	Woodward,
Deitrick,	Haluska,	Rupp,

NAYS—25.

Barthold,	Huffman,	Law,	Rice,
Cavalcante,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Rodgers,
Dent,	Kahle,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Pytko,	Sipe,
Henney,	Lanius,	Reed,	Stiefel,
Heyburn,

So the question was determined in the negative.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Aeronautics.

EMPLOYE OF THE SENATE

Mr. HUFFMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, August 16, 1938.

Resolved that Byron Blank be elected Assistant Sergeant-At-Arms vice Fred Marsh removed.

ADJOURNMENT OF TAX SALES

Mr. RICE offered the following resolution, which was twice read, as follows:

In the Senate, August 16, 1938.

WHEREAS, Among the subjects designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth for legislation at the present extraordinary session of the General Assembly is one, "Providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest on taxes imposed by the various political subdivisions, poor districts and school districts of the Commonwealth:" and

WHEREAS, Bills on this subject, including, as a necessary incident thereto, provision for the staying of tax sales, have been introduced and are pending before the General Assembly, but cannot be enacted into law prior to a proposed recess of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, Tax sales are at present scheduled to be held at times prior to the time said legislation can be enacted into law, and if such tax sales are held as scheduled, taxpayers will be deprived of the right and opportunity of availing themselves of the benefits which the General Assembly intends to grant; therefore be it

RESOLVED (If the House of Representatives concur), That all tax sales scheduled to be held at any time prior to the 30th day of September, 1938, be adjourned for a period of 30 days; and all sheriffs and county treasurers are hereby authorized and directed to make such adjournments; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the General Assembly hereby undertakes to enact legislation providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest, with provisions for the stay of tax sales, and the ratification and validation of all adjournments of tax sales pursuant to these resolutions; and be it further

RESOLVED, That certified copies of these resolutions be forwarded, by the Secretary of the Senate, to each sheriff and to each county treasurer in this Commonwealth.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, in connection with the foregoing resolution, I would like to say that the Senate has passed a bill which would have the effect, if it were enacted into law, of staying the tax sales. However, the bill has just been reported out of Committee in the House, and if the Legislature is going to adjourn this week, it will not have time to pass that bill finally. So this resolution will have the effect of staying those tax sales until the Legislature can pass the legislation.

I, therefore, ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO SWEDISH EXPEDITION

Mr. RUPP offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, August 16, 1938.

WHEREAS, The General Assembly by the Act approved the 28th day of July, 1936, authorized and directed the Pennsylvania Historical Commission of the Department of Public Instruction to arrange a suitable commemoration of the 300th Anniversary of the landings of the ships, Kalmar Nyckel and Fogel Grip and the establishment of the colony of New Sweden; and

WHEREAS, The General Assembly appropriated the sum of $40,000.00 for the purpose of carrying out said celebration, and

WHEREAS, the Governor and other officials of this Commonwealth, with their relatives and friends visited Sweden and enjoyed the hospitality of the Swedes, the cost of which was paid out of said appropriation, and

WHEREAS, Senator C. Hale Sipe was the author and sponsor of said appropriation and was not invited to accompany said junket to Sweden, now therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, That the Appropriations Committee, appropriate an additional sum of $40,000.00 for the purpose of sending Senator Sipe to Sweden and thus express our confidence and respect for our colleague, the Senator from Armstrong County, and restore his injured feelings to status quo.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I object.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the foregoing resolution be amended to include the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and myself in the trip.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman from Philadelphia could include all of the Senators. The appropriation is large enough.

The PRESIDENT. Objection is made. Instead of referring the resolution to the Committee on International Relations, we will send it to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, being temporarily hard of hearing, I did not hear the name of the sponsor of the resolution proposing to send me to Sweden. I am glad that Senator Rupp has evidently had a change of heart. I recall when the bill was introduced setting up the appropriation of $40,000.00 for the celebration of the Tercentenary, Senator Rupp thought that was too large an amount and fought very strenuously to get the amount reduced to $25,000.00. I am glad to know he has increased his interest in early Pennsylvania history.

The PRESIDENT. We will now proceed to the consideration of the calendar.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 5, on concurrence in House amendments, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, (P. L. 2051), entitled "An act relating to public assistance; providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children, aged persons, blind persons and other persons requiring relief; providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose; authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with, and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons; providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board, Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund, and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind; and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance, pensions for the blind, old age assistance, and the State Tmergency Relief Board," by re-defining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

He also asked unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 36, (House Bill No. 8), on third reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies, for the payment of rates, rentals, and other charges that may become due on leases and other contracts executed by such department with the General State Authority for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth of various projects, structures, buildings, and facilities of the Authority or for the services rendered by the Authority or its projects.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

He also asked unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 37, (House Bill No. 11) on third reading, entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts, page forty-five), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance, for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, and for the payment of assistance and expenses accured or incurred prior to, and remaining unpaid on, May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven."

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM THE CALENDAR

Mr. SHAPIRO, I move that Senate Bill No. 2 on second reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section four Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have made this motion for the reasons discussed previously at this session this afternoon. Even if passed, this bill would be inoperative and ineffective under the Constitution, as it is in violation of the section of the Constitution on amendments, to which I referred.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I trust this motion will not prevail, and that these joint resolutions will go over to the 1939 session, so that they may have passed two sessions of the Legislature. I would like to remind the Senate that these particular joint resolutions were written by our distinguished visitor, Mr. Schnader, who sits over there. It is particularly unfortunate that the Senator from Philadelphia rises against these resolutions in his presence.

I would also like to remind the Senate that these particular resolutions were at one time in the Committee on Constitutional Changes, with a Republican chairman, and that they could never get out of committee. But under this Democratic administration I was encouraged to feel that the Democrats were going to support me in this resolution. as well as the two following ones which also were submerged by the Republican committee. I hope the Senators will not fail to give us a chance this time.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to assure the Senator from Philadelphia that there is no desire upon anybody's part to interfere with the orderly procedure on these resolutions, but it is obvious that under the Constitution of Pennsylvania, there is nothing to be gained by passing these joint resolutions at this session of the Legislature. Under the Constitution, they must pass one session of the Legislature, and then be advertised ninety days before the next general election. The purpose of that is definitely stated further on in the constitutional provision, and it is that the people shall have an opportunity of knowing before they vote for candidates to the next Legislature what constitutional amendments are to be voted on the second time at that Legislature. That cannot be done in the case of these proposed constitutional amendments, and if they were to be passed at this time it would only be time wasted, because they may be again passed in the next Legislature and then be advertised before the Legislature is elected in 1940, and then come up again before that Legislature, so that there is nothing to be gained at this time. Therefore, I ask that the Senators support the motion of Mr. Shapiro.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I can speak twice on this subject, I suppose. I simply want to say that if this is a matter of political expediency, it is just too bad, because I know that there will be more opposition next winter than there is in this mid-summer weather this August, if the people vote to get rid of many of the present members. Therefore, I can see that I am going to get licked next winter on these resolutions, and I express my regrets and hand my flowers over to the other side.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to make it clear that I have no objection to voting in favor of the purposes of this resolution. I have read the bill, and the Senator from Philadelphia knows that I am in accord with him in his opposition to increased indebtedness for the city of Philadelphia. I am quite sure that the gentleman from Philadelphia, who has had the honor of being the Attorney General of this Commonwealth, if he had a voice here, would agree that my objection to the bill as to its constitutionality is valid. I can recognize the concern of the gentleman from Philadelphia, who is both happy and mortified. He has the mixed feeling of being torn between love and duty. He loves his amendments but he fears that in January there will be a Republican organization in control, and that the bill will again meet the same fate that it met before.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, exactly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, however, I should like to help the gentleman in his dilemma, because I believe in the amendment; but I also believe that this amendment is one on the subject of the constitutionality of which I do not think there will be any question.

This provision in the Article that I read means exactly what it says, and is perfectly plain. There is no ambiguity about it, there can be no two ways of thinking about it. It expressly states that there must be two advertisings, the first of which must be ninety days before the next general election. You cannot say that we can pass this act now and then advertise it again next year, ninety days before the next general election, because that would not be the next general election referred to under the Constitution. It must be the general election coming next after the session at which the amendments are passed.

I think it is perfectly clear and perfectly obvious, and I personally do not object to these bills—I would vote for them if they could be constitutionally passed.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he would not be willing, out of courtesy to his colleague from Philadelphia, instead of dropping these bills from the calendar, to let them go over in order until we come back after Labor Day, and at that time the corpse will be prepared for interment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to do that, particularly as the advertising period will have been shortened then anyhow.

I withdraw my motion.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that all bills on second reading of today's calendar go over in their order.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

NOTARIES PUBLIC

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public which were laid on the table.

HOUSE MESSAGES

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House had concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, August 15, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Tuesday evening, September 6, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Tuesday evening, September 6, at 8 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE INSISTS ON ITS AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL NO. 16

He also informed that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 16, entitled

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority to contract with and to lease or acquire from any housing authority any area acquired or about to be acquired by such housing authority for slum clearance purposes

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insist on its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives, and appoint a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar Committee of the House of Representatives (if the House shall appoint such a Committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, that Messrs. Kunkle, Jacobs and Pierson be said Committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE INSISTS ON ITS AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL NO. 17

He also informed that the House insists upon its amendments nonconcurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 17, entitled

An Act authorizing housing authorities to contract with and to lease or convey to the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority any area acquired or about to be acquired for slum clearance purposes

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate insist on its non-concurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives, and appoint a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar Committee of the House of Representatives (if the House shall appoint such a Committee) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, that Messrs. Kunkle, Jacobs, and Pierson be said Committee on the part of the Senate, and that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RECESS

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess until 5:00 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.).

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SECRETARY

The Committee on Education will meet in Room 265 during the recess.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that a public hearing will be held in the Senate Chamber on House Bill No. 17 during the recess.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE MESSAGES

ADJOURNMENT OF TAX SALES

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced informed the Senate that the House had concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, August 16, 1938.

Whereas, Among the subjects designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth for legislation at the present extraordinary session of the General Assembly is one, "Providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest on taxes imposed by the various political subdivisions, poor districts and school districts of the Commonwealth;" and

Whereas, Bills on this subject, including, as a necessary incident thereto, provision for the staying of tax sales, have been introduced and are pending before the General Assembly, but cannot be enacted into law prior to a proposed recess of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, Tax sales are at present scheduled to be held at times prior to the time said legislation can be enacted into law, and if such tax sales are held as scheduled, taxpayers will be deprived of the right and opportunity of availing themselves of the benefits which the General Assembly intends to grant; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That all tax sales scheduled to be held at any time prior to the 30th day of September, 1938, be adjourned for a period of 30 days; and all sheriffs and county treasurers are hereby authorized and directed to make such adjournments; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby undertakes to enact legislation providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest, with provisions for the stay of tax sales, and the ratification and validation of all adjournments of tax sales pursuant to these resolutions; and be it further

Resolved, That certified copies of these resolutions be forwarded, by the Secretary of the Senate, to each sheriff and to each county treasurer in this Commonwealth.

RESOLUTION CREATING A JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE EXISTING PRACTICES IN FURTHERANCE OF GAMBLING

He also presented an extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas the Governor has assembled this extraordinary session for the purpose of considering among other things legislation making illegal the use of devices in methods of transmission of information or advices in furtherance of gambling and

Whereas it is essential that the General Assembly have a full disclosure of the facts pertaining to the use of machines or instruments and other devices that are used to furnish or obtain information to be used in gambling before proper legislation may be enacted with respect thereto therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that there is hereby created an investigating committee which shall be composed of three Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate one of whom shall be designated as Chairman and three Members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker thereof whose duty it shall be to make a careful and thorough investigation of the existing practices means machines instruments and devices whereby information is knowingly gathered obtained disseminated and received in the furtherance of gambling for the purpose of reporting to this extraorinary session of the General Assembly as early as possible its findings and its recommendations as to such changes or improvements as it may find to be necessary or desirable to correct any imperfections insufficiencies or defects in existing laws relating to gambling to the end that the gambling evil may be more readily and more completely eliminated and

Resolved that the committee may employ and fix the compensation of such counsel experts clerks and assistants if any as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the committee and

Resolved that the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman requiring and demanding any proper person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents relating to the subject of inquiry as the committee may deem necessary Each member of the said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully refuse to appear or testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents as aforesaid shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

Which was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RESOLUTION

INQUIRING INTO ADMINISTRATION BY MAGISTRATES OF MAGISTRATES' COURT OF PHILADELPHIA

He also presented an extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas Section one of Article five imposes upon the Magistrates' Courts a very important part of the judicial power of this Commonwealth and

Whereas Magistrates Courts are constitutional courts and Section eleven of Article one provides that "all courts shall be open and every man for an injury done him in his lands goods person or reputation shall have remedy by due course of law and right and justice administered without sale denial or delay" and

Whereas It has been called to the attention of the General Assembly that the Magistrates Courts of Philadelphia have not been open during the week-ends of this summer and

Whereas This is not only in violation of the Constitution of this Commonwealth but also in violation of the Magistrates' Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven section ten of which specifically provides "There shall be established a central police court in the city hall of the city of Philadelphia which shall be open with a magistrate continually present thereat during the entire twenty-four hours of each day and to which the mayor of the city of Philadelphia shall regularly assign from the body of magistrates a sufficient number of magistrates to hold the same for the period of one month Provided however That the same magistrate shall not be assigned for consecutive months and that no magistrate shall be assigned to said court more than once in every six months" and

Whereas There were only one or two magistrates available over the last few week-ends is inexcusable in that there are twenty-eight magistrates in Philadelphia and

Whereas Heretofore it was presumed that the reason that laxity existed in the Magistrates' Courts was that there was no supervising authority over the magistrates and accordingly under the act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven such supervisory power and authority was given to the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia in section thirty-four of said act which provides as follows: "The judges of the courts of common pleas shall have the power from time to time as they deem necessary to inquire into and consider any and all matters and things touching the administration of the business of the magistrates and the performance by them of their duties and for this purpose to issue out of any of the courts of common pleas writs of subpoena for the summoning of witnesses and the production of books papers and documents of the magistrates or others as may be relevant and proper to such inquiry and to take such lawful and proper action in the premises as the said judges may deem necessary" therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania respectfully requests the board of judges of the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia to convene in special session for the purpose of inquiring into the administration by the present magistrates of the Magistrates' Courts of Philadelphia and to institute such proceedings as shall be necessary for the removal of those magistrates found guilty of violating the provisions of the said act and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be mailed to the secretary of the board of judges of the Common Pleas Court of Philadelphia to the mayor the district attorney and the superintendent of police of the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, having read the resolution carefully and knowing what is in it I withdraw my objection to immediate consideration.

The PRESIDENT. We have a parliamentary tangle here. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Rules but is still in the physical possession of the Senate. It has not gone to the Committee. Under a previous decision the Chair rules that the resolution is now before the Senate.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL NUMBER 16 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

He also informed that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority to contract with and to lease or acquire from any housing authority any area acquired or about to be acquired by such housing authority for slum clearance purposes.

And has appointed Messrs. Dickinson, Spengler, and Habbyshaw to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

HOUSE INSISTS UPON ITS AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL NUMBER 17 AND APPOINTS COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

He also informed that the House insists upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 17, entitled

An Act authorizing housing authorities to contract with and to lease or convey to the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority any area acquired or about to be acquired for slum clearance purposes

And has appointed Messrs. Dickinson, Spangler, and Habbyshaw to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SECRETARY

The Committee on State Government will hold a hearing in the Senate Chamber tomorrow at 2:00 o'clock, P. M. (E.S.T.), on Senate Bills Numbers 27—28—29.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, September 6, 1938 at 8:00 o'clock P. M., (E.S.T.).

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:24 o'clock P. M. until Tuesday, September 6, 1938 at 8:00 o'clock, P. M., (E.S.T.).

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1938.

The House met at 2:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend JAMES CLAIR TAYLOR, Pastor of Wesley Union, A.M.E. Zion Church, Harrisburg, Pa., offered the following prayer:

Into the beauty of this hour we come, Our Father. Into the responsibilities of this hour we move, feeling the urge of the past and the pull of the future. May we heed the beckoning hand that would lure us to our opportunities to serve thee, by serving the highest interests of the people of our Commonwealth. Lift us out of the narrow, selfish path into the broad road of truth and justice. Help us to feel the common life that surges about us and through us. Give us energy to do our duty; clarify our minds, free us from prejudice and bigotry; purify our hearts, cure them of their hatred and bitterness. May the holy endeavors of the past come to us in this hour with lessons of courage and hope. May we be conscious of Thy guidance in our deliberations, that we may guide the people of this Commonwealth into the paths of peace and the ways of righteousness. Teach us to love those from whom we differ, check our mad haste and wild impatience that the ends of the kingdom of God may be served. In the name of Jesus Christ we pray. Amen.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 15, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Tuesday evening, September 6, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Represenatives adjourns this week it reconvenes on Tuesday evening, September 6, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. As I understand this resolution, when the House adjourns this week it will recess for two weeks, reconvening on the day after Labor Day. I would like to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether that is correct?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would also like to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether or not the majority membership of this House has made up its mind as to when we will recess this week.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. They have, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, kindly inform me whether he is now at liberty to make public that date?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I am, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform us when it is?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. It is or will be, Mr. Speaker? I will say that it is contemplated that we will adjourn today, to reconvene September 6th at 8 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman from York to inform me whether the Governor at the present time is in the Commonwealth or not.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Dauphin is a very learned member of the Dauphin County Bar and he would know that any testimony I would give on that point would be merely hearsay, and under the circumstances since these proceedings are conducted according to law, I am not at liberty to give that testimony.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman from York whether the Governor had informed the majority floor leader of this House prior to the supposed leaving of the Governor of this Commonwealth, that he intended to leave the Commonwealth.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am advised by counsel that in order to maintain the integrity of the three various constitutional functions of government performed by the Executive, Legislative and Judicial, that there was no conference between the executive and the legislative body relative to his leaving the confines of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman from York whether he has any official information, or if not, whether he has any unofficial information as to when the Governor expects to return to the Commonwealth.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I imagine that the Governor will be back in the Commonwealth at least by August 27, when the Democrats will initiate their campaign, which will result in a sweeping victory for the entire Democratic ticket.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman should have added to that his usual phrase, "we hope." I gather from that that the Governor did not inform his majority floor leader of the House when he does expect to return.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I beg to differ, Mr. Speaker. I am not the Governor's majority floor leader. I am the floor leader for the members of this House, but in order not to evade the question, I will say that the Governor did not indicate to me, officially or unofficially, the exact date of his return. I will restrict my answer to what I have already stated to the gentleman from Dauphin, that I surely think the Governor will be back by August 27.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from York feel that the Governor is more interested in the opening of the campaign than he is in this session of the Legislature?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the Governor realizes that the campaign and the successful prosecution of that campaign is of utmost importance to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, because it will again give the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a liberal House and a liberal Senate and a liberal administration.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I think the campaign is over. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from York have any knowledge of any arrangements that may have been made between the leaders of the Legislature or any of the officials of the Legislature and the Governor concerning any action that may be taken by the Legislature at this time or at any other time during the absence of the Governor from the Commonwealth?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I know of no such arrangement, and in view of the fact that the House, as well as the Senate, contemplates recessing until September 6th, I can see that if the House adjourned until that time and the Senate is adjourned until that time, there will be no official acts, insofar as the House and the Senate are concerned, in relation to the Governor, which will require his presence here.

Mr. WOODSIDE. So that any act that would have been passed this week would have had to be acted on by the Governor within ten days, or it would have become a law without his action, is that right?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is correct. If we would have pased any bills, they would have become law, but I feel that neither this House nor the Senate would pass any bills that they did not contemplate would become law.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Bills are frequently recalled from the Governor however and no opportunity would exist to do that.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. We are not making any mistakes any more. The printer has been instructed not to make any printing errors, so there is no necessity for recalling any more bills from the Governor.

Mr. WOODSIDE. I am glad that the Democrats do not make any more errors in the bills.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, August 16, 1938.

Whereas, Among the subjects designated by the Governor of the Commonwealth for legislation at the present Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly is one, "Providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest on taxes imposed by the various political subdivisions, poor districts and school districts of the Commonwealth;" and

Whereas, Bills on this subject, including, as a necessary incident thereto, provision for the staying of tax sales, have been introduced and are pending before the General Assembly, but cannot be enacted into law prior to a proposed recess of the General Assembly; and

Whereas, Tax sales are at present scheduled to be held at times prior to the time said legislation can be enacted into law, and if such tax sales are held as scheduled, taxpayers will be deprived of the right and opportunity of availing themselves of the benefits which the General Assembly intends to grant; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That all tax sales scheduled to be held at any time prior to the 30th day of September, 1938, be adjourned for a period of 30 days; and all sheriffs and county treasurers are hereby authorized and directed to maks such adjournments; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly hereby undertakes to enact legislation providing for the abatement of tax penalties and interest, with provisions for the stay of tax sales, and the ratification and validation of all adjournments of tax sales pursuant to these resolutions; and he it further

Resolved, That certified copies of these resolutions be forwarded, by the Secretary of the Senate, to each sheriff and to each county treasurer in this Commonwealth.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. LONG asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Boards to meet during the session of the House.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair is about to declare a recess for fifteen minutes. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and declares a recess for fifteen minutes.

COMMITTEE MEETINGS

The Republican members will caucus immediately in the House Caucus Room.

The Committee on Rules will meet immediately in the Speaker's Office.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

CONCURRENCE IN SENATE RESOLUTION

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my objection to the immediate consideration of the Senate Resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. FALKENSTEIN. HOUSE BILL No. 61.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 26 as follows:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 All penalties and interest imposed on delinquent county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years and all penalties imposed on such taxes for the tax years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate and on delinquent poll taxes levied for any of such years are hereby abated without the necessity of further action by the authority levying the tax if said delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided This section shall not be construed to abate the interest accrued on the taxes for the years of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven but no further interest shall be imposed on such taxes after the payment of the first installment as hereafter provided so long as the taxpayer complies with the provisions of this act.

In order to receive the benefits of the installment system of payment provided by this act twenty per centum of the delinquent taxes due for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and for all previous years and of the accrued interest due on the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven taxes shall be paid on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and the final twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-two And provided That the respective current taxes (the institution district taxes in lieu of the poor taxes) on such parcel or parcels of real estate and on delinquent poll taxes levied for the years subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight during such installment periods assessed and levied by such taxing authority shall be paid before they become delinquent For the purposes of this act a tax shall be deemed to become delinquent on the date when a penalty attaches to the tax If and whenever any of the said current taxes or any of the said installments are not paid when due and payable as herein provided then and in that event there shall become due and payable for such year a sum equal to one-fifth of the total amount of the abated penalties and interest in addition to the other payments required to be paid under this act during that year which said additional sum shall be payable and must be paid at the next time the next succeeding installment payment becomes due under this act If such additional sum is not so paid then the total amount of the abated penalties and interest less the aggregate of any such additional sums theretofore paid shall be revived and added to the unpaid taxes with the same force and effect as if such abated penalties and interest or portion thereof had never been abated and the taxpayer shall not thereafter be entitled to any further benefits or privileges under this act

Section 2 Any taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption may anticipate the payment of such delinquent taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and previous years at any time on or before November first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight by paying the entire amount of such delinquent taxes and interest due on the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven taxes and receive the benefit of this act and in such cases payment of the taxes assessed and levied for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight shall not be required at the time of such payment

Section 3 This act shall be construed to apply to all such taxes whether or not liens for such taxes had been returned for nonpayment or have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been instituted in any court in said county or where real property has been sold to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at a tax sale or on a tax lien and the period of redemption has not expired but this act shall not be construed to apply to cases where real property has been sold other than to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at a tax sale or on a tax lien and where the period of redemption has not expired The taxpayer shall be liable for the payment of all costs incurred except the solicitor's fees where liens for such taxes have been returned for nonpayment or have been filed in the office of the prothonotary or proceedings for the collection thereof have been instituted in any court.

Section 4 The benefits of this act shall extend to and accrue to any successful bidder or purchaser at sheriff's or other judicial sale grantee transferee mortgagee or owner having the right of redemption under a tax sale or other party in interest in the parcel or parcels of real estate against which the above mentioned taxes have been assessed and levied whether separated or not

Section 5 Any taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption shall have the right to pay the delinquent taxes assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate without being required to pay the delinquent taxes assessed and levied against any other parcel or parcels of real estate in the same ward district or other municipal subdivision

The county commissioners of each county may at their discretion and at the cost of the county cause to be published two times in not more than two newspapers of general circulation throughout the county a notice to the taxpayers giving a synopsis of the terms of this act setting forth the benefits provided by the act and the necessary conditions required by the taxpayers in order to receive the same Upon application either in person or in writing by any taxpayer or owner the tax levying authoritise the tax collector the receiver or receivers of taxes or the person or persons charged with the collection of such delinquent taxes or the person or persons in whose custody the records of such delinquent taxpayers or owner a statement of the delinquent taxes owed by him to such municipal subdivision showing the face amount the penalty if any the interest if any and any costs or other charges in detail against such real property as shown by the records in his custody.

Every collector of taxes whose duty it is to send to the respective taxpayers any notice or statement of their annual taxes shall include in each such notice or statement an additional notice of the date when the next installment payment is due under the provisions of this act.

Section 6 In order to enable the taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption under a tax sale to receive the full benefits of this act no real property shall be sold for non-payment of taxes before November first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and any tax sale shall be adjourned or readjourned or right of redemption extended as often as may be necessary for this purpose If any tax sale is adjourned or readjourned or right of redemption extended after advertisement or sale no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for the adjourned or readjourned sale or right of redemption No such adjournment or readjournment or redemption failure to advertise or hold any such tax sale shall invalidate the lien of any tax due and unpaid or sale had subject to redemption but the lien of all such taxes shall be fully preserved during the entire installment period herein provided for if the taxpayer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this act Provided however That in every case where a taxpayer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this act the period during which payment of the said delinquent taxes is postponed or continued under this act shall not be included in computing and determining whether or not any right of the tax assessing and levying authority has been barred or lost by reason of the provisions of any statute or statutes now existing or hereafter enacted limiting the right of the said tax levying and assessing authorities to file preserve or maintain the lien of the said taxes

Section 7 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein.

Section 8 The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twenty-nine) as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-four) the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws ten) and the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and two) shall continue in full force and effect as to any and all taxpayers who have taken advantage of and are not in default in the provisions thereof All other acts and parts of acts general local and special inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby suspended during the time this act shall be in effect.

Section 9 Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any taxpayer who has heretofore taken advantage and accepted the benefits of any of the acts referred to in section eight and who at the time this act becomes effective has lost all future rights benefits privileges and opportunities under such act from taking advantage and receiving the benefits of this act in the same manner as if such person had never attempted to comply with the provisions of such previous abatement act.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, inasmuch as House Bill No. 26 is very controversial, and inasmuch as I have received from many organizations requests for a public hearing, I wish to move that this bill be referred back to the committee for the purpose of a public hearing.

There is nothing really to be gained by passing this bill today, because it cannot become a law or cannot be enacted into law before the time limitation, September 8th.

I feel that many of the members who have had time to deliberate over this bill and consider the amendments that were offered last evening, feel that this House made a mistake in not inserting those amendments. Those amendments last night, as you will recall, would have made it optional, and I think that that is a good feature. I therefore ask that this bill be referred back to the committee for the purpose of holding a hearing, and that hearing should be held either on the sixth or seventh of September, when we come back into session.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as one of the co-sponsors of this bill, I rise to oppose this motion and ask the House to vote it down. It is officially known to every member of this House at this time that we will have three weeks time in which to deliberate upon this bill and get the sentiment from the citizens back home. Inasmuch as the bill in its present form must be amended in the Senate, it will be possible to insert the desired amendments in the Senate. I think it is our duty to get the bill through the House at this time, and I therefore ask you to vote down this motion.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to second the motion made by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Patterson.

Mr. O'Connor has called attention to the fact that we will have sufficient time to deliberate upon the terms of this bill, but he overlooks the fact that we have notified the Chairman of the committee and some of the members and the sponsors that we have had demands for a public hearing from a lot of associations, such as township associations, supervisors of counties, and so forth, and they have asked for a public hearing.

In some counties and in some municipal districts they feel that tax abatement has gone far enough, and they would like to regulate within their own districts their own affairs instead of leaving it every time to the State to regulate them. I ask the members of this House to support the motion to recommit this bill for a public hearing.

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would remind you that his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, in his call, set forth that one of the principal purposes of this Extraordinary Session is to pass a law abating tax penalties and interest, and I feel that since the majority party are in favor of the abatement of tax penalties, that this motion should be voted down and the bill passed I, therefore, ask you again to vote down the motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information. There was so much noise.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, what bill has just been read?

The SPEAKER. House Bill No. 26, Printer's No. 28, at the bottom of page 5 of today's calendar.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I have thought of filing my reasons for voting against House Bill 26, Printer's No. 28, which is on third reading and final passage today. However, it seems to me best to make a statement so that the members here can determine whether there is anything in the thought which I advance. There is only one point that I wish to take up, and that is the question of 1938 taxes, and in arriving at the conclusion that I have come to, it is necessary to make this statement:

1. The bill provides for abatement of penalties and interest on all unpaid taxes up to and including the year 1934 and provides for the payment of accrued interest and penalties on the 1935, 1936 and 1937 taxes to the date of the enactment of the bill, but abates any additional interest and penalties in the last named years. The feature that has been very misleading in the practical working of the previous abatement acts, and which will result in the same thing in any of the present bills offered, is when the 1938 taxes should be paid and if there is any abatement of the penalty attached to it.

2. Some provision should be placed in this bill compelling the payment of the 1938 taxes if slow taxpayers are to be given this special benefit over those who pay promptly. It will be noted that as the abatement acts are at present and as the present bills are worded, the 1938 taxes would not need to be paid at any time in order to secure the favors and benefits of the abatements of all the prior years.

3. It should be kept in mind that all municipalities are now required to make and live up to budgets. If the 1938 taxes do not need to be paid when due and no penalty is to be assessed because of such failure to pay, it will be found that these municipalities will be greatly embassassed in their efforts to carry on their business. projects, etc. The psychological effects of the passage of this bill in its present form will be harmful to the extreme.

4. It is decidedly unfair to pass an act abating taxes which will encourage all taxpayers to delay payment of the taxes for the current year. This failure to provide for the prompt payment of the 1938 taxes in order to secure the abatement favors or privileges as to prior years is clearly a bid for the support of certain groups from a political standpoint and may be intended to weaken home rule. It is not fair to pass any law to discourage payment of local taxes or to embarrass tax collectors. It may be an indirect attempt to hold out to this State that tax collectors are a failure and that the system should be changed along the lines covered by House Bill No. 500 in the Session of 1937, which in my judgment was properly defeated.

I really want to say that I shall be very glad to support an abatement bill which is based upon the idea of paying 1938 taxes, so that the different municipalities of this Commonwealth may comply with the requirements of the budget bill which was also enacted by the Session of 1937.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 26, Printer's No. 28 was passed over at the request of Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS.

RESOLUTION No. 6

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 6, which was recently reported from the Committee on Rules.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas Section one of Article five imposes upon the Magistrates' Courts a very important part of the judicial power of this Commonwealth and

Whereas Magistrates' Courts are constitutional courts and Section eleven of Article one provides that "all courts shall be open and every man for an injury done him in his lands goods person or reputation shall have remedy by due course of law and right and justice administered without sale denial or delay" and

Whereas It has been called to the attention of the General Assembly that the Magistrates' Courts of Philadelphia have not been open during the week-ends of this summer and

Whereas This is not only in violation of the Constitution of this Commonwealth but also in violation of the Magistrates' Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven section ten of which specifically provides "There shall be established a central police court in the city hall of the City of Philadelphia which shall be open with a magistrate continually present thereat during the entire twenty-four hours of each day and to which the mayor of the City of Philadelphia shall regularly assign from the body of magistrates a sufficient number of magistrates to hold the same for the period of one month Provided however That the same magistrate shall not be assigned for consecutive months and that no magistrate shall be assigned to said court more than once in every six months" and

Whereas There were only one or two magistrates available over the last few week-ends is inexcusable in that there are twenty-eight magistrates in Philadelphia and

Whereas Heretofore it was presumed that the reason that laxity existed in the Magistrates' Courts was that there was no supervising authority over the magistrates and accordingly under the act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven such supervisory power and authority was given to the common pleas court of Philadelphia in section thirty-four of said act which provides as follows "The judges of the courts of common pleas shall have the power from time to time as they deem necessary to inquire into and consider any and all matters and things touching the administration of the business of the magistrates and the performance by them of their duties and for this purpose to issue out of any of the courts of common pleas writs of subpoena for the summoning of witnesses and the production of books papers and documents of the magistrates or others as may be relevant and proper to such inquiry and to take such lawful and proper action in the premises as the said judges may deem necessary" therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania respectfully requests the board of judges of the common pleas court of Philadelphia to convene in special session for the purpose of inquiring into the administration by the present magistrates of the Magistrates Courts of Philadelphia and do institute such proceedings as shall be necessary for the removal of those magistrates found guilty of violating the provisions of the said act and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be mailed to the secretary of the board of judges of the common pleas court of Philadelphia to the mayor the district attorney and the superintendent of police of the City of Philadelphia

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. SIMON. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 9.

In the House of Representatives, August 16, 1938.

Whereas, It is imperative that costly errors in legislative printing be completely eliminated; and

Whereas, It is imperative that a substantial reduction be made in the cost of legislative printing, particularly in the reduction of the number of reprints of various legislative bills; and

Whereas, It is imperative that the publication of the advance sheets and the Pamphlet Laws be substantially expedited; and

Whereas, The responsibility for the various mechanical steps in the production of bills, amendments, calendars, journals, histories, advance sheets and Pamphlet Laws is now divided among four or five officials and numerous clerks and

Whereas, A substantial reduction in the cost of the Commonwealth's printing is to be obtained by fixing in one place the responsibility now scattered; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the preparation of copy, and the reading of all proof of bills, calendars, histories, journals, advance sheets and Pamphlet Laws, including the preparation of indices and chronological tables be made a function of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and that the Director of that Bureau be held responsible for the efficient and economical performance of these duties; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislative Reference Bureau be given the authority and the necessary funds to augment the force of the Bureau to the extent required to properly discharge these responsibilities.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. ACHTERMAN. (Concurrent)

RESOLUTION No. 10.

In the House of Representatives, August 16, 1938.

Whereas, The space in the Capitol building at present occupied by the legislative branch of government, is less than was orginally allocated to that branch when the Capitol was first occupied thirty-four years ago; and

Whereas, The volume of bills introduced and the variety of subjects requiring consideration by the General Assembly have multiplied many times during the last thirty-four years; and

Whereas, The functions under the supervision of the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the House are located on various floors of the Capitol, not contiguous to the executive responsible for their administration, thus making it impossible for the efficient and economical discharge of the duties of these officials; and

Whereas, The rooms at present available for the use of the Senate and House committees are inadequate both in number and equipment, making it necessary to assign several committees to each room, restricting the time each committee may occupy the room, and thereby preventing orderly and adequate consideration of bills which have been referred to the committee, resulting in the reporting out of bills in such form that amendments on the floor are necessary to a far greater degree than would have been had proper facilities been available to the various committees; and

Whereas, The Legislative Reference Bureau, created to serve the Members of the Senate and House, to aid in drafting legislation and the preparation of amendments to bills introduced, to department heads in connection with legislation affecting their respective departments, etc., is located outside the Capitol building, thus substantially reducing it ability to perform its present functions, and making it quite impossible for it to discharge the added responsibility of assuring the accuracy of legislative documents; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the space in the Capitol building now occupied by the Departments of the State Treasury, Auditor General, State Police and Bureau of Standards, a indicated on the accompanying schedule, be set aside for the use of the legislative branch of our government and its related agencies, as ooon as the Finance Building is available for occupancy by the departments which are to be housed therein; and be it further

Resolved, That the vault at present in Room 140, be removed, and that such other minor alterations be made as are essential to the purposes for which these rooms will be used; and be it further

Resolved, That the Legislative Reference Bureau be moved to, and established in, the quarters in the main Capitotl building now occupied by the State Treasurer's Department.

REESOLUTION No. 8

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 8.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas The Governor has assembled this Extraordinary Session for the purpose of considering among other things legislation making illegal the use of devices or methods of transmission of information or advices in furtherance of gambling and

Whereas It is essential that the General Assembly have a full disclosure of the facts pertaining to the use of machines or instruments and other devices that are used to furnish or obtain information to be used in gambling before proper legislation may be enacted with respect thereto therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That there is hereby created an investigating committee which shall be composed of three Senators to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of the Senate one of whom shall be designated as Chairman and three Members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker thereof whose duty it shall be to make a careful and thorough investigation of the existing practices means machines instruments and devices whereby information is knowingly gathered obtained disseminated and received in the furtherance of gambling for the purpose of reporting to this Extraordinary Session of the General Assembly as early as possible its findings and its recommendations as to such changes or improvements as it may find to be necessary or desirable to correct any imperfections insufficiencies or defects in existing laws relating to gambling to the end that the gambling evil may be more readily and more completely eliminated and

Resolved That the committee may employ and fix the compensation of such counsel experts clerks and asssistants if any as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of the work of the committee and

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its Chairman requiring and demanding any proper person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents relating to the subject of inquiry as the committee may deem necessary Each member of the said committee shall have power to administer oaths and confirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person woh shall wilfully refuse to appear or testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents as aforesaid shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I ask the unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of this resolution.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, is that resolution printed?

The SPEAKER. In answer to the inquiry of the gentleman from Dauphin the resolution is printed in blue but not in white.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. LEVY. HOUSE BILL No. 62.

An Act to ratify, confirm and make valid the joint legislative committee to investigate governmental costs of Philadelphia, Concurrent Resolution No. 2, approved the thirteenth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven, (P. L. 2869), which committee was provided with an appropriation under Appropriation Act No. 9-A, entitled "An act making an appropriation for the expenses of the joint legislative commission created by Senate Concurrent Resolution Serial Number 102, approved January thirteenth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven," together with its sections, proceedings, expenses and expenditures.

Referred to the Committee on Cities.

SENATE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, August 15, 1938.

Whereas Section one of Article five imposes upon the Magistrates' Courts a very important part of the judicial power of this Commonwealth and

Whereas Magistrates' Courts are constitutional courts and Section eleven of Article one provides that "all courts shall be open and every man for an injury done him in his lands goods person or reputation shall have remedy by due course of law and right and justice administered without sale denial or delay" and

Whereas It has been called to the attention of the General Assembly that the Magistrates' Courts of Philadelphia have not been open during the week-ends of this summer and

Whereas This is not only in violation of the Constitution of this Commonwealth but also in violation of the Magistrates' Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven section ten of which specifically provides "There shall be estoblished a central police court in the city hall of the City of Philadelphia which shall be open with a magistrate continually present thereat during the entire twenty-four hours of each day and to which the mayor of the City of Philadelphia shall regularly assign from the body of magistrates a sufficient number of magistrates to hold the same for the period of one month Provided however That the same magistrate shall not be assigned for consecutive months and that no magistrate shall be assigned to said court more than once in every six months" and

Whereas There were only one or two magistrates available over the last few week-ends is inexcusable in that there are twenty-eight magistrates in Philadelphia and

Whereas Heretofore it was presumed that the reason that laxity existed in the Magistrates' Courts was that there was no supervising authority over the magistrates and accordingly under the act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven such supervisory power and authority was given to the common pleas court of Philadelphia in section thirty-four of said act which provides as follows "The judges of the courts of common pleas shall have the power from time to time as they deem necessary to inquire into and consider any and all matters and things touching the administration of the business of the magistrates and the performance by them of their duties and for this purpose to issue out of any of the courts of common pleas writs of subpoena for the summoning of witnesses and the production of books papers and documents of the magistrates or others as may be relevant and proper to such inquiry and to take such lawful andp roper action in the premises as the said judges may deem necessary" therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania respectfully requests the board of judges of the common pleas court of Philadelphia to convene in special session for the purpose of inquiring into the administration by the present magistrates of the Magistrates' Courts of Philadelphia and to institute such proceedings as shall be necessary for the removal of those magistrates found guilty of violating the provisions of the said act and be it further

Resolved That a copy of this resolution be mailed to the secretary of the board of judges of the common pleas court of Philadelphia to the mayor the district attorney and the superintendent of police of the City of Philadelphia.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1938. No. 14.

SENATE

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1938.

The Senate met at 8:00 o'clock P. M., (E. S. T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

O Lord of Hosts once again we call upon Thy holy name and we would come to Thee in humility and reverence to seek Thy blessing upon us. As we think of Thy ways and Thy works, we know that wisdom and power are Thine. Above all we know that Thou art love. Earth and sea and sky tell us that Thou art the Creator of all and we Thy creatures be; but the urge of the inner life impels our outcry, Abba, Father.

Our Father, quicken within our hearts a consciousness of brotherhood, to the glory of him who would break down the middle walls of partition between races and nations and castes; and in the sunlight of Thy truth, may we see only the human race.

Intensify we pray Thee, our sensitiveness to persecution in Germany, to confusion in Spain, the hateful new autocracy in Russia and the heartless brutality in peace loving China.

In our own beloved land grant that we may go on from freedom to freedom, receiving from Thee, and mediating to the world the blessings of justice, equality and democracy. May Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, in the whole world, as it is in heaven. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in an address at the Grange Picnic at Center Hall, Pennsylvania, last Wednesday night, August 31st, I commented generally upon the conditions of the Commonwealth's Tubercular sanitoriums and Insane Asylums.

Particularly, I said these institutions have been pitiably inadequate in the past few years to meet the requirements of a State the size of Pennsylvania, and I laid the responsibility for this inadequacy to the twenty-five years of neglect of these institutions, by successive Republican administrations.

To support these remarks I cited the death from Tuberculosis of a brilliant young man, a resident of Centre County, and a brother-in-law of a Democratic Committeeman. I said the over-crowded conditions in the sanitoriums in this State made impossible the hospitalization that he so urgently needed.

Accordingly I laid his death in the lap of the Republican party on the ground that proper hospitalization provisions by previous administrations could have prevented it.

The senior United States Senator from Pennsylvania was in that audience and he heard my remarks. The following day at a picnic at Williams Grove, Mr. Davis quoted me as saying that only 100 per cent New Dealers were admitted to the Tubercular sanitoriums in Pennsylvania.

Senator Davis' statement is a wilful and malicious falsehood. To me it is indicative of the emptyness of his candidacy—a candidacy apparently based on falsehood and misrepresentation with nothing to offer the thinking voters of Pennsylvania.

I also want to go on record here to say that the present administration through the Department of Health has raised the standard of these institutions high above the level of any preceding administration, and at no other time in the history of Pennsylvania has the Pennsylvania Department of Health ever rendered a better service to all of the people than it has in the last four years.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Gilson asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. SIPE.

Dr. Lester K. Ade.
Department of Public Instruction,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Dr. Ade:

In reply to your letter of May 11th, urging in behalf of the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that more adequate attention be given in school textbooks to early Swedish settlements on the Delaware River and Bay, I may say that we are always grateful for such suggestions and disposed to give them careful consideration when preparing manuscripts for publication. In future American histories, whether national or local, we shall be glad to consider the feasibility of introducing material of suitable length and emphasis on the topic indicated in your letter, of course bearing in mind the necessity for treating each topic in a manner consistent with its importance in relation to other topics. Toward this end we shall be glad to retain the statement by Mr. Dutton in our files for reference when needed.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Ade:

Your recent letter concerning the inclusion of historical information about the early Swedish settlements in Delaware, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania in future textbooks has been received. In reply I am pleased to advise that we shall be glad to cooperate with you in this matter. To this end we are filing the short statement of the first white settlement in Pennsylvania, prepared by Charles J. Dutton, and shall draw upon the same when the occasion demands.

Dear Mr. Ade:

Your letter of May 11 regarding the establishment by the Swedes, of the first permanent seat of white civilization in what is now Pennsylvania, is at hand.

Our printing on the fall requirements of our histories had been completed prior to the receipt of your letters. However, we shall make note of your recommendations and, at the next printing of these titles, we shall give same our very careful consideration.

Thank you for bringing this matter to our attention.

My dear Dr. Ade:

This letter will acknowledge yours of May 11 together with the inclosure.

This material will be filed for future reference in connection with revisions and new books. We shall make an effort to meet the intent and purpose of the resolution.

As you know, textbooks are published for a national, not a state, market. If one or more groups in every state — a current tendency clamor for the introduction of particularized facts and details, and all such demands are met, then the textbook tends to be encyclopedic and particularized. Scholarly authors and schools of education have spent years in trying to break down such a tendency and tradition.

At the same time, there is always the necessity of a nice balance in the selection and organization of material, particularly to keep it within the confines of a good textbook. I suppose no publishing company places itself in the position, aside from insistence upon scholarly competence and interpretation, of attempting unduly to influence authors with respect to the selection of materials, or on particular emphases to be given to materials included in their volumes.

In this connection, I am reminded of Miss Lucy Salmon's "Why History is Rewritten." We are faced, as you know, on the one hand by the new findings of scholarly research, changing bases of selection and organization of materials, and changing patterns of interpretation, and on the other by the desires of the many different groups which have been fused into the fabric of what we call American culture and civilization. Our problem and that of our authors is how to weave these different elements into the pattern of a textbook.

Naturally, we have every desire to meet every reasonable request for a consideration of materials in connection with textbooks in history insofar as these are in accord with the best findings of historical scholarship and research and with current modes of interpretation.

Sincerely yours,

William G. Kimmel

The PRESIDENT. In view of the fact that the foregoing communications were furnished the Senate in response to a special resolution adopted by the Senate, the Chair rules that the letters be noted in the Journal of today's session for the information of the Senate.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. BARTHOLD, from the Committee on Education, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

An Act to amend and re-enact Section five hundred and twenty-four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof; that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended by limiting and prescribing the method of fixing the levy of school taxes in school districts of the first class.

Mr. WOLFENDEN, from the Committee on Education reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 40, entitled:

An Act to amend Sections one hundred eight, five hundred six, five hundred seven, eight hundred thirteen, eight hundred fourteen, and one thousand one hundred thirty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended, by providing for the merger of certain school districts with other districts; redefining indebtedness to school districts; empowering the county boards of school directors to employ an attorney and fix his compensation; increasing the salaries of members of the county board of school directors; and providing for limitations on the appointment of district superintendents.

with the understanding that it be recommitted to the Committee on Education after second reading.

Mr. KUNKEL presented to the Senate the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority to contract with and to lease or acquire from any housing authority any area acquired or about to be acquired by such housing authority for slum clearance purposes.

He also presented to the Senate the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act authorizing housing authorities to contract with and to lease or convey to the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority any area acquired or about to be acquired for slum clearance purposes.

The PRESIDENT. The Conference Committee reports will be noted on the Calendar.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. FREY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 6, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, September 12, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, September 12, at 8 o'clock Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

EMPLOYE OF THE SENATE

Mr. JACOBS offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, September 6, 1938.

Resolved, That Adam Keller be elected Page to the Senate, vice Collins Keller, Jr., resigned.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 5, entitled:

An Act to amend Section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws two thousand fifty-one) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and county boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to co-operate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by re-defining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read, and printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—40

Barthold,	Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,
Buckman,	Gelder,	Lanius,	Rice,
Cavalcante,	Gilson,	Law,	Rupp,
Chapman,	Haluska,	Mallery,	Ruth,
Dando,	Henney,	McCreesh,	Salus,
Deitrick,	Heyburn,	McGinnis,	Scarlett,
Dent,	Howell,	Owlett,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Pierson,	Thompson,
Ealy,	Jaspan,	Pytko,	Wolfenden,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Woodward,

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 36, (House Bill No. 8), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of rates rentals and other charges that may become due on leases and other contracts executed by such department with the General State Authority for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth of various projects structures buildings and facilities of the Authority or for the services rendered by the Authority or its projects.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this bill appropriates two million dollars from the State fund for the payment of rent for properties built by the State Authority or to be built by the State Authority under Senator Thompson's bill, which has not yet reached the Governor's desk. In other words it is a sort of mother-in-law to the Thompson bill and until the Thompson bill passes I ask unanimous consent that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I concur in the request of my colleague from Bucks County that the bill go over in order but for an entirely different reason. But I would like to call his attention to the fact that this appropriation has nothing to do with the Thompson bill which has already passed both houses and has been signed by the Governor.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that both Senators agree that the bill go over in order.

Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 37, (House Bill No. 11), entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts page forty-five) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and for the payment of assistance and expenses accrued or incurred prior to and remaining unpaid on May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven"

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in considering this bill I do not want to be understood as opposing an appropriation for relief but I do want to point out to the present administration the legal aspect that this bill will place the State in. I understand that this bill appropriates twenty-five million dollars out of the General Fund to make up a deficit or an expected deficiency in the relief fund for the present biennium. I further understand that all the revenue for the present biennium has been pledged as collateral security for tax anticipation notes which have not been paid.

I therefore submit and call attention to the present administration that if this bill is passed in its present form it may close our hospitals and our homes just as was done under the first Talbot Act passed in 1932, I believe. That case came before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the case of Commonwealth ex rel. Schnader vs. Liveright, 308 Pennsylvania, page 38.

In the course of its opinion in that case the Supreme Court ruled that an appropriation made for specific purpose such as relief came ahead of other appropriations and if it were necessary, if the money were not there in the State Treasury with which to pay the appropriations, other appropriations would have to abate proportionately or accordingly.

I cannot see how this Legislature, this special session, can pass an appropriation act of twenty-five million dollars and expect to pay it out of funds which are already pledged as security without abating the appropriations for hospitals, homes, colleges, etc. If the bill comes to passage at this time I expect to vote for it but I want to call the attention of those in charge of the State government to the situation in which they are liable to find themselves in connection with the passage of this bill. The Supreme Court in the case stated has ruled that a budget of the Commonwealth is on a biennial basis. The budget was estimated at the regular session of 1937 and runs until the first of June, 1939. I am told that the fiscal officers, or some of them, feel that the revenues from the revenue acts that were passed at that session are likely to exceed the budget, but I cannot see how this Legislature without providing the funds, can appropriate money which is not in the Treasury and may never be there.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, very gladly, sir.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, if the Senator believes that the passage of this bill is an illegal measure and is unconstitutional as he has just stated, how can the Senator then reconcile his declaration that he will vote for the bill, if he believes the bill is improper.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the Senator is just as much in error here as when he spoke at those picnics. I did not say that the bill was unconstitutional. All I said was I felt the effect of the bill would be to reduce the appropriation for the hospitals. If I thought it was unconstitutional I would not vote for it for I have not been in the habit of voting for unconstitutional legislation as some of my colleagues on the other side have been.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, does the Senator believe that the bill should be passed?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, how does the Senator reconcile his declaration that the Senate should not pass the bill with his avowed intention to vote for the bill?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the bill should not pass the Senate until provisions have been made to meet the appropriations made in the bill.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the Senator from Bucks has of course been in the Senate so long that he is probably not used to the conditions which prevail in this Commonwealth at the present time. When the case of the Commonwealth ex rel. Schnader vs. Liveright was decided under a Republican administration, an entirely different fiscal picture prevailed in this Commonwealth than prevails now. We know that the preceding Republican administration never at any time practically, had money enough to meet its obligations. We know that the preceding Republican administration when it left this government four years ago, left it in hock to the extent of almost one hundred and sixty-eight millions of dollars that we have had to wrestle with before we could take care of our own current expenses.

When the Commonwealth ex rel. Schnader vs. Liveright was decided by the Supreme Court the preceding Republican administration had squandered its funds and was so far in the red that there was not money enough to meet any of their current bills at that time. An entirely different fiscal picture prevails under this Democratic administration. Not only do we have funds to meet all the current appropriations of the State government in this State at the present time but we have in this State today an excess of approximately twenty-five million dollars which is unappropriated by State budgetary requirements and it is this unappropriated twenty-five million dollars that is being taken for relief purposes, Mr. President, and this unappropriated twenty-five million dollars was not within the terms of the bill creating the tax anticipation notes, because only anticipated revenues were pledged by those notes, Mr. President, and not this surplus revenue which we have.

I think the Senator from Bucks has brought before the public of this State by his remarks one of the liveliest issues in this State today, namely the difference in efficient, thorough, conscientious and effective financial administration of the State government under a Democratic administration, and the inefficient, squandering, administration of the preceding Republican administration, which was always in debt and never had money enough to pay any of its bills. There is no reason, Mr. President, why the Senate should not pass this bill.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre County, Mr. Thompson, if it is not a fact that the revenues out of which this appropriation is to be paid have already been pledged on the anticipation notes which have been sold to the brokers.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, that is not a fact. The fact is that these tax anticipation notes have pledged the anticipated revenues of the Commonwealth during the biennium. The funds which were appropriated by this bill are the unanticipated revenues.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator where in this bill it mentions anything of that kind. As I read the English language it says "The sum of twenty-five million dollars or as much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Public Assistance for the same purposes and under the same provisions as set forth in the act to which this is a supplement. This act shall become effective immediately, etc." I would like to ask the Senator if this twenty-five million dollars is now in the State treasury, over and above the revenue covered by the anticipation notes.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the money is in the State treasury.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, where did it come from?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, this money came from taxes which the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, voted for.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, does the Senator say that this is still not pledged on the anticipation notes?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, for the further enlightenment of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, I will still persist that from the very name of the instrument, ex-hypothesis, as the Senator from Bucks himself would say, tax anticipation notes pledge only anticipated revenue and not unanticipated revenue, such as this bill represents. I might go further in my answer, Mr. President, and say this: We have seen throughout the length and breadth of this State in the last few weeks a deliberate attempt by the Republican party to strike down the structure of the administration of relief in Pennsylvania. This is only one expression of this same attempt that is being voiced not only by the head of their ticket and their candidate for governor but by everyone who voices an expression in the Republican campaign this year.

I marvel at what must be called the hypocrisy of the Senator from Bucks when he stands up here and says that this bill should pot pass this Senate and goes on to say that he will vote for this bill, and I repeat again to you, Mr. President, this is only one more attempt upon the part of the Republican Party in this State to strike at our structure for the administration of relief to the needy of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not intend to make a campaign speech, for unlike the Senator from Centre, I am not a candidate for reelection. I am not a candidate for election to any office, and I want to say to you, Mr. President, to the Senate, and to the people of Pennsylvania, that in handing the people on relief or in need of relief in Pennsylvania this bill—I want to serve notice now to the effect that you are handing them a gold brick, for they will not get what is anticipated by the bill and if they do the other insitutions who need relief probably worse than the recipients of relief will suffer thereby.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I will be delighted.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I have no personal knowledge in this circumstance. I read in the newspapers within the last few days of an understanding existing between the Republican party and certain members of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania with respect to other legislative measures. I would like to ask the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, if the Republican party has any understanding with the Supreme Court on this measure.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, no I do not have any understanding with the Supreme Court or any other court. I have practiced law for a good many years and I have always been able to go into court and fight my own case and win or lose my own battle. I do not have any understanding with any court. I do not know whether the Democrats do or not. I sometimes think it looks that way.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—40

Barthold,	Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 4 on second reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section one Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

be postponed for the present.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I asked that these bills, Senate Nos. 2, 3 and 4, be placed on the postponed calendar in order to save time for an argument on Mr. Reed's bill, Senate No. 12, and to give me an opportunity for debate with Mr. Shapiro on the question of constitutionality.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 12, as follows:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding section One-A.

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That Article nine be amended by adding thereto Section One-A as follows

Section 1-A The General Assembly may also by general law exempt from taxation a uniform value in money of the total taxable value of each person's real property in any one municipality or township

And said bill having been read at length the second time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not like to take issue with my colleague, Mr. Reed, but in fairness to the Senator from Philadelphia, I think we ought to be consistent and if we are going to take any position in this matter, I understand that this is a constitutional amendment and is subject to the same argument that was raised against the amendments suggested by Senator Dr. Woodward. I would like to make the motion, and I hope that Senator Reed will not object, that this bill be also placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, as I understand it these bills were placed on the postponed calendar in order to determine whether they are rightfully and legally on the calendar at this time. That question was raised before the senatorial recess and since that time I have looked into the legal aspect of the question and I have found a case of the Supreme Court, in Volume 196, page 396, which discusses the question under controversy here, and in order to save time I will just read the parts of this decision that bear on the question at issue.

"It is not absolutely necessary that the publication of an amendment shall be made three months before the general election which follows next after the amendment was agreed to by the two houses. The provision in Article XVIII as to the publication of a proposed amendment three months before the next general election should be regarded as merely a directing provision where strict compliance with time limits is not essential."

Now if it is solely for the purpose of having this legal question decided, then I object to these various resolutions going over in order. We might as well determine this question now and get the bills off the calendar in a legal manner. I believe that this Senate under the law can pass these resolutions at this time and such passage will be in strict accordance with the law of this Commonwealth and I offer this case decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as my authority. I think that we should pass this Joint Resolution No. 12, on second reading, at this time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, if the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Reed, will read a little further on in the books of Pennsylvania, he will find a subsequent case in which this very question was raised, where the Supreme Court reiterated that the provision of the Constitution was mandatory but got around the situation in this case by suggesting that the Secretary had forwarded the advertisement to the newspapers for publication and there was no evidence that the Secretary had not forwarded it. But they reiterated in a case much later than that, I think some ten or twelve years ago, that this is a mandatory provision. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, and I think the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, consulted whom I might say is the Republican Oracle, on the constitutional question here last week and I think everybody was in accord and agreement on the fact that these bills cannot legally be passed now unless the Supreme Court should wink its eye.

The reason for placing these bills on the postponed calendar is that the suggestion has been made that we may continue in session until after the November election and if that is so then these bills can very well be passed without any question as to their constitutionality. Because of that suggestion from Dr. Woodward and the consensus of opinion that we got on the question of constitutionality, the motion to postpone these bills was made, and that is the reason I made the motion to postpone the bill that Senator Reed has introduced. I do not think that any harm has been done. I am quite sure that the general opinion that the Senator will get from those who know more about constitutional law than I do will convince him that there is no sense in passing these bills at this time.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Reed and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21.

Barthold,	Jaspan,	McCreesh,	Rice,
DiSilvestro,	Kahle,	McGinnis,	Ruth,
Ealy,	Kilgallen,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Pytko,	Stiefel,
Gilson,	Law,	Rankin,	Thompson,
Jacobs,

NAYS—23.

Buckman,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Salus,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Owlett,	Scarlett,
Chapman,	Henney,	Pierson,	Sones,
Dando,	Heyburn,	Reed,	Wolfenden,
Deitrick,	Howell,	Rodgers,	Woodward,
Eroe,	Lanius,	Rupp,

So the question was determined in the negative.
And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

MOTION TO CONSIDER SENATE BILL NO. 2.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 2 entitled: A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section four, Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The PRESIDENT. The call is out of order. We are now discussing Senate Bill No. 12. Senate Bill No. 12 is under discussion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I said No. 2.

The PRESIDENT. Did you call up No. 2?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is right.

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 12 is now under discussion.

An the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, as I understand the Constitution, and the decisions with reference to resolutions for amendment of the Constitution, there is really no advantage in passing these resolutions at this session because they have to be advertised three months before an election takes place; and therefore, the advertisement could not become effective until the fall of 1939. Therefore, we could not again pass this resolution at the 1939 session of the Legislature and it will have to lie over for the 1941 session of the Legislature, after the election of members of the Legislature in 1940, so that while the resolution might properly be passed at this session, we are gaining no time by it because it will not be until the 1941 session of the Legislature that it could be passed and thereafter submitted to the people.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, as in all questions involving constitutional construction, sometimes considerable confusion may be caused when we try to give the provisions of the Constitution an unreasonable construction. I do not fully agree with the gentleman from Somerset in his analysis, for the power of this Legislative Assembly to pass a resolution of this kind is not affected by the other provision of the Constitution which requires the Secretary of the Commonwealth to advertise the amendments before they become part of the organic law.

The sensible construction of the Constitution in this case would dictate that where it says the next general election, it means the next available general election, and if the Assembly now in session should pass a joint resolution of this kind it stands to reason it cannot be advertised three months before the general election, but that does not kill the resolution. The text of the Constitution requiring the advertisement is no restraint, is no infringement upon the power of the Assembly to pass the resolution; to give the section of the Constitution the construction advocated by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and the gentleman from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, reduces that section of the Constitution to absurdity and gives it a construction which acts as a limitation upon the power of the General Assembly to pass resolutions of this character.

If this Assembly passes this resolution, then the Secretary of the Commonwealth under the Constitution must advertise it three months before the next available general election. Common sense tells us that the next general election is in November, and we are now in September, which would make that general election unavailable for advertising, but the Secretary would advertise at the next succeeding general election, and when this resolution is again acted upon by the General Assembly of 1939, then the Legislative duty will be finished, and it will be the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, after it has been advertised the first time, to readvertise it for the next available general election so as to make the vote of the people on the amendment constitutional.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I regret very much that I cannot agree with my colleague from Fayette, Senator Cavalcante, as to the meaning of the language in the Constitution. The Constitutional language is and may be and usually is a restriction upon the power of the Legislature. And we are bound by that language. For that reason I cannot see where we may in any way stretch the language or change it to insert the word "available" before the word "election." To do that would be to change the language of the Constitution itself and that is something that neither the Supreme Court nor the Legislature can do.

I agree heartily with my colleague the gentleman from Somerset, that this is not properly before us for passage at this time, and that this should wait until the next Legislature, because it cannot be advertised at this General Election and there is no advantage in waiting until after it. Of course, if it were to pass finally after the election were over, then it might be passable as has been suggested here, that it would be proper, but there would be no advantage in passing it at this time which is within ninety days before the general election.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I think the Senator from Mercer was speaking extemporaneously on the whole, and I wish he would take time tomorrow to investigate the decisions of the Supreme Court, the decisions cited down to the present time, and I think he will find the law as I stated it, to be the law today.

REQUEST TO PUT BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, in view of the fact that there seems to be some disagreement on the decisions among attorneys, I ask unanimous consent that this bill go over in order until tomorrow.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, to be transcribed for third reading.

MOTION TO CONSIDER SENATE BILL NO. 2

Mr SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 2. on second reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section four Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 2, by vote of this Senate has been postponed for the present.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 30, as follows:

An Act authorizing the compromise of delinquent taxes on lands and the penalties interest and costs due thereon before a tax sale of such lands and providing the procedure in such case

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Whenever taxes upon lands have become delinquent and have been returned to the county commissioners or have been entered as liens in the office of the prothonotary and such delinquent taxes and the penalties interest and costs due thereon exceed in the opinion of the county commissioners the net amount which could be realized at a tax sale of such lands and are more than the owner of such lands is able to pay and keep such lands in production it shall be lawful for the commissioners before a tax sale of such lands if the court of common pleas of the county shall first have consented thereto to accept in compromise of such delinquent taxes penalties interest and costs any sum less than the whole amount due and to enter satisfaction of all such taxes on the record

Section 2 Upon the presentation of the petition of the county commissioners to the court of common pleas of the county setting forth a description of the lands on which such taxes are delinquent the amount of delinquent taxes penalties interest and costs due segregated by years showing also the total amount due to each taxing district the amount offered in compromise thereof the division of the compromise settlement between the taxing districts interested and such other information as may be deemed of information to the court the court shall fix a day not more than ten days thereafter for a hearing thereon At least five days' notice of such hearing shall be given to each taxing au hority having an interest in such delinquent taxes

Section 3 If after such hearing the court is satisfied that the proposed compromise is proper and to the advantage of the county and other taxing authorities interested and that it will enable the owner to keep such lands in production it shall enter a decree approving such compromise settlement or such other settlement as the court may find proper and just The proceeds of such compromise shall be distributed to the respective taxing authorities in proportion to their claims

Section 4 Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as authorizing a compromise of taxes of any taxing district which has issued bonds or other obligations against such delinquent tax but in such cases the delinquent taxes of other taxing districts may nevertheless be compromised in accordance with this act

Section 5 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 32, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend Sections two and five of, and to add Section three and one-tenth to the act, approved the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717), entitled "An act fixing the number, compensation, mileage, and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly, and providing for their election or appointment, term of office, and manner of filling vacancies;" further regulating the term of office of such officers and employes and the compensation of certain officers and employes.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 34, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto Section twenty.

The first section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met That the following amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby proposed in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof

That Article nine of the Constitution be amended by adding thereto Section twenty as follows

Section 20 All motor vehicle registration fees operators' license fees gasoline excise taxes and other similar special taxes fees dutes and excises on motor vehicles and trailers and the owners and operators thereof and on liquid or motor fuels which by laws in force at the date of the adoption of this provision of the Constitution are dedicated and appropriated to pay for the cost of laying out constructing re-constructing maintaining repairing improving and policing the public highways and bridges for the costs of administration in connection therewith and for the payment of the interest and principal of any State and local debt incurred for highway and bridge purposes shall not to the extent of such dedication be hereafter used for any other purpose whatever

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. RUPP. Mr. President, I move to amend Section 1, page 2, line 3 by inserting after the word "excises" the following "imposed by law"; amend Section 1, page 2, lines 5, 6, and 7 by striking out the following: "which by laws in force at the date of the adoption of this provision of the Constitution are dedicated and appropriated," and insert in lieu thereof "shall after June 1, one thousand nine hundred and forty-one, be appropriated and used only"; amend Section 1, page 2, lines 13 and 14 by striking out the following: "shall not to the extent of such dedication be thereafter used for any" and insert in lieu thereof "and for no".

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The title of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section twenty

Whereas The Congress of the United States in Section twelve of the Hayden-Cartwright Act of June eighteenth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four known as forty-eight Statute nine hundred ninety-three said "It is unfair and unjust to tax motor vehicle transportation unless the proceeds of such taxation are applied to the construction improvement or maintenance of highways" now therefore

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 35, (House Bill No. 22), entitled:

An Act to confirm and validate past tax levies or assessments made by school districts of the first class and liens filed thereon

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 5 entitled:

An Act to amend Section two of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws two thousand fifty-one) entitled "An act relating to public assistance providing for and regulating assistance to certain classes of persons designated and defined as dependent children aged persons blind persons and other persons requiring relief providing for the administration of this act by the Department of Public Assistance and County boards of assistance hereby created for this purpose authorizing the Department of Public Assistance to cooperate with and to accept and disburse moneys received from the United States Government for assistance to such persons providing for the liquidation of the State Emergency Relief Board Boards of Trustees of the Mothers' Assistance Fund and Boards of Trustees of Pension Fund for the Blind and repealing laws relating to mothers' assistance pensions for the blind old age assistance and the State Emergency Relief Board" by redefining "assistance" so as to provide for medical care in place of services.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

An Act to amend and re-enact Section five hundred and twenty-four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended by limiting and prescribing the method of fixing the levy of school taxes in school districts of the first class.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 40, entitled:

An Act to amend Sections one hundred eight, five hundred six, five hundred seven, eight hundred thirteen, eight hundred fourteen, and one thousand one hundred thirty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws, three hundred nine), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," as amended, by providing for the merger of certain school districts with other districts; redefining indebtedness of school districts; empowering the county boards of school directors to employ an attorney and fix his compensation; increasing the salaries of members of the county board of school directors; and providing for limitations on the appointment of district superintendents.

And said bill having read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, September 7th, at eleven o'clock A. M. (Eastern Standard Time).

TUESDAY, September 6, 1938.

The House met at 8:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer.

We approach Thee, heavenly Father, with humble hearts and minds. We know that in ourselves we can do nothing that is abiding, but in Thy strength and Thy wisdom we may be instruments for good. Pour out Thy spirit upon us, that we may be co-workers with Thee. Bless our Commonwealth, the Governor of our State, all officers and members of the House, and whatever good is accomplished through all agencies of the Commonwealth, we will give Thee the praise and honor, through Christ, our Lord, Amen.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of amendment and further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated ?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I wou'd like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny whether or not this bill is known as the tax abatement bill?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, this is not the tax abatement bill.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill to adjourn and readjourn the County Treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. That is correct. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, may I then ask the gentleman from Allegheny just what amendments he proposes to put into the bill?

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, in accordance with the customs of the various committees, the Municipal Corporations Committee by vote decided to put this bill out for two readings and then have it recommitted.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not answering my question. I ask that the gentleman answer my question directly. Being an attorney I think he knows how.

I would again like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny what particular amendments he has in mind to put into this particular bill.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. President, I cannot speak for my committee, I am only its chairman. They decided to put it out for two readings and then recommit it for further study and amendment. I think that is fairly responsive.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I do not think it is responsive at all, but since he made that promise to his committee I am willing to abide by that decision. I think, however, since the time is getting short and since some sales are about to take place something should be done at once and not wait until thereafter.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 49, Senate Bill No. 10, Printer's No. 11 was passed over at the request of Mr. LOVETT.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 30, (Senate No. 8), as follows:

An Act to amend article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by authorizing school districts singly or jointly with other districts to convey or lease property to the General State Authority to acquire additional property for such purposes and to contract with and lease property from said Authority authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases and in such cases defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth and authorizing the withholding of State appropriations in certain cases

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended by adding thereto the following new sections

Section 636 Any school district shall have power and authority with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction to grant assign and convey to the General State Authority with or without consideration any lands easements or rights in lands together with any improvements buildings or structures therein or thereon now owned by such school district or hereafter acquired by it needed or convenient to carry out the purposes of these amendments or to lease to the Authority for a term not exceeding ninety-nine (99) years at a nominal or such other rental as may be determined any or all such lands easements or rights in lands together with any improvements structures or buildings therein or thereon

Section 637 Any school district shall have power and authority with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction and in the manner hereinbefore provided to acquire title in the name of the school district to any additional lands or interests in lands which may be required to carry out the purposes of these amendments

Section 638 Any school district shall have power and authority with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction to enter into contracts with the General State Authority to lease as lessee from the Authority any school building or any improvement thereto and the furnishings and equipment thereof constructed by the Authority for a term not exceeding thirty (30) years at such rental or rentals as may be determined by the Authority and upon the completion of such school buildings or improvements and the furnishings and equipment thereof the school district shall have power and authority to lease the same as lessee for a term not exceeding thirty (30) years at such rental or rentals as may be determined by the Authority

Section 639 The Department of Public Instruction shall have power and authority with the approval of the Governor to join with any school district in entering into any of the contracts and leases with the General State Authority authorized by the preceding section of this act Under all such contracts the Commonwealth shall pay to the Authority the following proportional parts of the rental or rentals agreed upon In the case of school districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) or less seventy per centum (70%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) and not more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) sixty per centum (60%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than fifty thousand dollars (($50,000) and not more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) fifty per centum (50%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) and not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) forty per centum (40%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) and not more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) thirty per centum (30%) of such rental or rentals in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) and not more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) twenty per centum (20%) of such rental or rentals and in the case of districts which have a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) ten per centum (10%) of such rental or rentals Provided That in the case of financially distressed school districts the Commonwealth shall pay all or such additional part of the rental or rentals as the Department of Public Instruction shall from time to time determine

Section 640 In all cases where an audit under the direction of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction reveals that the board of directors of any school district has failed to pay or to provide for the payment of any rental or rentals due the General State Authority for any period in accordance with the terms of any lease entered into under the terms of these amendments the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall notify such board of school directors of its obligation and may withhold out of any State appropriation due such school district an amount equal to the amount of the rental or rentals owing by such school district to the General State Authority until such time as he is officially advised that all obligations of such school district with reference to any such rental or rentals past due have been met and paid in full or arrangements to pay same have been made in a satisfactory manner and approved by him

Section 641 With the approval of the Department of Public Instruction and of the county board of school directors any two or more school districts may jointly enter into contracts and leases with the General State Authority for the construction or improvement of a school building and the furnishings and equipment thereof for the joint use of such school district and may either jointly or individually convey or lease as hereinbefore provided to the Authority any lands and improvements now owned or hereafter acquired by any one or more of such school districts The sharing of the cost of such land and improvements and of the rental or rentals payable to the Authority and the maintenance government and control of the school shall be agreed upon by the boards of directors of such districts so joining in such manner and in such proportions as they may agree upon All schools established under the provisions of this section shall be maintained governed and controlled as other public schools under the laws of this Commonwealth

Section 2. The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it was my first intention merely to file my reasons for voting against Senate Bill No. 8, also Senate Bill No. 7. These two bills should be considered together and I ask the indulgence of the House just once with regard to them. They are on final passage at this time. Inasmuch as not a single person in my county or a person in the State anywhere or any member of the General Assembly or any official in this Commonwealth has spoken a word in my presence or has written a word which I might read, that would fully explain these bills, I feel that I would not be fair to my constituency or myself if I would permit these bills to be passed at this time without saying as an experienced lawyer, as an experienced schoolman in the past, an ex-teacher and director, as a member of the General Assembly for a number of sessions at various times, I say I feel it to be my duty to put my objections on record at this time so they will be known to every one at home and to those who take an interest therein. I believe no one has explained the effects of these bills. I have briefly analyzed them. I feel that every member of this House should know in advance what a lawyer who has paid attention to these things thinks of them.

The following are my reasons for voting "no" on Senate Bills No. 7 and 8, House Bills No. 29 and 30 on final passage today.

1. It is my belief we should not by our support of these measures place the stamp of approval upon the expenditure of large sums of money without having the plans concerning the proposals better worked out and more fully understood by the general public. No one has yet attempted to inform us as to the total costs to the Commonwealth to carry out its proposed plans.

2. These bills would further encroach upon "home rule" and give advantages to certain districts over other districts.

3. I am opposed to the giving of these extraordinary powers to any officials without submitting same to the people. These bills are apt to encourage districts to act in haste. Many costly mistakes will be made because of such haste. There's no need for such haste, as no emergency exists.

4. Senate Bill No. 8, on its face, as amended, prevents action by any school districts upon a number of questions without "* * * the approval of the Department of Public Instruction." That means the further limiting of "home rule."

5. The extraordinary powers given to school districts, "with the approval of the Department of Public Instruction," are sure to prove expensive and contrary to good public policy in times of economic stress, such as the Commonwealth is undergoing at this time.

6. It is my belief the State and Nation should economize and be slow to increase expenditures and costs of government, whatever may be the reasons advanced. It is my judgment that the true cost of education in our Commonwealth will be learned by following out the plans proposed by these measures. All such proposals should be considered at a regular session of the legislature and should be free from any appearance of having been advanced for "political reasons," or to be plain, to bring about unusual expenditures of money to make temporary employment for groups.

7. It is my belief there should be less, not more, of regulation and control of the local districts by the State officials. The home districts should be encouraged to manage their own affairs and be responsible therefor. All should be on the same basis.

8. Senate Bill No. 7, which increases the power of the General State Authority by proposing to give it power to acquire property from school districts and the leasing of property by the Authority to school districts, has apparently been loosely and hastily prepared. For example, in Section 5, Paragraph D, the General State Authority is given the power to purchase or lease property (real or personal) from any school district. This would include lands, buildings and all other improvements thereon. But, by Section 9.2 the General State Authority is only given the power to enter into contracts with school districts to lease to the school districts the school building and furnishings and equipment thereof. So, it will be noted that there is no authority given therein to the General State Authority to lease to the school district the real estate purchased from it and there is no provision giving the General State Authority any power whatever relative to such holdings after the termination of the leases with the school districts. In other words; the school districts will sell all of their lands, buildings and improvements therein, but will only get back by way of lease a tenancy in the buildings and equipment. They cannot lease the land itself. This might prove embarrassing in the case of playgrounds and when the school districts have paid their share of the cost of constructing or improving the school buildings, the General State Authority has no power to give to the school districts deeds for their lands, buildings and improvements. In other words, such school districts would never, as the bill now stand, acquire legal title to lands, buildings and improvements which would have been paid for in full. This would leave such districts without any title of any kind in such school properties at the expiration of their leases with the General State Authority.

9. Senate Bill No. 8, Section 636, gives the school districts power to grant, assign and convey to the General State Authority, with or without consideration, any lands, easements or rights in lands, together with any improvements, buildings or structures therein or thereon, now owned or hereafter acquired. However, Section 638, only empowers the school districts to lease from the General State Authority the buildings or any improvements thereto and the furnishings and equipment thereof. They have no power to lease as lessees from the General State Authority the lands up which such buildings stand and other lands connected therewith which they conveyed to the Authority. The question arises: Why this discrepancy?

10. Section 639, provides for certain payments to be made by the Commonwealth when it joins any school district in entering into any contracts and leases with the General State Authority, but does not provide a specific method whereby the Commonwealth is to obtain such funds. Such creation of debt against the Commonwealth without a proper and legal provision for the raising of funds to pay same, would seem to be contrary to the provisions of our Constitution.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I did not intend to speak upon these bills, because I was under the impression that the discussion of the school program had been so well attended to by all factions of the House that every one was acquainted with the intent and purposes of these bills.

These bills will very easily make it possible for school districts throughout the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to avail themselves of the moneys, forty-five per cent being furnished by the Federal Government, and the balance, fifty-five per cent, being paid equally in some instances, or being paid in the same ratio that the State contributes to the payment of teachers' salaries, partly by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and partly by the local school district.

These moneys will be utilized in the erection of schools in the various districts throughout the Commonwealth and will be accomplished in some instances by not more than ten or fifteen per cent to be borne by the local tax payers. In reality this is a great step forward that we are taking in order to relieve the local real estate taxpayers from the burden of maintaining the capital resources of our expanded school system in the Commonwealth, and I feel sure that all parties ought to realize that this is a great step forward and one that we should all take, in order to relieve the already overburdened real estate taxpayer. With the culmination of this program it will be possible to have erected in all school districts buildings that will comply with the advanced ideas of school construction, buildings that will comply with the requirements as to health and sanitation. It will also enable the school districts to immediately avail themselves of Federal funds and will not impose upon the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania any increased debt. The Supreme Court decided that in the first General State Authority case quite adequately, and I feel sure that the gentleman from Jefferson knows well that that decision imposed no increased debt upon the Commonwealth as such.

These bills are divided into two parts, one the amendment to the school code and the other giving authority to the General State Authority to avail itself of Federal funds. I feel sure that the fears which have been expressed by the gentleman who has just spoken are not well founded, and I heartily commend these bills as a very admirable solution to a very vexatious problem.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, if there is any section or provision in this bill that in leasing real estate from the General State Authority back to the school board so that they actually would have under the terms of the lease real estate or any part of that property other than the buildings and equipment, and is it not a fact in that respect that these bills are loosely drawn, and technically they would have no right of possession or right to use any of the land upon which the building stands, or any land in connection therewith?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker. The question is somewhat involved and I have not definitely read the bill but I am reading from the title in which it is indicated that the leasing of property to the school district is covered by the act. I also understand that this matter has been passed upon by the counsel for the General State Authority as well as by the Attorney General, and in the opinion of both of these high law officers they feel that the lands which have been acquired by the General State Authority would be susceptible to be leased to the local school district, and the moneys received from the local district, plus the moneys contributed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will amortize the bonds that will be issued against the school buildings and relieve local real estate taxpayers of the necessity of amortization of the entire bond issue.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York if he can point out to me any provision, or any section in this bill whereby, when the State Authority leases back the property to the district that the land upon which the buildings stand goes with it, or the land used for playgrounds or the land in connection therewith might be legally included in such lease.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that will be surely determined by the nature of the lease, and the real title of the property will be transferred to the school district upon completion of the contractural obligations and the payment of all rentals due under the lease.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, the sufficiency of that answer may be left to the judgment of the House. However, I would like to have the gentleman from York point out any provision in this bill that would authorize the General State Authority after the respective districts have paid back in full all they are supposed to pay under the lease, to convey the title back to the district.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I might say for the edification of the gentleman from Jefferson that the General State Authority has already negotiated with various districts of the Commonwealth leases in the amount of fifty-five million dollars under a similar act, and in all instances the leases provide that upon the completion of the lease the real title to the property shall be reconveyed to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which will then receive the real title to the land after the completion of the lease.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I asked the gentleman from York if there was a provision in the bills whereby we might reasonably expect or have assurance when all of the things required by the districts have been complied with, that the title would come back to the district or is it left to the good wishes or good intentions of some authority or some set of men that in due time, in twenty-five or thirty years, or whatever the period of time may be the title will come back.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I think that that problem is adequately covered by the original State Authority Act which provides for the reconveyance of the property to the agency for which it had been built by the General State Authority.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to inquire if there is a mandatory provision anywhere in these bills whereby after all these various provisions have been taken care of by respective districts, that they shall convey the land back to the district.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in the General State Authority the reconveyance of the land by the General State Authority to the agent for which the General State Authority acted as building agent, there is a mandatory provision in the act.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I wish to thank the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, for his answers to my questions, and in conclusion I want to say this: for my part I do not want to depend upon any other act, I do not want to depend upon any other authority, I do not want to depend upon any other authorization when I am writing a bill or taking part in the writing of a bill, to have a provision in it that should be in it. Therefore, I say these bills are loosely drawn in the respects which I have mentioned. Not only in these bills, but in other bills, some of which I have pointed out in the session of 1937, and others that I have refrained from pointing out because I felt it would not be listened to. They have neglected to do the things that should be done. They are neglecting and passing over the important business of the Commonwealth, they are neglecting to provide a specific provision which would thoroughly explain the matter. I desire to point out the looselessness with which this bill is drawn and the infringement of the home rule idea in this bill.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill before you now is not a partisan measure, and as one of the members on the Republican side who intends to vote for this bill, I would like to explain to my colleagues and those on the other side my reasons for so voting.

I am sorry to disagree with my good friend and colleague, the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Wilson, who is a keen scholar of legislation, to a degree which I do not hope to approach. I am looking at this bill from the standpoint of my constituency, and from a highly practical viewpoint. The members of the House do not always have the opportunity unfortunately to choose between a perfect piece of legislation, perfectly drawn at the leisure of master minds, but must vote "aye" or "nay" on a specific piece of legislation when it comes out of committee and goes through the House.

My reason for voting "aye" on this bill primarily is because I believe we should do everything in our power, particularly the members of the country districts, to assure the young men and women of our communities an opportunity for equal education with that which is given in the best schools of any of our larger cities or larger communities. So far the community from which I come has not been given the opportunity, the opportunity has not been made available to the children of that community because primarily of the inadequate school building in my own community. A building project under this act is under contemplation. And there is a great deal of interest in it.

Members of the Assembly when we are considering the expenditure of public funds especially under bills which are designed as this one is, to relieve the unemployed and to end the depression, I think we can find two methods of spending public funds for the purpose of ending depression and ending unemployment. One is to spend public moneys for materials, for trained labor, for building worth while projects, which will be of use to the citizens of the Commonwealth for a long time to come. The other method is to squander public funds, paying half wages for worthless projects, such as raking of leaves, which is a waste of money and a waste of time. This method seems to be much preferable to the other. It is more progressive. It is good business to spend money for erecting school buildings and other public projects, so that if we come out of the depression at least we will become possessors of a better community. It seems to me that every dollar spent for brick, steel or cement is better than one spent for the raking of leaves, for the double purpose of improving the educational facilities of our country and helping to relieve the depression in a business like way. I am voting "aye" on this bill and I am urging my colleagues on this side and my opponents on that side to do likewise. I thank you.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not planned on making any remarks about these bills, but I wish to explain my attitude before we go to bat in voting on these two bills.

I look upon the building program as proposed in these two bills as one of the most momentous pieces of legislation that has confronted the Legislature of Pennsylvania in a number of years. It seems to me by observation that a great many of us failed to grasp that fact. We are all, I believe, in favor of the poorer school districts, and the financially distressed school districts of this State, receiving help in erecting new buildings. As Abraham Lincoln said, "Be sure that you are right before you go ahead." The chief objection that I have to these bills is my fear that because of the way these bills are worded, it is going to mean the biggest step and the longest step in the direction of centralization of schools in Pennsylvania, of any piece of legislation that has ever confronted us. Why do I think so? I think so for this reason: there is no provision, regardless of the remarks that have been made by the able floor leader on the other side, there is, gentlemen, no provision in these two bills anywhere to assure the district, after its contract has been completed, that that school district school building will be theirs, that they will own it when the contract is consummated, whether they pay for it in part or whether the State in some of the school districts according to law assumes all of the obligation. There is no provision, and I defy any one to show me one sentence to give me that assurance. You will notice in reading the bill that in the event the school district fails to pay any obligations that are due year by year, they may be penalized by forfeiting the rental deducted from the teachers appropriation. How is that going to help out a poor school district? Secondly, the State can pay an additional amount of rentals or they can pay all of them. There is nothing to the contrary in this bill. If a school district becomes hard pressed financially, and a lot of them will, if I am here in the Legislature in years to come, three or four or five years, I know what is going to happen, in a lot of school districts who are getting this money there is going to be a hard situation for them to meet. The Legislature will be confronted year after year with extra appropriation for school districts. It will have to send an investigator out every two years to find out what their financial condition is, and we have very poor means to ascertain the financial ability of the school districts. I would like the State of Pennsylvania to lend a helping hand to these various school districts, especially those in financial distress. Provision is made in the bill looking forward to a situation, where they will take over many of the buildings, which will be the biggest and longest step we have ever taken in the Legislature, toward the centralization of the schools.

I would like to have some one explain to me what is the meaning of the ninety-nine year clause in these bills? What is the significance of that? Why should the district have the authority to lease this property for ninety-nine years instead of thirty, as the term of the contract? Will some one please explain that? With that question I will cease.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if you will please refer to the file of the Senate, Printer's No. 29, you will see that we have before us Senate Bill No. 7, an Act to further amend and to add a section to the previously enacted General State Authority Act. You will see that section one of that Act and section four amend sections of the General State Authority Act. You will see that section two of the act provides for an entirely new paragraph to the General State Authority,—9.2. Section three of Senate Bill No. 7 provides a new section, namely an immediate effective clause. Those are the only sections of the General State Authority act required to be amended, in order to enable the General State Authority to extend its powers and functions to the building of schools for the various school districts throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I dare say that neither the gentleman from Jefferson nor the gentleman from Erie have read Senate Bill No. 7, in conjunction with the General State Authority Act. I dare say had they so done they would have both seen the answer to all of their fears relative to the fact that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania desires to retain the buildings after the school districts have complied with the lease and have paid the rentals. It is very peculiar and it is very significant that there should arise a fear similar to the fear of the "Greeks bearing gifts," because in this instance we are bearing gifts to the school districts of Pennsylvania, and by the enactment of these bills we are making it possible for school districts that are financially handicapped to avail themselves of Federal Funds and State Funds, to the end that the children in those school districts may have available modern equipment, the necessary buildings and the necessary ground that has made education the great bulwark of the democracy of this nation. By these bills we are making it possible for the school districts of this Commonwealth, for school districts that are burdened up to the hilt, we are making it possible for school districts that cannot raise a single copper, to provide the necessary conveniences to the school children. We are putting those districts in a position whereby the children, the ultimate recipients of these enactments, may have the benefit of a modern, up-to-date and efficient school system. There is no attempt on the part of the Commonwealth to assert any authority over the local district, except to see that the school districts comply with the rental obligations, small as it is. I feel sure that the school districts who are in such a financial position that they cannot find the necessary funds to make these small rental payments, I feel sure that those districts could become the recipients of borrowings, or advances from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, such as the appropriation we made in the 1933 session of ten million dollars to financially handicapped school districts, and in the 1935 session of five million dollars to financially handicapped school districts. I defy any man in this House to show where the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or the Department of Public Instruction exercised any influence over those districts that had become the recipients of the Commonwealth's advances, other than the Commonwealth advising them how to manage their local districts, so that they would not be the recipients of further borrowing.

I commend these bills to the membership of the House. I realize, just as the gentleman from Erie realizes, that this is a great step forward. I assure you all that this is a great step forward. For the first time in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, during the slightly more than one hundred years since the institution of free education in the Commonwealth, for the first time in the history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of one hundred and five years of that free educational system, the Commonwealth is actually assuming its burden of responsibility in the erection and construction of these school buildings, and the ultimate beneficiaries of this will be two classes, the local real estate taxpayer and the children who are going to participate in the standing monuments that this Legislature will erect by the enactment of this legislation.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the statement of the gentleman from York, I would like permission, if he will give it, to have him answer just three questions and then I will have done.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from York whether this bill does not provide for the sale of real estate by the school district to the State Authority?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, it does most assuredly. If the gentleman has all the attainments that I heard him enunciate to this House, he surely must realize that the General State Authority could not issue bonds on a school building unless the General State Authority had title to the land that was going to be the security behind the issue of bonds. If the gentleman from Jefferson has any other solution as to how that particular problem can be solved, I assure you that we of the majority will listen to his solution with a great deal of concern.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his complimentary remarks. I only want to ask him three questions. It is not a question of any solution which I might have. It does not seem to me that it is up to me to provide the solution. A group of people have proposed a solution to the problem. I am asking the gentleman from York three questions, the first he has answered with a supplemental explanation which can be very well understood by the House.

The second question is, does not the bill provide only for the leasing of the building and the furnishing and equipment?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, those two questions having been answered in the affirmative, will the gentleman answer this question: how then can the lease which only covers the building provide for the reconveying of the real estate to the school district, when the real estate is not a part thereof?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman read the remaining sections of the General State Authority Act, enacted in the 1935 session?

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please answer my question responsively? I asked him—

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I beg the gentleman's pardon. I will say that the original General State Authority Act, contains the provisions whereby the real estate secured from the local school district will be reconveyed as all real estate is or will be conveyed to the agency for which the General State Authority acts as the agent. The original General State Authority Act contains a provision for the reconveyance of real estate to the school district after the completion of the lease.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, is it not the intention then, when that real estate has been paid for by the school district, that the title thereto will be given back to it under the authority contained in this bill.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, that is the intention and it is the expressed enactment in the General State Authority Act, that the agency in the Commonwealth for which the State Authority has erected the building, when they have completed the rental obligation, the General State Authdrity Act specifically provides for a reconveyance of the title to the land to the particular governmental body for which the General State Authority Act acted as the agent.

Mr. WILSON. The final question: is there any objection then to having in this bill, which relates to real estate, coming back to the school district, putting in there the point that will cover the real estate? Is there any objection to having it read real estate as well as the buildings and furnishings?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, there is no objection there with the exception that it is already contained in the original act, and I feel if the gentleman from Jefferson will read the provisions of the original General State Authority Act, enacted by this House in 1935, the fear that he has relative to the fact that the Commonwealth wishes to obtain the land from the school district and not reconvey it would be abolished.

Mr. WILSON. Then, Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if there is any objection to having put in this section the word "real estate" along with the buildings?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I have no objection, Mr. Speaker, except that the bill had met the requirements of counsel for the General State Authority as well as the Attorney General. The fears of the gentleman will be satisfied by a reading of the General State Authority Act, and, as I said before, if he had read this amendment to the General State Authority Act in conjunction with the General State Authority Act, he would not have subjected me to this interrogation.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his explanation, and also suggest that it might be well to think about what this bill provides. This bill provides for the leasing back to the districts of land, the very land that they leased and which they have a right to expect.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that the apprehensions of the opposition are indeed farfetched. In Pennsylvania we have been attempting for many, many years to secure a greater measure of State-aid for the maintenance of schools. Here is an opportunity for us to secure a greater portion of Federal and State funds for the maintenance of rural and city schools. I believe that these fears and apprehensions are not well founded but are farfetched, because in this plan we are merely dealing with a new type of financing.

The gentleman from Erie raised the question as to what is going to happen in the districts, when the districts are hard pressed for funds, who is going to provide this money. I might say that the conditions will be no better than they are at present, where the financing of these schools is carried on through private means of financing, except that through this plan the Federal government will bear a greater portion of this expense and the interest payments will be much lower in the amortization of the rental schedule, if carried out along this line. Even if the State of Pennsylvania or the State Authority acquired the land in such a way that they would arbitrarily hold the buildings after the lease or rental had expired, that is covered by the General State Authority Act. Does the gentleman from Erie, or does the gentleman from Jefferson attempt to impune the motives of this body thirty years hence? The conscience of those people will be just as acute as the conscience of the members of this body today. I believe in the integrity of the members of the House thirty years hence, that the rental shall be paid under those conditions, and the integrity of this House will dictate to the conscience of the membership of this House to give to the district the remainder of the property for which they paid. We have been trying for many years to secure Federal and State-aid for the benefit of the schools. One hundred years ago a free school system was established in Pennsylvania, and from that time until the present time the State of Pennsylvania has given more and more money towards the upkeep of the public schools. We are reaching forward for a modern instrument of financing to give to the children of Pennsylvania and to the rural and city taxpayers of Pennsylvania, the benefits we have promised them and the benefits they have been asking for. I believe that we should not "strain at a gnat and swallow a camel" in a situation of this kind, but that we should go forward toward a common objective in an attempt to give to the school children of Pennsylvania what they deserve and an attempt to give to the taxpayer of Pennsylvania what we have promised him for some years.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wonder if the House and our visitors would object to a bit of personal experience of one who has studied in the rural schools, and then later in high school. At the age of thirteen, believe it or not, I passed the high school entrance examinations. At that time my parents, understanding the makeup of their boy, said he was entirely too young to go six miles away from home to high school. It therefore delayed the completion of a higher education for three years. For three years I studied the same branches that I had passed on a final and successful examination. It is surprising to me to know that there is any objection to the passage of these bills.

The most shocking experience I had when I came here as a member of the House in 1935, was to learn in one of my first meetings of the Committee on Education that the State of Pennsylvania paid no more than fifteen per cent of the educational cost in the State. I was wondering what had taken place in the Legislatures which had gathered here for the purpose of passing progressive legislation in the hundred years which had passed, when legislation should by all means have been passed that should have given those rural districts and those children from those rural districts an opportunity that seemingly existed in the schools of the larger populated cities. We should not be proud to belong to a legislature that has allowed that condition to exist. I understand at the present time after four years of hard work along this particular line we have increased the State's amount of money two per cent. Even at that rate of going for another one hundred years we would have made some progress. I am thinking of the children that will be hampered just as I was in those rural schools. I think it is absolutely our duty as legislators to take a step forward for these children who tonight are suffering the same backset in education that I did, I am sure there is not any one of us that wants to take an adverse stand on a proposition that will have a tendency to at least move toward better rural education.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Smith, of Cumberland, or Mr. Alexander of Mifflin, which ever one of them would like to answer.

The SPEAKER. Which gentleman does the gentleman from Jefferson desire to interrogate?

Mr. WILSON. The gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Smith, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Mifflin, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Mifflin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, section 636 provides for the conveyance of lands, easements or rights from the school district to the General State Authority. Section 638 provides for the leasing back the school buildings, the improvements thereto and the furnishings and equipment thereof. Why not have in that section the land and real estate, the same as section 636? It is obvious that even without any legal right, they have the right to use any land in connection therewith.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, not being an attorney I will not be able to answer in a legal way the question which the gentleman from Jefferson has just raised. I would like to refer the question to the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, who is legally trained to answer it, but before he attempts to answer the question I want to say, for the benefit of the gentleman from Jefferson and for the benefit of the members and visitors here this evening, that in Bradford Township in Mifflin County recently, the land seemingly had never been given through legal procedure to the school district.

This will be interesting: when the consolidated school was opened and dedicated Saturday two weeks ago in this particular township, it created quite a lot of interest among the taxpayers in that particular district, but it seems there was an order and a form had been presented to the school board of this particular district in which the Department of Public Instruction demanded, that the school building vacated should be destroyed. One of the investigators,—this might be enlightening to the members of the House, as I am sure it will be to the Department of Public Instruction,—one of the investigators came along asking the school board to carry out the program which they had signed for in accepting this consolidated building, and said if they could find no other way to destroy this building they could blow it up with dynamite. It happened that that one particular building had just been completed not more than four or five years ago. The order seemed to be official and there was left nothing for us to do to save those buildings except that we put on the premises or land which contained the school buildings trespass notices, in order that those authorized to go in and destroy the building would not be allowed to trespass upon the land. We could not have done that had the land been given to the school board, along with the school building. They did that. It went so far that injunctions were threatened, after they saw the Department of Public Instruction and those in authority, and the result was that the decision was reversed and those school buildings were allowed to be given back to the school board to dispose of in the best way that they knew how. Those buildings should not belong to a private individual, and in one particular case a church or organization conducting church and Sunday school for five or six years bought that particular building and today they are allowed to continue to hold their services in this rural school building. If that is any advantage at all, I still will vote for the bill and will ask my friend from Jefferson to vote for the bill because some day that same thing may occur in his particular county, and he can look back and say that he voted for the bill just as it was written, which would at this time or in the future have proven to be a good act.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not intended to say anything on this bill. I believe that the object of the bill is meritorious and I would like to see the program carried out in Pennsylvania if it is possible, but we have wandered so far afield, we have gotten into Mifflin County and down into York County until I hardly know just exactly what we are debating at this time. Certainly, it reminds me of the young chap who was arguing a case before the Supreme Court one day on the question of real property and after talking for an hour, he noticed that the judge was nodding and he paused. The judge shook himself, sat up and opened his eyes and the young man went on for another hour and the judge was nodding again. The young man said, "Your Honor, do you follow me?" The judge said, "I have tried to so far, but I think, if I could find my way back, I would quit right now."

There have been so many statements made here that are not exactly correct, that I think we ought to try to correct the record, at least, to get a clear understanding of what is before us. My concern is to see a good bill.

Some of my friends on the other side seem to think that because we argue about this bill we are opposed in principle to the thing that is before the House. We are not. However, much as we may be in favor of securing something for school districts—and I take out the word "distressed" school districts, because I do not see how a distressed school district can enter into a lease with the State Authority and pay money upon rentals and amortize the indebtedness, even in the small sum of thirty or twenty-five percent of the actual cost, you have got to deal here with the school districts that have a sufficient income and unless you can show that there is sufficient income you will never get the contracts past the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. I have looked through the State Authority Act, and I am not going to interrogate my friend on the other side, Mr. Cohen, and ask him where in the State Authority Act appears the provision which he said was there that they had to reconvey. I had been of the impression that the State Authority Act, like the Municipal Authority Act, provided that the State Auhority may convey, when all its indebtedness has been paid for the property, to the municipalities or the school districts or whatever it may be, but I find no such provision in the Act of 1935. If I am in error in that I would ask the gentleman from York to call my attention to the specific provision of the Act of 1935. Therefore, in that respect, the gentleman from Jefferson and the gentleman from Erie are correct when they say that there is nothing in the act and nothing in the bills before the Legislature that would provide for the reconveyance of the property. I think the gentleman from York said that that will appear in the leases. The gentleman from York has perhaps forgotten the first State Authority case in which the lease did provide for the reconveyance of the property leased by the Authority to the state. And it was on that basis that the Supreme Court held that the first State Authority Act was unconstitutional and was an increase in the indebtedness. It was voided in the second State Authority case by taking out of the lease any such provision, so that there could be no provision in the lease between the state authority and the school districts for the return of the property. Now there is a distinction here under the State Authority Act. The members of the State Authority are officers of the state government, they are appointees of the state government and they are subject, therefore, to the control of the state government, and it is, therefore, very reasonable to suppose if the rentals have all been paid and the bonds have been amortized that have been used for raising the money for the property that has been built, it is reasonable to suppose that the Legislature can exercise its powers to do away with the State Authority and to bring the property under the control of the state government. The difference between the local school districts and the buildings which the State Authority is building for the State of Pennsylvania is this, that the local school districts have no control over the State Authority, over its personnel, its makeup, its appointments. While the gentleman from Cumberland talked about the conscience of the legislature—and as a member of the legislature, so long as the legislature was dominated by the Republicans, and if I could be sure of that in the future, I would be certain that there would be a conscience here to see that the thing was carried out, but having sat through this special session I am somewhat skeptical about the conscience on the part of the legislature, and therefore, I have thought that there is a question whether, in the future, some thirty years from now, the legislature might not use the very power which it had in the control of the school buildings and bring those school districts under the control of the Commonwealth, and I feel that the point raised by the gentleman from Erie is a very sound one. I believe that we ought to lay aside all talk about the poor and the oppressed, and the many things that were said about the children who should have an opportunity to secure education. We all agree on that. That is something that is so fundamental and so usual that we do not need to debate it. What we should think of however is this, that what we are doing here may result in the placing of burdens upon school districts and upon the very taxpayers that you say should be relieved, the small home owners. If there is any great care used in this building program I raised that question in the Appropriations Committee, I do not speak improperly in saying that, I raised that very question whether there ought not to be some system of check upon the school districts to see that in the great scurrying for this pile of money that is pouring from the Federal government the school districts do not overreach themselves and undertake to erect buildings and make leases which they cannot hope to meet in the future and which will throw burdens upon the school districts. That is the first concern that we have, and I think that we ought to charge the Department of Public Instruction to most carefully weigh the ability of school districts to meet the contracts, not only today but in the future.

The second thing is that we are giving a blank check in this instance. We have nothing to guide us as to what will be the expenditures of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for its share of the rental payments in the years to come. I would roughly estimate, on the program of the Senator from Centre County, that in the next biennial we would have to expend at least five million dollars. We have got to add five million dollars to an already overburden budget, a budget that is struggling to meet the needs of the unemployed and the aged. Perhaps we will have to face in this biennium some very serious problem to take care of many of our institutions in the state of Pennsylvania, and herefore it seems to me that we ought to approach this program most carefully to know just exactly how much it is going to cost us in the next biennium. If we are going to take $5,000,000 as the usual amount of our share of the rentals, and then if we are to add to that the money which distressed school districts cannot pay and add to that again the money which the distressed school districts cannot raise to take care of their schools, we are going to add not five million dollars but we may add fifteen or twenty millions of dollars on additional expenditures in the next biennium.

I think that the idea is meritorious and I am going to vote for these bills in the hope that they will be soundly administered, that they will be carefully administered, that we will be able to get them by the constitutional restrictions, which I want to say to you, from a lot of experience in this matter, I know are very imminent and very difficult to get past.

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the provisions of this bill are so vital that I believe we are justified in carrying on the debate in a rather prolonged fashion. I think there are points that everyone wants to take into consideration.

I think that the gentleman from Delaware has lent considerable light to this subject in his legal training, by revealing to the members of this House that under the decision of the Supreme Court, in the first State Authority Act, the question of rentals was the question upon which the whole constitutional authority hinged. I feel that if we depart from that question of rentals and return to the question of the repossession of the real estate or the buildings on the part of the local districts, we are treading upon very dangerous constitutional ground. I do not say that because I have any constitutional knowledge but I say that as a member of the sub-committee that studied these bills and conferred with the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, when that question was brought up. We must adhere to the rental features of this bill in order to bring it within proper constitutional limitations, and I am thinking very much about the broad scope of these bills. We have, throughout and length and breadth of Pennsylvania, a great number of small schools that at one time, in the days of our youth, housed anywhere from twenty to forty and sometimes from fifty to sixty children that have now depleted to the point of five or six because of the movement of the population from the rural centers into the city centers. It is, therefore, becoming an expensive proposition for those people in the rural districts to maintain these small schools, and if, by means of federal and state grants, it is going to become an easy matter for these rural districts to finance buildings that will accommodate a larger number of children, it is going to redound to the benefit of the people of these communities. I do not doubt that the contribution in the next biennial may increase. If that be true, that is what we have been striving for; the taxpayers of Pennsylvania have been striving for years for a greater share of state appropriations to public schools, and if we are going to have better and more economical schools, if we are going to have a more efficient system than it is at present through the aid of state and federal funds, then education is no longer a rural problem. I remember in my youth, we had a small class of seven in the rural high school. Out of that small class of seven people, one of the class went to Seattle, Washington, another to Philadelphia, another to Ohio, and another to within thirty miles of my home, so that out of the whole group, just three of those seven stayed in that particular community and that rural high school, in the education of seven people, received the benefit from only three while four out of those seven spread their influence from coast to coast. Why, therefore, should not education become the legal burden of the entire state and the entire union who join in the benefits of this school system because of its widespread influence. Should these small schools, for the sake of economy, be closed.

This whole scheme is a voluntary scheme. We do not take authority from the local districts. The local districts accept this or reject it as they see fit, therefore there is no erasure of home rule in these provisions. We are giving the people of Pennsylvania the right to accept this plan if the interests of those small districts so dictates. We have before us a great system, as I said before. Hundreds of years ago we inaugurated this school system, and in the inauguration of this school system the name of Thaddeus Stevens has gone down in history as the great advocate of the public schools.

As we depart from the general procedure in providing legislation for schools and launch a new venture in a new direction, may we now think in the future and feel that forty or fifty and maybe a hundred years from now we may extol the virtues of the Senator from Centre and refer to him in like respect to Thaddeus Stevens.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 38, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation for the expenses of the special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives on the second day of August one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight pursuant to a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on the thirtieth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight by authority of the act approved the thirtieth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (Act No. 2) entitled "An act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants"

Section 1 The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives on the second day of August one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight pursuant to a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on the thirtieth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight by authority of the act approved the thirtieth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (Act No. 2) entitled "An act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants" for the payment of the expenses of such investigations by such committee including the compensation of counsel investigators stenographers reporters and other employes as may be necessary for the conduct of its work postage telegraph and telephone the cost of subpoenaing and attachment of witnesses witness fees supplies and printing and any other expense of every kind and description which may be authorized by a majority of the committee in connection with the conduct of its work

Section 2 All such expenses heretofore incurred by such committee shall be paid from the appropriation created by this act

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUNTLEY. I cannot support this bill, because I believe it is class legislation such as we are not justified in passing. I do not believe we are justified in appropriating money that is not used for the benefit of the state and I cannot see how the state can be a party to this procedure. The state has not been accused of any crime. The state is not the subject of investigation. Only certain state officials have been charged with wrongdoing and why should the taxpayers foot the bill in freeing them. The committee is not proceeding with any investigation and nobody knows when it ever will. It seems to me time enough to provide for the expenses after the committee functions. We may be establishing a precedent for other bills of like nature to follow, for much larger amounts. It does not seem consistent to hire lawyers at a great expense to represent the state when the Attorney General and his competent staff should do it. I do not think that the committee needs any extra legal advice, because it is already composed largely of lawyers, and why harpoon the taxpayers to pay two ordinary lawyers to advise four extraordinary lawyers now on the committee. The expense of this extra session is not our creature, because we are summoned here by the Governor and the expense is his baby, but if we deliberately pass this bill it will be our baby and we will have a hard time getting the taxpayers to adopt this child in the next election.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—3

Atkins,	Ganser,	Kane,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 40 as follows:

An Act to ratify confirm and make valid the actions proceedings expenses and expenditures of the commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth appointed pursuant to the joint resolution approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred forty) entitled "A joint resolution authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas requiring the commission to make a report of its findings to the Governor together with its recommendations as to such regulatory legislation as may be needful to correct any abuses and evils connected with such industry which are prejudical to the interests of the citizens of this Commonwealth authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes and making an appropriation" and its amendment

Section 1 All actions proceedings expenses and expenditures (whether the same have been paid or remain unpaid) of the commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth appointed pursuant to the joint resolution approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred forty) entitled "A joint resolution authorizing the appointment of a commission to make a thorough and impartial investigation into the operation of the oil industry in this Commonwealth with special reference to the adequate efficient and economical supplying of lubricating oils and gasoline to the people of this Commonwealth conferring upon the commission full power to issue subpoenas requiring the commission to make a report of its findings to the Governor together with its recommendations as to such regulatory legislation as may be needful to correct any abuses and evils connected with such industry which are prejudicial to the interests of the citizens of this Commonwealth authorizing the commission to employ counsel and employes and making an appropriation" as amended by the act approved the second day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws two thousand seven hundred four are hereby ratified confirmed and made valid notwithstanding the fact that said commission was created by legislation designated "a joint resolution" and notwithstanding any other defect or informality in substance form or language in said legislation creating said commission.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I oppose this bill because it is a bill to fix up and pay for the mistakes and illegal acts of a poorly constituted committee to begin with.

Most of you who are familiar with it will remember that this was a committee led by Judge Ralph Smith of Pittsburgh to investigate the oil industry. The House of Representatives has only one member on that committee whom I am pleased to see is scheduled for reappointment. I am very sorry, however, to note the reappointment of the Chairman of that committee, who, apparently, flies a variety of political flags. In my opinion, he is leading this oil investigaton for one purpose, and one purpose only, and that is to build himself up politically. He is not a member of the Democratic party in the ordinary sense of the word. He has been but is not any longer a member of our party. I understand that among the expenditures of this committee during its previous illegal existence, $15,000 was promised to the secretary of the committee. I think that amount, in view of the salaries of the legislators who are serving on that committee, for example, and of other people who are supposed to be in this thing for the benefit of the public, is excessive and unreasonable, and I object to it. I notice the name of only one man connected with this committee as it is composed, who could be considered to know absolutely anything about the oil industry. As a member of that industry, I am not here to protest against any investigation, I am here to protest against an investigation of the industry by a group of people who know nothing about the industry, headed by a political opportunist. I am against the people of this Commonwealth paying for the illegal acts and mistakes of an unconstitutional committee from the last session. If you wish to form a new committee to conduct a fair, impartial and reasonable investigation I will vote "aye" for that, but I am against taking care of the bad bills of this committee who accomplished absolutely nothing.

I wish to thank the Speaker for his courtesy in allowing me to oppose this bill after the roll call commenced.

Mr. LEWIS: Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to differ with the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane. I have no objection to his coming here to oppose legislation as part of the industry. I do not know what his constituents' views on the subject are. He made a remark about some salary that had been promised to be paid from this fund to the secretary of the committee in the amount of $15,000. A copy of the expenses of the committee which I have at hand shows that the total salaries and wages did not exceed the sum that he has named, not for this particular individual but for all the employees of the committee since it has been in existence. I do not agree with him, or disagree with him as to the personnel of the committee or its make-up. I did not have any part in choosing the members of the committee. The committee was constituted by a majority of the members of the House in the Session of 1937, and I feel that we have an obligation to the members of that committee, although the Supreme Court has held it to be invalid, due to the fact that it was created by joint resolution, and there should be no question as to the expenditures of the funds, levied against the members of the House and Senate who are our representatives on that committee or anyone else who may be appointed by the Executive Branch of the government, and I therefore ask, for that reason, that we carry out our obligation to those who were on that committee, who served as our servants, and validate their acts and their expenditures as members of the committee.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, September 6, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, September 12, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, and that when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening September 12, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

The SPEAKER. Concurrence in this resolution requires unanimous consent or a suspension of the Rules.

Will the House give its unanimous consent for concurrence in the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the consent is granted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

COMMITTEE MEETING

The Committee on Mines and Mining will meet tomorrow, at twelve o'clock noon, in Room 323.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SIEGEL Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow at 1:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:58 p. m) the House adjourned until Wednesday, September 7, 1938, at 1:00 p. m.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1938. No. 15.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1938.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M. (E. S. T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

Our gracious God and Father, in whom we live and move and have our being— Thou hast sustained the life which Thou has given, and brought us to the light of another day. Our voices resonant with grateful praise for blessings without number, we humbly pray for a continued bestowal of Thy Grace.

May Thy guiding Spirit attend these Senators, and all who labor here. Upon our Governor, and those in positions of leadership or special responsibility, may a double portion of Thy Spirit rest.

For steady hand, for firm and forward step, a faith which sees the invisible, a courage that turns not back— we need the food which human hands cannot provide. Feed our souls upon the Bread of Life, that we may be strong and sturdy and true. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RICE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the Salem Grange of Clearfield County has asked me to convey to this Senate this message. This is a resolution of the Salem Grange dated the 26th day of August, 1938, and reads as follows:

RESOLUTION

State Grange.
Salem Grange 964, August 26, 1938.

WHEREAS, We find in the Legislative Journal dated July 29th 1938 evidence of cheap politics practiced by one John H. Light as Secretary of State Grange, and

WHEREAS, Said Mr. Light the politician, has in the past as well as in this case used our collective influence and prestige to further his selfish political interests without any authority from the subordinate Granges, purporting to authorities that he is expressing our views, which is above the authority not granted him, and

WHEREAS, Mr. Light's actions in opposing farmers legislation, at same time working for other interests both selfish and opposed to our interests we state emphatically our confidence and support has been wantonly misused for interests alien to us and our families, and

WHEREAS, Our great fraternity in this State has been badly misled in past by men who can only measure up to the standard of "Peanut Politicians" and we as farmers have suffered accordingly.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That we demand Mr. Light's resignation so that he may devote all his time to his political aspirations and not drag the fair name of our State Grange into the cesspool of low political dirt and filth, and

THAT, We Grangers all work together to rescue our fraternity from political leadership and elect only those who are unbiased and non-partisan in administering our affairs that by so doing we may regain our lost prestige before the public and our governmental authorities.

Approved this 26th day of August 1938 by Salem Grange 964.

ETHEL WOODS, Secretary,
DuBois Pa., R. D.

W. H. SETNER, Master,
Luthersburg, Pa.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will be printed in the Journal.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

NOTARIES PUBLIC

NAYS—0

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL ON THIRL READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 36 (House Bill No. 8), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of rates, rentals and other charges that may become due on leases and other contracts executed by such department with the General State Authority for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth of various projects, structures, buildings and facilities of the Authority or for the services rendered by the Authority or its projects.

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend Whereas Clause, page 2, line 7 by striking out the words "to the Commonwealth"; amend Section 1, page 3, line 9, by striking out the words "to the Commonwealth"; amend title, page 1, line 4, by striking out the words "by such department"; amend title, page 1, lines 5 and 6, by striking out the words "for the use and occupancy by the Commonwealth."

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not know that I have any objection to these amendments but there are so many of them that I think it is incumbent upon the Senator from Centre to explain the bill as amended if we are going to vote on it this morning.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the whole gist of these amendments is simply that the bill in its present form restricts the character of the payments of rentals provided by the Authority Board for which the appropriation in this bill is made. It may be that with these three or four restrictive words in two or three places in the bill there might be an improper interpretation of the bill as to the Authority Board's ability to pay rentals. These amendments strike out those restricting words and just give the blanket power under the terms of the act as amended to the Authority Board to pay rentals on all Authority projects.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as a matter of information for the Senate I ask that the amendments be read over again slowly so that they can be checked.

The amendments were accordingly read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, now that this bill has been amended I ask that it go over in order until printed for the use of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

Ordered, That said bill as amended be printed for use of the Senate.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 21

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21 which requires amended bills to be noted on the Calendar be in this case dispensed with, and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made last evening by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act to amend Section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (P. L. 452) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, improve and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees rentals and charges for the use thereof authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant assign convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein and to acquire lands therefor granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" as amended by providing for additional projects and providing for the leasing of projects by the Authority to school districts.

also Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act to amend Article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by authorizing school districts singly or jointly with other districts to convey or lease property to the General State Authority to acquire additional property for such purposes to contract with and lease property from said Authority and to levy additional taxes to pay rentals and authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases and in such cases defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not know what these bills are. I do not know whether I am for them or against them but I am certainly opposed to jamming them through without the Senators having an opportunity to know what is in these bills as amended. I think it would be a great mistake to suspend this rule and vote on these bills without knowing what is in them. I do not know whether they are on the desks or not. I know they are not on the calendar and I certainly object to passing bills in that manner.

QUESTION OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his point of legislative inquiry.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I would like to inquire what the printers numbers of these bills are so that we may take a look at them.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the printer's numbers of these bills.

The Printer's numbers were accordingly read.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will be very glad to answer any and all questions on these bills. These bills are the school bills. Senate Bill No. 7 is the bill which amends the State Authority Act to give the State Authority power to build the school buildings and Senate Bill No. 8 is the bill which amends the School Code to give the school districts the power to enter into contracts with the State Authority relevant to the leasing of these buildings.

Now these bills were amended in form but not in substance in the lower house. They passed the lower house last night by a vote of 173 to 11 which showed that there was no serious partisan controversy over the bills. We are up against the proposition here today that all applications for these school buildings must be filed with the Public Works Administration before the thirtieth day of September. They have got to clear through the Department of Public Instruction, and the General State Authority, and be over in the hands of the Department of Public Instruction before the thirtieth day of this month. This is the seventh of the month leaving us only twenty-three more days to act on this program.

There are now 362 applications for school buildings under this program filed with the Department of Public Instruction. Those applications must be acted upon and must be dealt with very expeditiously and that is the only reason why I am asking for more than ordinary expedition on the disposition of these bills. I will be very glad to have any Senator interrogate me on these bills or on questions relative to them.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask him if these are not the bills which he stated on the floor last night had been already signed by the Governor.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I am afraid the Senator from Bucks did not listen to me very carefully. I told him that it was Senate Bill No. 9, which is a companion bill to these bills, which was already passed by both houses.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, did not the Senator state last night that they had been signed by the Governor?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, well, I was in error there because that bill became a law without the Governor's signature. I appreciate very much the Senator's correction.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I am glad to hear the Senator admit he is wrong in one case.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I understand that these are all minor amendments and I think that some of the members would like a little time to read them over and I would suggest that since we are going to recess for a couple of committee meetings that the action on these bills be deferred until after the recess.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, may I suggest that we might now act on the motion for the suspension of the rule. I am not anxious to rush them through right at this moment. We could act on the concurrence later on in the day but I do not want to see these bills go without being acted upon, and deferred until next Monday night.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the Motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

YEAS—27

Barthold,	Haluska,	Law,	Rupp,
Dando,	Huffman,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Sipe,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Thompson,
Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,

NAYS—14

Buckman,	Ealy,	Mallery,	Sones,
Cavalcante,	Gelder,	Rodgers,	Wolfenden,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Salus,	Woodward,
Deitrick,	Jacobs,

Less than two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the Senate does not want to suspend the rule and act on these bills today I am serving notice right now that I will publicly oppose any attempt of this Senate to adjourn until those bills are on the desks tomorrow and we can act on them for concurrence.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 32, as follows:

An Act to amend Sections two and five of and to add section three and one-tenth to the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 717) entitled "An act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment term of office and manner of filling vacancies" further regulating the term of office of such officers and employes and the compensation of certain officers and employes

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717) entitled "An act fixing the number compensation mileage and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly and providing for their election or appointment term of office and manner of filling vacancies" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 All officers and employes of the General Assembly shall be elected or appointed in the odd--numbered years at the opening of each regular biennial session and shall serve until ten days after the opening of the next General Assembly or until their successors are selected and have qualified unless sooner removed during any regular biennial special or extraordinary session of the Legislature Provided That all of the present officers and employes of the General Assembly shall be continued in such positions until their successors are elected or appointed at the next regular session of the Legislature

Section 2 Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto after Section three a new section to read as follows

Section 3.1 If either branch of the Legislature at any regular biennial special or extraordinary session shall recess for a period of more than one week the officers and employes thereof authorized by this act to receive per diem compensation during such session shall not be entitled to such compensation during such recess period For the purpose of computing the compensation of such employes who receive monthly compensation during the interim between legislative sessions the aforesaid recess periods shall be considered as an interim between sessions

Section 3 Section five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 All the officers and employes provided for in this act shall return as such to the next regular biennial session of the Legislature following that for which they were elected or appointed unless sooner removed during a regular biennial special or extraordinary session of the Legislature and those who shall not be re-elected or re-appointed or elected or appointed to some other office in the Legislature shall be allowed their regular per diem compensation except the assistant clerks the journal clerks assistant journal clerks reading clerks assistant reading clerk executive clerk desk clerks and message clerks who unless sooner removed as above specified shall each receive ten dollars per diem for ten days or until their successors are duly elected or appointed and have qualified

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 39 on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend and re-enact Section five hundred and twenty-four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by limiting and prescribing the method of fixing the levy of school taxes in school districts of the first class

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 40, as follows:

An Act to amend Sections one hundred eight five hundred six five hundred seven eight hundred thirteen eight hundred fourteen and one thousand one hundred thirty-three of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (P. EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES and Mr. KAHLE.

That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor to be referred to an appropriate committee be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting on the fore going nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES and Mr. KAHLE.

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—43

Barthold,	Gelder,	Kunkel,	Rodgers,
Buckman,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rupp,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Law,	Ruth,
Chapman,	Henney,	Mallery,	Shapiro,
Dando,	Heyburn,	McCreesh,	Sipe,
Deitrick,	Howell,	McGinnis,	Sones,
Dent,	Huffman,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Pytko,	Thompson,
Ealy,	Jaspan,	Rankin,	Wolfenden,
Eroe,	Kahle,	Reed,	Woodward,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	Rice,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 16.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented communication from the House, informing the Senate that the House has adopted the Report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority to contract with and to lease or acquire from any housing authority any area acquired or about to be acquired by such housing authority for slum clearance purposes.

HOUSE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 17.

He also presented communication from the House informing the Senate that the House had adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act authorizing housing authorities to contract with, and to lease or convey to the Commonwealth or any of its agencies, or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority, any area acquired or about to be acquired for slum clearance purposes.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

House Bill No. 22, entitled:

An Act to confirm and validate past tax levies or assessments made by school districts of the first class and liens filed thereon.

Senate Bill No. 16, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority to contract with and to lease or acquire from any housing authority any area acquired or about to be acquired by such housing authority for slum clearance purposes.

Senate Bill No. 17, entitled:

An Act authorizing housing authorities to contract with and to lease or convey to the Commonwealth or any of its agencies or instrumentalities of Government including the General State Authority any area acquired or about to be acquired for slum clearance purposes.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON SUSPENSION OF RULE 21.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which the motion made earlier at today's session to suspend Rule 21, which requires bills amended in the House of Representatives to be noted on the Calendar, was not agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, if my recollection is any good at all, both these gentlemen voted to suspend the rules and were defeated in their motion.

The PRESIDENT. In that case the majority was provided for although they were really in the negative.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, that is pretty deep.

The PRESIDENT. The rule reads, "When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any two members of the majority, or when the Senate has been equally divided, or a bill shall have failed to pass, by reason of not having a constitutional majority, for any two who voted in the negative to move the reconsideration thereof; but no motion for the reconsideration of any vote shall be in order after a bill, resolution, report, amendment, or motion, upon which the vote was taken, shall have gone out of the possession of the Senate; nor shall any motion for reconsideration be in order unless made on the same day," and so on.

In this case a two-thirds majority was required. We did not have a two-thirds majority but the Senator who made this motion to reconsider, and the Senator who seconded the motion, really voted in the majority.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in the losing majority, then.

The PRESIDENT. But nevertheless the majority. The motion is in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to suspend Rule 21?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BUCKMAN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

Barthold,	Gilson,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Buckman,	Huffman,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Sipe,
Dando,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Sones,
Deitrick,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Thompson,
DiSilvestro,	Lanius,	Rice,	Wolfenden,
Eroe,	Law,	Rodgers,	Woodward,
Frey,	Mallery,

NAYS—6

Chapman,	Gelder,	Howell,	Jacobs,
Ealy,	Heyburn,

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 7 on concurrence in House amendments.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act to amend Section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, (P. L. 452), entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth; creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct, improve and operate projects, and to lease the same, and to fix and collect fees, rentals, and charges for the use thereof; authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority, and providing for the payment of such bonds, and the rights of the holders thereof; and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency; and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant, assign convey, or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein, and to acquire lands therefor; granting the right of eminent domain; and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act," as amended; by providing for additional projects and providing for the leasing of projects by the Authority to school districts.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—35

Barthold,	Gilson,	Law,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Heyburn,	Mallery,	Ruth,
Dando,	Huffman,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Deitrick,	Jacobs,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Sones,
DiSilvestro,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Stiefel,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Thompson,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Wolfenden,
Gelder,	Lanius,	Rice,

NAYS—5

Buckman,	Ealy,	Howell,	Woodward,
Chapman,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I voted "nay" because I am constitutionally opposed to the General State Authority.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 21

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that Rule 21 which requires amended bills to be noted on the Calendar be in this case dispensed with, and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 8.

Which was agreed to.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Bill No. 8 on concurrence in House amendments.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Which was agreed to.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, will state his point of order.

Mr. GELDER. Under the Senate Rules, Article XVI, of which the President read the first three or four lines, if, Mr. President, you had continued to read you would have seen: "or a bill shall have failed to pass, by reason of not having a constitutional majority, for any two who voted in the negative to move the consideration thereof—"

The PRESIDENT. The Chair read that part of the rule to which you refer.

Mr. GELDER. I would take it from that, that it must be two who voted in the negative, because otherwise, if the vote were identical with the original vote, you would get no place.

The PRESIDENT. It so happens in this case in which a two-thirds majority was required, that those voting in the majority were really in the negative. But they were in the majority no matter whether the motion failed or not.

BILL ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act to amend Article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (P. L. 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," by authorizing school districts, singly or jointly with other districts, to convey or lease property to the General State Authority, to acquire additional property for such purposes, to contract with and lease property from said Authority and to levy additional taxes to pay rentals; and authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases, and in such cases, defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth.

which was returned from the House of Representatives with amendments.

Said amendments having been twice read.

On the question,

Will the Senate concur in the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—35

Barthold,	Gilson,	Law,	Rodgers,
Cavalcante,	Heyburn	Mallery,	Ruth,
Dando,	Huffman,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Deitrick,	Jacobs,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Dent,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Sones,
DiSilvestro,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Stiefel,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,	Rankin,	Thompson,
Frey,	Kunkel,	Reed,	Wolfenden,
Gelder,	Lanius,	Rice,

NAYS—4

Buckman,	Chapman,	Ealy,	Woodward,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 7, entitled:

An Act to amend Section four of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred fifty-two) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to construct improve and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees rentals and charges for the use thereof authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to enter into agreements with the Government of the United States or any Federal agency and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant assign convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein and to acquire lands therefor granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" as amended by providing for additional projects and providing for the leasing of projects by the Authority to school districts.

Senate Bill No. 8, entitled:

An Act to amend Article six of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" by authorizing school districts singly or jointly with other districts to convey or lease property to the General State Authority to acquire additional property for such purposes to contract with and lease property from said Authority and to levy additional taxes to pay rentals and authorizing the Commonwealth to join with school districts in such contracts and leases and in such cases defining the assistance to be rendered by the Commonwealth

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported for the first time at today's session.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

The House met at 1:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

We come unto Thee, most gracious Lord, with thanksgiving and praise to Thee. Thanksgiving and praise for the written history of our Commonwealth, for sacrifices of our forebears that the best obtainable may be a life part of the State, for the high ideals that lead the makers of our State to give themselves unstintedly to their chosen tasks, and for their deep seated religious conviction; thanksgiving and praise for what we are today, the blessings we now enjoy and the forward look of present day makers of history; thanksgiving and praise for the hope of the future, the promising outlook for the generations to come and for the unfinished tasks they are to finish. Thou art a God who giveth one and all heavy tasks, but it is he who faces his tasks with thanksgiving unto Thee and with unflinching devotion, that helps to write bright pages in history. Impress upon us to today, write indelibly into our hearts, the words "Righteousness exalteth a nation." Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 22.

An Act to confirm and validate past tax levies or assessments made by school districts of the first class and liens filed thereon

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

Bill numbered and entitled as follows having been prepared for presentation to the Governor, and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 22.

An Act to confirm and validate past tax levies or assessments made by school districts of the first class and liens filed thereon

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Broad asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. PERSHING, for today's session.

Mr. Ganser asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. RUSH for today's session.

Mr. Kline asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. WILSON for today's session.

STATEMENT BY MR. LEWIS

Mr. LEWIS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, during the regular session of 1937 we all heard a great deal about the Municipal Court in Philadephia. During the regular session of 1937 we all did a great deal about the Municipal Court of Phiadelphia. Unfortunately our doings did not stick as well as we had hoped.

Today I want to take the opportunity to inform the House of further doings of the Municipal Court of Philadelphia.

In the minds of most persons acquainted with the finances of the City of Philadelphia there has long existed the strong belief that the City has been and is financially bankrupt.

Metropolitan Philadelphia, which long ago exceeded the limit of its constitutional borrowing capacity, annually experiences great difficulty in balancing its budget. This great city, greatly in need of improvement in its physical functions, has neglected and refused to provide and appropriate funds for proper administration of its affairs looking forward to a progressive and modern city. In these years millions have been wasted on packed payroll functions which produce little of lasting value; and further sums wasted upon projects of doubtful value.

Despite this regrettable picture in the history of Philadelphia, City Council continues its "Public Be Damned" attitude on the all-important question of sewage disposal plants; and permits the decay of a transit system which at one time held a high place among such systems in the greater cities of the United States.

There is no greater example of fiscal impotence than the present, which is so properly made the subject of an editorial appearing in the Philadelphia Record on Monday, September 5, 1938, which I desire to quote.

The title of the editorial is "Parasites' Palace," and the editorial read as follows:

"Four million dollars in P.W.A. funds will be spent in Philadelphia this week.

"No, that money will not be spent to complete the unfinished subways—for which thousands of car riders are waiting.

"Neither will the $4,000,000 be spent to repair the city's water system, which is literally falling to pieces, menacing the welfare of our 2,000,000 citizens.

"Nor yet will this money be used to rebuild the sewers in Logan, to pave our streets, to provide additional recreation centers, to tear down the bandboxes and replace them with real dwellings, or even to buy books for our depleted public libraries.

"No, the money will not go for any of these useful purposes.

"The whole $4,000,000 will be squandered upon a palace on the parkway—a palace for the Municipal Court, one of the most costly and useless institutions we have.

"Council can't find a cent to house the people.

"Here is $4,000,000 to house a few Judges—

"All of whom would be out of office and their court out of existence save for the Supreme Court, which prevented the Legislature from wiping out the court and its huge payroll, of which Judges Glass and Tumolillo themselves admitted $375,000 a year was wasted.

"In honor both of the Judges and the army of political drones on their payroll. The Record suggests a fitting name for this new mountain of marble:

"Parasite's Palace.

"The Record, more than any other newspaper, has fought to bring Federal funds—P.W.A. and W.P.A. grants—into this city, to improve the town, to relieve unemployment and to stimulate business.

"How typical that in the face of all the city's urgent needs, the first money to come here out of the new P.W.A. program should come for a useless mausoleum, for a useless court!

"How like the Republican Administration in power at City Hall that while Council cries that it cannot find funds for the subways, water system, sewers, etc., no difficulty whatever is experienced in producing four million dollars for a "Palace of Justice"—God save the mark!

"A palace of justice whose "sculpture and decorations" alone will cost $75,000, with furnishings which will run to $120,000.

"Filtered sewage will flow from the spigots in the palace. But the trimmings will be swell.

"Car riders will be jammed like sardines. But the Judges will have nice new elevators.

"Bandboxes will start collapsing again. But the hundreds of drones in the Municipal Court can loll in comfort, and should the noise bother, they can go to the movies.

"The water ressure will be too low for the kids to put sprinklers on hydrants next year. But there will be showers in the palace of justice, not, however, for the kids.

"Parasites' Palace!

"That's the name for it

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Miss BRANCATO. RESOLUTION No. 11

In the House of Representatives, September 7, 1938.

Whereas, At an inquest held by the coroner of Philadelphia County into the deaths of four inmates of Holmesburg Prison, it has been testified that such inmates were roasted to death and other inmates seriously injured, by the application of excessive heat; and

Whereas, The use of such methods of discipline are outrageous, uncivilized and barbaric, and contrary to all laws of humanity and justice; and

Whereas, The attempted discipline of inmates in prisons, workhouses, jails and penal and correctional institutions by such means may well continue to the injury and detriment of the victims of such treatment, therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives memorialize the authorities of all prisons, workhouses, jails and penal and correctional institutions in this Commonwealth that no discipline upon the inmates thereof shall be attempted by means of heat, heat boxes, excessively heated cells, excessive application of steam heating, or any other application of heat whereby it is attempted to discipline an inmate by weakening his physical resistance.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the authorities of every prison, workhouse, jail and penal and correctional institution of this Commonwealth by the Chief Clerk of the House.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 49, (Senate Bill No. 10), entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws sixteen) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to defray the cost of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred thirty-six" by making a further appropriation to supply the deficiency incurred and needed under the provisions of said act

The first section was read as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of one hundred forty-seven thousand dollars ($147,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Health for the purpose of supplying the deficiency incurred and needed for the purpose of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which were flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six including the purchase and installation of pumps motors and other equipment the purchase of electric power and all necessary incidental expenses under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Messrs. ELPERN, HABERLEN, LOVETT, PERSHING, BROAD and DAVID H. WEISS offered the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out the following: "one hundred forty-seven thousand dollars ($147-000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000)"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Elpern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ELPERN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the amendments before the House call for an increase in the amount of the appropriation to $250,000.

Mr. ELPERN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. I notice, Mr. Speaker, when this bill started out it was for $5,000, then it was amended to $147,000 and now you are increasing it to $250,000. Will you tell me what is the purpose of that increase?

Mr. ELPERN. The purpose of the increase, Mr. Speaker, is to help the situation in Westmoreland County. The bill that you passed here probably three or four weeks ago for $300,000 was passed over to the Senate, and that bill is going to be killed in committee. This bill would help Westmoreland County out. We have two bodies lying out there in the shaft of a mine.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is this in addition to the original bill of something like $300,000 that was passed?

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, the three hundred thousand dollar bill was killed in committee.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does this bill then apply solely to Westmoreland County?

Mr. ELPERN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, and also the money that is short over the $700,000 that was used.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask how much it is short of the $700,000.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, $147,000

Mr. TURNER. In other words, Mr. Speaker, the amendments to this bill are for the purpose of taking up the deficit of the original $700,000 appropriated for pumping out mines?

Mr. ELPERN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as I understood the gentleman from Westmoreland, the $147,000 was a deficit in the $700,000 appropriated during the 1937 session, is that right?

Mr. ELPERN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. In other words, Mr. Speaker, they have spent all of the $700,000 and in addition to that I understand the gentleman from Westmoreland to say they want to spend $147,000 to make up the deficit.

Mr. ELPERN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Then, Mr. Speaker, in addition to that

I understand they are asking now $103,000 to pump out certain quarries in Westmoreland County, is that correct?

Mr. ELPERN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. And the purpose, Mr. Speaker, of the pumping out of those quarries is to recover some bodies, is that what I understand?

Mr. ELPERN. Yes,—not the quarries, but the mines,—two bodies in the mines.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Westmoreland whether these mines are working.

Mr. ELPERN. Not for mining, Mr. Speaker. The mine flooded is not working, but the mines around the vicinity would be very much in danger of having the same thing happen to them as has happened down in the mine where these two bodies are lying.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Westmoreland to say he is afraid there may be some one drowned in these mines?

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, the mines where they are working now, yes.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I did not quite understand the gentleman as to his explanation as to the purpose of this appropriation.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the additional $103,000 is to get out two bodies which drowned in the mine on Decoration Day of last year, due to the March flood of 1936, and the purpose also is to put two thousand men to work in the mines in that vicinity, which have been shut down due to the flood waters going through the mines.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say if this money is forthcoming to pump out the mines, they will be able to put men to work in them?

Mr. ELPERN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, my understanding,—I am not trying to be facetious about it,—it is my understanding that the coal industry is pretty well shut down. How can two thousand men be put to work?

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, they have thirty-seven hundred acres in that vicinity and they will put two thousand men to work if they pump that water out.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

The SPEAKER declared the nays appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for and eighty-three members having voted in the affirmative and thirty-eight in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (P. L. 16), entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to defray the cost of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred thirty-six" by making a further appropriation to supply the deficiency incurred and needed under the provisions of said act

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 42, (Senate Bill No. 25), as follows:

An Act relating to and removing the remaining additional persons now serving as Pennsylvania members of the Delaware River Joint Commission by virtue of appointment by the General Assembly under the act approved June twelfth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 575) entitled "An act providing for joint action by Pennsylvania and New Jersey in the development of the ports on the lower Delaware River and the improvement of the facilities for transportation across the river authorizing the Governor for these purposes to enter into an agreement with New Jersey creating The Delaware River Joint Commission and specifying the powers and duties thereof including the power to finance projects by the issuance of revenue bonds transferring to the new commission all the powers of the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission and making an appropriation" and providing for the appointment of their successors

WHEREAS pursuant to authority of the act approved June twelfth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 575) a public corporate instrumentality of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the State of New Jersey was created for the public purposes enumerated in said act and

WHEREAS the first eight commissioners for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania were designated in said act to be the Governor of the Commonwealth the Auditor General the State Treasurer the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia and the four additional persons then serving as members of the Pennsylvania Commission existing by virtue of the act approved July ninth one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 814) and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto and

WHEREAS The Supreme Court of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has construed the said Act of Assembly as constituting the said four additional members of the Commission the appointees of the General Assembly and

WHEREAS two (2) of the said four (4) additional members have since resigned their office and their successors have since been appointed by the Governor in the manner provided by law and

WHEREAS under the provisions of the Constitution of Pennsylvania appointive officers may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed and

WHEREAS the General Assembly having thus been decreed to be the appointing power of the said additional commissioners and being desirous of exercising its prorogative of removal guaranteed it by the Constitution as aforesaid therefore

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The two (2) remaining additional members now serving on the Delaware River Joint Commission by virtue of appointment by the General Assembly under the act approved June twelfth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seventy-five) entitled "An act providing for joint action by Pennsylvania and New Jersey in the development of the ports on the lower Delaware River and the improvement of the facilities for transportation across the river authorizing the Governor for these purposes to enter into an agreement with New Jersey creating The Delaware River Joint Commission and specifying the powers and duties thereof including the power to finance projects by the issuance of revenue bonds transferring to the new commission all the powers of the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission and making an appropriation" viz Thomas B Smith and Richard Weglein are hereby removed as members of the Commission and the vacancies hereby created shall be filled by the Governor in the manner provided by law in the case of vacancies occurring in the appointive membership of the commission

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 21, as follows:

An Act to prohibit the sale offering or exposing for sale of fireworks defining fireworks and providing for licensing and regulation of the manner of using fireworks and providing penalties

The first section was read as follows:

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The term fireworks shall mean and include any combustible or explosive composition or any substance or combination of substances or article prepared for the purpose of producing a visible or an audible effect by combustion explosion deflagration or detonation and shall include blank cartridges toy pistols toy cannons toy canes or toy guns in which explosives are used the type of balloons which require fire underneath to propel the same firecrackers torpedoes skyrockets Roman candles Daygo bombs sparklers or other fireworks of like construction and any fireworks containing any explosive or flamable compound or any tablets or other device containing any explosive substance

The term municipalities shall include cities boroughs and incorporated towns

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation for further study.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JIROLANIO. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Northampton know of the agreement made in committee to recommit this bill after it had passed second reading?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, not being a member of that committee I wouldn't have such knowledge.

Mr. LEWIS. Was the gentleman so informed, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I was told samething about it just recently.

Mr. LEWIS. The gentleman would not doubt the veracity of his informant, would he, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. JIROLANIO. That I cannot answer, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEWIS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose the motion of the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio. While we all realize that there are many members of the House who desire to offer amendments to this bill, those amendments have been for some time and are constantly being placed in the hands of the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation. While I am not a member of that committee I nevertheless feel that they will receive fair consideration in that committee's deliberations, and I ask the members to oppose this motion in order that the bill may properly pass second reading and then be recommitted, as agreed to. I have also informed certain members who desire to offer amendments that neither I nor the other sponsors of the bill will make any objection to any amendments offered during third reading of the bill after return from committee.

I ask that the motion of the gentleman from Northampton be defeated.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, since the gentleman from Philadelphia has admitted that there are some things that should be done to this bill, it is very, very apparent to me that this bill should be recommitted to the committee for further study. I for one, being a member of this House for the past year and a half have never seen such a bill as this bill purports to me, without any sense of justice, without any sense of ability, without any sense of fairness. Knowing very well that the gentlemen who drew up the bill are interested in the welfare of the state of Pennsylvania in the same manner, in the same nature and in the same fashion as I am, I see no reason why this bill should not be recommitted to this particular committee. If this bill should be allowed to pass on second reading, then referred back to the committee from which it came, then re-ported out, no member of the House will have the opportunity or the right to hand in any amendments unless he would have the unanimous consent of the House.

Therefore, I say to each member of the House, since this bill is drawn so badly, since the bill is of such a nature that you would not be able to go out and hunt, since it is of such a nature that the National Guards could not even practice, since it is of such a nature that on Decoration day you would not be able to fire a volley over the graves of those soldiers who have fallen, I think it is the duty of this House to recommit this bill for further study.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if I am out of order in giving the House the procedure that this bill has gone through to date, and the action of the committee?

The SPEAKER. The action of the committee is for the committee itself to determine. They are not supposed to divulge what goes on in the committee.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LEWIS and Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 26, as follows:

An Act abating certain tax penalties and interest on county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 All penalties and interest imposed on delinquent county city (except city of the first class) borough town township school district (except school district of the first class) and poor district taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-four and all previous years and all penalties imposed on such taxes for the tax years one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate and on delinquent poll taxes levied for any of such years are hereby abated without the necessity of further action by the authority levying the tax if said delinquent taxes are paid as hereinafter provided This section shall not be construed to abate the interest accrued on the taxes for the years of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven but no further interest shall be imposed on such taxes after the payment of the first installment as hereafter provided so long as the taxpayer complies with the provisions of this act.

In order to receive the benefits of the installment system of payment provided by this act twenty per centum of the delinquent taxes due for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and for all previous years and of the accrued interest due on the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven taxes shall be paid on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and thirty-nine twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-one and the final twenty per centum on or before the thirty-first day of December one thousand nine hundred and forty-two And provided That the respective current taxes (the institution district taxes in lieu of the poor taxes) on such parcel or parcels of real estate and on delinquent poll taxes levied for the years subsequent to the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight during such installment periods assessed and levied by such taxing authority shall be paid before they become delinquent For the purposes of this act a tax shall be deemed to become delinquent on the date when a penalty attaches to the tax If and whenever any of the said current taxes or any of the said installments are not paid when due and payable as herein provided then and in that event there shall become due and payable for such year a sum equal to one-fifth of the total amount of the abated penalties and interest in addition to the other payments required to be paid under this act during that year which said additional sum shall be payable and must be paid at the time the next succeeding installment payment becomes due under this act If such additional sum is not so paid then the total amount of the abated penalties and interest less the aggregate of any such additional sums theretofore paid shall be revived and added to the unpaid taxes with the same force and effect as if such abated penalties and interest or portion thereof had never been abated and the taxpayer shall not thereafter be entitled to any further benefits or privileges under this act

Section 2 Any taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption may anticipate the payment of such delinquent taxes for the tax year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven and previous years at any time on or before November first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight by paying the entire amount of such delinquent taxes and interest due on the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven taxes and receive the benefit of this act and in such cases payment of the taxes assessed and levied for the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight shall not be required at the time of such payment

Section 3 This act shall be construed to apply to all such taxes whether or not liens for such taxes had been returned for nonpayment or have been filed in the office of the prothonotary of the county or proceedings for the collection of such taxes have been instituted in any court in said county or where real property has been sold to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at a tax sale or on a tax lien and the period of redemption has not expired but this act shall not be construed to apply to cases where real property has been sold other than to a county city borough town township school district or poor district at a tax sale or on a tax lien and where the period of redemption has not expired The taxpayer shall be liable for the payment of all costs incurred except the solicitor's fees where liens for such taxes have been returned for nonpayment or have been filed in the office of the prothonotary or proceedings for the collection thereof have been instituted in any court.

Section 4 The benefits of this act shall extend to and accrue to any successful bidder or purchaser at sheriff's or other judicial sale grantee transferee mortgagee or owner having the right of redemption under a tax sale or other party in interest in the parcel or parcels of real estate against which the above-mentioned taxes have been assessed and levied whether separated or not

Section 5 Any taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption shall have the right to pay the delinquent taxes assessed and levied against any parcel or parcels of real estate without being required to pay the delinquent taxes assessed and levied against any other parcel or parcels of real estate in the same ward district or other municipal subdivision

The county commissioners of each county may at their discretion and at the cost of the county cause to be published two times in not more than two newspapers of general circulation throughout the county a notice to the taxpayers giving a synopsis of the terms of this act setting forth the benefits provided by the act and the necessary conditions required by the taxpayers in order to receive the same Upon application either in person or in writing by any taxpayer or owner the tax levying authorities the tax collector the receiver or receivers of taxes or the person or persons charged with the collection of such delinquent taxes or the person or persons in whose custody the records of such delinquent taxes are kept shall furnish to such delinquent taxpayers or owner a statement of the delinquent taxes owed by him to such municipal subdivision showing the face amount the penalty if any the interest if any and any costs or other charges in detail against such real property as shown by the records in his custody.

Every collector of taxes whose duty it is to send to the respective taxpayers any notice or statement of their annual taxes shall include in each such notice or statement an additional notice of the date when the next installment payment is due under the provisions of this act.

Section 6 In order to enable the taxpayer or owner having the right of redemption under a tax sale to receive the full benefits of this act no real property shall be sold for non-payment of taxes before November first one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight and any tax sale shall be adjourned or readjourned or right of redemption extended as often as may be necessary for this purpose If any tax sale is adjourned or readjourned or right of redemption extended after advertisement or sale no additional advertisement or notice shall be necessary for the adjourned or readjourned sale or right of redemption No such adjournment or readjournment or redemption failure to advertise or hold any such tax sale shall invalidate the lien of any tax due and unpaid or sale had subject to redemption but the lien of all such taxes shall be fully preserved during the entire installment period herein provided for if the taxpayer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this act Provided however That in every case where a taxpayer avails himself of the privileges or benefits of this act the period during which payment of the said delinquent taxes is postponed or continued under this act shall not be included in computing and determining whether or not any right of the tax assessing and levying authority has been barred or lost by reason of the provisions of any statute or statutes now existing or hereafter enacted limiting the right of the said tax levying and assessing authorities to file preserve or maintain the lien of the said taxes

Section 7 The provisions of this act are severable and if any of the provisions hereof are held to be unconstitutional the decision shall not be construed to impair any other provision of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included herein.

Section 8 The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred twenty-nine) as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred forty-four) the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws ten) and the act approved the fourteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and two) shall continue in full force and effect as to any and all taxpayers who have taken advantage of and are not in default in the provisions thereof All other acts and parts of acts general local and special inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby suspended during the time this act shall be in effect.

Section 9 Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent any taxpayer who has heretofore taken advantage and accepted the benefits of any of the acts referred to in section eight and who at the time this act becomes effective has lost all future rights benefits privileges and opportunities under such act from taking advantage and receiving the benefits of this act in the same manner as if such person had never attempted to comply with the provisions of such previous abatement act.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. O'CONNOR. Mr. Speaker, I move you that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of a public hearing to be held in the House Caucus Room Tuesday, September 13, 1938 at 4:00 p. m.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ALEXANDER. HOUSE BILL No. 64.

An Act authorizing boards of school directors to dismiss or refuse reelection to married professional employes, as herein defined.

Referred to the Committee on Education.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER.

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there has arisen in the minds of many of us in the last few days very serious questions involving the appropriation of $25,000,000 for relief. The situation, as it confronts us, reminds me of the situation in the 1932 special session of the legislature, which followed the special session of 1931, when the first Talbot Act was passed which appropriated $10,000,000 for relief. Those of you who have followed this question will recall that the Supreme Court decided that the Talbot Act was unconstitutional, but that if the $10,000,000 appropriation which was made by the session of 1931 should prove to be more than the revenues of the Commonwealth, that appropriation to hospitals and other charitable institutions would have to be abated. In other words, the Chief Justice of Pennsylvania, the present Chief Justice, who wrote the opinion in the Talbot Case, said that there were two classes of appropriations, that the Legislature, in making its appropriations, of course had the right to appropriate any sum which it thought might be within the anticipated revenues, but that the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth were charged with the duty under the Constitution, which prohibits the expending of more than one million dollars beyond the actual revenue, of abating appropriations so that the ordinary functions of the government could go on, if the appropriations exceeded the amount of actual revenue. Now, we passed the bill providing for $25,000,000 appropriation for relief, without securing any information other than that which was given to us in the Governor's message at the opening of the session, which stated that the anticipated revenues for the biennium would be $25,000,000 in excess of that which they expected at the 1937 session, when the revenues were estimated. I confess that I think we were derelict in accepting that at the time. Perhaps the hot weather and the conditions under which we met in a hurry can be offered by us as some excuse, but that does not, it seems to me, warrant this legislature in continuing in the belief that there will be $25,000,000 more available for relief in November, when they expect the present relief moneys to run out, and, perhaps, this legislature would have adjourned and gone home and then find our fiscal officers in the delimma that they may be paying out greater sums of money than they will have in actual revenue during the biennium. That would mean, that the fiscal officers, to protect themselves, would have to abate the appropriations according to the decision of the Supreme Court in the Talbot Case.

There is also, it seems to me, a very serious proposition in that we have borrowed money on tax anticipation notes during this biennium and those notes undoubtedly will have to bleed certain revenues of the Commonwealth for their payment. There, therefore, aris a very grave question in my mind as to whether we could appropriate any of those moneys, even that which we expect to be in excess, because the holders of those notes have the right to expect that we will conserve and segregate the revenues of the Commonwealth to meet those notes from the different sources of revenue that we pledged for their payment. Therefore even if the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth did not abate appropriations or did not feel that it was necessary for them to do so, if a note holder should come in in November of this year, we will say, and start an action against the Commonwealth to restrict the payment of moneys, because those moneys had already been pledged, we might be up against a serious proposition to take care of the people on relief and our institutions might be up against a serious proposition in that their appropriations would be withheld. Now, you may say that in January the legislature will be in session, and, therefore we will have a chance to take care of it, but a new legislature coming in on the first Monday in January might find it very difficult within a very short space of time to so arrange our finances; if it were necessary to levy additional taxes, those taxes could not be collected for some time.

Therefore, I think that we ought to proceed with the exact knowledge and for the purpose of obtaining the proper knowledge, in order that we may not leave here under the delusion that money has been appropriated to take care of the unemployed, I am offering a resolution asking for the information and would ask that the House give its unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to have the resolution read at this time? Are there objections?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

RESOLUTION

PRINTING OF MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Mr. COLEMAN offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 7, 1938.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That three hundred copies of the proceedings of the memorial services held on August 9th, 1938, in honor of the late Honorable William P. Gallagher, Honorable William J. Munley, Honorable Charles Henry Richter, Honorable C. J. Goodnough and Honorable Francis T. Baker be printed and copies thereof be sent to the members of the families of the deceased persons above referred to, and that each Member of the House of Representatives shall be presented with a copy thereof.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. MOOMAW. HOUSE BILL No. 65.

RESOLUTION No. 12.

In the House of Representatives, September 6, 1938.

Whereas, On September 10th, 1938, we will celebrate in this country the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of "The Battle of Lake Erie;" and

Whereas, The "Battle of Lake Erie" was one of America's most decisive victories; and

Whereas, In the consequence of the winning of this battle all the territory west of the Allegheny Mountains was saved for this country; and

Whereas, The half of this mighty fleet which won this victory was built at the city of Erie, then known as Erietown, and the fleet was under the seamanship of Pennsylvania citizens, and therefore especially the State of Pennsylvania should take a preeminent position in the celebration, and endeavor to have restored the Flagship "Niagara" to a proper condition; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania hereby urges the Governor of the Commonwealth to secure the necessary Federal funds or, if unable to obtain the Federal funds, to urge upon the Federal agency, the desirability of undertaking and completing the work of restoration, so that the Flagship "Niagara" shall be in the original condition she was in at the time of the Battle of Lake Erie, and shall for all time be maintained as a historic memorial of a glorious page in American History.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. TURNER.

RESOLUTION No. 13.

In the House of Representatives, September 7, 1938.

Whereas this General Assembly has just passed legislation appropriating $25,000,000 additional for public assistance and relief during the present fiscal biennium, and

Whereas the General Assembly has before it no factual evidence, only statements, that there will be at the end of the fiscal biennium, a surplus to the extent of $25,000,000 over appropriations proposed to be made during the present special session of the General Assembly, appropriations made at the regular session of 1937 and the amount required for sinking fund purposes to pay the tax anticipation notes issued during this biennium, and

Whereas under the decision of the Supreme Court, where there is an appropriation in any fiscal biennium in excess of the revenue collected, it becomes the duty of the fiscal officers to abate non-preferred appropriations, such as those made to charitable and educational institutions and for public assistance and unemployment relief; and

Whereas the House of Representatives should be advised by the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth whether such a surplus is likely to be accumulated during the biennium in order to be assured that abatement of non-preferred appropriations will not result; therefore be it

Resolved that the Auditor General, State Treasurer and Secretary of Revenue either jointly if they can agree, or separately if no agreement can be reached, shall furnish to the House of Representatives, not later than Monday, September 12th, a statement showing (a) The total amount of general fund revenues collected during the present fiscal biennium to September 1, 1938, (b) An estimate of the amount to be collected from September 1, 1938 to May 31, 1939 and the sources from which the same is to be derived, (c) The total amount of appropriations made by the 1937 session of the General Assembly, (d) The amount of said appropriations paid to September 1, 1938, (e) The amount needed from September 1, 1938 to May 31, 1939 for payment into the tax anticipation note sinking fund, (f) The amount needed to pay appropriations of the 1937 session from September 1, 1938 to May 31, 1939 and segregated by preferred and non-preferred appropriations, (g) The amount of any surplus available for appropriations by this special session of the General Assembly, (h) Terms of the contract for sale of the tax anticipation notes of the present biennium.

Such statement shall be accompanied by information showing the particular revenue from which any surplus so estimated to be available, is to be derived, and also by a statement of said fiscal officers, jointly or individually as the case may be, of the amount, if any, which in their or his opinion may be safely appropriated by this General Assembly without danger of abating unpreferred appropriations or endanger the soundness of the sinking funds of the Commonwealth.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1938. No. 16.

SENATE

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1938.

The Senate met at 8:00 o'clock P. M., (E. S. T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

It is good to sing praises unto Thee, O God; for it is pleasant praise—is comely. Thy Providence has brought us to this hour and place. We rejoice in its opportunities. We are sobered by its responsibilities. As we confront a dark and threatening sky, direct us into paths of peace. Forbid that we turn our plow shares and pruning hooks into implements of war. Help us to keep the sword in its scabbard. Spare us from cruel sacrifice of our youth, sons, young husbands or fathers, even, perhaps members of this body or these fine young servants of the Commonwealth, sacrifice to insane ambition, and brutish greed of hateful tyrants. God show us the way!

And now, Our Father, for the duties and tasks before us, give unto us a great measure of Thy Spirit, a wealth of wisdom, and courage, passion for the right. In all things may we honor Thee, and bring upon ourselves the approval of our God. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when on motion of Mr. LAW, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. McCreesh asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. HUFFMAN, on account of illness.

Mr. Rodgers asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. RANKIN on account of unavoidable county business.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The CHAIR cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication from the County Commissioners of Somerset County protesting against seizure and confiscation of real and personal property of the county without compensation.

The PRESIDENT. The communication will be noted in the Journal and printed in the Appendix.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I hold in my hand a press photograph showing a group of five, and the caption reads "The Law that Writes Pennsylvania School History." There is Doctor Ade and Colonel Janeway standing and the Governor sitting and Senator Edward Jackson Thompson sitting alongside the Governor. Before I proceed with my eulogy of the New Deal and Senator Thompson and his school program, I wish to make a practical suggestion to yourself, Mr. President, and the Rules Committee, that instead of having the Chaplain pray first, and then having Senator Thompson rise to a question of personal privilege, that, as Senator Thompson always demolishes in his remarks the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, and the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, that when the dead bodies of those two Senators have been removed by the sergeant-at-arms, that is the time to have the prayer by the Chaplain for their immortal souls.

I have the honor of serving on the anti-gambling commission with the Senator from Centre (not "ante" but "anti" gambling commission) and I have even had the honor of sitting at his right during a press photograph. The Chairman has admitted to me that he is fond of shooting crap. I admitted to the Senator that I am fond of playing poker, penny-ante. Therefore, you see, the Chairman has something on me and I have something on the Chairman. It may be, of course, only hearsay evidence like Mr. Shelley's but with this consciousness in my mind I shall proceed carefully and with great tact in my remarks and I trust that the Senator from Centre will take it in good part.

Whenever I hear the Senator from Centre speak I am convinced that he is becoming a New Dealer and I am completely convinced that he is a Democrat. I used to hear the expression that a Republican who saw no good in any other party except the Republican party was described as a dyed-in-the-wool Republican. I have been searching my mind to find a fitting expression to describe the Democracy of the Senator from Centre. I cannot find anything adequate but I will suggest that he is such a thorough-going Democrat from the top of his head to the tip of his toes that he might be called a polychrome Democrat perhaps, which is in line, of course, with the dyed-in-the-wool Republican.

The old Constitution with its very puny restriction of a million dollars does not inhibit the Senator from Centre. He has become our first spender. He has adopted a motto which I have submitted to Mr. John Hamilton; I am rather proud of this motto, and the Senator from Centre is an example of the need of this motto. It goes, "Spending unending, lending unending, unbending unending, business ending, broke." It is a very good Republican slogan, I would say.

The Senator from Centre is full of good words. I may say that, to quote another little rhyme,

"Each morning sees some good begin,
Each evening sees it close,
Something accomplished, something done,
Has earned a night's repose."

When night comes, instead of repose the Senator and I may engage in a game of New Deal poker. We have played this game before but now we have somebody playing this game who always wins all the blue chips. In New Deal poker every pot is a jack-pot and every jack-pot is won by the new player who is called the General State Authority. In the old days, the bad old days, when there were only about five Democrats in the Senate chamber and there were so many Republicans that it was hard to find extra chairs for their seats, in those bad old days when the only Democratic Senators here were all Jeffersonian Democarts, including our respected Senator Huffman, the present president pro tempore, who was then really a Jeffersonian Democrat, and the Senator from Lycoming, who seems to remain a Jeffersonian Democrat, in those good old days if there were to be an expenditure of sixty-seven millions of dollars for a highway or seventy-five millions of dollars, plus instrumentation, for schools,—well, in those backward days the loan went before the people. The people approved the loan, and it was called "the consent of the governed." Now, however, it seems to be entirely with the "consent of the Governor," as far as I can see.

The Democrats have discovered a new country, a new land where it is always summer afternoon, where the golden goose hangs so high that the sky is the limit. There is seventy-five million dollars for the school houses, and there will be seven hundred and fifty school houses, and my imagination can picture the scene and the form of these school houses. Of course, there will have to be appropriate highways and strenghtened bridges, and buses. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania owes it to every child to ride. Walking is reactionary and only Republican children will walk to the Thompson schools.

As you can picture the children getting out of the bus, across one of the main entrances there will be a medallion with a bas-relief of Senator Thompson and with seven hundred and fifty of them that is going some. On each side of the steps leading up to the door there will be flagstaffs; on one flagstaff will be the American flag and on the other flagstaff will be the Pennsylvania flag. On the American flag you will not see the hated swastika, you will not see the hammer and scythe of the Soviet Republic, you will not see the fasces of Mussolini, nothing like that. All you will see is a very simple modest monogram—F. D. R. On the blue flag of Pennsylvania, which is very blue indeed, you will find under the coat-of-arms another monogram with three letters—I. O. U.

When we go inside (naturally you will want to go inside to hear what the curriculum is in the Thompson school) let us go into the class in history. We can hear the teacher say to the children, "Who discovered America, children?" and with one voice they will say "Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"That's right, children."

"Who was the first president of the United States?"

"Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"Who was the last president of the United States?"

"Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"That's quite right, children. Now I will ask you a harder one. How long will the last president of the United States last?"

And then there is a profound silence, and no answer.

Every graduate of a Thompson school will face a civil service examination with the greatest ease. It will be like a game of ping-pong to pass a civil service examination and all the graduates of Thompson's schools will go into the State service. They will either become employes of the Unemployment Compensation Board or of the Department of Public Assistance, or the hardier boys and girls will go into the Liquor Board. Every graduate will be in the public service and as they are boys and girls they will not quite yet be eligible for old age pensions but of course they will soon be eligible because the age is coming down.

When they have exhausted all the Republican money to pay the bills, when there is no more private money, no more private business, when all the factories have become playgrounds and all the slums have been cleared for parks, and Mr. Henry Morganthau has all the gold buried at Fort Knox and the silver buried at West Point, and there is no more of what the colored brethren call "cash money," then the young people of these departments will have to practice barter, and the young people in the Department of Public Assistance can barter, can trade public assistance with their friends that are in the Department of Unemployment Compensation, and the young men and women in Unemployment Compensation can trade with their friends in the liquor stores and when the liquor has gone all around and everybody is drunk, then there will be no more poverty,—you will not notice it. A few more rounds and anyone, if he can stand, will say "I have the more abundant life."

The moral of this story Mr. President, is "Oh, to be young again, young enough to be a public school child and to get a free ride on a bus to a Thompson school."

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to express the thanks of the Democratic members of the Senate to the gentleman from Chestnut Hill for the excellent preview of the next edition of the "Pennsylvania Legislator."

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, state his question of personal privilege?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise neither to abuse nor to condemn my colleagues of this Assembly. In this regard, it would be captious for me to find fault with them if their merits are praiseworthy and, on the other hand, it would be monstrous for me to give them praise if their merits are blameworthy. The morality in nature's laws impells me to place blame where blame is due and give praise where praise is due.

In the course of history, the ambition of man for political power and his unbridled passion in the exercise of it has remained as constant as the flight of time. History is repleat with examples invoked by man to seize and retain political power. The dark pit of Siberia; the stifling Hole of Calcutta; the dreaded Tower of London; the bloody Guillotine; the lurid Scaffold; the torturous Rack; the poisoned Cup, the Knife, the Sword, the Gun, Murder, Treason, and Perjury have all been the tyrannical expedients of man to seize or to hold on to political power once acquired. The desperateness of the expedient used has always commensurated the desperateness of the tyrant. Whether collectively or singly, whether passionately or rationally, the fury of tyrants is cruel and inexorable. As the iniquities of the sire often mar the sublimity of the offspring, so may the tyranny of one tyrant or a collection of tyrants mar the political sublimity of succeeding ages.

In America the tyranny of political power is checked by the precepts of a written Constitution. The adequacy of this check against tyrannical entrenchment has withstood the test of 150 years. A look today at the nations of Europe and Asia convinces us that political tyranny still attracts the ambitions of man. The economic, social and political events that now embroil America give us occasion to ponder whether the clouds that hover over Europe will cast their shadows upon our shores, and whether ambitious men will deal tyrannically with the precepts of our Constitution in order to gain or retain political power.

Here in Pennsylvania, the contention engendered between the Executive and Judiciary in recent months has provoked many unfortunate aspects. Many unpleasant consequences of that contention might have been avoided had the Legislative body assumed the role of a peacemaker rather than that of a heated partisan. An unbiased examination of the ordained branches of government and a sincere zeal for rectitude might have allowed each branch to move in its own constitutional sphere untrammelled by passion and ambition of the others. The very nature of the Judicial powers enjoins upon the Judiciary the duty to investigate and punish law infractions brought to its attention by a lawfully constituted District Attorney. Likewise, the very nature of the impeachment powers enjoins upon the Legislative branch the duty to investigate and impeach misconduct in civil office how-so-ever brought to its attention. So also the very nature of the Executive powers enjoins upon the Executive the duty to make known to the Legislative and Judicial branches all matters that are constitutionally within the spheres of the latter. Reason dictates that the co-ordinate nature of these depositaries of political powers negatives any right in one branch to wage open and scurrilous war upon the others. Like the heart, the stomach and the lung of man, the three branches of government must of necessity cooperate one with the other if the body of which they are parts shall move symmetrically and efficaciously. It will illy befit the heart to stop its beat solely because the stomach has involuntarily received foul food. So it is with the branches of government. It illy befits one branch to become violent solely because another branch, in the exercise of its powers, is called upon to dissolve an infirmity of one or both of the others. Neither partisanship nor party passion; neither Executive intrigue nor Legislative nor Judicial obstinacy is conducive to the parliamentary calm and coolness necessary to a proper consideration of a serious problem. A patronage-fed mob, gripped by the fury of party passion and whipped to frenzy by the dramatics of contending counsel, is of small aid to a House Committee in the solution of a serious problem. The gravity of factious contention among the branches of government and the attending consequences to the Commonwealth necessitates a consideration of the problem by men who are ruled by reason and not by passion. If these precepts are worthy and are confirmed in the structure of our Constitution, it follows that the intrigue of one branch to dominate the will of either of the others is unpermissible and unwise.

With this brief preface, I ask you, my colleagues, to be patient and follow me while we examine the pages of authority on this important subject.

Speaking on the conspiracy of Catiline in the Roman Senate, 64 B. C., Julius Caesar said:

"The Lacedaemonians, when they had conquered the Athenians, placed thirty governors over them, who began their power by putting to death, without any trial, such as were remarkably wicked and universally hated. The people were highly pleased at this, and applauded the Justice of such executions, but when they had by degrees established their lawless authority, they wantonly butchered both good and bad without distinction; and thus kept the State in awe. Such was the severe punishment which the people, oppressed with slavery, suffered for their foolish Joy.

"In our own times, when Sylla, after his success, ordered Damasippus, and others of like character, who raised themselves on the misfortunes of the State, to be put to death, who did not commend him for it? All agreed that such wicked and factious instruments, who were constantly embroiling the Commonwealth, were justly put to death. Yet this was an introduction to a bloody massacre; for whoever coveted his fellow-citizen's house, either in town or country, may, even any curious vase or fine raiment, took care to have the possessor of it put on the list of the proscribed.

"Thus they who had rejoiced at the punishment of Damasippus were soon after dragged to death themselves; nor was an end put to this butchery till Sylla had glutted all of his followers with riches."

Coming to more recent times: In his farewell address issued September 17, 1796, the Father of His Country, George Washington, remarked:

"It is important, likewise, that the habits of thinking in a free country should inspire caution in those intrusted with its administration, to confine themselves within their respective constitutional spheres, avoiding in the exercise of the powers of one department to encroach upon another. The spirit of encroachment tends to consolidate the powers of all the departments in one, and thus to create, whatever the form of government, a real despotism. A just estimate of that power, and proneness to abuse it, which predominates in the human heart, is sufficient to satisfy us of the truth of this position. The necessity of reciprocal checks in the exercise of political power, by dividing and distributing it into different depositaries, and constituting each the guardian of the public weal against invasion by the others, has been evinced by experiments ancient and modern; some of them in our country and under our own eyes. To preserve them must be as necessary as to institute them. If, in the opinion of the people, the distribution or modification of the constitutional powers be in any particular wrong, let it be corrected by an amendment in the way which the Constitution designates.

But let there be no change by usurpation; for though this, in one instance, may be the instrument of good, it is the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. The precedent must always greatly overbalance in permanent evil any partial or transient benefit, which the use can at any time yield."

Chief-Justice Mansfield, in the case of Wilkes, said: "The Constitution does not allow reasons of state to influence our Judgments. God forbid it should! We must not regard political consequences, how formidable soever they might be; if rebellion was the certain consequence, we are bound to say 'Fiat Justitia, ruat coelum.' We are to say what we take the law to be; if we do not speak our real opinions, we prevaricate with God and our own consciences."

Justice Story says: "Where there is no Judicial department to interpret, pronounce, and execute the law, to decide controversies, and to enforce rights, the government must either perish by its own inbecility, or the other instruments of government must usurp powers, for the purpose of commanding obedience, to the destruction of Liberty. The will of those who govern will become, under such circumstances, absolute and despotic; and it is wholly immaterial, whether power is vested in a single tyrant or in an assembly of tyrants."

Madison in the Federalist No. XVLII says: "The accumulation of all powers, legislative, executive, and judicial, in the same hands, whether of one, a few or many and whether hereditary, self-appointed, or elective, may justly be pronounced the very definition of tyranny."

Montesquieu, another great authority, in "The Spirit of the Law," says: "When the legislative and executive powers are united in the same person or body there can be no liberty, because apprehensions may arise lest the same monarch or senate should enact tyrannical laws to execute them in a tyrannical way."

Again (Montesquieu) "Were the power of judging joined with the legislative, the life and liberty of the subject would be exposed to arbitrary control, for the Judge would then be the legislator. Were it joined to the executive power, the Judge might behave with all the violence of an oppressor."

In Bagehot's "English Constitution" page 15, the author says: "The great scene of debate, the great engine of public instruction and political controversy, is the Legislative Assembly. A speech there by an eminent statesman, a party movement by a great political combination, are the best means yet known for arousing, enlivening and teaching a people."

The same author, speaking of debates in Legislative Assemblies, says that: "There are the means by which statesmen advertise themselves for future and confirm themselves in present governments. It brings forward men eager to speak, and gives them occasion to speak..... Everything which is worth saying, everything which ought to be said, most certainly will be said. Conscientious men think they ought to persuade others; selfish men think they would like to obtrude themselves. The nation is forced to hear two sides—all the sides, perhaps, of that which most concerns it, and it likes to hear—it is eager to know."

Madison in the Federalist No. XLVIII says: "It is agreed on all sides, that the powers belonging to one of the departments ought not to be directly and completely administered by either of the other departments. It is equally evident, that none of them ought to possess, directly or indirectly, an overruling influence over the others in the administration of their respective powers. It will not be denied that power is of an encroaching nature, and that it ought to be effectually restrained from passing the limits assigned to it..... In a government where numerous and extensive prerogatives are placed in the hands of an hereditary monarch, the executive department is very justly regarded as the source of danger, and watched with all the jealousy which a zeal for liberty ought to inspire. In a democracy, where a multitude of people exercise in person the legislative functions, and are continually exposed, to the ambitious intrigues of their executive magistrates, tyranny may well be apprehended, on some favoral emergency, to start up in the same quarter....."

Thomas Jefferson, in his "Notes on the State of Virginia," page 195, writing of the executive, legislative and judicial powers of government, said: "The concentrating of these in the same hands, is precisely the definition of despotic government. It will be no alleviation, that these powers will be exercised by a plurality of hands, and not by a single one. One hundred and seventy-three despots would surely be as oppressive as one. Let those who doubt it, turn their eyes on the Republic of Venice. As little will it avail us, that they are chosen by ourselves. An elective despotism was not the government we fought for; but one which should not only be founded of free principles, but in which the powers of government should be so divided and balanced among several bodies of magistracy, as that no one could transcend their legal limits, without being effectually checked and restrained by the others."

The candor reflected in these authorities indicates that the Legislative Body or the Judiciary that permits itself to be scourged to obedience by the lash of a despotic Executive shows a shameful disregard for our constitutional form of government and strews with pit-falls the future of our democracy.

Too many politicians among us have the confused opinion that a constitution is a collection of political means to achieve political ends. They religiously venerate and obey its precepts when such will serve their political ambitions but, when the same precepts are invoked to stay their predatory hands the Constitution becomes disdainful and contemptuous.

A sad page is written in the history of our Commonwealth if when a difference of opinion arises between the Executive and the Judiciary, or the Executive and the Legislative, that the Executive should resort to abuse, coercion and bribery in order to impose his will. Such tendency on the part of the Executive will stultify the Legislator and Judge to the evil example of all other civil officers. If the deliberations, debates and the machinery of the Legislative body are short-circuited by a despotic or ambitious Executive, the aspect of representative government fades, tyranny sallies forth, and the Executive levels his fangs at the throat of the Judiciary to subjugate it also to his will—this done, despotism is then triumphant. A zeal for liberty should inspire the Executive, the Legislator and the Judge to delineate the limits of his authority and resist with vehemency a transcending of the same.

Mr. President, may I again repeat that these remarks are not made to abuse or condemn my colleagues, the Executive, or Judiciary. They are envisioned by a desire for the form of government ordained by the Constitution and a hope that its blessings may be guarded for posterity against despotic entrenchment.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, last week there was some debate as to whether these resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution were legal in view of the time required by the Constitution for advertising. The Attorney General's Office has been asked for a ruling on this question, which ruling I believe they will have tomorrow, and in view of that I am going to request that these resolutions be put over in order.

Mr. RICE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 2, on third reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section four Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RICE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 3, on third reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article twelve of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RICE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 4, on third reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section one Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. RICE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 12, on third reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding Section One-A.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 32, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend Sections two and five of, and to add section three and one-tenth to, the act, approved the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (P. L. 717), entitled "An act fixing the number, compensation, mileage, and duties of the officers and employes of the General Assembly, and providing for their election or appointment, term of office, and manner of filling vacancies;" further regulating the term of office of such officers and employes and the compensation of certain officers and employes.

be postponed for the present.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 34, on third reading, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section twenty.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 39, entitled:

An Act to amend and re-enact Section five hundred and twenty-four of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven(Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended by limiting and prescribing the method of fixing the levy of school taxes in school districts of the first class

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill affects the city school districts of the first class, which means Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. This bill is made necessary by reason of the fact that the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has decided that the present existing law does not give these school districts the right to fix or levy the tax because that is the function of the Legislature, unless there is some line on which they can exercise their discretion, some limitations upon their authority. I have had some quarrels with the Board of Education in Philadelphia and have had no hesitancy in stating my objections.

However, at this time I think I should be equally frank and state that the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh have serious problem confronting them. They have no taxing power, and they must make up their budget by the end of this year. They are compelled by the Edmunds Act to pay fixed salaries and they have suffered a decline in revenue by reason of the decline in the assessed valuation of the properties. In Philadelphia instead of $3,400,000,000 of assessed valuations, we have close to $1,000,000,000 less for assessment purposes for the purpose of permitting the Board of Education in Philadelphia to levy its tax. The tax rates were levied at 92½ cents and that was based, instead of upon $3,400,000,000 on an assessed value of $1,000,000,000 less. The Department of Public Instruction and representatives of the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, in order to create a taxing power and in order to enable them to meet the obligations under the Edmunds Act have conceived the idea that this bill will solve their problems.

As the bill reads, and as one reads the bill, it seems inoccuous and does not seem to affect the situation, but when it is analyzed, and seen that this bill gives to the cities of the first class the right to employ one teacher for every 32 pupils in the elementary schools, it means that there must be an increase in the tax rate in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh—Philadelphia at once and Pittsburgh in 1939, because in Pittsburgh they have a triennial assessment and their assessment remains as its was three years ago. That tax increase under this bill may reach 20 cents. Instead of Philadelphia paying 92½ cents it may be obliged to pay, if the school board exercises the privileges granted of appointing the number of teachers as outlined, the rate will increase from 92½ cents to $1.12½. In Pittsburgh, from 11¼ mills in 1939 the increase may reach 13¼ mills.

I do not think that it is fair for the Legislature to vote on that proposition to increase the tax rate unless we have the reaction of the two cities involved on that question. I know that when I read the bill at first I did not realize the extent to which the bill went but now that I realize it and I know that I could not see it at first glance, I have come to the conclusion that there ought to be an opportunity given to those who are interested, to ascertain the effects of the bill. I spoke to some of my colleagues this evening on the Democratic side of the house and I have spoken to the representatives of the Board of Education of Philadelphia and they are agreeable to the suggestion that I am going to make and which I hope my Republican colleagues will join.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask that this bill be referred back to the Committee for the purpose of a public hearing on Monday next at five o'clock. That is also agreeable to the Chairman of the Committee on Education and with his consent and understanding I so move.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 31 (House Bill No. 17), entitled·

An Act to amend Article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by adding a new section two hundred and one and one-tenth thereto imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers providing for admission of certain evidence and providing for double damage under certain circumstances

The first, second and third sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to.

Section 1 Article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as reenacted and amended by the act approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand five hundred fifty-two) is hereby further amended by adding thereto section two hundred and one and one-tenth to read as follows

Section 201.1 In any action brought to recover damages for personal injury to an employe in the course of his employment or for death resulting from such injury the following legal presumption the rules for admitting certain evidence and the amount of damages which can be recovered shall apply

(a) When injury results to an employe in the course of his employment it shall be presumed that the employer's negligence caused said injury which presumption may be rebutted by the employer and both the injured employe and the employer will be permitted to introduce testimony showing the cause of said injury The final determination in all cases shall be a question of fact for the jury

(b) When an employe sustains an injury in the course of his employment declarations remarks and utterances made by the injured employe within twelve hours after the injury was sustained shall be admissable as competent evidence

(c) If the jury finds that the employe's injury was caused or contributed to by the employer's violation or failure to observe any safety law or regulation in effect at the time of the injury the injured employe or his dependents shall be entitled to double damages

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall be severable and if any of the provisions shall be held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of any of the remaining provisions of this act It is hereby declared as the legislative intent that this act would have been adopted had such unconstitutional provision not been included therein

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment

The title of the bill was read as follows:

An Act to amend Article two of the act approved the second day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred thirty-six) entitled "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment establishing an elective schedule of compensation and providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder" as amended by adding a new section two hundred and one and one-tenth thereto imposing the presumption of negligence upon employers providing for admission of certain evidence and providing for double damage under certain circumstances

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move to amend page 1, line 8 of the title by inserting at the end of the line the following: "reenacted and"

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 43, as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Lieutenant Governor

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of eighteen hundred dollars ($1,800.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Lieutenant Governor for the deficiency in the expenses of the Lieutenant Governor incurred for any of the following purposes For all necessary expenses including postage telegrams telephone toll charges and traveling clerical stenographic and discretionary expenses

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this bill is a bill making a deficiency appropriation to the Lieutenant Governor. When I saw that title I became interested immediately and I looked at the bill and was greatly shocked to find that the deficit was only $1800.00. I am greatly surprised to find that our Lieutenant Governor who presides over this body so ably doesn't have a deficit of more than $1800.00,—especially in view of the fact that, according to the public press, he has recently spent $300,000.00. I believe it is a very good bill.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 46, (House Bill No. 38), entitled:

An Act making an appropriation for the expenses of the special committee appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives the second day of August one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight pursuant to a resolution adopted by the House of Representatives on the thirtieth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight by authority of the act approved the thirtieth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight (Act No. 2) entitled "An act defining the procedure for and regulating the investigation by the House of Representatives and its committees of charges of or involving misdemeanor in office on the part of civil officers liable to impeachment authorizing the Speaker of the House to appoint a special committee for any such investigation authorizing the presentation of evidence by the Attorney General and other counsel and the officers investigated providing for the summoning of witnesses and for the punishment of persons refusing to appear produce evidence or testify and authorizing the employment and compensation of counsel and other assistants"

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 48 (House Bill No. 57), entitled:

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 45, (House Bill No. 23), entitled:

An Act to amend paragraphs (d) and (e) of Section 202, paragraph (a) of Section 409, Section 412, paragraph (a) of Section 601, Sections 702, 704, 808, 1201 and 1311 of the Public Utility Law (Act of May 28, 1937, P. L. 1053), entitled "An act relating to the regulation of public utilities certain corporations, companies, associations, and persons; providing for the regulation of public utilities, including, to a limited extent, municipalities engaging in public utility business, by prescribing, defining, and limiting their duties, powers, and liabilities, and regulating the excercise, surrender or abandonment of their powers, privileges, and franchises; defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicle and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle; conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons, associations, companies, and corporations, including to a limited extent, municipal corporations subject to this act, and administering the provisions of this act; authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates; placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters; authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates; providing for the supervision of financial and contractural relations between public utilities and affiliated interests, and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued, assumed, or kept by persons, associations, companies, corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act; conferring upon the commission power to vary, reform, or revise certain contracts; conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction, alteration, relocation, protection, or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities, and of such facilities by or over public highways, to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings, and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages; authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages; providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings; conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities; imposing upon persons, associations, companies, and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation the cost of administering this act; prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action; giving the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings; prescribing penalties, fines, and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the Commission, and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties; and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act," by further defining and limiting exemptions, the transfer and acquisition of property, the crossing of facilities, the issuance of securities, relations between affiliated interests, the imposition of costs of administering the act, and otherwise clarifying and supplementing the provisions of the said sections of the act.

And said bill having been read at length the first time.

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, September 13, at 1:00 o'clock, P. M. (E. S. T.).

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:12 o'clock, P. M. (E. S. T.) until Tuesday, September 13, 1938, at 1:00 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.).

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1938.

The House met at 8:00 p. m.

The SPEAKER, (Roy E. Furman), in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. EPHRAIM Z. GALLAHER, offered the following prayer:

Our heavenly Father, we implore Thee to guide us in our deliberations tonight. May this body be concerned about the needs of the Commonwealth as a whole, for this day and generations to come. We invoke Thy blessing upon all citizens of the state. May we attain that high plane of thinking and living, that we may behold all mankind on an equality at the bar of justice, with no unfriendly feeling toward anyone because of station in life. The world needs universal brotherhood. Through close walk and companionship with Thee the races of man will find that divine level.

In His name, we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Wednesday, September 7, 1938.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Wednesday, September 7, 1938, when, on motion of Mr. BAKER the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER: The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I want to give my reasons or an explanation for my vote on House Bill 16 which was passed by this House on August 9th. Had I been in the hall of the House, I would have voted in the negative on House Bill 16, but I am recorded as voting "aye" on the final passage of the bill. Some of the reasons will be brought out later on the appropriation bill, which is the equivalent bill from the Senate.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 47, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Anthracite Coal Industry Commission created by the act approved the eighth day of February one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Pamphlet Laws twenty-one) entitled "An act creating the Anthracite Coal Industry Commission defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOURISHIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Luzerne as to the amount of the appropriation which this commission originally received.

Mr. YOURISHIN. I am not positive, but I think it was in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Luzerne, how much is the deficiency?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, the deficiency, along with the printing that is necessary to print the report, is approximately $26,000.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Luzerne a statement as to how that is made up?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Luzerne a breakdown of those figures?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. TURNER. Thank you.

Mr. Speaker, in the 1937 session, at the very beginning of the session, I introduced a bill to provide for a commission to study and to perform and to carry out a program in reference to the rehabilitation, not only of the hard coal industry, but of the soft coal industry. That bill was referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining, as I recall it, although, on a number of different occasions, I asked that the bill be reported out, and although I once moved to have the committee discharged from further consideration of the bill, this House, the majority of this House, voted against it. As I recall, the vote was about 150 to about 51, which meant that the Democratic majority voted solidly in opposition to the measures.

On a number of occasions I said on the floor of this House that there could be no quick or immediate relief for the coal situation. It is not only a question of rehabilitating the coal industry itself, but special attention must be paid to the counties, the coal producing counties, both hard and soft coal, that have faced tremendous difficulties in the last few years. The decline in the coal industry has brought problems of employment, but even if the coal industry were improved to the extent that the investigations have shown that it might be improved, it would not take care of the thousands of men who have worked in the mines, and who want to work in the mines, let alone the future generations that are coming along. There must be something done for the people in these towns, merely doing something for the coal industry will not in itself help.

Practically everything that the Coal Commission found out to report has been known for a long time. This is not a new problem in the world. England had to face it in Wales and it faced it by the methods which were suggested in the measure which I introduced in this House in the beginning of 1937. The Governor of Pennsylvania promised the people in the hard coal regions that he would do something for them, that he would end bootlegging and that he would rehabilitate the coal industry, and what he did was to appoint a commission with an appropriation of $50,000, and that $50,000 has been spent and we are asked to appropriate $26,000 more; we are now down to the closing months of his administration and in the second year of the biennium, and nothing practical has been done; the only suggestion that I can see coming out of the Coal Commission's report was that the state was to take over the coal industry and to operate it, but I say to you that even if the state takes over the coal industry and operates it, even if the state lends it a lot of money, even if production and sales are increased with the amount of employment that it will take care of, as shown by the report of the Commission, it will nowhere near take care of the unemployment in the hard coal counties. It cost but a very few cents for me to send over to England and get a report of the commissioners for the special area, as they call it, and to read those reports and gain a knowledge of the experience of Great Britain and the difficulties that confronted it in the coal areas in Wales, but here we have expended $50,000, we have wasted fifteen months of time trying to gather a few statistics, in making a couple of reports in which the Commission has differed. In one report there were something like three different reports, none of them agreeing on all points. Even if the thing which is now proposed is done, it will not solve the problem and we will only take care of the hard coal counties, to say nothing of the soft coal counties. We have before, during this session, been asked to pass measures that would appropriate money to make up deficiencies created by commissions. I think that is bad business. If this Commission had $50,000, it had no business to go beyond that and create a deficiency. It is not good business for this legislature to permit commissions to be created and then allow the commissions to go out and run up a bill and then come back to us and ask us to appropriate more money, but I would not object to that so much in this instance because it is so terrifically important to the whole future of Pennsylvania, if we had really accomplished something through the efforts of this Commission, but I feel that we have not and I feel that we should not expend further moneys.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, the anthracite coal industry is purely a Pennsylvania problem. Nowhere in the entire world is anthracite coal produced as it is in Pennsylvania. Anthracite has a peculiar method of working their mines. Nowhere in the world is there a similarity of mining coal such as there is in the anthracite region. You have many things to contend with. You have large pitch veins that run straight up and down and that the men work. You have veins running on the flat, you have veins running on a forty five degree angle. Every one of those mines have a different method of mining their coal, and when it is said that a few cents could be spent to send over to England to get a report as to the redistricting of the bituminous regions in England, I say to you that neither that report nor any other report from any other country could be compared with the mining of coal in the anthracite region. There is not one mine, not even in any one particular section, where coal is mined on a similar basis or alike. In the lower regions, in Schuylkill County, it is practically all pitch vein mining, which is straight up and down, the veins running anywhere from three feet to three hundred feet. Take your central region, that is up in the Hazleton region, you have both the pitch and the flat mining. Take in the upper region of Lackawanna and the upper region of Luzerne, you have flat mining up there. There isn't anywhere in any part of the world that there is so much difference in the mining of coal at different collieries, and this Commission that was selected by this House and appointed by the Governor had a real job on their hands in trying to work out and bring in a report that may be satisfactory to the entire coal industry, both from an operating standpoint and from the standpoint of those who work in the mines mining the coal. I say to you that if the Anthracite Coal Commission has spent $50,000 and there is a necessity of printing that report in order that everyone that may be interested in the future of the anthracite region can read that report and make some suggestions as to a correction of the situation in the anthracite regions, then the additional $26,000 that this state may appropriate will be well spent, if the anthracite industry can be helped in any way at all. It is true, no matter what may be done, I do not believe you will see in the history of the anthracite field that they are going to put every man that worked in the mines in the past ten or fifteen years back to work, as there was approximately 160,000 in and around the mines. You will not see that condition, but in order to save an industry that is purely Pennsylvania and nowhere in the entire world is coal produced like it is produced in the anthracite region, I say to you if $26,000 will pay the deficiency of the Commission that has been investigating for over a year, in order to bring in a report that may be brought in and given to every man that is interested in the industry which is possible in this session through hearings before the Committee on Mines and Mining, something can be worked out that is going to help the anthracite industry and those who work in the industry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am certainly in favor of doing anything that will help the anthracite industry, but there is nothing in the report of the Commission, as I see it, that is going to help the anthracite industry that is being promised here by the gentleman from Luzerne. There isn't anything in the report as to there being different kinds of veins and different kinds of mining in Pennsylvania. One member of this Commission, as I remember it, was from New York and another a lawyer from down in Washington, if I remember correctly and while, of course the problem of mining, the engineering problem of mining is a technical problem and is different in the two countries, I feel that the question of rehabilitation of a district and the things to be done is a similar problem and can only be taken care of as a long range problem.

The thing to which I object is not the fact that $26,000 is to be appropriated; ten times $26,000 would not be too much to spend if we are going to help the anthracite industry, but something could have been done to help the anthracite industry in January, February, March, April and May of 1937 if the other side of this House had been willing to go along with the measure which I introduced, which would have given the Commission ample funds. I wanted to give them $2,000,000 and really do something, to not just bring in a report a month or two before the election as a camouflage and a sop to the people of the anthracite industry, to make good the promise of the Executive who had told them in January of 1937—if I had the newspaper reports here, I could show it to you—in which the Governor said what he was going to do for the people in that section, and this Commission has labored and labored and labored and spent our money and hasn't brought forth anything practical, while we have wasted fifteen months of time in which we might have been out working trying to help the people in the anthracite region. If this report and the money expended is going to help them in any way to increase production, is going to help to bring back employment in those districts then I would be heartily in favor of it, but I say to you that the report is not going to do that, it is not going to produce tangible results, and as we do not have before us a breakdown of these figures to know just exactly how much of this money is going to be spent on printing, and the other items are, I think that the gentleman from Luzerne should allow the bill to pass over until he can produce the figures to this House.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I do not agree with the gentleman from Delaware that this report does not contain anything with reference to methods of mining and so forth. I do not know what is in the report because there is only one available, but I know from seeing the Commission and having worked with them, that they have been in every coal mining town in the anthracite region, not only interviewing the men who run the industry but the men who work in the industry, to see what the methods of mining are and how it is done, in an effort to ascertain the best solution for rehabilitating the industry. So far as spending $2,000,000 in the industry or appointing a commission to investigate and report is concerned in order to find something that would benefit the anthracite industry, may I say that the anthracite industry has been clamoring for help, not only four years ago, but they have been clamoring for help ten years ago, and no one did anything for them, not even any semblance of a commission until the Democratic organization came into power, so I say to you that regardless of what anyone says, let us get this report, let us have it printed and put it in the hands of every man who is interested in the anthracite coal fields, and see if something cannot be worked out. I do not say that the Commission's report is absolutely something that will be accepted by the entire industry. I know that many of the men that run the industry feel that the Commissions report is O. K., some feel it isn't, and the same with the men who work in the industry; some feel it is all right and some feel it isn't, but they want to find out the best method that can be had or can be found to satisfy not only the men who work in the mines but those who have invested their money in order that it may be able to operate on a profitable basis. In the anthracite field, today, anthracite has many, many competitions to meet. It is not only because of the methods of mining it, but it is the method of selling and handling coal, thousands of things that must be taken into consideration not in mining it alone but in selling it. If the state of Pennsylvania is not interested in the sale of the product that is produced, then I don't know who is going to be interested. There is another factor that we must consider here, that this Commission has considered: If there are any bills to regulate the industry, any bills to try to bring out the real point of the men who may be willing to work in the industry, these things should all be taken into consideration, and I say to you that the $26,000 asked in this bill, if it is only to print the report and pay that deficiency, is money well spent for the benefit of the anthracite coal industry.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman from Luzerne will tell us the exact amount necessary to print the report, I am willing to vote for the expenditure of printin the report.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that I have the information that the gentleman from Delaware desires. I am informed by the counsel for the Committee that the amount necessary to print the report will be about $22,000 or $23,000 and there are a few other items of the Committee, including a small counsel fee, counsel not yet having been paid, that will necessitate the additional expenditure and bring the appropriation up to the amount as contained in the bill. My authority for this is counsel for the Anthracite Coal Commission. I am further informed that the report is already on the press, is ready to be printed, the final report, and that it is the desire of the Commission that the report be printed in time for the public hearing. The presses are all ready to go and any delay on our part will delay the final printing of the entire report.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 49 (Senate Bill No. 10), as follows:

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six (Pamphlet Laws sixteen) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to defray the cost of pumping the water from the slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred thirty-six" by making a further appropriation to supply the deficiency incurred and needed under the provisions of said act

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated to the Department of Health for the purpose of supplying the deficiency incurred and needed for the purpose of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which were flooded directly or indirectly by the high waters during March one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six including the purchase and installation of pumps motors and other equipment the purchase of electric power and all necessary incidental expenses under the provisions of the act to which this is a supplement

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, by agreement with the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Elpern, the expenditures to date for dewatering of certain coal mines was supposed to have been read into the record, when House Bill No. 16 was voted on, and there was certain information given to the chairman of the committee, who has kindly given me the information that on June 3rd up to date, or April 29th of last year, three hundred and seventy-six thousand and some odd dollars had been spent on dewatering of coal mines.

A letter addressed to J. A. Elpern regarding the expenditures to date reads as follows. The original provisions of Act No. 6 provide for the appropriation of three hundred thousands dollars. I will read the letter into the record addressed to Mr. Elpern by Mr. J. R. Hoffert of the Department of Health. It reads as follows:

"Pursuant to your request, we give you herewith the expenditures to August 8, 1938 from Appropriation 6A of the 1936 Session of the General Assembly made for the purpose of dewatering flooded coal mines and quarries flooded directly or indirectly as a result of the floods of March 1936.

"The sums indicated opposite the names of the several companies are the amounts spent for dewatering the indicated properties. In addition to these amounts, it is to be understood that there will be further expenditures in the case of the Commodore Coal and Coke Company and the Pittston Company in order to complete the dewatering of these properties. This additional expenditure as well as the excess of expenditure over appropriation is in accordance with the Governor's approval for the incurring of a deficiency under Appropriation 6A and to cover which deficiency there is now pending in the Legislature a bill appropriating $147,000 to the Department of Health."

I am reading this into the record because this is the only public record we have of the expenditures, in addition to two others which I have read before, in other years. The letter goes on to say:

"The bill appropriating this sum is for the purpose of covering not only the completion of the dewatering of the aforesaid two properties but also to cover certain contingent commitments for the dewatering of other properties flooded as a result of the floods of March 1936 but for which properties the owners or lessees have not yet fully complied with the criteria set up with the approval of the Governor for determining the eligibility of projects for dewatering.

"You will recall that the original estimate of the cost for dewatering the two mines in the anthracite coal region into which the Lackawanna River originally broke, was between $600,000 and $700,000. The appropriation made by Act 6A was for $700,000 and by the provisions of this Act, this appropriation was made available for the dewatering of all flooded coal mines and quarries which were flooded directly or indirectly as a result of the floods of March 1936. We remind you of this in explanation of the necessity for exceeding the appropriation in order to complete the State's obligation for the dewatering of the mines as agreed upon between the Governor and the coal operators.

"The sums spent upon the various properties to date as referred to above are as follows:

Commodore Coal & Coke Company $124,621.65.
Pittston Company No. 9 Colliery $269,726.90.
Conaboy Coal Company $12,422.62.
Kehoe-Berge Coal Company $248,564.48.
Sullivan Trail Coal Company $21,819.12.
Payne Coal Company $10,010.00.
Claene Coal Company $462.16.
Cranberry Coal Company $12,850.78.
Sandy Run Coal Company $3,627.51."

I am calling to the attention of the House the next item, expenditure for the Duryea dyke, in the amount of $41,-579.99 to prevent the recurrence of the flooding of the Kehoe-Berge and Pittston No. 9 Colleries, or a total of $745,681.21, showing a deficit up to August 8th of $45,-681.21.

May I interrogate, in connection with this bill, which is similar to House Bill No. 16, which I understand the gentleman from Westmoreland to say will die in committee,—may I interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Elpern.

THE SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ELPERN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I notice upon this record that there are large amounts to the Commodore Coal and Coke Company. Is that a soft or hard coal mine? I am not acquainted with coal mining and I would like to inquire in what county that is.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, that is in the bituminous coal region on this side of Uniontown, Fayette county.

Mr. SPROUL. In the case of the Pittston Company, Mr. Speaker, I presume that is anthracite?

Mr. ELPERN. As far as I know, it is Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. And, may I ask, Mr. Speaker, what county it is in?

Mr. ELPERN. I do not know, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask in what county the Kehoe-Berge Coal Company is located.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, that is in the hard coal region. That is all I know.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, in the opinion of the gentleman from Westmoreland or from his knowledge would he say that there are other districts now flooded, where other mines may be dewatered at some future date, and an appropriation asked for from the State?

Mr. ELPERN. It is possible, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I want to ask the gentleman if he believes in a state subsidy to private industry?

Mr. ELPERN. I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. I thank the gentleman from Westmoreland. I might say, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I voted for the original Act No. 6, but in my statement on June 3, 1937, I believed that the emergency had passed, and I notice a couple of things in this letter that would lead me to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, if he can give me the information.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from York, where in the Act, of which I gave him a copy, does he find an authorization for the expenditure of moneys for a dike, even though it might be a very worthy project.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. The Act is rather short. It contains but two sections, one of which is the final enactment clause, and in section 1, which contains the appropriation I see nothing that in my meagre legal ability will permit me to interpret as allowing the payment of funds to be paid out for constructing dikes.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, to the knowledge of the gentleman from York, was any of this expense agreed to by any of the large coal companies, or was it assumed entirely by the state. I mean to the knowledge of the gentleman from York or any one on the other side of the House.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean the pumping out of—

Mr. SPROUL. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I understand that some of the coal companies are very anxious to try and help to defray some of the expense, but my information is not definite on that point. However, I understand that in three or four or five instances, in which mines have been dewatered, it made it possible for the employment of a great number of miners. I further understand that certain coal companies have offered to give employment for a certain period of time to a large number of miners, provided that their flooded mines were dewatered. I have no accurate information as to the amount of additional moneys that were contributed by the various operating companies in addition to the moneys expended by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SPROUL. I thank the gentleman from York. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, inasmuch as I voted for the original provisions of this Act, and the fact that a deficit has been incurred without, I might say, consulting the Legislature and as there is a further deficit running into $147,000, which is still to be added to the original appropriation, I do not feel that I can support this bill, and for the further reason that I see no provision in the Act for the building of a dike. I think the money, or a part of it, was used contrary to the provisions of the act. I am glad to vote for any small deficit but I think in this case the deficit is too large and the coal companies might have been called on to assume some of this deficit themselves. In other words, the money was not used for pumping out mines in accordance with the provisions of the act itself.

I, therefore, ask those who feel the same way I do to vote against the provisions of this act because I feel it is voting for a further deficit, which, it is evident by a provision, is entirely unauthorized by the act, and I feel that any commission or any department should be held to the strict provisions of the act of the legislature under which they work.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this act provides an additional $103,000 to put additional mines to work in Westmoreland county, which were closed by the March flood of 1936, at which time there were over three thousand men put out of work. The Mt. Pleasant Coal and Coke Company, the Jamison Coal Company, the American Radiotor Company, and numerous other mines in that section are willing to spend their share of the money to help to put two thousand men to work. We have in that section at least twenty-seven hundred acres of coal, good mining coal, and this will take these men out of relief and put them to work right away. The State also has in the Oliver Fields near Uniontown, three pumps on which they have spent $30,000, which can be moved to the shaft where there are two bodies lying. Two miners are lying there since March 30th. The $103,000 will help to get those bodies out and will help to put these men to work.

Therefore, I ask the members of the House to forget about politics and vote for this bill.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no quarrel with the gentleman from Westmoreland. In fact, I would vote for a separate bill, if he would introduce it, for the very purpose of which he speaks, but I do not believe in incurring deficits, many of which we have had, and coming back to the Legislature and asking for authorization, when they knew exactly how much money they had to spend, and also spending money which was unauthorized under the provisions of the act.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, just a word of explanation about this act. While there may not be anything in the bill to permit the building of dikes, however, as I understand it, this is a W.P.A. project sponsored by the Borough of Duryea, and one sponsored by the Department of Mines, in order not only to save the flooding of the Kehoe-Berge Mines but to prevent the possibility of an accident, which will cause the drowning of many hundreds of lives in other mines. This dike, as I understand it, was absolutely necessary. Whether or not under the bill it was permissible, I don't know, but I presume it must have been if the Department of Mines sponsored this project and spent some of the money to prevent the mines from being flooded, not only once but every spring when high waters come in, and save hundreds of thousands of lives possibly from drowning in adjacent mines.

SENATE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 7, 1938.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That three hundred copies of the proceedings of the memorial services held on August 9, 1938, in honor of the late Honorable William P. Gallagher, Honorable William J. Munley, Honorable Charles Henry Richter, Honorable C. J. Goodnough, Francis T. Baker, be printed and copies thereof be sent to the members of the families of the deceased persons above referred to, and that each Member of the House of Representatives shall be presented with a copy thereof.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, September 12, 1938.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week at reconvene on Monday evening, September 19, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, September 19, at 8 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

The SPEAKER. Concurrence in this resolution requires unanimous consent or a suspension of the Rules.

Will the House give its unanimous consent for concurrence in the resolution? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. OMINSKY. HOUSE BILL No. 67.

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the fifth day of August, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, (P. L. 45), entitled "An act empowering cities of the first and second classes to levy, assess and collect, or to provide for the levying, assessment and collection of, certain taxes for general revenue purposes; authorizing the establishment of bureaus, and the appointment and compensation of officers and employes to assess and collect such taxes; and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced," by prohibiting the passage of any sales tax ordinance by any city of the first class.

Referred to the Committee on Cities.

RESOLUTION

THANKING MEMBERS OF PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION

Mr. MOOMAW offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, Harrisburg, Pa.
September 12, 1938

Whereas, the 1935 Session of the General Assembly passed a Resolution creating a Pennsylvania Commission to Arrange for the 75th Anniversary Reunion of the Blue and Gray at Gettysburg and Governor Earle, in accordance with this Resolution, appointed a number of Pennsylvania citizens to cooperate with a similar commission created by the Federal Government to make the necessary plans for this celebration, and

Whereas, one of our collegues in the General Assembly, the Honorable John S. Rice, the Senator from the Adams-Franklin Senatorial District was appointed Chairman of the Pennsylvania Commission and also Chairman of the joint Federal-State Commission and in this capacity served most efficiently, ably and tirelessly and gave generously of his time to direct the various activities which culminated in a most appropriate and successful final reunion in honor of the Heroes of the Civil War, and

Whereas, the Honorable Joseph F. Guffey, United States Senator from Pennsylvania and the Honorable Harry L. Haines, a Member of Congress from the 22nd Pennsylvania District were Pennsylvania citizens ably serving on the Federal Commission, and

Whereas, the Honorable Edward G. Shannon, the Honorable William A. Schnader, the Honorable Gerald P. O'Neil, Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, the Honorable William S. McLean, Jr., the Honorable Frederick B. Kerr, the Honorable Victor C. Mather, and the Honorable Willis D. Hall, also ably assisted Senator Rice as Members of the Pennsylvania Commission, and

Whereas, the President of the United States honored this Commonwealth by participating in the most impressive ceremonies dedicating the eternal Peace Monument.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, if the Senate Concur, that the General Assembly extend their most deep appreciation to the President for his active participation in these ceremonies and

Be It Further Resolved, that the General Assembly extend its appreciation and most hearty congraluations to our Collegue, Senator John S. Rice, for the able manner in which he guided to a successful conclusion this everlasting memorial to the Heroes of the Civil War, and

Be It Also Further Resolved that our appreciation and congratulations be extended to all the other Pennsylvania citizens who were members of either the Federal or State Commissions who ably assisted our Collegue in this Memorial Reunion and Celebration, and

Be It Also Further Resolved that the other members of the Federal Commission who are not residents of the State of Pennsylvania be extended our sincere thanks and appreciation for their cooperation and assistance to our Collegue in this Memorial Reunion and Celebration, and

Be It Also Further Resolved that the Chief Clerk send copies of this resolution to the President and to all Members of the Federal and State Commissions.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. OSTROFF offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 12, 1938.

Whereas, Tuesday, September 13, 1938 is the seventy-fifth birthday of Dr. Cyrus Adler, the President of the Jewish Theological Seminary, the President of Dropsie College of Philadelphia and President of the American Jewish Committee; and

Whereas, This shy yet supremely forceful septuagenarian is known and beloved by the intellectual leaders of the many races, creeds and groups in American life with whom he has come in contact during a half-century of service to his people, his community and his country; and

Whereas, His scholarly achievements at the University of Pennsylvania, John Hopkins University, the United States National Museum in Washington, the Smithsonian Institute, the Conference on the International Catalogue of Scientific Literature, the Jewish Publication Society, the American Jewish Historical Society, the Board of Public Education of the City of Philadelphia, as President of the Board of Trustees of the Philadelphia Public Library, the Washington Academy of Sciences, the Anthropological Society of Washington and the American Philosolphical Society, and many other societies and institutions of learning have won for him acclaim and renown. He has had conferred upon him the Honorary degree of Doctor of Hebrew Letters, by the Hebrew Union College and the Honorary degree of Doctor of Literature by the University of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, He has represented his country at the Versailles Peace Conference and on special commissions of the League of Nations: and

Whereas, Because of his outstanding achievements as a man, a teacher and a student it is fitting that he be honored on this milestone upon his long and useful life; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania do hereby congratulate Dr. Cyrus Adler for his many noble accomplishments and achievements in the fields of learning, religion, history, citizenship and his efforts to create better understanding between man and man, and between all classes, races and creeds, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk to Dr. Cyrus Adler.

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. SCANLON offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 12, 1938.

Whereas, The Honorable Frank Fitch, a Member of this House, several years ago was struck down by an automobile and severely injured; and

Whereas, Despite the severity of the injuries, our colleague was able to resume his legislative activities within a comparatively short time. However, some time ago he was again obliged to return to the hospital on account of the same injuries and it was subsequently necessary that he have his one leg amputated; and

Whereas, The latest report is that he is rapidly recovering and that he is looking forward to returning to his duties in the General Assembly; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of this House extend to their friend and colleague their sincere sympathy and their good wishes for his continued recovery and it is their hope that they will shortly be able to welcome him to the Hall of this House; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be mailed to him at the Germantown Hospital, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

STATEMENT BY MR. RUSH

Mr. RUSH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House: A piece of good news came out of Washington on last Thursday. It is of special interest to my constituents and to Pennsylvanians generally.

President Roosevelt has signed a Loan Contract placing $1,948,000 at the disposal of the Chester Housing Authority for the purpose of lifting 396 negro families from our known slum areas. They are to be housed in dwellings that will be standard and sanitary and built amidst more healthful surroundings. And those houses are to rent at rates that those in the low-income group can afford to pay.

The Chester project is going to do more than place sound, safe roofs over our less fortunate citizens. Its construction is going to provide employment for upwards of fifteen hundred of our unemployed, the majority of them skilled workmen long idle. It is going to increase purchasing power in the Chester area. It is going to stimulate industry all along the line.

Pennsylvania's housing program, sponsored by Governor Earle's administration, calls for the construction of projects to cost $88,000,000. It means the erection of 20,000 new family units for our low-income workers and the return of 65,000 persons to payrolls on the project sites and in the mills and factories quarries, mines, and timberland, where they will produce the materials to build these houses.

"We can say with confidence, Pennsylvania is going places as far as providing low-rent housing facilities for our low-income groups is concerned. The majority members of this House should be happy in the thought that they gave their undivided support in the session of 1937 to the housing program recommended by Governor Earle and that has made it possible for Pennsylvania to be in the vanguard from the start of those progressive states that are lending their every effort to do something for the nation's one-third "ill-housed."

STATEMENT BY MR. McGEE

Mr. McGEE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to call to the attention of the people of Pennsylvania, and in particular to the attention of the people of Philadelphia, the obstructive tactics indulged in by the Republican City Council of Philadelphia, in persistantly refusing Federal W. P. A. Grants.

In past years, evidently in hope of discrediting President Roosevelt, they consistantly refused to vote the necessary appropriations to make P. W. A. and W. P. A. Grants available. And these grants, mind you, for worthwhile Public Improvements and the employment of thousands of worthy men and women, looking in vain for employment by private employers.

However, in the past two years, owing to the obvious political nature of their obstructive tactics, and the stench that arose therefrom, and the constant insistance by the unemployed and public spirited citizens and newspapers that something be done, they have finally voted appropriations of money piecemeal, to avail themselves of only about 25% of the available Federal Funds allotted to the citizens of Philadelphia, on the basis of the needs of our city. Just enough to pour the oil of hyprocrisy and political expediency on the angry waves of protest shouted against their inhuman and un-American actions.

During this period of time, when up to 60,000 Philadelphians could have been gainfully employed on permanent and necessary public improvements; the Republican City Council has callously kept 45,000 unemployed from jobs, forcing them to remain on the Relief Rolls, throwing an almost unbearable burden on the taxpayers of the State, and depriving the unemployed and their families of the increased earnings from employment on W. P. A. and the improved economic condition that would have ensued from such employment.

While their despicable actions in keeping tens of thousands of needy Philadelphians from jobs over such a long period of time is the most reprehensible part of their tactics; there has also been lost to the citizens of Philadelphia, millions of dollars for necessary and even vital public improvements. Improvements that its citizens will have to pay in the not distant future and pay for in the form of higher city taxes; because of the fact that the Republican City Council prefers to play gutter politics with human suffering rather than give credit to a Democratic Administration seeking to alleviate that self same human suffering by creating jobs on W. P. A. projects for the needy.

Philadelphians, less than 18,000 men and women are now employed on W. P. A. in Philadelphia.

This deplorable condition should be speedily rectified.

White or wire, and demand, that the callous Republican City Council appropriate, immediately, sufficient funds to insure additional Federal W. P. A. Grants to take 45,000 Philadelphians off of Relief and give them the higher wage and living standards of W. P. A. jobs.

Are we going to allow the tax money we pay into the Federal Treasury to go elsewhere, while our jobless thousands walk the streets looking for jobs in vain; meanwhile paying a heartless bunch of political parasites princely salaries for hamstringing the welfare of the needy thousands of our fellow citizens—decent men and women who beg—and even pray for work?

The desperate plight of 45,000 Philadelphians on Relief and their needy families representing another 200,000 persons must be laid on the doorstep of Philadelphia's Republican City Council!

Let the combined voice of protest from an aroused citizenry demand that this callous hamstringing Council accept the proffered Federal W. P. A. Grants and put this vast army of unemployed to work. And, make that voice so loud, that the piteous cries of undernourished children shall rise high above our own voices to stir them from their despicable inaction.

Legislative Journal.

Extraordinary Session of 1938

Vol. 22 HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1938. No. 17.

SENATE

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1938.

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.).

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. GEORGE WALKER BUCKNER, LL.D., offered the following prayer:

Our God and our Father, Rock of our salvation, in whose clefted side we find refuge and shelter from the storms of life, we trust to Thy faithfulness through the shades of night; we would arise to serve Thee in the sunlight of day.

The heavens and the earth are Thine, for Thou hast founded them. Justice and judgment are the habitation of Thy throne; mercy and truth go before Thy face. O Lord, how great are Thy works! and Thy thoughts are very deep.

A brutish man knoweth not; nor doth a fool understand; yet blessed are the people that know the joyful sound. They shall walk, O Lord, in the light of Thy countenance. They shall rejoice all the day; in Thy righteousness shall they be exalted; for Thou art the glory of their strength.

If Thou be our Rock, one may chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight. Endue us with a wisdom whereby we may know Thee the true God, and something of the might of one man, in fellowship with Truth and Thee. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RODGERS, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

HOUSE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, September 19, at 8:00 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday evening, September 19, at 8:00 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time.

RESOLUTION COMMENDING PENNSYLVANIA COMMISSION TO ARRANGE THE SEVENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION OF THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURG

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives.

Harrisburg, Penna., September 12, 1938.

WHEREAS, the 1935 Session of the General Assembly passed a Resolution creating a Pennsylvania Commission to arrange for the 75th Anniversary Reunion of the Blue and Gray at Gettysburg, and Governor Earle, in accordance with this Resolution, appointed a number of Pennsylvania citizens to cooperate with a similar commission created by the Federal Government to make the necessary plans for this celebration, and

WHEREAS, one of our colleagues in the General Assembly, the Honorable John S. Rice, the Senator from the Adams-Franklin Senatorial District was appointed Chairman of the Pennsylvania Commission and also Chairman of the joint Federal-State Commission and in this capacity served most efficiently, ably and tirelessly and gave generously of his time to direct the various activities which culminated in a most appropriate and successful final reunion in honor of the Heroes of the Civil War, and

WHEREAS, the Honorable Joseph F. Guffey, United States Senator from Pennsylvania and the Honorable Harry L. Haines, a Member of Congress from the 22nd Pennsylvania District were Pennsylvania citizens ably serving on the Federal Commission, and

WHEREAS, the Honorable Edward G. Shannon, the Honorable William A. Schnader, the Honorable Gerald P. O'Neil, Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, the Honorable William S. McLean, Jr., the Honorable Frederick B. Kerr, the Honorable Victor C. Mather, and the Honorable Willis D. Hall, also ably assisted Senator Rice as Members of the Pennsylvania Commission, and

WHEREAS, the President of the United States honored this Commonwealth by participating in the most impressive ceremonies dedicating the Eternal Peace Monument, therefore be it

RESOLVED, (if the Senate Concur) that the General Assembly extend their most deep appreciation to the President for his active participation in these ceremonies and be it further

RESOLVED, that the General Assembly extend its appreciation and most hearty congratulations to our Colleague, Senator John S. Rice, for the able manner in which he guided to a successful conclusion this everlasting memorial to the Heroes of the Civil War, and be it also further

RESOLVED, that our appreciation and congratulations be extended to all the other Pennsylvania citizens who were members of either the Federal or State Commissions who ably assisted our Colleague in this Memorial Reunion and Celebration, and be it also further

RESOLVED, that the other members of the Federal Commission who are not residents of the State of Pennsylvania be extended our sincere thanks and appreciation for their cooperation and assistance to our Colleague in this Memorial Reunion and Celebration, and be it also further

RESOLVED, that the Chief Clerk send copies of this resolution to the President and to all Members of the Federal and State Commissions.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

HOUSE BILL FOR CONCURRENCE

He also presented for concurrence the bill of the House of Representatives, as follows:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Anthracite Coal Industry Commission, created by the act, approved the eighth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 21), entitled "An act creating the Anthracite Coal Industry Commission, defining its powers and duties; and making an appropriation."

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL NO. 14

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 14, entitled:

An Act providing for the adjournment and re-adjournment of county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands that were to have been held in the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven or one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight for nonpayment of taxes in counties except those of the first and second class and preserving the lien of all taxes on such lands.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendments.

SENATE BILL No. 10 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 10, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the sixteenth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, (P. L. 16), entitled, "An act making an appropriation to the Department of Health to defray the cost of pumping the water from slate quarries and anthracite and bituminous coal mines which have been flooded, directly or indirectly, by the high waters during March, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six," by making a further appropriation to supply the deficiency incurred and needed under the provisions of said act.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

SENATE BILL No. 25 RETURNED WITH AMENDMENTS

He also returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act removing the remaining additional persons now serving as Pennsylvania members of the Delaware River Joint Commission by virtue of appointment by the General Assembly under the act approved June twelfth one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seventy-five) and providing for the appointment of their successors.

with the information that the House has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the Senate is requested.

BILL SIGNED

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 14, entitled:

An Act providing for the adjournment and re-adjournment of county treasurers' sales of seated and unseated lands that were to have been held in the years one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, or one thousand nine hundred thirty-eight, for nonpayment of taxes in counties except those of the first and second class, and preserving the lien of all taxes on such lands.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy), in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES and Mr. McCREESH

That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor be referred to an appropriate committee be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES and Mr. McCREESH,

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—36

Buckman,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Ruth,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	Law,	Salus,
Chapman,	Heyburn,	Mallery,	Shapiro
Deitrick,	Howell,	McCreesh,	Sipe,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McGinnis,	Sones,
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Ealy,	Kahle,	Pytko,	Thompson,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	Reed,	Wolfenden,
Gelder,	Kunkel,	Rodgers,	Woodward,

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. SONES. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO ASCERTAIN AND CONCILIATE THE VIEWS OF EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYES ON UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION LEGISLATION.

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, September 13, 1938.

WHEREAS, The Governor in Section 2 of his Second Supplemental Proclamation of the twenty-fifth day of July 1938, designated as one of the subjects for the consideration the amending of Article 2 of the Workmen's Compensation Act (Act of June 2, 1915, P. L. 736, as reenacted, amended, or further amended by Act of June 4, 1937, P. L. 1552), and

WHEREAS, House Bill No. 17, Senate Bill No. 31 covering this subject has been introduced and is now on passage through the Assembly and

WHEREAS, It is the concensus of opinion of men adequately informed that this subject should be thoroughly investigated with a view of ascertaining whether legislative action can be employed to conciliate the views of employers and employees and thereby promote the general welfare and

WHEREAS, A thorough investigation can only be made by bringing together representatives of the parties affected. Now be it

RESOLVED (if the House of Representatives concur) that the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House who shall constitute a committee to bring together such representatives of labor and industry and other interested parties as wish to be heard, to affect a conciliation among them and make a report of its activities, findings and recommendations to the next General Session.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I offered the foregoing resolution after much consideration and at the suggestion of various members of the Senate and members of the Committee on Labor and Industry and members of general industry.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, will state his point of information.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, does this resolution interfere with the passage of House Bill No. 17, by this Session?

The PRESIDENT. It does not.

RECESS

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENTS BY THE SECRETARY

During the recess the Committee on Appropriations will meet in Room 265.

Immediately following that meeting, there will be a caucus of the Republican members in the same room.

There will be a Public Hearing by the Committee on Education, Monday, September 19, 1938, at 5:00 o'clock P. M. (E. S. T.) in the Senate Caucus Room, on Senate Bill No. 39.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. FREY from the Committee on Appropriations reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 50, entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation for the expenses of the Joint Legislative Commission Investigating certain courts of this Commonwealth, and created by Joint Resolution No. 11, approved the ninth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 35).

The PRESIDENT. We will now proceed to the consideration of the calendar.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 36 (House Bill No. 8) on final passage entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies, for the payment of rates, rentals, and other charges that may become due on leases and other contracts executed with the General State Authority of various projects, structures, buildings, and facilities of the Authority or for the services rendered by the Authority or its projects.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 2, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section four Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, last evening I made the statement that the Attorney General's office had been requested for an opinion relative to these proposed Constitutional Amendments. I have received the following memorandum opinion regarding the Constitutional Amendments from the Attorney General's office.

MEMORANDUM OPINION
IN RE: CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

Section 1, Article XVIII, of the Constitution provides:

"Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or House of Representatives; and, if the same shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their journals with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same to be published three months before the next general election, in at least two newspapers in every county in which such newspapers shall be published; and if, in the General Assembly next afterwards chosen, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House, the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall cause the same again to be published in the manner aforesaid; and such proposed amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State in such manner, and at such time at least three months after being so agreed to by the two Houses, as the General Assembly shall prescribe; and, if such amendment or amendments shall be approved by a majority of those voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the Constitution; but no amendment or amendments shall be submitted oftener than once in five years. When two or more amendments shall be submitted they shall be voted upon separately."

The provision with respect to advertisement was construed in COMMONWEALTH ex rel. ATTORNEY GENERAL v. BEAMISH, 309 Pa. 510 (1932). In its opinion the court says, at Page 514:

"* * * A single publication made three months before the election is not sufficient to enable the electorate to be fully advised of the importance and nature of proposed amendments. At the same time, there is no ground for believing publication for thirteen weeks is necessary, and certainly there is nothing in article XVIII itself requiring such continued publicity. It may be, as suggested by the 1920 commission on constitutional amendment and revision, that publication once a week for the four weeks preceding a general election, would be a preferable method, but until an amendment of that nature is made to the law, we are not at liberty so to construe it. In view of all the facts and circumstances, we are of opinion that publication once a month for the three months preceding the election is more reasonable and more nearly conforms to the convention's intent, and at the same time provides adequate notice to the public."

Therefore, if agreed to at this extraordinary session of the Legislature, the amendment in question could not be acted upon a second time until the Session of 1941. If agreed to at that time, it could be submitted to the electors at such time, at least three months after such action, as the General Assembly would prescribe.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. President, in view of that statement it is very obvious that nothing can be gained in the matter of time by passing these proposed Constitutional amendments at this Special Session of the Legislature. Inasmuch as the regular session of the Legislature will convene in several month during which there will be more time to adequately consider Constitutional amendments I think that action on these proposed amendments should be deferred until the Regular Session of the Legislature in 1939. Therefore I move that Senate Bill No. 2 be referred back to Committee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I regret to hear the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice to take that position because these three Joint Resolutions that I am interested in particularly, were in Committee many, many times before this and never came out of Committee and they are out now. They are on the Calendar and if we do not have another opportunity to vote until 1941 I cannot see why we should not have the opportunity of voting now in 1938. That is a step forward, that is half the battle won. I therefore hope that the motion of the Senator from Adams will be voted down so that we may proceed to vote on the resolutions.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Barthold,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Buckman,	Henney,	Mallery,	Ruth,
Deitrick,	Heyburn,	McCreesh,	Salus,
Dent,	Howell,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Jacobs,	Mundy,	Sones,
Ealy,	Jaspan,	Owlett,	Stiefel,
Eroe	Kilgallen,	Pytko,	Thompson,
Frey,	Kunkel,

NAYS—8

Cavalcante,	Gelder,	Rodgers,	Wolfenden,
Chapman,	Reed,	Rupp,	Woodward,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 3, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article twelve of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, for the same reason I stated relative to Senate Bill No. 2, I move that Senate Bill No. 3 be recommitted to Committee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I simply state as a matter of information that this is the Civil Service Amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barthold,	Gilson,	Mallery,	Rice,
Buckman,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Salus,
Dent,	Henney,	McGinnis,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Howell,	Owlett,	Sones,
Eroe,	Jaspan,	Pytko,	Stiefel,
Frey,	Kahle,

NAYS—18

Cavalcante,	Heyburn,	Mundy,	Ruth,
Chapman,	Jacobs,	Reed,	Thompson,
Deitrick,	Kilgallen,	Rodgers,	Wolfenden,
Ealy,	Kunkel,	Rupp,	Woodward,
Gelder,	Lanius,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 4, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Section one Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, for the same reasons as stated relative to Senate Bill No. 2, I move that Senate Bill No. 4 be recommitted to Committee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply want to give notice so that the Senate can vote intelligently, that this is the amendment which sets up a graduated income tax and any Senator recorded against it would be regarded in the popular opinion as being against the graduated income tax. Everybody should be very careful how they vote.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would like to know why the Senator from Philadelphia is now an advocate of the graduated income tax when last year he was all against it.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, not at all. I have been an advocate for fifteen years.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

Barthold,	Howell,	McGinnis	Ruth,
Buckman,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
DiSilvestro,	Kahle,	Owlett,	Sones,
Frey,	Lanius,	Pytko,	Stiefel,
Gilson,	Mallery,	Rice,	Thompson,
Henney.	McCreesh,

NAYS—17

Cavalcante,	Eroe,	Jacobs,	Rodgers,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Kilgallen,	Rupp,
Deitrick,	Haluska,	Kunkel,	Wolfenden,
Dent,	Heyburn,	Reed,	Woodward,
Ealy.

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, in voting "Aye" to recommit all of these bills I do so for the reason I believe that no purpose is being served by voting otherwise at this time.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 12, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to Article nine of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding Section One-A.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, for the same reasons as stated relative to Senate Bill No. 2, I move that Senate Bill No. 12 be recommitted to Comittee on Constitutional Changes.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, this resolution has been on the Calendar for several sessions. It is known as the Homestead Acception Resolution and has to do with a movement to assist the little home owner and the farmer in taxation relief.

Now I disagree with the gentleman from Adams when he says that we gain nothing by passing this resolution at this time. We have been loafing around this Senate doing nothing for weeks and in the regular session in January this Senate will be very busy, if it does its duty. While we are here doing nothing I say that if these resolutions are worthy of passage in January they are worthy of passage now and I hope that this resolution which has been killed so many times, that which is a resolution that will help the people that really need help today, the small home owners and the farmers, will not be passed over by this Senate but will be voted upon and passed before we leave here at the end of this Special Session.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, may I suggest that from the remarks of the gentleman from Washington it very clearly appears that it is not so much the fact that nothing can be served but there seems to be a cowardly feeling in the hearts of some members of this Assembly who will not be in the Assembly of 1939 to debate the issue.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice will state his point of order.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I understand that a motion to recommit is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. Only within narrow limits.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Barthold,	Gilson,	Mallery,	Rice,
Buckman,	Howell,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Chapman,	Jacobs,	Mundy,	Shapiro,
Deitrick,	Jaspan,	Owlett,	Sones,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 27, entitled:

An Act to amend Section two of the act approved the eleventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 487) entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Welfare to determine the legal residence of indigent, insane, feeble-minded and epileptic persons, returned to this Commonwealth by the authorities of another state, or transferred from one poor district to another by the department and requiring the proper district to pay the costs of the care and treatment of such persons in accordance with the laws relating to indigent insane persons" by relieving poor districts of certain costs and placing such costs on the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 27 and Senate Bill No. 29 are companion bills to Senate Bill No. 28, which is the principle bill. I therefore request that Senate Bill No. 27, go over in order until the Senate has acted on Senate Bill No. 28.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 28, entitled:

An Act relating to institutions of counties, cities, and institution districts for the care, maintenance and treatment of mental patients; providing for the transfer of such institutions to the Commonwealth providing for the management and operation, or closing thereof, and the maintenance of mental patients therein; conferring and imposing upon the Governor, the Department of Welfare, and counties, cities and institution districts certain powers and duties; prohibiting cities, counties and institution districts from maintaining and operating institutions in whole or in part for the care and treatment of mental patients; and repealing inconsistent laws.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, this bill is designed to take over the mental hospitals of the State. It is difficult to understand how any thoughtful Senator can vote for this bill at this time in the form in which it is presented to us. Despite all the juggling of figures and all the explanations, it must be very evident that the taking over of all the mental hospitals of the State will entail a very material additional expense to the Commonwealth. The taxes, therefore, will have to be provided by the next administration, whether it be Republican or Democrat; that an outgoing administration, on the very eve of its closing, should seek to bring about such a radical change in state policy with the heavy financial burden it imposes, is entirely improper.

I understand that the excuse for asking hurried action on this bill was furnished by the report of the committee which inquired into the operation of the mental hospital at Byberry in Philadelphia, but that report surely does not necessitate such immediate action that we cannot take time to inquire into the probable results of the passage of this bill. I strongly suspect that the real purpose in urging its passage at this time is not to alleviate the condition of the unfortunate patients at Byberry so much as to gain control of the five hundred or more appointments there in order to place political favorites in these jobs as an asset in the coming election. We are strengthened in our surmise about this by the attempt to erect a Municipal Court in Philadelphia at the time of the last Session of the Legislature, in the face of the emphatic protests of philanthropists, social workers and others.

Philadelphia is a great city of about two million people, larger in population than half of the states in the Union and larger than many of the national territories of Central and South America, and Europe. It must be humiliating to the people of this great and progressive city to be told that they are incompetent to handle the management of their mental cases. But even if we accept the report of the Committee at its face value surely the condition can be corrected without this drastic step being taken, in such hasty fashion and without due consideration of all the consequences resulting from the passage of this bill.

The mental hospitals of the State have been under the supervision of the Department of Welfare, and if Byberry and other similar hospitals of the State are in a deplorable condition, the Welfare Department should have corrected the abuses long before this. To wait for three years and eight months and then, when an election comes where it is necessary to get every vote obtainable, to bring up this matter at the Special Session of the Legislature is too much. This bill transfers all the property of the mental hospitals to the Commonwealth without so much as consulting the wishes of the people concerned and does it without consideration. It may be that the taxpayers of the City of Philadelphia will agree to impose upon the rest of the State the burden of keeping their mental cases. It may be that they are willing to admit their incapacity to manage properly this institution at Byberry, but at least they ought to be given the chance to say so.

We have an institution in Somerset County which is affected by this bill. It is an institution which cares for mental cases and indigent poor who have no relatives to look after them and who are much better provided for there than they would be in private homes. This institution has been so well conducted that patients are sent there from nearby counties, and private patients are maintained. In the hospital there are about five hundred and thirty-five patients, and about eighty people in the home. Besides quite a number of substantial buildings the institution has 700 acres of land, 650 of which are under cultivation. It operates a coal mine on the premises for the use of the property, and during the year 1937 nearly 87,000 bushels of coal were mined; 1300 bushels of lime were burned for use on the premises in the same year. The institution has its own private water system and its own sewage disposal plant, it runs its own laundry, bakery, blacksmith's shop, and heating plant. It raises cattle, hogs, and chickens, and has a dairy herd; it raises its own vegetables, grain, hay and other crops. It is practically self-sustaining. And perhaps more important than this, the money contributed by Somerset County has been largely used for outdoor relief and for the support of patients in those two, and other institutions. The institution is valued at nearly a million dollars and is entirely free from debt. It is impossible to separate the part of the plant used for mental patients from the home, as the laundry and heating—

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am very much interested in what the Senator from Somerset is saying. It is a very important proposition and I ask that there be a little more order in the house so that we can hear him.

Mr. EALY. Is this institution, paid for by the people of Somerset County and built up through the years by their care and prudent management, to be taken over by the State for the benefit of the other sixty-six counties of the State, without payment? And without our consent? If you say that the Commonwealth will hereafter support the mental patients without expense to the counties, that argument entirely overlooks the fact that all the counties are part of the State and another burden of taxation will be imposed on us to sustain the State hospitals thus taken over.

Besides, under the management that I have mentioned it has cost Somerset County but little for our mental cases and our institution has heretofore been rated very high. Some people think that the Commonwealth is more competent to handle mental cases than the counties. A familiar argument of social welfare bureaucrats and educational bureaucrats is to compare Pennsylvania with other States of the Union to the disadvantage of our Commonwealth, but in making laws to bring our State in line with the others we are usually not bringing it up to the standard of the others but, on the contrary, down to their standards. Certainly, the more the functions of government are centralized in the bureaus at Harrisburg, the more power and authority those in control have and the larger the salaries that must be paid by the taxpayers. In view of the vicious and demoralizing system of giving WPA and relief benefits, I sincerely doubt the wisdom of placing more power in the State bureaus; but even if it should be granted that the State is better able to care for the mentally ill, surely that does not justify the theft of other people's property to put the system in force.

The amendments recently inserted in this bill make it worse instead of better. They have been suggested with the particular situation of Somerset County in mind. The large farm, water system, sewage disposal plant, coal mines, etc., are now used for the benefit both of the mental hospital and the home for the indigent. This bill proposes to take away the farm and auxiliary departments and leave us the indigent without the means to care for them. We are permitted to buy goods and farm products at cost, from the property stolen from us, but we can secure the same products more cheaply by importing them from the most distant parts of the earth. It is conceivable that the people of Pike County and the other counties concerned might conclude eventually that it is proper to turn over their institutions to the State, but it should be a voluntary transfer, and for a consideration.

If the Commonwealth intends to take charge of all mental cases it will need hospitals, and no better or more beautiful place can be found than that where our own Somerset institution is located, and it should be purchased in the proper manner.

But the chief reason for which this bill is objectionable is that there is a very fundamental question of government concerned in it. May the Commonwealth appropriate the property of a part of the citizens without their consent and without consideration, for the benefit of the whole? I believe that the bill is unconstitutional. If we may take the property acquired with the taxes of the people of one county and owned by them, in this manner, it will require only short successive steps to take the property of some of the public organizations such as utilities, of wholly private corporations, and of individuals, in like fashion. If the Supreme Court should hold that this bill is constitutional it will be the prelude to seizing the schools and municipal buildings of boroughs and citizens, and the operation of all government will be at Harrisburg. We have gone very far in that direction already by all sorts of bribes and empty gifts. We passed a bill at this Session along that line, but this bill goes very much further in its implications. If we continue to destroy local self-government, the capacity for government will also be destroyed. A democracy cannot exist with centralization of all governmental functions. The Democratic party may be led to pass this bill in the hope of benefiting in the November elections, but suppose the Republican party should win, and suppose that the centralization of power is continued and elective officers are gradually abolished, and all appointments are made from Harrisburg. What a powerful machine to maintain a party in office!

These bills can wait until the Regular Session. Give them full consideration. Let everyone interested be heard from and then write them so that proper consideration will be given to the rights of the people. Do not start a precedent that will lead but to evil consequences.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, possibly the most vexing problem that is now confronting our federal government, particularly the State Department, is the policy of expropriation now being pursued by the Government of Mexico, and the attempt by the Government of Mexico to have all other countries of the South American continent do likewise. Now I do not think there is a member of this Senate who approves of that policy and I cannot see very much difference between Mexico stealing the property of the citizens of the United States and this Legislature enacting a law which in reality steals the property of a number of the counties, cities, and institutional districts in this Commonwealth.

I am speaking particularly now about the people of Blair County. The people of Blair County years ago saw fit, at their own expense, to erect at great cost an institution wherein they could properly maintain the insane of that county. That cost those people money. They have approximately half a million dollars invested in their mental institution. They did it because they wanted the people of Blair County who were unfortunate, to be at home where members of their families could see them as often as they wanted to. I have always been an advocate of economy in government and I believe the unfortunates, the insane, should be well taken care of, but I cannot approve of the measures in this bill which would take, without any compensation, the property of the people of Blair County without any assurance that a mental institution would be maintained in that county. Under the provisions of this bill the institution will be taken over and there is no assurance whatsoever that the mental institution will be maintained as a mental institution. Under the provision of this bill the ground surrounding the poor-house will also be taken over. The mental institution building can be used for a garage or for any purpose the State sees fit to use it for, or they do not need to make any use of it if they do not want to.

Now this is a problem that all of the people in my county are very much concerned about—both Republican and Democrats alike. During the time that this bill has been on the calendar I have contacted Democrats and Republicans and they are vehement in their reaction against the idea that such a bill should be proposed in this Legislature. This bill is loaded with political dynamite. If this Legislature sees fit to take from our country our mental institution without any compensation I know how our people, who are strong advocates of home rule, will express themselves when they are given the opportunity to do so.

At the public hearing on this bill I offered amendments which would have enabled the State to defray the cost of mental patients wherever they are, and would have enabled the State, over a period of time, to have obtained ownership of these institutions. I do not think that there is anything in the argument that the people will be better taken care of if the State operates these institutions. If the State operates them they will be operated by human beings the same as the county operates them.

We have had inhuman acts occur in State-operated institutions as well as we have had them in city or county institutions. I can't help but recall that in the Industrial Home at Huntingdon, within the past year, a colored lad was killed. Those things will occur. None of us approve of them, but they will occur, members of this Senate, whether they are operated by the State or by local officials.

I hope that this Senate will not pursue the policy now followed by Mexico.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I regret exceedingly the necessity of prolonging discussion on this bill, but there have been some things said about it that cloud the issue, in my opinion. This is the most important piece of legislation that has come before any session of this Senate. I have been in the habit upon occasion of proclaiming to the public that a particular piece of legislation is the most important, or one of the most important. But when you consider the fact that Pennsylvania is one of only five states who have tolerated for over a period of forty-three years the dual management of the insane and mentally defective in the Commonwealth—only one of five states, and that forty-three other states have, for periods ranging from thirty-five to fifteen years past, been handling this as a State problem, you can realize the importance of it. If you consider the facts and not just talk into the air about this proposition, you will see that the fear that is being discussed here is rather mort apparent than real.

In the first place I don't contend that State ownership is going to mean that there will be no politics in the institutions. I don't think it is important to decide this question in order to show the value of the bill. I will take is from another point of view. There are 31,000 patients being cared for today in the Commonwealth of Pennslyvania, who are known as mental patients. Of those 31,000, sixteen thousand are in State institutions, and 15,000 in county institutions. There are 5,340 patients on the waiting list in all institutions, and there are 8,000 uncared-for insane throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. There are potentially insane patients in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the proportion of one out of every twenty people.

This isn't a new proposition, that the State take it over. No county is in a position today to care for the 5,000 on the waiting list. No county is in a position today to share in the care of the 8,000 that are not even put on the list, and no one is in a position to complain about WPA funds, who wants to be fair about it, when they realize that as a result of WPA funds, those 5,400 some-odd patients, will be by the first of January all cared for in State institutions. Within the next thirty days at Norristown, 540 additional patients will be admitted because WPA funds have erected two additional buildings that will house that many patients. Within the next sixty days there will be established throughout the State in connection with the State institutions an increased capacity of at least 2,000, and a psychiatric department for the study and development of treatments for these patients will be constructed in western Pennsylvania and finished before the first of January, 1939. That is what State control means. No county and no set of counties are in a position to do that, and I think that is the answer and the only answer that need be given about the question of State control.

I do not maintain for one moment that any State institution is or ever will be, under our institutions of government, free from political influence, but I do maintain that my personal investigation of the thirteen existing State institutions shows that there is little, very much less than would be expected, political influence in those State institutions. As a matter of fact, out of the thirteen State institutions, since the present Governor of Pennsylvania was inaugurated, only four changes have been made, and nine out of thirteen of the men have been maintained in their offices. They have been there for years, and were Republican appointments. There is a good reason for that. It is very difficult to find men with psychiatric experience and institutional experience to place at the head of those institutions, and any Governor who would be so low as to interfere and remove a competent man in charge of such institutions, would not only be low in his own estimate, but would be just as low in the estimate of the people and would take his political future in his hands.

That the State should control the institutions has not only been my idea but has been the idea of the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, who when he filed his report on county government said, "The Commission recommends that the entire cost of maintenance of mental patients be assumed by the Commonwealth, that the county and poor districts be relieved of contributions toward this maintenance. Here is an instance of overlapping functions. The mental defectives are wards of the State, which should assume full responsibility. The Commission recommends that all county and poor-district institutions erected and dedicated to the treatment and maintenance of mental patients, deemed proper for such purposes by the Department of Welfare, be turned over to the State for future management, and the liability of the State to contribute toward the maintenance to mental patients properly maintained in such institutions be eliminated. Legislation to accomplish this object will be submitted."
